Executive Summary

Wildflower Montessori Public Schools of Colorado (WMPSC) is rooted in our vision to create a network of community-embedded schools that are led by Teacher Leaders, co-created with families and partners, and enable all children to cultivate their unique identities and gifts in pursuit of their fullest potential as individuals and contributors to a more just world.

To do this, WMPSC is creating an ecosystem of four intentionally small, teacher-led charter sites in the Grand Valley where students, grades PK-6, families, and teachers connect deeply and grow together through their school journey. Our mission is to provide families with child-centered, authentic Montessori education that bridges academic outcomes and social-emotional development through intimate learning communities deeply rooted in place, equity, and belonging.

WMPSC Grand Valley is part of the Wildflower state-wide charter ecosystem currently composed of two regions, Grand Valley and Aurora, where multi-site charter schools are proposed. These regional charters are unique - in that they are wholly place-based and led by local Teacher Leaders who bring the Wildflower model to their communities. The WMPSC Grand Valley charter school nurtures each child's unique academic and social needs by providing high quality Montessori learning environments that:

- Offer identity-affirming, differentiated learning opportunities for all students;
- Align with Mesa County Valley School District D51's 2022-2025 Strategic Plan;
- Meet or exceed Colorado state performance management framework standards;
- Consider education to be integral to community health, supporting the transformative solutions outlined in the Mesa County Health Needs Assessment.<sup>1</sup>

The Wildflower School model is a national movement of Montessori micro-schools all across the country, in 14 states and holding charters in Minnesota, New York, and Washington DC. Wildflower began as an idea launched out of the MIT Media lab as a partnership between parents and teachers who envisioned a new, community-centric educational model. Wildflower was founded as a solution to the traditional U.S. education system that operates from a "factory-model" of post-industrialism which views individual schools as institutions, students as products moving through undifferentiated learning experiences, and teachers as using only tools to teach, rather than developing and sustaining relationships with students as the keystone of their work.<sup>2</sup>

Wildflower was also founded as a solution to a society that systematically oppresses people, especially those with marginalized identities, that leads to limited educational and career opportunities resulting, on average, in lower pay and professional respect.<sup>3</sup> These problems, in our schools and in our society, have been reinforced over the last two years during the pandemic. In Grand Valley, these problems are palpable - schools and their staff are under extraordinary and unprecedented pressure; children and families, especially those with marginalized identities, experience the tension arising from injustice, and organizations are rising up throughout the Grand Valley to bring an equity lens to community development efforts. There is a “turning point within Grand Junction, showing that there are people who are dedicated to learning and growing and willing to show up for [social justice] causes.”<sup>4</sup>

WMPPSC Founding Teacher Leaders, Georgie Reigel and Emma Reicks, have been ignited by the confluence of this moment in history - by this “turning point” in their hometown, the educational need to bring a high quality Montessori option to families, and by the national Wildflower movement that has been successful in other rural places. Emma and Georgie are change makers, laying the foundation for WMPPSC to create the Grand Valley ecosystem of microsites that will be identity-affirming, joyful, and child-centered learning environments for 152 children. Georgie and Emma, as experienced educators and trained Montessorians, are driven by the understanding that the Montessori Method is proven effective for all students, yet, too often the domain of a homogeneous and largely elite population.

Since March 2021, Emma and Georgie, have been inspired by the founders of Flame Lily, an independent Wildflower preschool in Aurora, Colorado. These founders’ passion for bringing equity-rooted, affordable learning environments in co-location with a community center spurred conversations - and these conversations gained momentum to form a Colorado Wildflower Charter Development team - a team composed of local Teacher Leaders; Montessorians; parents; nonprofit, business and government professionals; and the Colorado Wildflower partner. This team broadened the Wildflower concept beyond one preschool to a network of state-wide charter sites. The result was the creation of Wildflower Montessori Public Schools of Colorado (WMPPSC) - and evolving the Charter Development team to a formal Board of Directors.

This collective effort to take two Teacher Leaders’ dreams, support them, and develop a vision, mission, and charter around it reflects the Wildflower approach. WMPPSC is designed to be responsive to educators with a vision for Montessori microsites and communities who hear about Wildflower and want to work together to bring a Wildflower school to their neighborhoods. This is happening in Grand Valley. At a time when marginalized populations, such as Indigenous communities and those living in poverty, are often isolated, WMPPSC is building an ecosystem to develop microsites proximal to downtown Grand Junction while connecting services and social networks that will support our families. Georgie and Emma see the need to prioritize belonging and Montessori access - understanding the economically, racially, and even politically diverse population of their hometown.

Our small size makes it easier for children to be seen as individuals and for all families to feel heard in their interactions with teachers, allowing for active classroom roles for parents, parent education on child development, and continuous communication between the whole community supporting each child’s needs. WMPPSC sites draw on the assets of the neighborhoods they are rooted in, grounded in the belief that change comes from community and that local communities are fully capable of solving the challenges to which they are closest.

To meet our mission, live our vision, and add educational options to Grand Valley families, WMPPSC will create four small Montessori charter sites, serving students in PK-6th grade. Each site enrolls only 32-60 students and is led by two Teacher Leaders. During our first year of operation, WMPPSC's inaugural Lower Elementary site, Cactus Bloom Montessori, will serve students in K-3rd grade and be led by Founding Teacher Leaders, Georgie and Emma. With 73 completed interest forms, as of August 2, 2022, Cactus Bloom is expected to easily meet their enrollment target of 48 students. As the chart below shows, by 2027-2028, 152 students will be served across all four sites:

Grade level	Year 1 (2023-24)	Year 2 (2024-25)	Year 3 (2025-26)	Year 4 (2026-27)	Year 5 (2027-28)

Georgie and Emma, like all Wildflower Teacher Leaders, are social entrepreneurs, committed to the art and science of teaching and leading a Montessori classroom. Wildflower Teacher Leaders begin imagining their classroom during the School Startup Journey (SSJ), a systemized, holistic professional development program where entrepreneurial educators use their experience as Montessorians and equity-minded community leaders to develop their unique vision that meets the regulatory expectations of our authorizer, Mesa County Valley School District D51, and the Colorado Department of Education (CDE). What emerges from the SSJ are inspiring, coherent school plans co-designed with the community. The relationships made during this process support recruitment efforts, and also translates into a vibrant school culture that reflects the assets and investment of local businesses and partners who have built and contributed to the neighborhood.

Teacher Leaders continue deep and frequent professional development trainings and equity-rooted coaching long after the SSJ, modeling continuous growth and innovation, motivated by the focus on their own well-being and leadership accountabilities. In the Grand Valley, WMPPSC Teacher Leaders are supported by charter-wide staff, including the Shared Services Partner, the equivalent of a traditional charter CEO, Student Services Coordinator, the equivalent of a Special Education Coordinator, and Finance Partner. Together, the staff and Teacher Leaders create the conditions for our community- and child-centered approach and share the work and responsibilities that ensure schools operate to the highest standards.

Our governance and administrative approach is rooted in radical transparency, and employs thoughtful processes for clarifying accountability, integrating multiple perspectives into decisions and collaboratively resolving conflict. As a charter defined by 'freedom within limits,' the staff and Teacher Leaders are accountable to one another; the Board of Directors holds the Shared Services Partner accountable for charter-wide responsibilities and Teacher Leaders accountable for site-specific responsibilities, including student performance and well-being. The WMPPSC Board of Directors is guided by our organizing policies that are the foundation of our work. WMPPSC is carefully designed as a thriving inclusive ecosystem, reflecting the interconnectedness of children, adults, and community, in order to realize our vision and exceed the metrics outlined in our charter contract.

A. Vision and Mission

Vision Statement

We envision a diverse network of community-embedded schools that are led by Teacher Leaders, co-created with families and partners, and enable all children to cultivate their unique identities and gifts in pursuit of their fullest potential as individuals and contributors to a more just world.

“Visualizamos una red diversa de escuelas integradas en la comunidad que están dirigidas por maestros líderes, que se crean conjuntamente con familias y compañeros, y que permiten a todos los niños cultivar sus identidades y dones únicos en la búsqueda de su máximo potencial como individuos y contribuyentes a un mundo más justo.”

Mission Statement

The mission of Wildflower Montessori Public Schools of Colorado (WMPPSC) is to provide families with child-centered, authentic Montessori education that bridges academic outcomes and social-emotional development through intimate learning communities deeply rooted in place, equity, and belonging.

La misión de Wildflower Montessori Public Schools of Colorado (WMPPSC) es brindar una educación Montessori auténtica, que una los resultados académicos y el desarrollo socioemocional, en entornos de aprendizaje vibrantes y únicos profundamente arraigados en el lugar, la comunidad y el sentido de pertenencia.

WMPPSC is a state-wide charter ecosystem currently composed of two locations, the Grand Valley and Aurora, where Wildflower has proposed opening multi-site charter schools. These charters are unique: they are wholly place-based, led by local Teacher Leaders who leverage the Wildflower model to bring about their vision. In Grand Valley, WMPPSC is a network of four intentionally small sites designed to provide an exemplary education to students in grades PK-6. The Grand Valley charter school in Mesa County Valley School District D51 nurtures each child's unique academic and social needs by providing high quality Montessori learning environments that meet or exceed Colorado state academic standards and offer identity-affirming, differentiated learning opportunities for all students.

By creating access to public Montessori education within the historic Western Slope of Colorado, WMPPSC is re-centering Montessori to its founding roots in equity and social justice and contributing to D51's strategic plan to prepare and support students and teachers, and to engage and support community partners. The Montessori Method individualizes learning, supporting each child's unique gifts and needs on the path to self-actualization and independence. Montessori is an ideal learning model and approach for children living in diverse but marginalized settings.<sup>5</sup>

The WMPPSC Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging Agreement (Appendix A_DEIB Agreement) is a commitment that our community agrees to - from Teacher Leaders to board members to staff. This living document expresses a recursive cycle of learning, acting, and reflecting about our diversity and equity practices, modeling for students and families our approach to a more just world. We are intentional about putting tools in place to be inclusive and create environments where every person feels they belong, aligned with D51's Four Core Behaviors.

Additionally, the Wildflower purpose, norms, values, and principles (see figure below) are guideposts for our charter. Our distinctly different model creates thriving sites in the Grand Valley neighborhoods, intentionally small and community-embedded through deep family engagement, teacher-leadership, and sustained local partnerships that endure well after the microsites open.

D51 WMPPSC Growth Plan

The WMPPSC growth plan in the Grand Valley will open four microsites proximal to downtown Grand Junction by 2028. Cactus Bloom Montessori, the initial Lower Elementary site, will open in 2023; WMPPSC will add a Primary (PK) site in Years 2 and 5; and the Upper Elementary site in Year 4. The detailed growth plan is below:

Grade level	Year 1 (2023-24)	Year 2 (2024-25)	Year 3 (2025-26)	Year 4 (2026-27)	Year 5 (2027-28)

D51 WMPPSC Growth Plan

The WMPPSC projected enrollment, growth, and matriculation plans were determined based on opening four microsites in the Grand Valley across five years. The growth reflects:

- Montessori practices of a multi-age classroom;
- Wildflower microsites, averaging 45 students per site, led by two Teacher Leaders;
- Teacher Leaders' interest in opening a WMPPSC microsite in the Grand Valley and time to complete the School Startup Journey (Appendix B_Wildflower School Startup Journey Deck);
- Relationship building with community partners and holding a solid reputation with D51 and district families;
- The Grand Valley need to increase PK availability and access;
- Fiscal balance to operate a high-quality micro-school ecosystem supported by charter-wide services.

During our community engagement efforts, we have heard from families about a desire for a small, intimate school community that fosters deep relationships among students and families. Our growth reflects our ability, fiscally and operationally, to offer the following qualities that have been voiced:

- Individualized learning;
- Mixed-age;
- A diverse student body and staff;
- A safe, inclusive learning community.
- Hands-on learning opportunities
- A small, intimate school community that fosters a strong sense of belonging

B.3 Target Student Population

The WMPSC target student population is listed below, based on averages of proximal schools (Section B.5. below) and WMPSC's commitment to building access to Montessori for marginalized students. WMPSC plans to reflect the demographics of D51 as a whole in our target population, knowing that enrollment at WMPSC is open to all students in D51.

School	%BIPOC <sup>6</sup>	% Free or Reduced Lunch Eligible (FRLE)	% Special Education	% Multilingual Learner	% Gifted
WMPSC Anticipated Demographic	38	60	15	6	3.4
Demographic of Mesa County Valley District 51	30.3	45	12.3	3.4	3.4

Nisley Elementary	48.3	81.6	17.7	10	Not available
Pear Park Elementary	40.7	70.2	13.9	3.8	Not available
Dos Rios Elementary	37	72	19	4.7	Not available
Chatfield Elementary	32	53	17	5	Not available
Clifton Elementary	41.5	85	22	10	Not available

B.4 Projected Student Demographic Process

The projected student demographics were determined by analyzing the demographics of D51 as a whole and the schools most proximal to downtown Grand Junction, where we plan to locate (detailed in Section I). Additionally, WMPPSC is co-creating our microsites advised by local organizations, like Mesa County Partnership for Children and Families, Hiltop Family Resource Center, and Migrant Education Program West-Central Region, and community leader Jose Luis Chavez. These voices have advised that our projected demographics for BIPOC, FRL, special education, and multilingual learners be higher than the district average and more aligned with the families that their organizations serve. This projection correlates to our Wildflower principle of equity and our norm of unity. WMPPSC is in Grand Valley to bring the Montessori Method to all students, especially to a demographic with historically less access to the Method and a population that can benefit from identity-affirming and culturally responsive education.<sup>7</sup>

D.5. Proximal Schools

Included in the tables below are public, public charter, and independent schools in central and east-central Grand Junction, our target area, detailed in Section I. These schools have been analyzed based on their educational model, grade level, programmatic offerings, and cost. Public charter and independent schools are also listed because we are a unique 'alternative' Montessori model that few other proximal schools represent.

B.7 WMPSC Educational Option

The Grand Valley currently offers limited Montessori options for D51 families, and WMPSC will significantly increase access to an affordable Montessori education option for families in this region. There is only one existing public charter school (Monument View Montessori School), an independent charter school that enrolls approximately 62 students, has a waitlist for 2022-2023, and is located in Fruita. WMPSC will open access for families wishing to enroll their children in a public Montessori school, especially those closer to Grand Junction. While there is an existing independent Montessori school in the area, Heartsong, they do not offer an elementary option, and tuition can often be unaffordable for the target population WMPSC seeks to serve.<sup>8</sup>

The majority of elementary schools in the geographic area in which WMPSC proposes to open are not yet meeting academic performance or growth expectations, as defined by the Colorado Department of Education and D51. Most of these schools, both traditional public and public charter, are either approaching or not meeting in these areas. Given the research outlined in Section E that supports the Montessori Method's effectiveness in academic achievement, particularly for economically disadvantaged students, WMPSC will offer an educational option for the target population that meets or exceeds the academic performance of the regional public and charter schools.

WMPSC also offers a unique opportunity because the Montessori model is inherently designed to support students on an individual and differentiated basis, a model made even more possible by the small size of our microsites. Our Teacher Leaders co-create their microsite with the community, offering individualized support for every student, especially multilingual learners, students with disabilities and mental health needs, and students identified as gifted and talented. WMPSC is targeting to support these subpopulations based on averages either the same as or above district-wide percentages and aligned with public elementary schools in our geographic area.

Existing area schools that offer alternative educational options in both public and private settings (Classical, Montessori, Waldorf) are all at capacity with waitlists. There is a need in D51 for additional spots for families seeking an educational model different from the traditional elementary options currently available in the area.

B.8 Community Engagement

Over the course of the last several months, WMPSC Founding Teacher Leaders Georgie and Emma have initiated an extensive community engagement process involving multiple critical stakeholders in the Grand Valley community, including local parents, area non-profit organizational partners, D51 families and employees, and local community leaders (Appendix B_WMPSC Discovery Interview Framework).

Strategies in which Emma and Georgie have engaged these key stakeholders include:

- Social media outreach on local parent groups and community message boards;
- One-on-one Discovery Interviews with prospective parents, community leaders, and community organizations;
- Focus Groups to solicit parent/guardian input on educational experiences and aspirations for the school;
- Informal meet-and-greet/playdate for prospective students and families;
- Outreach to community partners that serve prospective families.

Part of the work of our Founding Teacher Leaders has been virtual and in-person outreach and canvassing at the following partner organizations and local community businesses to garner the required Interest Form. Through our comprehensive community engagement efforts, we have received 73 Interest Forms, 39 for Year 1, detailed in B.9. Outreach and canvassing opportunities that Georgie and Emma have, thus far, attended include:

- Grand Junction Market on Main
- Social Media Outreach on local parent groups and community boards
- Migrant Education Program Family Institute
- Storytime with Mesa County Libraries
- Outreach and marketing material distribution to community partners that serve prospective families

They have also worked to partner with local community leaders and organizations, particularly those that serve the diverse target population WMPSC anticipates in our student body. Teacher Leaders have engaged in Discovery Interview conversations and begun developing mutually beneficial partnerships with the following individuals and organizations:

- Hope of the Grand Valley
- Hilltop Family Resource Center - Sherry Price
- Creative Avenues Preschool - Joy Potter
- Headwaters Housing Partners - Grady Lenkin
- Black Citizens and Friends - David Combs
- Jose Luis Chavez, Cesar Chavez Celebration, community organizer
- D51 Migrant Education Program - Koreena Montoya
- Mesa County Partnership for Children and Families (PCF)
- The Joseph Center
- Local parents and teachers

Additionally, WMPSC Founding Teacher Leaders have engaged both the D51 Superintendent, Dr. Brian Hill, and the D51 Board President, Andrea Hartz, in conversation about the vision and goals of WMPSC. Partnership with D51 leadership and employees is a critical component of our work as an in-district charter school, and these conversations have proved promising and supportive.

Discovery interviews, partnership conversations, and informal connections with local families, such as at the meet-and-greet in the park and the Farmer's Market, were intentionally open-ended, designed to solicit honest feedback about community members' visions for their children's education without expectation or agenda. Through these conversations, our Teacher Leaders learned that families want schools that address the following needs and themes:

- Parents are seen, heard, and involved in their children's education: they want opportunities to be in dialogue and collaborative partnership with their children's schools, including meaningful and intentional connections with teachers and staff;
- School is a place where children are seen for who they are as unique individuals and feel safe being themselves. They want their children to be known, and they want school staff to have a deep understanding of children's backgrounds and specific stories and situations so that their care for and response to children can be individualized;
- Schools are small, allowing for the inclusion of parents and the support for children on an individual level, as stated in the first two bullet points;
- Teachers are empathetic and care for the whole child above and beyond children's racial backgrounds or academic progress;
- Mixed-age classrooms and learning experiences, which allow for more time to follow students' individual learning pathways and for children to learn from and be empathetic to children of different ages.

Many of these desires expressed by community members in the Grand Valley reflect WMPSC's vision for expanding access to individualized Montessori education in the public sector.

Additionally, these desires have contributed to and helped to solidify WMPSC's plans for family involvement, including the vision for and development of our local Community Design Teams, which will be hyperlocal coalitions of families, organizational partners, and local community leaders. These Community Design Teams will be involved in and contribute to several key design aspects of the school microsites and will be mobilized once the charter is approved.

Additionally, conversations with local community organizations and leaders about the educational and programmatic needs of historically and educationally disadvantaged students contributed significantly to WMPSC's expected target population, our decision to narrow our site locations to the area that we are proposing (described in more detail in Section I), and our plans to ensure that our organization is more than adequately staffed to support the needs of students in this target population, specifically economically disadvantaged students, multilingual learners, and students with disabilities and mental health needs (described in more detail in Section D).

It continues to be our goal to prioritize connecting with community leaders and organizations that work directly with educationally disadvantaged students and their families and with whom the relational trust has been established. For example, there are plans to engage Hilltop Family Resource Center families by offering a free Montessori class. WMPSC perceives our relationship with D51 as a keystone to build community trust and support. WMPSC also recognizes a language barrier although our outreach and marketing materials (including social media) and forms have been translated into Spanish and a translator joined our events. In our search for a Shared Services Partner, a desired quality is local experience and Spanish-speaking. We plan to continue to engage with families through these partner organizations throughout the fall. Strategies and details for our community engagement plans that will continue through 2022-2023 can be found in Appendix B_WMPSC: GV_Community Engagement Plan Ongoing.

B.9.10.11 Community Interest

Founding Teachers Leaders are using an interest form (Appendix B_WMPPSC Interest Form ENG SPA) to solicit interest in enrollment. The following table reflects what we have received to date. We expect that by the end of September, we will exceed 48 letters.

Grade Level	Number of Students in Year 1	Interest Forms
Kindergarten	14	10
2	10	3
Total	48	39

B.12 Community Support

Even at this early stage, Grand Valley families and community members are energized by the possibility of WMPPSC being a viable choice for their child. Teacher Leaders have engaged the following organizations to inform their school design, application, and outreach to families.

- Mesa County Partnership for Children and Families (PCF) is focused on strengthening partnerships within the community to leverage resources that support the holistic development of all children locally by increasing and improving quality care in every child care setting, supporting and building future providers, and connecting families to resources that support the health and well-being of their children to ensure that the needs of every child in Mesa County are met. Our team members have connected with Stephanie Bivins, Director, to understand the early childhood landscape and seek advice throughout the application process.
- Hilltop Family Resource Center is a "one-stop-shop" for families who need services and supports, including, but not limited to, B4 Babies and Beyond, which helps families access health care coverage through Medicaid and CHP+, Family First, which includes weekly support groups for families plus caregiver support groups, and High Fidelity Wraparound, which supports families in identifying and achieving their goals. Our Teacher Leaders have connected with Sherry Price, Deputy Director, and other staff members to assess the need for additional options in both early childhood and elementary education in the Grand Valley. We plan to participate in upcoming events and distribute information about the school to families who participate in their programs on an ongoing basis. We will continue to build a partnership with the education professionals at Hilltop in the coming months by offering a free Montessori child care class to interested families to provide exposure to these families about what Montessori looks and feels like. Our vision is to build strong relationships with - individual families who will join our Community Design Teams and choose to enroll their children in our Grand Valley sites.

- Migrant Education Program West-Central Region (MEP) works to ensure that migrant children fully benefit from the same free public education provided to other children by supporting educational programs that reduce education disruptions that can result from repeated moves. These services include but are not limited to, supporting school enrollment, accessing medical, dental, and mental health care, collaboration and communication with school staff, and registration costs for attendance to conferences, workshops, and training. After conducting a Discovery Interview with members of the MEP team, our Teacher Leader was invited to attend the Family Institute and share information about our microsite. We will continue to engage MEP families one-on-one to include interested parents in our Community Design Teams and hope to co-host an event to provide information and exposure to the Montessori philosophy and practice.
  - The Joseph Center was created to support families at the intersection of homelessness and parenting. Its mission is to provide hope, establish stability, encourage resourcefulness and confer a sense of belonging to the greater community. Their programs include a day shelter, parent advocacy, integrated financial services, and outreach. Teacher-Leader Emma Reicks has engaged the Outreach Director and has arranged to participate in an upcoming event to engage families.
  - Montessori Education Center of the Rockies (MECR): MECR is a nationally accredited Montessori training center located just west of the Aurora border in east Denver. One Teacher Leader attended a Montessori certification program at MECR, and MECR will likely be a certification site for future WMPSC Teacher Leaders. We will also connect with teachers currently in their training programs to share information about Teacher Leader opportunities in the WMPSC network if these teachers in training are looking for new communities in which to teach and lead.

In addition to the organizations listed above, WMPSC Teacher Leaders have begun conversations with the following organizations:

- Hope of the Grand Valley works to break the cycle of poverty by providing support to families who do not qualify for welfare or housing assistance. This partnership is in its early stages as we have just begun initial conversations with their leadership. We hope to offer a free Montessori child care class during an upcoming parent support group to any interested families to provide exposure to these families about what Montessori looks and feels like. Our vision is to build strong relationships with individual families who will join our Community Design Teams and choose to enroll their children in our Grand Valley sites.
- Headwaters Housing Partners is a real estate investment and development firm addressing Western Colorado's housing crisis through public-private partnerships and creative financing structures. One such potential project is a partnership to build a workforce housing development adjacent to the location of our first microsite.

Our work to establish partnerships with community organizations has resulted in the submission of letters in support of this application, which can be found in Appendix B_ Letters of Support. Community, organization, and facilities Letters of Support are below.

Community Letters of Support

Laura Alexander	Executive Director, Montessori Education Center of the Rockies

Opportunities for Parent/Community Involvement

The Montessori pedagogy is inherently child-focused and individualized. WMPSC parents and guardians will be provided frequent personalized student reports through the use of the Transparent Classroom record-keeping system, as well as attend conference cycles three times per year. Teacher Leaders will immediately and intentionally connect with and engage families in the learning process through home visits before the beginning of school and the initial conference cycle. We plan to create an opportunity for students to visit the classroom before the start of the school year for a 20-30 minutes session to participate in sample Montessori lessons. This early introduction to the school environment gives the children the opportunity to engage with the Teacher Leaders in the classroom, parents and guardians the chance to continue establishing a relationship with Teacher Leaders, and all adults time to observe the children's "work" as they become familiarized with the materials, guides and environment.

The multi-age classroom, wherein a student has the same Teacher Leader for a three-year cycle, is a Montessori element that provides consistency in teaching, learning, and family engagement. The microsite model is intentionally designed for direct and honest communication between home and school. In this model, Teacher Leaders know their students well and share proactively and swiftly on their academic and social-emotional progress.

Our microsites will engage in traditions, activities, and events that strengthen the school-family partnership. Teacher Leaders at each site develop these activities within the context of communities' culture and traditions.

WMPSC ensures that all families can access a Montessori education for their child, regardless of their availability to volunteer, and, as such, there is no requirement for parents to volunteer at the school. Our sites are not reliant on parent volunteer hours. Still, Teacher Leaders will provide a range of volunteer opportunities to meet parents' varying schedules, interests, and skill sets, and family involvement will be encouraged, depending on the capacity of the family. WMPSC will encourage parents to volunteer and keep an updated list of specific ways parents can support the site and their children's learning, both in person and at home.

Families will be integral members of our Community Design Teams and the School Accountability Committee. Our WMPSC Board of Directors will include parents/guardians. Per the Bylaws, the Board of Directors requires two parents/guardian representatives. As such, parents will be involved at all levels of school governance and advising. Teacher Leaders at each site will decide on additional parent/guardian volunteer roles, such as:

- Community liaison
- Activity support or lead (such as music/yoga)
- Field trip support
- Translator
- Advisory Council

We are sensitive to our founding families' linguistic, technological, and particular communication needs. In collaboration with families and in accordance with their needs, Teacher Leaders will make site-based decisions around using phone apps, hard copy information, and/or social media platforms to communicate.

During home visits and registration, Teacher Leaders will ask parents how they would like to receive information and communications. For non-urgent concerns or those who would like to schedule a future visit/appointment with the Teacher Leaders, email will typically be used (with policies giving Teacher Leaders a 24-48 hr time frame to respond Monday-Friday). Teacher Leaders may use Bloomz, Seesaw or other applications for urgent messages or concerns that can be solved quickly. This kind of medium can also help communicate things like snow days, school closures, and other things that need immediate attention. Alongside plans to leverage technology to support school communications, we will ultimately honor families' preferred vehicle to ensure they can each access school information and opportunities for involvement effectively and comfortably.

Like we have done in our current community engagement efforts, we will make every effort to ensure our family communications are communicated in English and Spanish. We will prioritize translating our communications into the other languages our families speak to ensure that communication is accessible to all family members. Teacher Leaders may facilitate monthly family meetings to build community by communicating, educating, and informing parents. Example topics include: "What is Montessori?", "What are practical life skills children can practice at home?", and "How can we help our child develop independence?" Additionally, Teacher Leaders will seek and listen to ideas and concerns raised by parents and guardians. Teacher Leaders will make family events, discussion topics, and site-based schedule decisions through advice they receive from community members, emerging situations, and evolving conditions.

C. School Culture

C.1 WMPSC School Culture

Our sites in Grand Valley are part of the Colorado ecosystem of Wildflower Schools, a decentralized network of small Montessori microsites across fourteen states.<sup>9</sup> The first Wildflower School opened in Cambridge, Massachusetts in 2014. That first school and the others that sprouted around it ignited interest from all over the world in creating teacher-led local microsites using the Wildflower model. Currently, Wildflower has charters in Minnesota, New York, and the District of Columbia.

The Wildflower purpose, values, norms, and principles, described in Section A, underpin our school culture to promote a positive academic environment and reinforce student intellectual and social development. These shared ideas are the roots from which our sites grow and flourish as nurturing and connected learning spaces for wholeness and healing. WMPSC microsites operationalize Wildflower's purpose, norms, values, and principles in the following ways to create a school culture that prioritizes the holistic growth of students, Teacher Leaders, staff, and families:

Wildflower School sites are small.

Typically, 2 Teacher Leaders co-lead and co-teach a microsite of 22-60 students in a one-room (or two-room) school. A multi-age classroom spans multiple years, starting with PK3-K, first through third grades, and fourth through sixth grades. Research shows that small schools engage students and teachers more completely.<sup>10</sup>

Wildflower teachers are social entrepreneurs.

Teacher Leaders lead the classroom and serve as microsite administrators. Handling these facets of a school develops inspiring leaders and conceptually consistent schools. Research shows that operating with a mix of autonomy and support leads to greater job satisfaction, higher retention rates, and greater happiness in the teaching profession.<sup>11</sup> Given the current wave of teachers leaving the education field following the pandemic, compared with the low turnover of Teacher Leaders in the Wildflower network in the past two years,<sup>12</sup> this model is more effective than ever in retaining top talent.

Wildflower School sites are authentic Montessori programs.

The classroom is a beautiful, culturally embedded, and prepared environment where teachers guide children to ensure they learn core concepts. The Montessori Method integrates academic and socioemotional objectives, having a long-term impact on both with even a few years of early exposure to an authentic Montessori environment.<sup>13</sup>

Wildflower School sites focus on diversity and community.

Wildflower designs schools to be both economically accessible and culturally sustaining. Teacher Leaders engage the community, select a facility and build partnerships that center students of the global majority, and deeply engage parents.

Wildflower School sites are innovative.

Wildflower microsites serve as laboratories for child-centered learning informed by data. Montessori teachers rely on detailed observation protocols to gauge student progress and adjust the classroom environment to maximize learning. All Wildflower sites are built on research and insights from the fields of human development, learning science, and organizational theory to create schools with the capacity for transformation.

C2. Creating School Culture

In our Montessori environments, Teacher Leaders design every element to help children develop self-regulation and conscious awareness of how their actions affect their individual freedoms and the greater good of the classroom community. From returning a classroom object to its correct place so everyone will be able to find it, to helping a younger child who is struggling with a math concept, to working together to create a class constitution, children develop a sense of agency and understand that they are responsible for themselves and the peaceful tone of the classroom.

To prepare children to thrive not just in school but in life, Teacher Leaders create classroom conditions that allow children the freedom to make choices and experience real-life consequences, such as missing the beginning of an activity if a lunch table has not been cleaned or repairing harm with a peer when conflict escalates. Teacher Leaders emphasize prevention first. Through creating a positive, connected, and peaceful learning environment and using positive behavioral intervention and restorative justice principles, Teacher Leaders foster an environment in which students can understand the impact of poor decisions and use these experiences as an opportunity to learn and make amends. This sort of conscious classroom approach resonates with our culturally responsive pedagogy model.

School culture at Wildflower sites ultimately reflects the “Montessori for Adults” philosophy. As Sep Karnvar, founder of the first Wildflower school and The Wildflower Foundation, wrote:

...as the school community settles into Wildflower structures and practices, it creates an ease and joy and growth process that mirrors that of a Montessori classroom. The social environment of the adults is thus prepared to allow for authentic Montessori to flourish, both in the classroom and in the home.

My hope is that such structures will allow for the flourishing of our natural capacities as adults for kindness, for generosity of spirit, for open-mindedness and open-heartedness. My hope is that by unlocking the great power of these qualities, we may work gently together to make the world a more beautiful place.

From the moment a family is introduced to Wildflower during a community engagement event to the time when that same family enrolls their child at a WMPPSC site, they are experiencing what the “Montessori for Adults” philosophy means. WMPPSC microsites include families and elevate their voices; Teacher Leaders invite students and families to summer open houses and will complete home visits before the first day of school or if the child enrolls mid-year, pending public health safety standards.

Home visits catalyze authentic school-home relationships with families and are a tool for building cultural responsiveness and cultural bridges. Research shows that in addition to academic results, there are “documented outcomes to show the positive impact of home visits, outcomes related to school climate, family involvement, and school/family trust. In addition, anecdote after anecdote from participating teachers and families speaks to the power of the visit in increasing empathy and understanding on the part of both parties, as well as in forming the foundation of a relationship that allows information to be shared effectively.”<sup>14</sup>

The staff and Board support Teacher Leaders so they can create and uphold these personalized and authentic connections. For example, the Shared Services Partner allocates time in their schedule to be available on-site when a Teacher Leader needs to attend community input events; and the Board expects that families and Teacher Leaders are present at Board meetings, both as members and as participants during open meetings.

The “Montessori for Adults” philosophy at WMPPSC integrates our adoption of Culturally Responsive pedagogy, Conscious Discipline (CD) and Restorative Justice (RJ) discipline approaches, and healing-centered teaching and learning. These show up in our school culture in specific stakeholder groups, such as:

- Teacher Leaders and Other WMPPSC Employees: Building a strong school culture begins with the hiring process. Cultural fit will inform hiring decisions, as will completion of a Montessori training course (for Teacher Leaders) and relevant experience. In the Wildflower model of two Teacher Leaders sharing leadership of the environment, these Teacher Leaders must work well together. The School Startup Journey (Appendix B_Wildflower School Startup Journey Deck), detailed in Section H, is a process to determine how two Teacher Leaders who share a commitment to starting a school will work in partnership. Teacher Leaders and other staff will be introduced to the culture before school opening. Professional development days before the first day of school will allow staff to immerse themselves in preparing to practice, adopt, and deliver the culture of the microsite, including training on CD and RJ. As the year progresses, Teacher Leaders will engage in regular professional development, giving them ongoing opportunities to revisit or engage more deeply with CD, RJ practices, and classroom safety.
- Families: Families and students will be introduced to WMPPSC culture at outreach efforts that take place in advance of the enrollment application process and continue through the summer before opening; at a pre-opening student and family orientation where the Teacher

Leaders will teach families about the school's culture and systems through a series of simulations; at individual home visits with each family and student, as described above, and through the provision of the School and Family Handbook that will outline culture, expectations, and practices. Teacher Leaders will offer monthly family education opportunities throughout the year on topics that focus on specific family needs and will regularly organize family events (e.g., a game or movie night). Staff will also engage families in the school culture by promoting participation at school events, including culminating performances, rituals, and traditions.

- Students: The first day of school will begin with an introduction to the school culture. Students will enter classrooms where Teacher Leaders engage them in activities introducing them to school-wide values and practices such as where items belong and how to manage their work cycle materials. Teacher Leaders and the classroom community will reinforce these skills, values, and habits across lessons and interactions as students progress through the middle grades. School-wide rituals and routines will be established and put in place. Tools and practices will be displayed in written materials (e.g., family newsletters) and consistently used across classrooms and during whole-school activities to develop shared communication norms and unite all in the WMPPSC mission.

6.3 Social-Emotional Learning

The Montessori classroom provides a safe (emotionally, physically, and ethically) and welcoming setting that provides the necessary academic, social, and emotional supports that all students need. The Montessori philosophy helps young children build emotional intelligence through relationships, interactions, and activities. Montessori education emphasizes teaching children to develop peaceful relationships with one another and with themselves and, as a result, is categorized as a mindfulness education among researchers.<sup>15</sup>

Montessori education emphasizes whole child development and is a proven approach to developing children's socioemotional learning, self-regulation, and executive functioning.<sup>16</sup> Montessori requires students to focus on one particular job for as long as they need, and the WMPPSC classrooms will present as minimalist, quiet, and calm spaces designed for the optimal learning environment.

In WMPPSC's multi-age setting, teachers have deep knowledge of students' capacities and needs, and students experience consistency of teacher expectations (behavioral and academic) because of these long-term relationships. Over the course of these three years, Teacher Leaders can support students' comfort, security, and emotional health in the classroom and provide high levels of mutual caring and concern. Furthermore, the multi-age classroom empowers older children to recognize the responsibility of modeling good behavior and reinforcing behavioral expectations, creating a safer, more supportive learning environment for all students.<sup>17</sup>

At WMPPSC, Teacher Leaders will be responsible for maintaining the social-emotional health of students, beginning on day one and continuing over students' time in that Teachers Leader's classroom. Over that extended period, Teacher Leaders and WMPPSC adults will build and maintain authentic relationships with students so that if they are experiencing any stress, family issues, or conflict with other students, WMPPSC can address it promptly and thoroughly. "Studies show that students who have a strong alliance with their teacher perform better academically than those who have any sort of conflict. The key for teachers is to find a balance between maintaining strong student relationships and setting and maintaining class procedures and high expectations."<sup>18</sup>

The Teacher Leaders greet students as they to ensure they are ready for the day. Teacher Leaders establish a morning routine of greeting the children and observing them opening their backpacks and communicating with them as they prepare for the day. This routine allows Teacher Leaders to assess that students do not have any objects that are prohibited at school and to understand their mental and social-emotional mindset as the day begins. Teacher Leaders rely heavily on carefully observing the class ecosystem to identify obstacles to its balance and cohesion and prepare appropriate interventions. Interventions include: addressing breaches one-on-one in the moment, bringing issues to the daily community meeting for discussion and problem solving, and preparing small- and whole-group grace and courtesy lessons where role-plays are leveraged to illustrate an issue and allow students to self-correct and practice an alternative behavior. Teacher Leaders respond to any problem or need that a student or students may have, including resolving conflicts through RJ practices. Additionally, WMPPSC will contract for counseling and other mental health services in accordance with student needs. WMPPSC employs a school psychologist for student support and Teacher Leader consultation.

A physically safe learning environment includes well-developed rules and procedures that students understand. In Montessori settings, classroom ground rules are rules for human behavior that provide limits for the group and the individual. Classroom ground rules allow each child the freedom to choose, concentrate and create.<sup>19</sup> Teacher Leaders will expect to revisit and update these ground rules and procedures to meet students' changing needs and the classroom's changing environment. Teacher Leaders will communicate caring through daily actions that show students they belong and that the Teacher Leader is there to help them learn. For example, Teacher Leaders may provide positive feedback in recognition of a student's effort while also providing meaningful feedback needed to drive change (in behavior and/or academics). Our mission-aligned assessment includes the Minnesota Executive Function Scale (MEFS) and the Developmental Environment Rating Scale (DEERS) to detail and monitor aspects of our students' social-emotional learning and inform ongoing Teacher Leader professional development.

C4 Supporting All Students

Maria Montessori developed her method over 100 years ago based on observations and research in schools serving high-poverty communities and children with special needs. Driven by curiosity, social justice, and an equity mindset, Dr. Montessori was a scientist who applied her medical training to teaching and, in doing so, uncovered universal truths about child development. WMPPSC is intentionally creating learning environments where Teacher Leaders are developing sites with a social justice, identity affirming, and inclusive classroom focus. The WMPSC Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging Agreement (Appendix A_DEIB Agreement) calls on the WMPSC community to support all individuals. It builds regular touch points, so the Agreement is a living document to uphold a school culture supportive of students with a variety of needs.

During the Planning Year, staff onboarding, and every Teacher Leader's School Start-up Journey, WMPSC designs for equity. We use the equityXdesign Framework (Appendix C_equityXdesign Framework) to design for the most marginalized students, including students receiving special education services, gifted students, Multilingual Learners, and students at risk of academic failure. Equity shows up in the way we communicate with families and welcome students to events before their first day of school; in the way our Teacher Leaders and staff lean into their own equity and bias work as a regular practice; how our physical spaces accommodate all individuals and how we strive, for not just social justice in our microsites, but environmental and climate justice. We recognize that the most marginalized students and families experience academic gaps - and have less access to resources to create wholeness in their lives.

WMPSC actively embodies a school culture where belonging is centered - and we live into systems where we hold ourselves and one another accountable, even when they are not part of performance management reports.

C.5. Typical WMPSC Student Day

A typical day in the life of a lower elementary child is one where they take ownership as soon as they walk into the building. They begin by greeting one another while they put away their personal items, then collect their work plan to see what their day consists of. The work plan is a tool to track the work they have completed, record their follow-up choices after a lesson, and set priorities in their work.

When the music stops, it informs everyone that it is time for the student-led community meeting. It is a time when both students and adults discuss problems affecting the whole group, which then leads to a discussion where everyone brainstorm solutions they can try. Some days a Teacher Leader might present a whole group lesson, or students will begin to work independently during the morning work cycle.

Throughout the cycle, students are given lessons both individually and in groups. They can move freely around the classroom and work at tables or on the floor. While students receive lessons, their classmates work independently throughout all areas of the classroom. Together they review each other's work, rely on each other for help, share materials, and work collaboratively on projects that interest them.

When it is time for lunch, students clean up by organizing and putting away their completed work. After lunch and recess, there is a read aloud, a time to relax and refresh the mind before the afternoon work cycle. During the afternoon, the students return to their independent work or participate in special classes such as PE, Art, Creative Movement, and Music.

Once again, it is time to clean up and organize for the end of the day. Each child has a classroom job that they complete to get the space ready for the next day, teaching them responsibility for one's environment and community. Lastly, everyone gets their belongings prepared for dismissal. The schedules below detail the order of the day for both Primary and Elementary students. Teacher Leaders finalize this schedule during the School Startup stage, the final stage of the School Startup Journey.

C.6 Typical WMPSU Teacher Leader Day

The Teacher Leaders are both teachers and administrators; their schedule reflects how they manage time for these responsibilities. The schedule below is an example of a Teacher Leader's day though exact times will fluctuate based on site design and classroom level:

A Teacher Leader's day begins with an awareness of self, well before the students enter the space. We must calm and center ourselves before we can connect with our students with respect and peace. We must look at our values, beliefs, habits, strengths, and weaknesses so that we can move and grow with our students emotionally and educationally. Starting the day with a few deep breaths, journaling, silently repeating a simple inspirational phrase, or spending time in nature sets the tone for the day.

Next, the Teacher Leader prepares the physical environment that will serve the needs of their students. They will organize the physical environment to promote independence, self-regulation, and respect. Together with their co-teacher and assistant, they discuss the lesson plans for the day and any observations that might need to be addressed for the community to be successful.

The Teacher Leader greets each child as they enter the classroom, looking at them with a new lens, as each day is a new day to find something great. When everyone has arrived, Teacher Leaders give students a signal that the community meeting is about to begin. The meeting is a time for connection and community, providing a space to share problems while others listen. After the classroom community addresses all the agenda items, the Teacher Leader validates the concern and asks for ideas from the class that focuses on solutions. Depending on the day of the week, the last portion of the meeting is either a time for sharing, project planning, or presenting a whole group lesson.

As the students prepare for their day, choosing their work during the uninterrupted work period, the Teacher Leader observes the children and acts as part of the environment, not the focal point. As the work period unfolds, Teacher Leaders invite children to individual or small group lessons that fit the specific needs of each student. In between those lessons, they observe the room for concentration, discerning the difference between spontaneous, constructive activity and useless activity, then redirecting when needed.

The transition for lunch begins, a time where there is lots of movement. The adults in the space remain calm and purposeful in modeling the behavior expected of the students. Co-teachers either stay with the children for lunch, have planning time, or take their break. When students come in from recess, the Teacher Leader reads a book aloud to the class, focusing on comprehension, vocabulary, and modeling fluent reading of the text. It is the perfect opportunity to tap into the awe and wonder of the elementary child.

The afternoon work period allows the Teacher Leader to continue their observations, record progress, and finish presenting lessons. It is also when the students participate in specials given by the other co-teacher or assistant, providing time for administrative work or meetings. Observing without judgment is an integral and ongoing part of the Montessori educator's day. There are formal observations where the teacher watches each child or the group as a whole and takes lots of notes and informal observations where the teacher gathers information in the moment throughout the school day. These scientifically applied observations skills allow them to assess the environment for a better understanding of what is needed, in addition to looking into the best way to support each child's individual needs. Then there is an opportunity to choose a course of action, observe its effect, and reflect upon the outcome.

As the children prepare the room for the next day, the Teacher Leader assists them with their job responsibilities and reflects on the day. After dismissal, she continues her work of preparing the space for the next day, communicating with parents, record keeping and planning, and meeting with the teaching team to assess the next steps. Teacher Leaders make site-specific decisions regarding abbreviated school days during the month to schedule professional development and administrative time. We expect that bi-monthly the school day ends shortly after lunch. Teacher Leaders are supported on-site to ensure that there is always an additional adult available at the site.

C.7. WMPSC Discipline Philosophy

At WMPSC, restorative practices are how Teacher Leaders, staff, and students build community and support learning. Discipline will not function to punish, marginalize, or harm students. Instead, all policies and practices related to discipline will serve to ensure that students have the knowledge, skills, and dispositions to support their own learning, contribute to the WMPSC community, and thrive in the world beyond school.

Montessori Culture of Discipline

Montessori-trained teachers create a classroom culture where each child feels seen as a unique individual with acknowledged strengths and weaknesses and is encouraged to soar in their areas of strength and to work hard at their areas of challenge. Children are never made to feel embarrassed or inadequate in their challenges because the teacher scaffolds the work so that the child is working at their academic edge without feeling overwhelmed and honors the unique differences that make them who they are and human.

The WMPSC model, with its emphasis on positive behavioral interventions, personalized learning, following the child, and an identity-affirming environment, will combat overreaching disciplinary practices and cultivates each student's sense of belonging. Montessori students enjoy the freedom to move around and work together, practices that align closely with many of the students we intend to engage, who may come from communal and collaborative home cultures.<sup>20</sup>

Montessori education may also help to reduce the overuse of exclusionary discipline (e.g., suspension and expulsion), especially for students whose identity makes them two to three times more likely to be suspended or expelled from school than their peers.<sup>21</sup> This disproportionate discipline is partially attributable to the spread of zero-tolerance policies and school cultures that emphasize uniformity and compliance and to a shortage of culturally sensitive teachers.<sup>22</sup>

At WMPSC, all sites and Teacher Leaders align with the same intervention policies and have some discretion to adapt them for their unique student population. The purpose of discipline is to maintain a safe environment for learning to take place. Consequently, a range of interventions is available in consideration of the nature, frequency, and effects of the offense. These interventions may include but not be limited to:

- Self-Fixes: Students will be taught strategies, such as de-escalation and calming techniques, for reflecting on behavior, and adults will give them the opportunity to adjust their behavior with guidance.
- Repairing Harm: Students always have the opportunity to address the harm they have caused, even if it appears only to affect themselves. Responsible community members understand that harming oneself harms the group. In a primary classroom, reparations would respond to a child that knocks down someone else's work. They would discuss with an adult or the aggrieved child how they could fix situation. The focus is on problem-solving. What can we do to fix it? This approach focuses on what can be done, instead of fixating on the emotions of what has already occurred and cannot be changed. Our Teacher Leaders support children in identifying various ways of solving the problem and choosing one solution. In this case, we would encourage the child to help the other child rebuild their work. If they destroy a material, the child may help the adult repair it. If a child verbally hurt another classmate, they could write a letter to the other child. The critical takeaway is that this is child-led. The Teacher Leader's role is to support the child in taking responsibility for their actions and to make sure the child understands it is their role to repair the harm done to the best of their abilities.

- Conflict Resolution and Mediation: WMPPSC provides students with the time and space to resolve conflicts in productive manners using restorative justice practices, which may involve individuals or groups. Relevant students will engage in conflict resolution activities as an effective means to repair strains on relationships.
- Temporary Removal: WMPPSC Teacher Leaders will, to the greatest extent possible, broadly avoid using suspension or expulsion as a means of discipline. Sites are designed and staffed to provide a range of support to address any misbehavior that might disrupt learning or create an unsafe environment. Teacher Leaders will play a primary role in addressing these behaviors, and the school culture will reinforce Conscious Discipline and Restorative Justice approaches. We prioritize these inclusive approaches in all discipline situations. Still, we recognize that there may arise problems that will require us to default to the D51 disciplinary policy, which includes suspension and expulsion as a last resort.

There is an expectation that everyone is always “doing their best work” because doing work that is self-chosen and feels meaningful and purposeful drives students—really, any individual. Our job as teachers and staff is to create conditions that allow students to do their best. Teacher Leaders provide students the history of how humans created math and geometry to help them solve real-life problems and all of the fantastic creations and tools that have arisen from this creation—from architecture and astronomy to coding and space travel. They see themselves as part of this continuum of humans exploring math rather than as kids in a classroom doing math worksheets.

In this classroom culture, there is deep respect between children and behavioral norms. A culture of kindness and support allows children to ask for help when needed and call out a child who is being unkind. In the best classrooms, when children see a friend struggling academically or socially, they step in to offer help. In this culture, children get comfortable rising to their best self—meeting their full potential—and become comfortable with risk-taking in their academic work, practical life, and social situations.<sup>23</sup>

WMPPSC Discipline Policy and Procedures

WMPPSC views behavior and discipline through the lens of trauma-sensitive approaches, healing-centered engagement, skill building, and approaching our student population in a culturally responsive way. WMPPSC understands race and gender disparities in school discipline and also believes that students do not commit infractions at school because they are bad or have problems.<sup>24</sup> WMPPSC believes students misbehave when they lack the skills to manage their emotions and behaviors. As such, discipline at WMPPSC starts with universal, school-wide prevention activities anchored in building structure, routines, and connection opportunities. The focus is on increasing students' capacity to manage their emotions and behaviors in alignment with WMPPSC's student code of conduct that will be outlined in the Student and Family Handbook, to be developed once Teacher Leaders are hired in the Planning Year. Essential components of classroom culture at WMPPSC root in Conscious Discipline (CD)<sup>25</sup> and Restorative Justice practices.

Conscious Discipline

Conscious Discipline (CD) is a research-supported comprehensive classroom management program and social-emotional curriculum based on current brain research, child development information, and developmentally appropriate practices.<sup>26</sup> The CD approach encourages teachers and children to modify their behavior to build a school and classroom culture of safety, connection, and problem-solving instead of external rewards and punishment. CD consists of a philosophy, common language, and set of behavior management strategies and positive discipline techniques that help adults manage their thoughts, feelings, and actions in the face of daily stressors, as well as teach these skills to students. CD is infused throughout everyday interactions and routines and tools throughout the school day and year. CD supports Teacher Leaders in setting behavioral expectations, building classroom connectedness, and scaffolding social and emotional skill development during daily teachable moments. Teacher Leaders learn and model these skills in their classrooms with teacher training, self-study, and ongoing coaching and support.

Because CD organizes educational environments around the concept of a School Family,<sup>27</sup> it marries well with the Montessori philosophy and our values and principles. It has been specifically designed to make changes in the lives of adults first. The adults, in turn, change the lives of children. Each member of the students' community—both adult and child—learns the skills needed to successfully manage life tasks such as learning, forming relationships, communicating effectively, being sensitive to others' needs, and getting along with others. The seven essential skills of Conscious Discipline are:

1. Composure - Becoming the person you want your children to be
2. Encouragement - Building a School Family
3. Assertiveness - Respectfully setting limits
4. Choices - Building self-esteem and willpower
5. Positive Intent - Creating teachable moments, turning conflict into cooperation
6. Empathy - Handling the fussing and the fits
7. Consequences - Helping children learn from their mistakes

When adults adopt these skills, their response to conflict facilitates the development of the frontal lobes in children, the area of the brain that controls executive function. Through CD Powers and Skills, adults stay in control of themselves and in charge of children. As adults change their attitudes and behaviors, so do the children in their care. CD is unique because it offers tools for assessing positive changes in adult behaviors and skills.

Restorative Justice

WMPPSC sees Restorative Justice (RJ, also referred to as Restorative Practice) practices as complementing CD and aligning with our equity commitment. RJ supports children to learn from their mistakes in a positive manner that respects their dignity and is not simply the giving of a punishment that has no meaning or relevance. RJ views misconduct as a violation against people that damages relationships and affects both individuals and the larger school community. RJ focuses on problem-solving through the expression of feelings and strategies to address problems in the future. The RJ model defines accountability as understanding the impact of actions, taking responsibility for choices, and suggesting ways to repair harm to others and the community.

WMPPSC's model—with two Teacher Leaders in each classroom and the Montessori work cycles—is an ideal setting for successful RJ implementation. Montessori for Social Justice is raising Montessori educators' skills in implementing RJ practices, recognizing the philosophical alignment between Restorative Justice practices—such as the Peacemaking Circle process—and Montessori philosophy.<sup>28</sup> At WMPPSC, RJ practices include:

- Developing trusting and caring relationships between adults and students; creating a sense of community with a commitment to equity;
- Fostering skills in conflict resolution, such as listening, empathy, critical thinking, and self-control;
- Maximizing student involvement in deciding how to resolve problems, which may include asking questions and listening to answers, exploring different responses, reflecting on motives, and allowing for disagreement;
- Assisting students in considering ways to make amends for misbehavior, such as replacing, repairing, cleaning, or apologizing;
- Following up to determine whether the individuals involved solved the problem or need to do more work;
- Encouraging reflection to consider different actions in the future;
- Allowing flexibility for different students, needs, and situations within a culturally responsive setting; celebrating diversity; fostering inclusivity; and considering the unique opportunities and challenges facing every child;
- Minimizing the punitive impact when control is necessary to repair the relationship and address underlying issues.

Restorative practices in schools are based on RJ principles instead of punishment. They aim first to build classroom communities that are supported by clear agreements, authentic communication, and specific tools to bring issues and conflicts forward in a helpful way. They provide specific pathways to repair harm by bringing together those affected by misbehavior in a dialogue to address concerns, achieve understanding, and come to an agreement about setting things right. In addition to serving the cause of fairness and justice, restorative approaches make safer schools, build positive school culture, decrease suspension rates, and contribute to social and emotional learning, especially for marginalized students.<sup>29</sup>

Ted Wachtel, the founder of The International Institute of Restorative Practice, states that restorative practices enable people, "... to have more voice and more choice in the things that matter to them in everyday life in exchange for taking more responsibility." According to the National Education Association and the Schott Foundation's joint report, schools can directly influence restorative practices within the classroom, the campus, and the community. Within those spheres, educators promote and implement actions aligned with the Four P's: Person, Place, Practice, and Plan. The paradigms and practices in the Montessori pedagogy help Teacher Leaders implement the Four P's across their spheres of influence. WMPPSC will implement the Four P's across the classroom, the campus, and the community through PD training in Year 1, during summer institute before school opening, and every summer for new staff of WMPPSC. Below is a summary of the Four P's across WMPPSC's spheres of influence at each level of classroom, campus, and community.

Person	Place	Practice	Plan
Teacher Leaders model and directly teach interpersonal skills and intentionally work to build trusting relationships with their students. Students learn and apply the habits of interpersonal effectiveness through practices like:	The trust developed at school is essential to implementing restorative practices school-wide. Teacher Leaders and students work toward shared expectations of behavior and sustain a positive learning environment by practicing and modeling positive behaviors.	Teacher Leaders know a student's behavior at school largely functions on how well their needs are met (both within the school and at home). Instead of punishing and isolating a student that acts out, teachers and advisors work within a growth mindset to help the child see their potential.	Teacher Leaders work to build a feeling of community, establish a shared vision, and build trust through regular events like advisory, all school meetings, and Presentations of Learning.

WMPPSC will address problems and concerns with a student, unless it is an emergency, in a one-on-one conversation discreetly. All staff members will guide and address a student with equal respect. Teacher Leaders will engage another staff member for assistance if an issue escalates.

Student Code of Conduct

WMPPSC begins with the behavioral and academic student code of conduct outlined in the Student and Family Handbook, which will be developed in the Planning Year. The student code of conduct will clarify shared community values, norms, and expected codes of conduct; types of infractions; preventative, restorative, and punitive measures aligned to infractions; and staff and community roles in maintaining a positive community. The school and the Board of Directors will review the code of conduct on an annual basis during summer professional development. This annual review will incorporate any areas of improvement based on a review of data or feedback from the previous year. Our Student Discipline Policy (Appendix C_WMPPSC GV Student Discipline Policy Draft) aligns with Colorado State Law to ensure that WMPPSC complies with state code, including C.R.S 22-33-106.

Students and guardians will be asked to sign a verification that they agree with the WMPPSC Code of Conduct at the time of registration. Student and Guardian signatures acknowledge that they have read, understood, and agreed to the expectations to build the WMPPSC community and hold each other accountable. Unless there are clear mitigating circumstances, we hold that students are responsible and accountable for their actions. The Student and Family Handbook will outline behavioral and academic expectations and an overview of restorative practices. Students and parents/guardians sign the student code of conduct at registration.

Suspension

Though suspension is a widely used disciplinary technique in general and special education, research has raised serious questions about its effects. Frequent use of suspension has many undesirable and unintended outcomes, including a less healthy school environment, lower academic achievement, higher levels of disruptive or antisocial behavior, and higher school dropout rates. WMPPSC avoids suspensions to:

- Focus on behavior as a skill;
- Affirm messages to the child about their value as a person and member of the school community;
- Reflect our commitment to Restorative Justice as a learning tool;
- Use MTSS and tiered intervention with fidelity and to individualize supports for social-emotional, behavioral, and traditional academic needs.

Because of these reasons, in as many cases as possible, WMPPSC will utilize in-school suspension (ISS) with students who need an opportunity away from the entire community to reflect, regroup, and determine how to restore, similar to the D51 Student Discipline: District Conduct and Discipline, Code JK-1. The ISS space not only allows the student to reflect upon the choices made but also to consider, alongside supportive WMPPSC staff, how to restore relationships and re-enter the class or school environment. Also, during ISS, students will engage with academic content through one-on-one or small group support from a team member within the school community.

Some offenses that may require a different consequence, such as out-of-school suspension (OSS). A suspendable offense can result in up to 10 days away from school; however, in that time, WMPPSC will work to ensure that students at least have assignments and access to support, if needed, to process through the work. Before returning to school, the student, with at least one family member or community support partner, will engage in a re-entry process, which will include an opportunity to determine the best next steps for returning to the classroom or other restorative efforts. WMPPSC will have a maximum of 20 days suspension (no more than ten days per incident) for each student for the year to ensure the loss of in-class instruction is limited. We expect that it would be extremely rare for any student to reach this maximum given the other preventative and restorative practices at WMPPSC.

Parent/Guardian Notification

In both ISS and OSS instances, parents/guardians will be notified immediately of the infraction and the associated consequence via a phone call home or in-person conversation. Parents/guardians have the opportunity, alongside their student, to conference in person with Teacher Leaders to discuss the situation and determine how the WMFPSC community can support the student to return to the school environment.

Ground for Suspension or Expulsion

Per Colorado Code 22-33-106,<sup>30</sup> the following may be grounds for suspension or expulsion of a child from a public school during a school year:

- Continued willful disobedience or open and persistent defiance of proper authority;
- Willful destruction or defacing of school property; Behavior on or off school property that is detrimental to the welfare or safety of other students or of school personnel, including behavior that creates a threat of physical harm to the child or other children;
- Declaration as a “habitually disruptive student” means a child who has caused a material and substantial disruption on school grounds, in a school vehicle, or at a school activity or sanctioned event three or more times during the course of a school year. Any student who is enrolled in a public school may be subject to being declared a habitually disruptive student.
- Committing one of the following offenses on school grounds, in a school vehicle, or at a school activity or sanctioned event:
  - Possession of a dangerous weapon without the authorization of the school or the school district;
  - The use, possession, or sale of a drug or controlled substance as defined in section C.R.S. 18-18-102 (5); or
  - The commission of an act that, if committed by an adult, would be robbery pursuant to part 3 of article 4 of title 18, C.R.S. or assault pursuant to part 2 of article 3 of title 18, C.R.S. other than the commission of an act that would be third degree assault under section C.R.S. 18-3-204.
- Repeated interference with a school’s ability to provide educational opportunities to other students.
- Carrying, using, actively displaying, or threatening with the use of a firearm facsimile that could reasonably be mistaken for an actual firearm in a school building or in or on school property.
- Making a false accusation of criminal activity against an employee of an educational entity to law enforcement authorities, school district officials, or personnel.

Expulsion

Teacher Leaders will notify parents/guardians of students who are recommended for expulsion.

Teacher Leaders will also notify D51 to ensure accountability of the process and be coordinated in terms of alternate options for the student should the expulsion move forward. An expelled student will be subject to due process under Colorado state law. At WMFPSC, due process will be as follows (subject to Board of Directors validation):

- Teacher Leaders will follow Colorado state law disciplinary policies and procedures for investigating the facts, obtaining witness statements, and ensuring adherence to due process procedures.

- While the next steps are determined, the student will be suspended.
- If the behavior violates D51's student code of conduct, the student will be expelled.
- Teacher Leaders will work with D51 to determine the expulsion length and any additional steps required for the student to return to WMPPSC.
- Teacher Leaders shall report any documentable or suspected incident involving illegal drugs, firearms, explosives, or other weapons to the Grand Junction Police Department and/or Mesa County Sheriff's Office as outlined in Colorado statutes.

There will be additional considerations when engaging with students with disabilities (see below for more information).

Appeal Process

Following the decision to expel, parents/guardians of the student in question may initiate an appeal process. Teacher Leaders will give written notice of the expulsion to the parent/guardian within 24 hours after making the decision. The parent/guardian can then appeal the decision. All appeals must be filed, orally or in writing, within five days after receipt of the notice of expulsion. Absent a timely request for appeal, the decision to expel will be final. The appeal will be filed with the Board of Directors. A hearing will be held no later than 10 days after the beginning of the expulsion.

Notice of the time and place of the hearing will be provided to the parent/guardian, the student, and Teacher Leaders. The Board of Directors may affirm the decision of Teacher Leaders or order removal of the expulsion unconditionally or upon such terms and conditions as it deems reasonable. The action of the Board of Directors is final.

If expulsion is the final decision, WMPPSC understands its role in ensuring that expelled students have access to quality educational opportunities. The Shared Services Partner will work with D51 to help connect the expelled students to another school in the D51 School District, depending on the reason and circumstances around the expulsion. Teacher Leaders will conduct an administrative transfer in coordination with D51 to one of the other schools in the district.

Parent/Guardian Communication

As stated above, upon student registration at WMPPSC, parents/guardians and students will read and sign the student code of conduct and receive the Student and Family Handbook. This document states the individual, peer, and community behavioral expectations of WMPPSC students and guides restorative practice. In addition, the Student and Family Handbook will include, but not be limited to, such items as the school academic and holiday calendar, student fees, student information system, technology policy, learning responsibilities, standardized assessments, and dress code. Teacher Leaders will also introduce families and students to the discipline policy and practices during orientation and individual home visits.

Discipline and Special Education Students

Students with disabilities are neither immune from a school district's disciplinary process nor entitled to participate in programs when their behavior impairs the education of other students. Students with disabilities who engage in disruptive activities and/or actions dangerous to themselves or others will be disciplined in accordance with their IEP, any behavioral intervention plan, and this regulation.

After recommending suspension, removal from a program for more than ten days, or expulsion of a student with an IEP or 504, a Manifestation Determination Review (MDR) will be held to determine: whether the student's misconduct was a manifestation of their disability; whether the student was appropriately placed and receiving the appropriate services at the time of the misconduct; and/or whether behavior intervention strategies were in effect and consistent with the student's IEP or 504 Plan. If it is determined that the student's misconduct was not a manifestation of their disability, and the student was receiving appropriate services and intervention, then the recommended consequence (e.g.: suspension, temporary removal from a program or expulsion) can move forward. When such consequences for a student with a disability are deemed necessary, they shall be completed in accordance with the Procedural Safeguards, as defined in the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), the Exceptional Children's Education Act (ECEA) and/or Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. However, if it is determined that the behavior was, in fact, a manifestation of the student's disability, the WMPPSC team will convene to determine appropriate services and support moving forward.

However, when considering a student for suspension, removal from a program for ten or more days, or expulsion, WMPPSC will always take the following factors into account before making a decision:

- The age of the student;
- The disciplinary history of the student;
- Whether the student has a disability;
- The seriousness of the violation committed by the student;
- Whether the violation committed by the student threatened the safety of any student or staff member;
- Whether a lesser intervention would adequately address the violation committed by the student.

Protections in IDEA will apply to any student who has been found eligible for special education services and to any student for whom the school is deemed to have knowledge that they might have a disability (i.e., a student who has not yet been found eligible—including if already referred for an initial evaluation—but the school had a basis of knowledge of a disability). Per 34 CFR § 300.354, should a disciplinary referral remove a student from the classroom, the school will provide free appropriate public education (FAPE) services during the removal period to allow participation in the general education curriculum and to progress towards IEP goals, even if in a different setting. WMPPSC will ensure that alternative educational services are provided, to the extent required by law, to a child who has been suspended (in school or out of school) or expelled, enabling them to cover all class material, keep pace with other students, and master curriculum (e.g., additional instructions, phone assistance, home visits, one-on-one tutoring in a location and time of the microsite's choosing).

Implementation, Documentation, and Accountability

The WMPPSC Teacher Leaders support both instructional and behavioral aspects within their sites. In terms of behavior, Teacher Leaders employ restorative practices regarding discipline expectations. Teacher Leaders will discuss the next steps with students and parents/guardians once a decision has been made, communicate with the district as needed per discipline procedure guidelines, and communicate with law enforcement as needed. Once all details have been finalized, Teacher Leaders will ensure all information is recorded within three days of final consequences determination using Infinite Campus. At the end of each semester, Teacher Leaders will review student data to determine trends within particular student groups and consider if there is a disproportionate amount of offenses for traditionally marginalized students. This information will be used to proactively determine the best next steps for all identified students.

Data Collection, SPED and Minority Students

Teacher Leaders are responsible for implementing discipline policies and restorative practices to ensure they equitably and proportionally apply discipline actions across all demographic areas at the site. As stated above, Teacher Leaders oversee that discipline and restorative practices are being implemented fairly and equitably at WMPPSC. Teacher Leaders are responsible for entering discipline data, progress monitoring, analyzing data by demographic group (students of color, language learners, gifted and talented, students with disabilities, and at-risk students), and reporting. Teacher Leaders will review all student discipline data and share data at the Board of Directors meeting to hold WMPPSC accountable for having a positive school environment with a small amount of discipline infractions. The Student Services Coordinator and Shared Services Partner are also integral to these reporting meetings.

Curriculum

D1 Educational Program and Curriculum

WMPPSC uses the Montessori Method of instruction to educate PK-6th grade students in four intentionally small microsites. The Montessori Method is a perfect match for our school and our goals and aspirations for students because of its evidence-based outcomes; holistic, child-centered approach; and underlying philosophy focused on serving all children..

Dr. Maria Montessori was an Italian physician and educator who developed her method over 100 years ago based on observations and research in schools serving high-poverty communities and children with special needs. Driven by curiosity, social justice, and an equity mindset, Dr.

Montessori applied her medical and scientific training to teaching and uncovered universal truths about child development that led to the creation and refinement of her methodology.

At the core of the Montessori Method is the belief in the innate curiosity and potential of each child. Montessori nurtures students' social, emotional, cognitive, and physical growth, ensuring they are "treading always in the paths of joy and love."<sup>31</sup> It emphasizes academic learning and executive functioning, and students have ample opportunities to learn using multiple modalities driven by their curiosity. Through tangible, hands-on learning materials that are beautiful and child-friendly, students naturally develop their reasoning skills across multiple disciplines and apply and build on their learning in various contexts rather than rote learning. Dr. Montessori developed a complete pedagogy to facilitate the implementation of her method, including an integrated set of student materials and teacher training resources.

While developed a century ago, the Montessori Method is strikingly relevant even, and perhaps especially, today. Its focus on developing of the whole child and cultivating growth mindsets<sup>32</sup> is especially apt for 21st-century learning and living. We have also chosen the Montessori Method due to its proven success with children of different backgrounds and diverse learning styles and needs. We have intentionally designed our school for all students of the Grand Valley, including students with disabilities and multilingual learners. The Montessori Method, with its roots in serving students with special needs and schools in high-poverty communities, aligns well with our commitment to all children.

A substantial body of research shows the Montessori Method, when delivered with fidelity, to be one of the very few educational models that makes a lasting academic and social impact on all children in ways that matter over the long term. A 2003 meta-analysis of 29 school models found

Montessori among the top five in terms of student outcomes.<sup>33</sup> Research has also demonstrated that Montessori benefits children from low-income communities and under-represented backgrounds in terms of academic achievement, executive function, creativity, social skills, work habits, attendance, and behavior.<sup>34</sup> In one high-quality lottery-based study of authentic Montessori practice in a 'high-needs' public preschool, students assigned to a Montessori program had no income-based achievement gap by the end of preschool.<sup>35</sup> Dr. Angeline Lillard, Director of The Early Learning Lab at the University of Virginia, writes:<sup>36</sup>

"Montessori education made substantial headway in reducing the income gap in achievement across the preschool years. Whereas lower income control children were performing a full standard deviation lower than higher income control children by the end of preschool, the difference in income groups in Montessori was just a third of a standard deviation. Statistically, the lower income Montessori children did not differ from the higher income children in either school group by the fourth time point. In keeping with this, the income-achievement correlation was significantly smaller for children in Montessori than for children in the control group. This is a very important and impressive finding in our national search for ways to better help children born at an economic disadvantage."

We are committed to serving diverse students with limited access to a Montessori education (the only other public Montessori school in the Grand Valley, Monument View, is in high demand). Research suggests that the Montessori Primary program may particularly benefit low-income Latino children, especially in building their language acquisition skills. A study at George Mason University examined 13,000 low-income Black and Latino students in the Miami-Dade school district enrolled in either a conventional Primary or Montessori Primary program. The study found that while all children showed improvements in language, motor, and cognitive skills by attending preschool, Latino children—most of whose primary language was Spanish—demonstrated significant gains relative to national benchmarks.<sup>37</sup>

Other research findings regarding the efficacy of the Montessori Method include the following:

1. A recent study of public Montessori schools in South Carolina revealed considerable evidence of a Montessori advantage on mitigating education inequalities using an authentic Montessori Method.<sup>38</sup>
2. This same study in South Carolina found, over five years, higher levels of growth in Montessori classrooms compared to traditional classrooms. These students were found to meet or exceed state standards, and the findings were consistent even when disaggregated by income, race, gender, and other variables.<sup>39</sup>

A study conducted in Hartford, Connecticut, showed significantly higher ELA standardized test scores for children in Montessori classrooms than those in non-Montessori classrooms across all three years of the analysis and controlling for student demographics and previous test scores.<sup>40</sup>
4. The Hartford study also showed a significant Montessori advantage in math and social studies in two of the three years.
5. Montessori students in both Hartford and South Carolina showed higher levels of executive functioning, were more persistent in the face of challenges, and reported liking school at higher rates.<sup>41</sup>
6. Low-income students in Hartford who spent three years in high-fidelity Montessori schools significantly closed the achievement gap with higher-income students.<sup>42</sup>
7. A longitudinal study of students in Milwaukee also associated Montessori with a significant and lasting impact in the areas of math and science performance long after preschool and elementary school.<sup>43</sup>

Together, this research demonstrates that Montessori is effective for students in general and is particularly promising for the students we aim to serve in the Grand Valley, with its diverse student population and strong Latino community. Despite the promise and proven success of the Montessori Method across multiple environments and student populations, there are not enough Montessori options for the students of the Grand Valley. We aim to change that with the creation of WMPPSC.

Curriculum and Alignment

This is education, understood as a help to life; an education from birth, which feeds a peaceful revolution and unites all in a common aim, attracting them as to a single centre. Mothers, fathers, politicians: all must combine in their respect and help for this delicate work of formation, which the little child carries on in the depth of a profound psychological mystery, under the tutelage of an inner guide. This is the bright new hope for mankind.<sup>44</sup>

Although Montessori education was originally developed more than 100 years ago, Montessori pedagogy now has a firm foothold on the education landscape throughout the world because of its proven approach to building academic foundations for children and supporting the development of strong social-emotional learning, executive function skills, and qualities that align with 21st-century skills and state policy such as compliance with the READ Act. WMPPSC sites differentiate themselves from other authentic Montessori schools because we are grounded in the Wildflower purpose, principles, and norms and our central commitments to liberatory learning and identity-affirming education.

Through Montessori's whole-child approach, WMPPSC's student learning objectives include academic growth measures and social-emotional development. Montessori presumes that the natural state of all children is positive, peaceful, and intrinsically motivated to learn, including special education students. Teacher Leaders are in a role in the Montessori classroom to guide students in this time-tested curriculum and facilitate growth of themselves and of every child.

Montessori Planes of Development and Standards

Dr. Maria Montessori designed her curriculum to reflect states of child development based upon her observations and research as a doctor and educator. Across all sites, our Teacher Leaders follow the Montessori curriculum that emphasizes the four planes of human development, learning standards that are aligned with Common Core State Standards and other standardized measures, and our approach toward wholeness. The Montessori curriculum is fully aligned to the Common Core State Standards used broadly throughout D51.

In 2013, over fifty Association Montessori International (AMI) professionals came together to create a curriculum map that aligns the Montessori math and language arts/literacy curriculum with the Common Core State Standards (CCSS). WMPPSC relies on these alignments to ensure that the curriculum is consistent with CCSS requirements. Our Teacher Leaders understand and refer to this map (Appendix D_Language Arts Literacy Standards Map & Appendix D_Math Geometry Standards Map) to prepare our Kindergarten and elementary students to meet standards.<sup>45</sup> Additionally, WMPPSC Teacher Leaders will use Transparent Classroom, the leading Montessori record-keeping system, which maps the entire Montessori elementary curriculum in alignment with CCSS, Next Generation Science Standards, and College, Career, and Civic Life (C3) Framework for Social Studies Standards.

The Planes of Development divide children's growth into four six-year cycles, ranging from birth to 24 years of age, which are divided into halves to create eight three-year stages. For the WMPPSC application, the three relevant 3-year stages that reflect traditional Montessori student organization between three and 11 years of age are:

- PK-K (ages 3-6): The Primary Program
- Grades 1-3 (ages 6-9): Lower Elementary Program
- Grades 4-6 (ages 9-11): Upper Elementary Program

The Primary Program (PreK-Kindergarten)

The Primary Program integrates the following areas of learning:

- Language (oral language, writing, reading)
- Mathematics
- Practical Life
- Sensorial
- Cultural Studies (includes science and social studies)

Primary-age children are “sensorial explorers who manipulate concrete materials to understand ideas.”<sup>46</sup> Given their strong desire to gain knowledge of their environment, function independently, and learn through observing and practicing, the 3-6-year-old child is often said to be in the “absorbent mind” stage. Learning standards for primary classrooms will be consistent with the 3-6-year-old child’s sensitivity to experiences involving language, order, and movement, while we also measure their social-emotional and cognitive learning skills. We plan to use the following curriculum, aligned with the listed learning standards:

Primary Standards: PK-Kindergarten

Content Area	Selected Standards
Language/Literacy	Montessori Language Curriculum + Common Core State Standards for English Language Arts
Mathematics	Montessori Mathematics Curriculum + Common Core State Standards for Mathematics
Social-Emotional	Montessori Practical Life, Sensorial, Aesthetic & Personal Development Curriculum + Colorado Emotional and Social Wellness Standard
English Language Learning	WIDA Early English Language Learning Standards

The Elementary Program (Grades 1-6)

The curriculum for the Elementary Program includes materials and activities in the following subject areas:

- Language arts (including phonics, spelling, grammar, sentence analysis, foreign language, creative and expository writing, and literature)
- Mathematics (arithmetic, algebra, and geometry)
- Science (natural sciences, physical sciences, and environmental sciences)
- Social sciences (history, civics, economics, anthropology, sociology, and geography)
- Aesthetic development (music, drama, and visual arts)

Elementary children are developing toward intellectual discovery, examining “why” and “how” questions. At this stage, the “reasoning mind” is emerging. Hands-on experiences that apply skills to a wide range of projects and activities include:

- Classifying the world using knowledge systems derived from the educational disciplines;
- Understanding time and change;
- Building a sense of moral order.

The WMPPSC Elementary Program will use the following curriculum and standards:

Elementary Standards: Grades 1-6

Montessori Curriculum

WMPPSC adheres to international standards of authentic Montessori as articulated in the Montessori National Curriculum,<sup>47</sup> developed through an international partnership between The Montessori Australia Foundation, The North American Montessori Teachers Association (NAMTA), and Association Montessori Internationale (AMI).

We will adapt and use the Montessori National Curriculum according to the Planes of Development, a structured pedagogical approach based on deep analysis and appreciation of individual children. Carefully designed materials, refined through decades of practice, are used to teach children and provide opportunities for exploration in which children teach themselves and their peers. In a given day, week or year, a teacher’s presentations will be nuanced to emphasize different “points of interest” based on individual children’s learning objectives and trajectory, on a timeline customized for each child. While there is an overall scope and sequence to Montessori, it is linear only when there is a dependency between specific learning objectives. Beyond that, it is personalized for individual children.

There is tremendous consistency across authentic Montessori classrooms in that specific materials are used explicitly to support skill development. Further, lessons and themes are presented individually or in developmentally appropriate, multi-age groupings. All WMPSC Teacher Leaders must be Montessori certified by an approved teacher training program (AMI, AMS) and must use Montessori materials in implementing their instructional programs.

The Montessori National Curriculum, outlined on the following page, meets children’s physical, intellectual, social, and emotional needs at progressive stages of maturity.<sup>48</sup> Students who complete the fully implemented Montessori primary and lower elementary curricula are positioned to meet or exceed standards for language, math, science, social studies and other subject areas, and the method uniquely situates its classrooms both to support and benefit from a push-in model of special education and MLL instruction.<sup>49</sup>

Instructional Strategies

WMPPSC is committed to providing authentic Montessori environments for our students and keeping Dr. Montessori's commitment to social justice and scientific pedagogy alive at every Wildflower site. Because scientific observation is the foundation of the Montessori Method, Teacher Leaders continually use the concrete, experiential nature of the learning environment to customize their instructional approach. Wildflower sites' commitment to social justice is embodied through identity-affirming education and a mindset of wholeness and belonging for every being in our communities.

To deliver high caliber instruction and learning, sites are small enough to be nimble, and Teacher Leaders respond to feedback quickly and thoughtfully, informed and advised by student performance, affect, and family input.

High-quality instruction at WMPPSC reflects this responsive approach within a unique site, designed and led by autonomous Teacher Leaders. Despite variances among microsites, our methods of instruction across sites are consistent in terms of:

1. The Montessori philosophy and prepared environment;
2. Focus on foundational and social-emotional skills;
3. Anti-bias, anti-racist, and identity-affirming education;
4. Welcoming all learning needs.

[1] Montessori Philosophy and Prepared Environment

Montessori philosophy believes that children learn through interacting with their environment with guidance from a specially prepared adult. A prepared environment includes not only physical aspects but the social and emotional context in which Teacher Leaders and students share the work of learning and growing.

Key factors of the prepared environment include:

Focus on concrete, hands-on learning: Montessori education is grounded in the exploration of concepts through hands-on learning, such as golden beads and the stamp game used to teach place value and computation. After using materials to learn value, a child will be guided to calculate using paper and pencil. They may then return to materials, as Montessori manipulatives are engineered to be self-correcting and to support the increasing complexity of concepts.

Scaffolded learning: The concrete materials provide passages to abstraction and introduce increasingly complex concepts, allowing students to pursue both memorization of facts and deep understanding. Our Teacher Leaders' role is to observe their students, present lessons at developmentally appropriate moments, and then step back to allow children to independently explore, test, and master the self-correcting materials without unnecessary adult interruption. In a lower elementary classroom, this would look like one Teacher Leader presenting "Dynamic Addition" to a child during the work period using the golden beads to conceptually understand place value and regrouping. On subsequent days, the child will have an assigned notecard to complete "Dynamic Addition" on their own, with the Teacher Leader observing the child as they work, intervening when the child needs guidance, and offering more challenging addition problems as the skill is mastered.

Enriched, orderly learning environment that promotes independence: Independence is a logical outcome of a highly-enriched, orderly environment supported by Teacher Leaders who invite students into deep engagement with meaningful work. Students exercise independence and responsibility as they choose their work, care for their classroom environment, and engage in teamwork with peers. Teacher Leaders carefully design lessons and the classroom environment to promote academic, physical, intellectual, and social-emotional independence. The example above illustrates how a Teacher Leader presents a lesson and then intentionally steps aside for the student to develop conceptual understanding and skill. The child builds confidence and independence while the Teacher Leader guides the progression of “Dynamic Addition.”

Collaborative learning environment: Montessori encourages collaboration through mixed-age groupings, environments that accommodate free movement, and assessment that emphasize mastery over competition.

Community classrooms: From the moment students enter their classroom, they understand that the classroom belongs to them. Materials are accessible, and children play an active role in maintaining the environment as if it were a home. Students feel valuable and respected, which enhances their learning and experience as part of the school community. Especially in the elementary classroom, children lead the distribution of work and solve problems together. For example, our Teacher Leaders will guide students in deciding on snacks, classroom jobs, and other tasks related to a cooperative learning environment.

[2] Focus on Foundational and Social-Emotional Skills
Every child deserves a strong start and a high-quality education. WMPSC seeks to meet the need as an additional provider of strong early childhood and elementary education in D51.

In our first year, we will open one Lower Elementary site, reaching students ages 5-8. We recognize that loving, whole-family environments and research-backed learning methods during these early years of social, emotional, and cognitive development are crucial to the child's development. Authentic Montessori principles inherently align with social-emotional learning (SEL), emphasizing executive functions and social cognition.

In our primary environment, children regularly experience lessons on how to engage respectfully with one another (referred to sometimes as “Grace and Courtesy”). In our elementary classroom, children identify and solve social problems together. For example, if one child feels left out or is mean to someone, it is not uncommon for the children to talk about the issue and get the teacher's support in figuring out how to resolve it.

[3] Identity Affirming and Liberatory Education

WMPSC is a Montessori learning environment that centers identity-affirming education for all students, families, and teachers. In the diverse environment of Grand Valley, our Teacher Leaders and future students have come to Wildflower to embrace the rich opportunity to learn about each other's differences and navigate discussions about diversity, equity and justice; inviting children to be proud of themselves and their families; teaching students to respect and honor differences, recognize bias and speak up for what is right.

Our liberatory education model is a way of being rather than a curriculum at our sites. We promote an understanding of social problems that not only address race and ethnicity but also include gender, language, religious diversity, sexual orientation, physical and mental abilities, and socioeconomic status. We see education as a means towards freedom, rooted in a problem-solving approach that is integrated into all aspects of teaching and learning and our charter's healing and nurturing environment.

We integrate identity affirmation into the teaching and learning in every classroom. We value our students for who they are, both as individuals and as members of a particular group. Whether a student's identity stems from race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, gender, and/or sexual orientation, we affirm that identity. We validate students by ensuring that we show respect for all of the identities students claim as their own. An example of how this would show up in an embedded way in the classroom is by teaching the stories, celebrations, and accomplishments of leaders and everyday individuals reflective of the cultural, linguistic, and racial backgrounds of our students or providing opportunities for students to share work in their home language.

During the School Startup Journey, Teacher Leaders delve into their own identity to design and cultivate a community of culturally responsive and identity-affirming adults and children. Teacher Leaders come to WMPPSC primarily because of their inherent interest in designing and opening a Montessori classroom rooted in liberatory education and identity affirmation. During the School Startup Journey and operation of a site, Teacher Leaders receive additional professional development and growth and connectedness coaching around leadership, Montessori practice, diversity, equity, and inclusion, and/or other inter- and intra-personal skills self-identified as well as growth areas assessed during accountability cycles. The following excerpt from Montessori for Social Justice reflects our understanding of the challenges before us:

We made a promise, as Montessorians, to "Follow the child." However, do we really follow the child and honor them when our biases get in the way? Can we effectively guide with respect, inclusivity, enthusiasm, and integrity when we are bound by systemic racism?

Our reality check: Our Montessori programs are not inherently unbiased. The biggest reason why is because of us, the teachers, the administrators, the parents. We carefully prepare our environments for our children and attempt to promote safe, inclusive schools and classrooms. We encourage no prejudice without actively practicing anti-bias education. We have pictures on the walls that reflect "diversity" and books about Rosa Parks and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., but nothing more. We want multiculturalism without embracing an anti-racist mission. Education is liberatory; teachers are agents of change. As Montessorians, we can do more; we can do better.

By "doing more," Teacher Leaders at our Wildflower sites embody the value of wholeness themselves and teach students by:

- Nurturing each child's construction of a knowledgeable, confident self-concept and group identity; this occurs, for example, through student-led family/teacher conferences, in which

- students share with their family members and Teacher Leaders their work portfolios and highlight their individual contributions to the community.
- Promoting each child's comfortable, empathic interactions with people from diverse backgrounds; this occurs, for example, through frequent collaborative group work and explicitly taught and moderated conflict resolution procedures.
  - Fostering each child's critical thinking about bias: as an example, an essential component of sharing lessons about history with children is to highlight the celebrations and accomplishments of diverse peoples with a particular focus on those of leaders of color and, at the same time, offer the real stories of how biases have prevented communities of color from equitable access to resources and opportunities.
  - Cultivating each child's ability to stand up for themselves and for others in the face of bias; this occurs through, for example, the telling of stories of how leaders have stood up for the rights of others throughout history and providing opportunities for students to do the same in the current context (e.g., participating in or developing school celebrations or actions on International Women's Day or International Day of the Immigrant).

[4] Welcoming All Learning Needs

Teacher Leaders at Wildflower sites value all identities and affirm all learners, including diverse learning preferences and interests, cultural roots and languages, and learning profiles and disabilities. A central belief at WMPPSC is that all children are competent and capable individuals who will learn and thrive in the right environments. We are radically inclusive and design our sites for the most marginalized students.

Our Teacher Leaders are supported by the Student Services Coordinator, School Psychologist, Special Education Teacher, and experts in learning science, SEL, and local regulatory practices. WMPPSC is exploring to contract with Grand Valley therapists, such as speech-language. We are eager to partner with D51 for district trainings and have partnered with the public Montessori READ Act Collaborative to empower ourselves and add skills to meet all students' learning needs, as described in Section E.

Structure and Supplemental Programming

At Wildflower sites, students learn math, language arts, culture, and science, along with art, movement, and music in morning and afternoon work blocks over the D51 elementary academic calendar year of 170 days of school. WMPPSC will operate according to a traditional schedule, August-June, with an average minimum of a 7-hour student day. Teacher Leaders design each site's specific program, including scheduling for:

- Before-care and after-care programming options;
- Clear instructional minutes for work cycles;
- Specials, such as music, yoga, and foreign language;
- Teacher Leader planning time;
- Non-instructional days for professional development and parent-teacher conferences;
- Possibility of summer programming.

During the day, students at Wildflower sites will have uninterrupted work time in the classroom where they choose work they have already had presentations on and repeat that work for as long as they desire during the work period. Students garden, eat lunch communally, care for their environment, and explore the outdoors together.

After School and Summer School Programming

Teacher Leaders will make decisions around after-school and summer programming based on their sites' community needs. This additional programming could include before- or after-school care aligned with families' work schedules or summer programs focusing on opportunities for students to be outside. In alignment with our social and environmental justice values, our summer programming might involve outdoor learning and partnerships with Western Colorado Botanical Gardens and/or Eureka Science Museum. Our charter budget currently shows no revenue or expenses for supplemental programming though this is a budgeting consideration that Teacher Leaders will make during their first year of operation.

Instruction

D2 Montessori for All

The Montessori classroom is effective for students with diverse learning profiles or those not thriving in traditional settings. Our approach with all students is grounded in honoring the wholeness of the child and their inherent academic, social-emotional potential. The Method is highly personalized and in a "Montessori environment, all children are already on their own informal IEP."

Students who enroll as an English learner (EL), and/or with identified developmental delays, language deficits, medically-fragile or any other learning challenge that inhibits expected progress will be served through a rigorous support process that begins with basic classroom modifications and may progress to more intensive interventions based on the child's needs and identification. We follow the Child Find process and the Child Study protocol developed by NCMPS, which addresses diverse learning and developmental needs with an emphasis on Montessori's natural links with special education.

Students who are performing below age level when they enroll in a Wildflower site may need the following classroom modifications:

- Teachers nearby for greater time periods during independent work
- Direct assistance with attention, focus, and concentration
- Structure for behavior
- Guidance in selecting and performing tasks
- Specific and direct oral language development
- Direct teaching of written language and/or math symbols
- Pre-writing and writing practice with a multi-sensorial technique
- Visual Picture System
- Limit choices
- Language presentations modified with specific techniques

Some modifications are naturally occurring components of the Montessori classroom. In the example of the child learning “Dynamic Addition,” this child may grow in their independence at a slowed rate, with the Teacher Leader working aside the student to reteach the lesson after the introduction. Subsequent lessons may involve asking the child to explain the process, tapping into oral expression, and solidifying conceptual understanding. This child may also move away from golden beads as a tool more quickly than others if this manipulative stymies skill building and independence. The Teacher Leader may guide the student to mastering “Dynamic Addition” using pencil and paper (or another material) instead of golden beads.

Our Teacher Leaders employ these strategies daily to support children and differentiate instruction:

Pacing: In Montessori, lessons to the guide’s observations of the child’s current skill level, not a prescribed idea of when lessons should take place. We encourage children to practice lessons for as long as needed, and since the focus is on preparing the environment, there are always materials/lessons that can be scaffolded up or down. Guides respond to the individual needs of the children instead of addressing the class as a whole.

The principle of limitation: Materials are carefully curated, and shelves only contain what is necessary for the students. In this way, children are not overwhelmed with stimuli.

Multi-age classroom: Older children are encouraged to help and support each other and their younger peers. This creates an atmosphere that is not competitive, as everyone has a turn in needing more help/assisting others.

Physical/concrete materials to support abstract concepts: The environment is multi-sensory, and through beautiful materials, children practice gross and fine motor skills while also learning how to follow directions, concentrate and complete increasingly complex tasks that reflect daily life, such as handwashing and table washing.

Supplemental programs such as sign language, visual picture systems and Applied Behavioral Analysis may also be implemented to complement the curriculum and support each child in developing their full potential. When a Teacher Leader has determined that the student is not making adequate or expected progress, they meet with the Child Study Team (CST) (described in Section E) and begin the Child Find process. For a child that enters WMPPSC with an IEP, we follow the multi-tiered system of supports (MTSS).

All communication regarding a student’s progress and educational concerns will be delivered in the home language of the student’s family and/or a translator made available through the Language Access Portal. Family translators are welcome to attend all meetings and assist with home-school communication. All sites will be ADA accessible, and students, regardless of physical and/or learning disability status, will take part in all school culture-building activities.

WMPPSC functions in full accord with federal (IDEA), state (CDE) and local laws and regulations regarding children with special needs. Section E details how we provide fully for children identified with needs for special education and related services, providing services and space to meet IEPs, including specifications for pull-out instruction. When students leave WMPPSC, Teacher Leaders, Special Education Teacher, Student Services Coordinator, and School Psychologist, as needed, work collaboratively to develop a transition plan.

Inclusivity in Montessori

Like the D51 Strategic Plan outlines, all students benefit from an inclusive education where students of varying abilities learn together. The unique characteristics of the Montessori educational program lend themselves to providing this inclusive environment. All students will be included in all day-to-day functions of the school and extra-curricular activities unless stated in the child's IEP, and we will provide the full continuum of services necessary based on student needs. We prioritize a learning environment where special education and related services are integrated into our general education classroom as often as possible. Our Teacher Leaders work in partnership with one another and Teacher Leader Assistant roles, inclusive of contracted special education service providers, to increase capacity for inclusion.

The instructional methods inherent in the Montessori approach are appropriate for student populations with a wide range of learning needs. Students who are at risk for academic failure are a diverse group of individuals with a diverse set of needs, and so there is likely a combination of strategies that can help many at-risk students succeed and stay in school.

Educational researcher Jeanne Ormrod's recommendations guide our strategies to attend to Multilingual Learners, students with special needs, and any other at-risk students.; differentiated instruction, individualized attention to each child, one-on-one and small group instruction, mixed-age groups, peer tutoring, extra time-on-task, repetition and re-teaching, using multiple modalities and multi-sensory lessons, and special concrete materials. Montessori Teacher Leaders employ these strategies routinely with all students, not only with MLLs and students with special needs.

Differentiated and personalized methods of instruction have the advantage of identifying the strengths of children with special needs and MLLs in Wildflower sites. We incorporate these strengths into the students' work plans to support development in other areas. One-on-one and small group instruction are basic strategies for differentiation embedded in the Montessori approach. Teacher Leaders use Infinite Classroom for authorizer and district reporting and Transparent Classroom, the leading Montessori learning management system used for observation record-keeping. A consistent assessment protocol, such as the Phonological Awareness and Literacy Kindergarten (PAL-S-K) screener and growth measures are used across all WMPPSC sites.

Our Teacher Leaders preclude student comparisons, accommodate uneven development, and easily accommodate support and interventions for children who need them. They encourage students to feel successful in school and build self-concepts as competent persons. The entirely differentiated bent of Montessori education permits children to proceed at their own rate for mastery and accommodates as much repetition as the child requires. The specially designed Montessori manipulative materials assist in the conceptualization of abstractions and in automating math operations, and the routine multi-sensory approach ensures all channels of information are employed to maximize learning in all areas.

For all students, WMPPSC will routinely employ Montessori-specific strategies designed to help children with disabilities. Teacher Leaders will teach specific procedures and techniques for training attention, which help children focus on completing tasks and learn perseverance and patience; a set procedure for selecting and performing all tasks, which aids in the development of executive function; and specific techniques for increasing gross-motor skill development, eye-hand coordination and fine-motor skill facility. Using the “Dynamic Addition” example, the lower elementary Teacher Leader intentionally introduces the golden beads with careful consideration by aligning the beads on a place value mat, thoughtfully grouping and moving each bead as she adds, and focusing on the student and materials as she completes the problem. This modeling is a means for the child to then replicate the practice on their own.

Child Study and Multi-Tiered System of Supports

A multi-tiered system of supports (MTSS) process is in place to comply with IDEA Child Find protocol and serve students who enter WMPPSC with an IEP. A Special Education Teacher is on staff to support Teacher Leaders beginning in Year 1, as well as contracted therapists and the WMPPSC Student Services Coordinator.

All sites use the same universal screeners to initiate this process for students in PK3-PK4 (Ages and Stages Questionnaire). MTSS also begins when Teacher Leaders determine that a student is unsuccessful with Tier 1 instruction - authentic, high-quality Montessori instruction in the general education classroom. The Teacher Leader then implements Tier 2 interventions in the classroom, such as an additional reading/math group or an alternate material (returning to golden beads or using pictorial representations instead of concrete materials). The intervention lasts for 4-6 weeks, and then data are reviewed by the Child Study team. If progress is made, the student continues to be monitored. If progress is not made, the student is referred for an educational evaluation and moved to a Tier 3 intervention comprising intensive instruction in a pullout session with a content and/or behavior specialist. Section E describes the MTSS process in detail.

We are prepared to enroll Tier 3 and 4 special education students and varying disability categories. The following examples are instructional scenarios that illustrate how our charter model accommodates students across the continuum, recognizing that our model is nimble to what the student needs:

- Ten-hour per week resource for a student as determined by the IEP team with mild disability: This child could receive specialized reading and or math instruction two hours per day with a Special Education and/or Teacher Leader outside the classroom while the second Teacher Leader remains in the classroom during the morning and afternoon work cycle to maximize inclusion. The student could receive related services throughout the day with a contracted specialist.

- Fifteen-hour per week pull-out for a student as determined by the IEP team with moderate disability: This child could receive daily 1-hour, 1-1 or small group pragmatic language and social-communication instruction by a contracted speech-language therapist; daily 1-1 instruction with a contracted occupational therapist in the classroom, in the small instruction room, and out of doors, as possible; and daily 1-1 instruction with a contracted behavior specialist in the classroom and in the small instruction room. We imagine that these specialized services would occur during both the morning and afternoon work cycles so the child has time to work with the Special Education Teacher on Montessori-specific lessons, as appropriate; we would also encourage specialists to meet with the student during lunch and recess so the student can generalize their skills and the Teacher Leaders would have an opportunity to work in collaboration with the specialist and student.
- Full-time pull-out for a student as determined by the IEP team with intensive disability: This child could enroll in one of our larger sites with multiple small instructional spaces. The Teacher Leader would greet the student daily, and we would include them in the morning circle. Then, the child could work with our Social Worker and/or a Montessori-oriented behavior specialist for the morning and afternoon work periods. The Special Education Teacher could prepare lessons and consult with the specialist to modify the curriculum for the student's needs and collaborate on positive reinforcement and restorative justice practices if ever needed. The Special Education Teacher could also rotate in with the student during the work periods. To ensure the least restrictive environment (LRE), the child could be included in lunch, recess, and specials. The goal for this scenario is for the child to feel part of the rhythm of the day and to form connections with their Teacher Leaders and classmates.

These examples reflect our preparedness to serve all students and demonstrate our commitment to serving all children along a continuum of impact. Individual service models for each child will vary based on the services needed and the severity of need. Teacher Leaders will also work with specialists toward our collective goal that students with disabilities be integrated into the classroom whenever appropriate; they will have the same access to the general education curriculum as their peers. We will provide accommodations to the student when appropriate, including standardized testing as specified in their IEP protocol. Teacher Leaders are supported throughout the MTSS process by the Special Education Teacher, Special Education Coordinator, and Shared Services Partner, as needed.

The Teacher Leaders will participate in annual training offered through D51, NCMPS, and other organizations, such as the Shelton School, which leads Montessori special education trainings to hone their Child Study practices. We anticipate that Teacher Leaders may also aspire to be Orton-Gillingham trained to build their language instruction skills. Teacher Leaders will have time allotted in their schedule for acting as the Child Study Lead, collaborating with a child's special education team, and engaging in wisdom exchange with other Wildflower Teacher Leaders. WMFSC subscribes to the Child Study protocol developed by NCMPS (Appendix D_Child Study Protocol Deck), which addresses diverse learning and developmental needs with an emphasis on Montessori's natural links with special education. The Child Study protocol is also designed to support the ongoing preparation of the adult as a critical component in preparing the environment. The Child Study protocol is also designed to support the ongoing preparation of the adult as a critical component in preparing the environment. The Child Study protocol is an approach to a tered approach like MTSS that is intentionally designed to make the most of the prepared environment “while building a child-centered professional culture that revolves around meeting the needs of all children, resolving difficulties early, and using a wide range of data to support student development.”

Multilingual Learners

Teacher Leaders approach Multilingual Learners (MLL) within a wider culturally responsive mindset; each student is viewed not “as a representative of their culture, but as an individual influenced by social and cultural forces within and beyond the classroom.” Culturally Responsive Pedagogy (CRP) challenges our community to gain a deeper understanding of not just each MLL and their family, but all our relationships. By grappling with this challenge, we realize the infinite diversity and intersections among what looks like homogeneous groups and how this awareness informs instruction and connections.

The Montessori Method combined with CRP is a powerful combination, ideal for MLL students. Montessori offers 1) individualized education through differentiation for every child; 2) collaboration among students, which fosters student conversation and authentic opportunities for developing language skills; and 3) the application of hands-on Montessori materials, bringing many lessons to life for emergent bilinguals. At the primary level, all presentations are made first without language, allowing students at all levels of English proficiency equal access to content. At the elementary level, language and gesture are closely tied. The child may attend visually and observe the materials presented. After she is successful at perceiving and comprehending the sensory information that is part of the presentation, language is attached to the object, functions, and attributes connected with the concept, thus scaffolding her language and content learning.

Modifications to the traditional Montessori approach (silent lessons) are sometimes necessitated for an MLL student, as oral expression is a component of language learning. WMPSC embraces district MLL support - both in training and on-site student support. Teacher Leaders respond to the diversity of students in their classroom, eager to understand how to best adapt or modify traditional Montessori approaches to best serve MLLs. As an example, a 7-year-old Amharic speaker will be taught the English alphabet using the Montessori Method’s multiple materials as both an oral and silent lesson. As he progresses with English acquisition, the student may continue to receive language and math lessons using Montessori materials but may have modifications during a small group cultural lesson; a Teacher Leader could read text or create scaffolded sentence frames which build productive language skills and confidence. A push-in model for MLL instruction is always preferred unless a child’s needs, determined through the MTSS process, suggest otherwise.

Our Teacher Leaders plan to complete the MLL training by the end of their second year at their site, beginning the CDE-mandated training during their School Startup Journey planning year. The MLL Teacher’s feedback guides WMPSC teachers’ continued professional development regarding English language development, disseminating information on how to support children with limited English skills, educating other Teacher Leaders on supporting families to complete the home survey in their language and/or providing an interpreter for the home survey completion, coordinating the WIDA assessment and making the MLL coach’s guidance available to all WMPSC Teacher Leaders. All Teacher Leaders are active in building their sites’ culturally responsive mindset. As with the Special Education Teacher Leader, the MLL Teacher Leader holds the responsibility to decide about the resources used across sites to modify the Montessori curriculum to support children's English language acquisition in collaboration with the Teacher Leaders and Special Education Coordinator.

Students Below Grade Level

Montessori education is centered on individualized instruction and helps all children reach their fullest potential at their own unique pace, including children considered to be working "below grade level." Every Wildflower site is a mixed-age classroom. An advantage to the mixed age group is that a student may present as a 6-year-old "below grade level" in a lower elementary classroom and show marked academic and social-emotional growth as the older 9-year-old in the same classroom, no longer presenting "below grade level."

Grade level is assessed by Teacher Leaders at the end of each 3-year cycle during PK3-3rd grade, as opposed to at the end of every year. This is in keeping with the Montessori Planes of Development. However, Teacher Leaders make daily observations, keep careful records, and communicate frequently with parents and the instructional team. In grades 3-6, annual CMAS testing and relevant NAEP testing will occur to inform Teacher Leaders on student academic growth over time; comparing class observation and formative assessment with these standardized measures will provide Teacher Leaders with a more robust picture of a child's progress.

Using the MTSS approach discussed above, both primary and elementary students will receive individual support and, if needed, the IEP accommodations and services they require to successfully complete the Montessori program. Intervention and remedial programs outside the Montessori Method, such as an evidence-based reading program like Orton-Gillingham, may be used when advised by the Special Education Coordinator and Special Education Teacher.

Students Above Grade Level

The whole-child approach of the Montessori curriculum integrates the development of self-reliance, independence, and respectfulness with academic work. As the child matures, they use personal and social skills to inform and evaluate their own work through individual and group self-assessment. Students are respected as both unique and competent, with an innate desire to learn. They are empowered to direct their own learning through the materials and projects they choose to work on, with the close guidance of the teacher and an understanding of their individual learning approaches. Each student has an individual learning plan, the design of which they take an increasingly active role in as they mature.

The mixed-age, highly enriched environment is well equipped to meet the needs of accelerated learners. Besides providing the opportunity for children to choose work that is well above grade level (chapter books, long division, and musical notation for five-year-olds; algebra, geometry, and advanced cultural study for elementary students), multi-age grouping allows each child to find their own pace without feeling "ahead" or "behind" their peers. This allows accelerated learners to serve as helpers for other students and to remain in classes with other members of their age groups while still being academically and intellectually challenged.

Staffing

D.3. WMPPSC Organizational Structure

What many educational models before us have attempted - creating autonomous school structures that value site-based decision-making—WMPPSC implements with fidelity through a thoroughly crafted organizational and staffing model that reimagines teacher leadership, prioritizes decision—making closest to a felt need, and develops systems and operating norms for sustaining this decentralized structure.

At full scale, WMPPSC will comprise four microsites with 8 Teacher Leaders and 152 students. The strength of multiple microsites' is that it provides a network of support, accountability, and the opportunity to problem-solve and share resources, all while maintaining our commitment to small, community-embedded learning environments. While Teacher Leaders operate as the school's "head of school," "teacher," and "school administrator," Teacher Leaders are deeply supported through the staff, specialized student support roles, and our service provider partnerships. The following anecdote is an excerpt by Erin McKay, a Wildflower Teacher Leader, explaining how this works in practice:

My co-head and I are the ones who make decisions about our school and community, but it's nice to know we're not alone on an island. We have a wealth of resources and support from The Wildflower Foundation and from the other Teacher Leaders in our region. It's amazing. This support system is made up of people who seem to be experts in every area, including local certification requirements, the Montessori Method, and equity issues. The Admissions and Finance utilities, developed by the Wildflower Foundation, are extremely helpful in reducing administrative burdens. It's amazing.

The decentralized network also ensures that teachers don't have to start from scratch when they want to start a Wildflower School. It's so much work to open a school—the Startup costs, the growing pains—but this way we aren't reinventing the wheel every time. Wildflower offers a ton of streamlined open-source information for its schools. (We also provide it for anyone outside of the Wildflower network who's interested.) We truly want to bring Montessori to as many kids across all socioeconomic strata as possible. We're all separate and autonomous, but we rely on each other to hold ourselves accountable. Embracing non-hierarchy isn't easy and it's not going to work if we don't all show up for each other. Even though it's not easy, it's exciting because it's a new way of handling operations and allows for more freedom in the end.

Our staffing, in the table below, reflects how the Teacher Leaders are supported at each site and across the charter:

WMPPSC Staff	Y0	Y1	Y2	Y3	Y4	Y5
Teacher Leaders	0	2.0	4.0	4.0	8.0	8.0
Teacher Leader Assistant	0	1.0	3.0	4.0	5.0	5.0

School Psychologist			Budgeted contracted services
Nurse			Budgeted contracted services
TOTAL Staff	0.77	5.12	9.15	11.83	15	17

We designed our staffing plan to ensure that Teacher Leaders are supported on-site by Teacher Assistants (reflected in the chart below and in Appendix D_WMPPSC: GV Organizational Chart). We maintain a ratio no greater than eight students for every adult in Primary (student/staff ratio 8:1) and an average of 15 students for every one adult in Lower and Upper Elementaries (student/staff ratio 15:1). Charter staff members and learning specialists will also work from sites and be available as an additional adult in the classroom, however, they are not explicitly calculated in the site ratios.

At the onset, WMPPSC will initially establish a strong staff that supports excellence in teaching, learning, special education and MLL, compliance, and the growth and launch of new charter sites. We will use contracted finance and accounting expertise in our first three years, as well as contractors for human resources support. As WMPPSC sites grow throughout the Grand Valley, the staff will expand to include a Finance Partner in Year 3, and the contractors that were hired to support the charter start-up will be phased out.

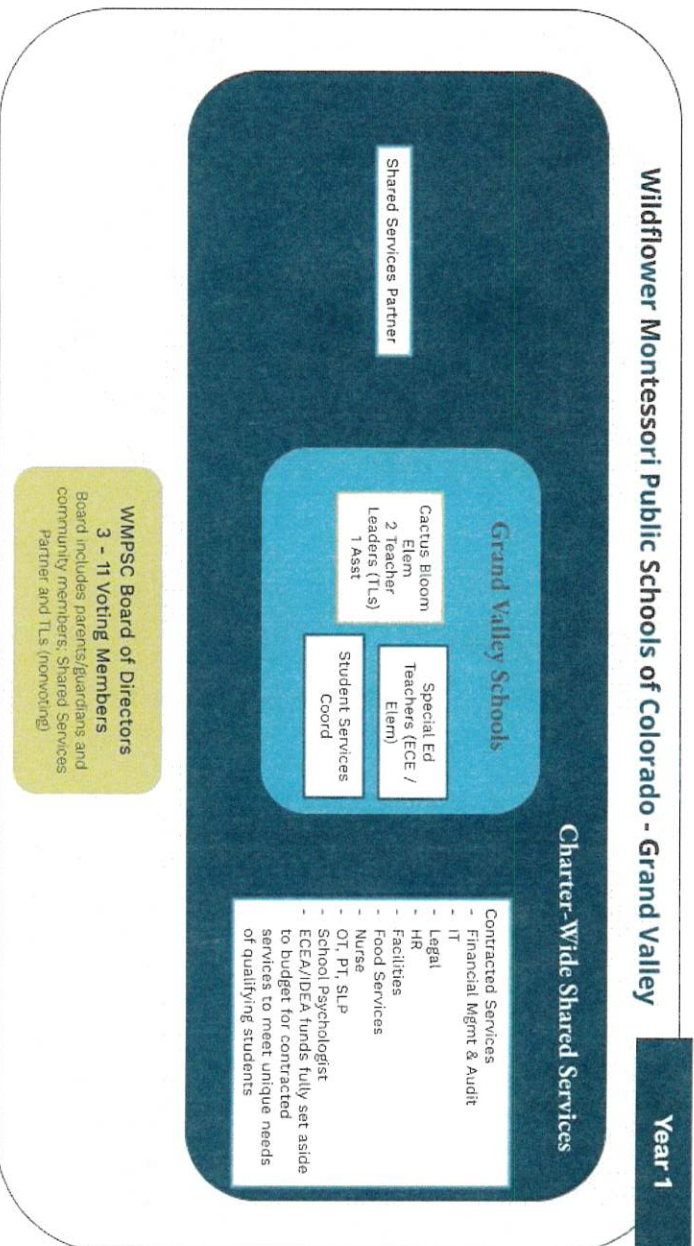

Our budget reflects how our staffing expenses will be balanced and how we are investing in creating a sound start-up process to ensure scalable and sustainable growth. WMPPSC's formal job descriptions for staff can be found in Appendix D_WMPPSC GV Job Descriptions.

D4 Staff Recruitment and Hiring

WMPSC follows a standardized process for recruitment and hiring, to account for some biases that are common in hiring practices like, “likeability bias.” This process, adopted because of its success in other Wildflower regions, includes five stages, from creating a job description to closing communication with all candidates. The stages are outlined below:

Stage	Task
	Create Job Description
	Create Job Posting
Create Hiring Resources	Develop criteria for initial review
	Create Hiring Exercise
	Develop criteria for interviews/hiring decision
	Create interview conversation questions/template
	Post job in a variety of paid and free advertising spaces (see Postings tab)
	Use social media to publicize opportunity, including asking networks to post to their social media (see Social Media tab)
Build Strong, Diverse Candidate Pool	Use networks to reach out to professional connections, including networks of teacher leaders and families in existing schools - ask for references
	Evaluate candidate pool for depth and diversity before moving to Initial Review stage

Stage	Task
Initial Review	Use initial review criteria to make preliminary paper cuts--notify candidates Schedule and Conduct initial phone interviews Invite semifinalists to interview process Assign Hiring Exercise to semifinalists Schedule group conversation with current entrepreneurs Conduct group conversations
Interview Process	Schedule and conduct conversation with current teacher leaders or other stakeholders Schedule and conduct conversation with Matt Make hiring decision Make offer to candidate After offer accepted, close out remaining candidates Complete HR processes
Make Hire

In the Grand Valley, we are beginning to recruit for our first staff position, Student Services Coordinator, as soon as we receive charter approval. We have drafted a job description (Appendix D_WMPSC GV Job Descriptions) and continue to build out the responsibilities of the role as our Founding Teacher Leaders and Interim Shared Services Partner fulfill their responsibilities and best define the scope of the position.

Because WMPSC is focused on a rural place-based and community-embedded model, we center our recruitment for staff positions to the Mesa County and Western Colorado region. Recruitment begins with community engagement, directly communicating with our local partners about our staffing needs. We expand communication to our Wildflower network, posting on both our WMPSC and Colorado hub social media accounts. Our recruitment will also widen to include posting our job description to specific Western Slope and Montessori networks, like the early childhood education and education departments and career services at Colorado Mesa University; Mountain Careers; and Colorado Montessori Association.

The recruitment and hiring process for the Founding Shared Services Partner is managed by the Interim Shared Services Partner and hiring is finalized by the Board Chair. Subsequent recruitment and hiring processes are the responsibility of the Shared Services Partner, with the Board making the final hiring decision. To date, a recruitment process has not been necessary for Teacher Leaders, as they have been drawn to the Wildflower model through Montessori channels. However, we expect that recruitment may be necessary to bring eight Teacher Leaders to complete the School Startup Journey by Year 5. With this in mind, WMPSC is leveraging our partnerships with Montessori-specific organizations, specified in Section B, while also working to cultivate relationships with proximal Montessori organizations, such as Southwest Institute of Montessori Studies and Kerres Children's Learning Center, that understand our rural model.

D.5. Professional Development

Teacher Leaders' professional development begins during the School Startup Journey, before employment by WMPSC. At the forefront of their work at this stage is their Montessori training and training and coaching by 228 Accelerator, a coaching and consulting organization that "fuels the scaling of radical and transformative ideas in schools, organizations, and communities."<sup>50</sup> Teacher Leaders use the equity design framework (Appendix C_equityXdesign Framework) to design their site and build a foundation where every student, family, and Teacher Leader is part of an inclusive and equitable community. Teacher Leader professional development is individualized, reflecting growth areas that the Teacher Leader determines during advice sessions.

Teacher Leaders' professional development opportunities and our partnerships align with our charter mission and Teacher Leaders' core responsibilities:

Design and lead a diverse, inclusive, and equitable school community

Teacher Leaders begin this co-creation during the School Startup Journey. In this systemized, holistic professional development program, entrepreneurial educators use their experience as Montessorians and equity-minded community leaders to develop their programmatic vision for a customized microsite that meets the regulatory expectations of D51 School District and the Colorado Department of Education. What emerges are inspiring, coherent school plans co-designed with and deeply connected to the community. Every microsite will become a valued member of its community through building relationships that go beyond the students and families we serve. These relationships will not only support recruitment efforts but also translate into a vibrant school community that reflects the assets and investment of local businesses, nonprofit organizations, and neighbors who have built and contributed to the neighborhood.

- The Montessori Institute of Denver (TMID): The Montessori Institute of Denver is an internationally accredited Montessori training center for early childhood and elementary Montessori certification. WMPPSC anticipates sending Teacher Leaders to this training Institute for Montessori certification or ongoing professional development opportunities. We will also connect with teachers currently in their training programs to share information about Teacher Leader opportunities in the WMPPSC network if these teachers in training are looking for new communities in which to teach and lead. TMI has been a strong supporter of expanding Montessori into the public sector for decades, beginning with establishing of Family Star Head Start programs. Their support for public Montessori in rural communities is evidenced by the planning grant TMI just received to pilot a sustainable 0-6 training course in two rural regions, one of which is likely to be Grand Junction. TMI has already expressed interest in collaborating on WMPPSC's expansion to the Grand Valley by offering local emerging teacher leaders a blended training program where the in-person training component will largely be conducted in Grand Junction.

- Montessori Education Center of the Rockies (MECR): MECR is a nationally accredited Montessori training center in east Denver. Several of our future Teacher Leaders attended Montessori certification programs at MECR, and MECR will likely be a certification site for future WMPPSC Teacher Leaders. We will also connect with teachers currently in their training programs to share information about Teacher Leader opportunities in the WMPPSC network if these teachers in training are looking for new communities in which to teach and lead.
- Moonshot EdVentures: Founding Teacher Leader, Emma Reicks, is a Moonshot Fellow supported by Moonshot's 3-stage program that focuses on leadership development, designing and piloting learning environments alongside communities, and identifying and supporting connections between Fellows and their local and national networks.

Our Teacher Leaders plan to complete the MLL training by the end of their second year at their site, beginning the required 45-hour training during their School Startup Journey planning year. The MLL Teacher's feedback guides WMPPSC teachers' continued professional development regarding English language development, disseminating information on how to support children with limited English skills, educating other Teacher Leaders on supporting families to complete the home survey in their language and/or providing an interpreter for the home survey completion, coordinating the WIDA assessment and making the MLL coach's guidance available to all WMPPSC Teacher Leaders. All Teacher Leaders are active in building their sites' culturally responsive mindset. As with the Special Education Teacher Leader, the MLL Teacher Leader is responsible for deciding about the resources used across sites to modify the Montessori curriculum to support children's English language acquisition, in collaboration with the Teacher Leaders and Special Education Coordinator.

Teacher Leaders also participate in regular professional development, parent education events, and board meetings. The Shared Services Partner will support our Teacher Leaders to inform them of pertinent continuing education and the most recent changes in special education and general education regulations and policy. An annual retreat is a hallmark of Wildflower sites, where all Teacher Leaders join the Board of Directors and WMPPSC employees. The Wildflower Foundation also holds an annual Wildflower Gathering, where Teacher Leaders across the country convene for a weekend of workshops and socializing.

Teacher Leaders will have robust professional development tied to our values of Growth and Connectedness. With the input of the Shared Services Partner, who holds the responsibility for human resources, our Teacher Leaders will create a radically transparent process for coaching, observation, and feedback over the year and provide an external lens to ensure all students learn and grow across academic and social emotional indicators through a culturally responsive Montessori pedagogy. WMPPSC will also seek training to meet 45-hour CLDE requirements and MLL student needs.

E. Student Services

WMPPSC is committed to serving all students in Grand Valley who want to enroll, including those with physical disabilities, Individual Education Plans (IEPs), 504 plans, Multilingual Learners, Gifted and Talented, students with mental health needs, and educationally disadvantaged students. The WMPPSC's vision, mission, core values and norms, and principles create a positive and collaborative learning environment for all students to be who they are within a scaffolded and caring learning community.

E.1 WMPPSC Prevention Based Framework

WMPPSC will use the MTSS framework and the RTI process as a prevention-based tool to identify and monitor student progress and intervention support as needed throughout the school year to ensure students are growing both academically and emotionally. This is used in combination with the Montessori Child Study Protocol, described in Section D and detailed in Appendix D_Child Study Protocol Deck. The MTSS programming is designed to be a comprehensive system to support the needs of all students through evidence-based strategies, while the Child Study Protocol is a framework for facilitating the process of implementing MTSS, which includes structuring Child Study Team (CST) meetings, identifying the lagging skill that is impeding the child's academic or social-emotional development, generating a specific intervention to address that lagging skill, observing the child's progress and collecting data about the effectiveness of that intervention over an identified period, and then revisiting the progress based on the intervention.

Using the Child Study Team (CST) model, Teacher Leaders at each microsite work with the Special Education Teacher, Student Services Coordinator, contracted School Psychologist, Shared Services Partner, Teacher Leader Assistants as needed, and parents and guardians during the MTSS process. The site CST team, composed of the Teacher Leaders and Student Services Coordinator, meets every other week to discuss student data, which includes formative assessments, TL observations, TC record-keeping, behavioral data, and anecdotal data from families/parents. Teacher Leaders identify students of concern in their bi-weekly site-specific CST meetings, collect and collate data on those students, and bring them to the monthly CST gatherings, which both the Special Education Teacher and School Psychologist attend. That team then identifies and develops intervention strategies in collaboration with families and evaluates the efficacy of those interventions using anecdotal and quantitative data over subsequent meetings. We also rely on family input about how the child performs and their affect at home. Valuing a holistic view of students by acknowledging the importance of supporting them both academically and socio-emotionally is a top priority.

WMPPSC's data-driven MTSS process, facilitated using the Child Study Protocol, ensures equal access to support systems for all students and aligns with the Montessori Model. The MTSS plan incorporates the Colorado Department of Education's (CDE) five essential components of the MTSS framework:

- Team-driven shared leadership;
- Data-based problem;-
- Solving and decision-making approaches;
- Family, school, and community partnering; layered continuum of supports;
- Evidence-based practices.

WMPSC will follow the MTSS process to identify students for intervention, needed support, and acceleration for all students (including English Learners, at-risk students, underperforming students, and gifted and talented students). WMPSC will follow the RTI process within the MTSS framework:

- Tier 1: (Universal Level): Approximately 80% of students fall into this level, and their needs are typically met in the mainstream classroom through WMPSC's delivery of the Montessori curriculum. WMPSC's curriculum is standards-based with differentiated instruction in a team-teaching model. As students undertake follow-up work in groups and individually, teachers can personalize instruction and adapt teaching strategies to address each student's learning style and educational needs. Those struggling to keep up with classes are placed in Tier 2 (Targeted Level).
- Tier 2 (Targeted Level): Approximately 5 to 15% of students fall into this level at any given time. Students at this level may need more targeted, specific interventions to find academic and behavioral success. Students needing intervention at this level are supported with interventions suggested by the CST. Interventions could include a variety of strategies such as modified assignments, copies of notes, or individual checks for understanding. If targeted interventions are not successful and the student continues to struggle to make sufficient academic progress, a more intensive intervention plan will be put in place.
- Tier 3 (Intensive Level): approximately 5% of students fall into this level and require the most intense interventions due to performance being significantly below expected benchmarks. The student may be moved back into Tier 2 support when learning objectives are met through intensive interventions. Students who remain unresponsive to Tier 3 interventions will be referred to the special education team for clinical evaluation to determine the presence of any learning disabilities.

The three tiers are designed to be fluid: Within all three tiers Teacher Leaders are constantly re-assessing students to determine whether interventions are successful or whether new strategies should be used. This is reflected in the diagram above: the wheel at the center identifies the level with the cyclical tasks to analyze, implement, evaluate, and define.

E.2. WMPPSC Student Services Support Program

The WMPPSC student services support program is informed by Montessori practices of student-centered learning and our charter that is designed to create an inclusive learning environment and infuse a sense of belonging and identity affirmation for all students. WMPPSC is committed to providing a continuum of services in the least restrictive environment, underscored by the Montessori Method, which benefits students with and without support needs and views inclusion as natural and necessary.<sup>51</sup>

WMPPSC sees our student services support program as fully integrated into our teaching and learning, led by Teacher Leaders who receive professional training that meets state literacy and ML requirements, as well as follow their own Growth and Connectedness Plan to build their expertise in student services delivery. Teacher Leaders' Professional Development opportunities are described in Section D: Educational Programming. The Teacher Leaders are supported by a Student Services Coordinator (SSC) and robust school-based staff (Special Education Teacher, Teacher Leader Assistants) and contractors (School Psychologist, Licensed Occupational Therapist, Speech-Language Therapist, etc.). These contractors are selected and onboarded to integrate them into the school culture and meet WMPPSC's strong hiring process, reflected in the Teacher Leader School Startup Journey (Appendix B_Wildflower School Startup Journey Deck). Contractors follow a process that includes training in Wildflower Ways of Working (Appendix E_Wildflower Self-Management Ways of Working); Montessori Method; and equityXDesign. Contractors are required to shadow a Teacher Leader prior to employment and, as part of the onboarding process, attend a CST meeting and commit to the DEIB Agreement (Appendix A_WMPPSC DEIB Agreement).

The onboarding process highlights our Wildflower microsite model and the Montessori classroom culture where all students receive maximum differentiation and are affirmed in their identities, including different learning approaches. The small group and individualized instruction of the Montessori classroom ensure that every child is working on concepts specifically geared toward their level of mastery of that concept. Teacher Leaders work with each student or small group to monitor and adjust the instruction to address the needs of the individual or small group and then, once the student is on track and working toward his or her next goal, the teacher moves on and addresses the next student or group of students at the same personalized level. Montessori Observation protocol and assessment and reporting procedures inform this teaching.

Additionally, the microsite model and multi-age classroom give Teacher Leaders and students the opportunity to be seen and learn from one another in a community that centers student needs in a nimble way. For example, a student requiring accelerated instruction reading might join the older students in the classroom for reading activities, while the same student, finding math more challenging, might stay with his peers or even work with some of the younger students in a class for math-related activities. With the constant shifting of small group activities on an as-needed basis, students avoid being pigeon-holed into ability groups or always working with the same students considered to be on the same academic level as them. Instead, they move fluidly to the group or activity which is most individually appropriate for their level of mastery at that specific moment in time, guided by the Teacher Leader and the Montessori progress monitoring tools.

Budgeting for the Student Services Support Program

Our fiscal plan fully takes into account how WMPPSC will support historically underserved students with special needs, gifted abilities, multilingual learners, and students with mental health and other health needs. The Standardized Budget Template, detailed in Section G reflects an understanding of all funding sources used to serve student subgroups, including students with IEPs.

WMPPSC will hire one certified Special Education Teacher to work with our Teacher Leaders, Montessorians trained in the Child Study Process, Orton-Gillingham, and meeting READ Act ‘Science of Learning’ and MILL requirements. The Student Services Coordinator supports the assessment and reporting of students and the creation and delivery of academic and socio-emotional support for students, with a keen focus on students with IEPs or 504 Plans.

We believe that our current staffing plan will meet the needs of our anticipated special education population. If WMPPSC ends up with a higher than expected special education population or students with more severe needs than expected, then WMPPSC will confer with D51 and will adjust our expenses accordingly to support students with severe disabilities.

Our staffing currently follows a student services staffing allocation formula, recommended by Colorado Charter Schools Institute (CSI). Our budget and Planning Year processes, however, depends on conference with D51 to finalize alignment with district recommendations. The formula for staff-to-student ratio based on identified student needs is currently stated per below:

Student Services Staff Position	FTE Staff: Student Ratio
Special Education Teacher	1:150
School Psychologist	1:250
Nurse	1:750
Contracted therapists, such as S-L	1:400

Additionally, our expenses include staffing, curriculum and materials, and professional development. We have created our budget to reflect how these expenses grow according to enrollment, site growth, and projected student needs. In Year 0, we are working to secure a working relationship and minimum contract with an occupational therapist, speech and language pathologist, and nurse. WMPPSC is prepared to contract for visually impaired, deaf/hard of hearing, audiology, and vision/hearing screenings and services as necessary for an hourly rate. Fundraising is specifically targeted to elevate our special education resources, including staffing a Social Worker by Year 5.

Projected Required Resources for Student Services Support Program:

Staffing	Projected Salary Expense
Role	Year 1	Year 2	Year 3	Year 4	Year 5
Student Services Support Coordinator	$18,260	$18,625	$35,620	$48,444	$49,413
Special Education Teacher	$16,100	$25,806	$38,286	$56,138	$57,260
School Psychologist	$6,000	$9,180	$12,485	$15,918	$16,236
Nurse	$2,000	$4,000	$4,000	$6,000	$6,000
Contracted therapists such as S-L	$6,000	$6,000	$10,000	$20,000	$20,000
Curriculum and Materials	Projected Expense
Students with Special Needs	$1,500	$2,500	$2,550	$5,306	$5,412
Students with Mental Health Needs	$130	$265	$270	$552	$563

WMPPSC is prepared to use curriculum beyond Montessori, and has budgeted curriculum and training to meet these needs. To meet READ Act requirements, WMPPSC plans to use Amplify as our assessment tool; Wonder Works and Orton-Gillingham as our intensive curriculum; and The Writing Road to Reading as our supplemental program. Additional curriculum Teacher Leaders will consider to meet the unique learning needs of their students include Zones of Regulation, social Thinking; Step up to Writing; and Foundations.

To meet the ongoing training of Teacher Leaders, we have allocated $4000/year for professional development per Teacher Leader. WMPPSC anticipates a special education population at or below 12%. This would likely represent a maximum of nine students per year starting in Year 1 (K-3). To inform the potential IEP services that WMPPSC will be prepared to provide its students, we will seek shared data on the current level of services for both Prek and Elementary students from D51.

Each December, a count of eligible IEP students enrolled in the school will be taken. WMPPSC will receive funding during the following school year to assist with the services required for those students. As listed in the Budget Assumptions in Section G, statewide estimates for the 2023-2024 school year put these funding levels at $1,600/IEP student from IDEA and $1,232/IEP student from ECEA.

WMPPSC looks to consult with D51 and consider ongoing special education insurance models and special education funds to be used with the IDEA and ECEA funds.

E.3. Students Who Have Been Historically Underserved

WMPPSC will serve all students who want to enroll in the school. This includes students who are considered historically underserved due to academic, economic, or social-emotional risk factors and educationally disadvantaged, defined by C.R.S. 22-30.5-106(g)) as students in danger of not graduating, being promoted, or meeting other education-related goals. Risk factors may include but are not limited to socioeconomic status; academic background; behavior, cognitive, or physical problems; family or community environment; and school capacity to meet student needs.

The Montessori model truly personalizes an educational approach for each student that especially benefits educationally disadvantaged students, ensuring students will not be able to fall through the cracks. On the contrary, the Montessori model, coupled with WMPPSC practices, has the following supports and interventions built in for all students:

- NWEA MAP testing is administered twice a year to identify areas of growth as well as areas in need of further support;
- Presentations of Learning showcase students' areas of challenges and accomplishments;
- Three-year cycles with Teacher Leaders and peers that allows students and adults to know each other well; and
- The development of elementary portfolios over six years to identify personal, academic, and emotional goals and accomplishments of students;
- Individualized standards-aligned observations, record keeping, and reporting in Transparent Classroom.

All historically underserved and educationally disadvantaged students will follow the same procedures described in the above sections as they pertain to their unique needs and circumstances, including students with special needs, those on 504 Plans, those experiencing homelessness, and students in foster care. These procedures include working to address a child's housing needs more directly and students' transportation challenges inherent in their fluid living arrangements so that WMPPSC can be a source of continuity and stability in their lives. Our SSC works directly with families and community social services agencies to help prevent our foster and homeless student population from needing to switch schools and curricula mid-year, which would further educationally disadvantage them. Instead, they will have a chance to engage more deeply in their classroom; develop important relationships with their teachers, and benefit from all the academic and socio-emotional supports WMPPSC offers.

Additionally, WMPPSC is prepared to serve all D51 students regardless of their physical disability.

Our sites will meet all ADA requirements and will contract with service providers to provide therapy and adapted education to students directly. We expect that our Teacher Leaders and staff will receive additional training to meet the needs of students with physical disabilities and will integrate this into WMPPSC's annual professional development plans and calendar, to be finalized during the Planning Year.

E-4 Students with Special Needs

WMPPSC operates in full compliance with federal laws, including the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, and the Americans with Disabilities Act. We also understand the requirements of Colorado's Exceptional Children's Education Act. As such, and in alignment with the Montessori Method, WMPPSC is committed to providing a continuum of services in the least restrictive environment appropriate to the individual student's needs. This means that students are in class as much as possible. Special Education providers, such as the Special Education Teacher and contracted licensed therapists, work with Teacher Leaders to know how to meet IEP minutes and support effective student accommodations and modifications. The Special Education Teacher might join a lesson with the Teacher Leader for inclusion support. Some students may require pull-out support; in these situations, the student works with the Special Education provider individually or in a small group. Pull-out support with the Special Education Teacher might occur as an individualized or small group lesson in the classroom. These lessons would be consistent with the classroom culture of individualized or small group lessons for all students. In other cases, the Special Education Teacher might conduct pull-out support in a separate environment. WMPPSC will manage IEPs and progress monitoring through Infinite Campus. We are confident that this system facilitates efficient and easy communication with district personnel on special education issues.

The WMPPSC budget aligns with the required resources to support students with special needs by allocating funding to employ a certified Special Education Teacher and contracted therapists, such as a certified Speech-Language Pathologist; purchase materials and curriculum for pull-out interventions; subscribe to Infinite Campus, which we will use to monitor all students with special needs students; and support all Teacher Leaders in completing focused professional development to understand and teach a student with special needs.

Several accommodations often present in IEPs and 504s are naturally supported by the Montessori approach to learning, especially given the prevalent use of concrete materials in lessons and independent work. In math, for example, concrete manipulative materials are used to teach nearly all math concepts and can be utilized by children for follow-up work at any point in the child's learning. It is customary in Montessori classrooms for guides to continue integrating concrete manipulatives in students' learning throughout the elementary years. Given that Montessori pedagogy is an individualized approach to student learning, integrating accommodations and modifications set forth in IEP and 504 plans is common and fluid, and coordination of this work between the Teacher Leader and Special Education Teacher will ensure that each individual student is receiving instruction, scaffolding, and support as appropriate, according to their individual needs and learning profiles.

The IEP and Infinite Campus will be used to track progress made toward goals and the effectiveness of various accommodations and modifications. We also will employ a Montessori-based platform, Transparent Classroom, to manage Teacher Leader observations. The SSC is responsible for integrating WMPPSC with existing D51 systems for ease of compliance and reporting procedures.

The frequency of progress monitoring will vary by the student's Tier level per below:

1. Tier 1: Benchmarking – Assess all students two times per year for universal screening (early identification) and general education progress monitoring.
2. Tier 2: Strategic Monitoring – Monitor at-risk students monthly and evaluate the effectiveness of instructional changes.
3. Tier 3: Intensive Progress Monitoring – Write individualized annual goals, but monitor progress data much more frequently (ex., bi-weekly or even weekly, depending on the student). The frequent monitoring will take place by the CST via regularly scheduled meetings.

All students with IEPs have a formal annual meeting (which includes the parents/guardians, Special Education Teacher, Teacher Leaders, and SSC). The student's IEP is reviewed at the annual meeting to ensure that the student is meeting the IEP goals or making appropriate progress. Strategies may be refined or modified based on the student's progress. A parent/guardian can submit a special request to have a student's IEP reviewed or modified before the annual evaluation is scheduled. In addition, any time a change is made to an IEP, the special education team must call a formal meeting that involves the student's parents/guardians and Teacher Leaders.

The annual IEP meetings are when a student's progress data is evaluated and discussed to determine if they are ready to continue in the general education program without special modifications or accommodations. If it is determined that the student is ready based on progress data cited in IEP, as well as from qualitative observations from the Teacher Leader and the Special Education Teacher, then the team will prepare a transition plan to ensure a successful transition into the general education program without modifications. This will be discussed at an IEP exit meeting. Parents and guardians are part of this determination. Students who exit the special education program will still be monitored to ensure continued success.

Identification of Students with Individualized Education Plans (IEPs) and 504 Plans
WMPPSC anticipates that some students with special education needs will have been already identified prior to enrolling in the school and will have an IEP in place. However, WMPPSC also recognized that some students, because of their young age, may not have been identified as needing additional support. As such, we recognize our obligation to ensure that WMPPSC has a strong process in place for identifying students who might be in need of additional services.

The CST, described in Section E.1., helps manage this process. If a student is flagged during screening assessment and/or observed to be struggling and the Teacher Leader has already tried a number of Tier 3 interventions that have not been successful, then the Teacher Leader assembles the CST. The CST discusses the challenges the student is having, along with the different interventions that have been tried and the impact of those interventions. Parents and guardians are notified of this process and are invited to attend a meeting at the onset, per Child Study protocol. The Special Education Teacher spends time observing the student in class, working with the Teacher Leaders, recommending additional interventions, and then monitoring the implementation of those interventions for 30 to 45 days.

The CST implements between three to five interventions during the observation and progress monitoring period. At the end of the observation period, the student is referred for special education testing if the interventions have still not proven effective. Families will have been involved in the CST's intervention work, understand their child's successes, and be informed of the testing if it reaches that point. At that time, the Special Education Teacher, Teacher Leaders, and other specialized therapists conduct their own observations and begin testing. To determine eligibility, the special education team must evaluate the child in all areas of the suspected disability. The type of testing and who administers the tests depends on the student's needs. The testing process is based on collecting the broadest base of data possible to ensure that any diagnosis is as accurate as possible.

IEP Development

If the body of evidence indicates that the student has a disability that is having an adverse effect on their educational progress, then the student is eligible for special education services. At this time, the student's family and the special education team meet to review the testing results and begin the development of an IEP for the student. The IEP will be developed and implemented as soon as possible following the determination of eligibility for special education services. When developing an IEP, the team considers the strengths of the student; the concerns of the parents/guardians for the student's education; the results of the evaluation; and the academic, developmental, and functional needs of the student. The IEP will include the following:

- The student's present levels of academic achievement and functional performance, describing how the student is currently doing in school and how the student's disability affects their involvement and progress in the general curriculum;
- Annual goals for the student that can reasonably be accomplished in a year;
- The special education and related services to be provided to the student, including supplementary aids and services (such as a communication device);
- How (and if) the student is to participate in state and district-wide assessments, including what modifications to tests the student needs;
- Service delivery details, such as when services and modifications will begin, how and how often they will be provided, how long they will last; and,
- How school personnel will measure the student's progress toward the annual goals.

Once the IEP has been fully developed, Teacher Leaders, parents, and students (when appropriate) will be included in IEP meetings. IEPs are reviewed annually and are thoroughly re-evaluated triennially.

504 Plan Development

At times, a student is not identified upon enrollment as needing an IEP or 504 plan, but WMPSC staff observes any condition that significantly limits daily activities. When this occurs, Teacher Leaders and the special education teacher will begin the Child Study protocol, request a testing referral, and draft a 504 plan if testing results indicate a need for a 504 plan. Note the distinction between a 504 plan and IEP is that a 504 plan typically addresses the need for "accommodations"

(such as extended time for testing for a student diagnosed as having ADHD) rather than learning “modifications” (such as a modified curriculum or instruction).<sup>52</sup>

E.5. Students with Gifted Abilities

WMPPSC believes that all students should be treated like they are gifted and talented (GT). This is evident in the scaffolding and choice in the Montessori curriculum that gives students opportunities for deep learning, high quality of work standards, access to multiple levels of curricula, and a personalized curriculum that allows them to create their own pathway to learning and work to their fullest potential.

If a student enters WMPPSC designated as GT, the student and their Teacher Leaders will maintain the student’s Advanced Learning Plan (ALP). The WMPPSC Teacher Leaders and students work collaboratively to develop ALP goals that support student interests and goals. One Teacher Leader at each site will attend D51 training or complete the CDE ALP Webinar Series to support the development of ALPs. Advanced learning projects aligned to a student’s ALP will take place throughout the year. The WMPPSC budget aligns with the required resources to support GT students by allocating funding to purchase curriculum and materials for GT enrichment and ALP completion; subscribe to Infinite Campus, which we will use to progress monitor all GT students; and support all Teacher Leaders in completing GT training, as needed.

If a student enters WMPPSC without GT identification, Teacher Leaders will refer students for possible gifted identification based on a body of evidence collected during the year, beginning in Kindergarten. Teacher Leaders meet with parents and reference the CDE Gifted Identification Guidance Handbook<sup>53</sup> before evaluation. The body of evidence will be both quantitative (ex., norm-referenced and criterion-referenced tests) and qualitative (ex., performance tasks graded on a rubric, observations, parent input, interviews). Students may be identified as gifted in the following areas: general or specific intellectual ability; creative or productive thinking; leadership abilities; specific academic aptitude in reading, writing, math, social studies, science, or world language; specific talent aptitude in visual arts, performing arts, musical dance, or psychomotor abilities.<sup>54</sup> Teacher Leaders will be responsible for developing qualifying students’ ALPs and managing the overall gifted and talented program. Our Teacher Leaders are aware and keep attentive of MLL GT students, given that these students oftentimes are not identified. We do this by observing rates of progress, memory, and attention, as well as non-language specific learning, common in the Montessori classroom, such as using manipulatives to understand math concepts.

E.6. Multilingual Learners

Based on demographic data of Grand Valley students, WMPPSC anticipates serving approximately 8% of students that will qualify for Multilingual Learner (MLL) services. The WMPPSC budget aligns with the required resources to support MLL students by allocating funding to purchase MLD curriculum for the MLD pull-out interventions; subscribe to Infinite Campus, which we will use to progress monitor all MLL students; and support all Teacher Leaders in completing the CDE recommended 45 hours of training for MLL instruction. Founding Teacher Leaders Georgie and Emma have deep experience teaching MLL locally and in larger urban areas with a significant MLL percentage. Teacher Leaders will attend ongoing MLL training and meetings to respond to current research and practice, and we are seeking a Shared Services Partner who is bilingual.

Identification of English Learners

WMPPSC requires that every student's parent/guardian completes a student language data form/parent home language questionnaire as part of the enrollment process. This form identifies students whose primary or home language is one other than English. If a student's first language is not English or if the language regularly used by the student's parent/guardian is not English, then the Teacher Leader gives that student the WIDA-Screener to determine appropriate placement. The WIDA Screener is administered within ten days of the student starting school. When a student qualifies for MLL services, WMPPSC sends a letter home to the family (in both English and the native language) notifying them that the student will be receiving MLD services. The student's score on the WIDA Screener determines the level of services and the specific strategies in the MLD Plan. The student's MLD Plan will be developed and shared with the student's family within 30 days of the start of the school year.

Students who are identified as not English proficient receive the most intense level of services: one hour of pull-out instruction four days a week. The pull-out instruction will be provided by the MLD teacher. Students who are identified as limited English proficient will receive one hour of pull-out instruction twice a week. Regardless of the student's MLD level, the MLD teacher works with the Teacher Leaders to support the student. All strategies and support services must begin within 30 days of the student's start date at the school.

Once a student has been designated an MLL, they will be assessed annually (using WIDA Screener) to assess growth and to ensure that they are still receiving the appropriate level of services for their language needs. The MLD teacher identifies the appropriate ACCESS for MLLs assessment based on the student's language skills (Tier A for beginning; Tier B for intermediate; and Tier C for advanced). The specific strategies are discussed in the next section. All strategies and support services must begin within 30 days of the student's start date at the school.

Instructional Programs and Practices for Multilingual Learners

In all MLD instruction, whether in the classroom or pulled-out with the MLD teacher, the following essential components of MLD instruction are followed:

- Explicit language objectives are provided during instruction that incorporates listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills that are appropriate for each student's language proficiency level.
- Instruction incorporates appropriate school-adopted texts and materials as well as specific supplemental resources.
- Instruction and strategies are interactive and provide an open environment that allows ELLs to feel safe to experiment with English.
- Instruction provides ample practice and reinforcement activities that are appropriate for each student's proficiency level.

- Student instructional needs are determined by ongoing formative assessments, common formative assessments, and analysis of student writing, reading, and speaking samples.
- Differentiated instruction is evidenced by teaching strategies as well as questioning strategies that are based on students' proficiency levels.
- Differentiated instruction is evidenced by the intentional grouping of students according to proficiency levels as appropriate for the activity (homogeneous/heterogeneous grouping).
- Presentation of Learning assignments and direct instruction assignments are differentiated based upon students' language proficiency levels.
- Vocabulary instruction and practice are part of ongoing classroom language objectives assessed by comprehension checks (both oral and written).

WMPPSC uses sheltered instruction with LLL during pull-out or in the mainstream classroom. This means that the school uses teaching objectives, instruction, and strategies that are determined by the student's English literacy proficiency and that are designed to develop content understanding and access to the core curriculum. Sheltered instruction focuses on teaching so that content and skills are accessible for all students. It focuses on effective teaching strategies for LLL in all content areas. The rationale behind sheltered instruction is that it provides students with opportunities to learn academic content while simultaneously providing learning opportunities with language, literacy, and social interaction skills. In addition, when comprehensible input and social interaction opportunities are combined, learning tends to be deeper, and students retain more information. For teachers, sheltered instruction requires planning that involves content objectives, a focus on language, and social objectives.

In the Planning Year, all WMPPSC Teacher Leaders will receive training in sheltered instruction strategies through D51. Teacher Leaders learn the following essentials of sheltered instruction:

1. Tap students' prior knowledge and build background knowledge.
  - Evaluate students' current knowledge.
  - Build a knowledge base that prepares students for instruction.
  - Use both homogeneous and heterogeneous grouping for instruction.
2. Use flexible grouping and cooperative learning strategies.
  - Group students to facilitate cooperation, exploration, practice, and demonstration of both language and content skills and understanding.
3. Use active participation and interactive learning strategies throughout instruction.
  - Give students opportunities to observe, experiment with, build, assemble, disassemble, and manipulate physical objects while developing language skills and content understanding.
  - Move from the concrete to the abstract when presenting lessons.
4. Differentiate instruction by addressing diverse learning styles and developing multiple intelligences. Develop the intellectual capacity of all students.
  - Modify your teaching style to match students' learning styles. If students are not learning the way you teach, then teach the way that students learn.
5. Address listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills throughout instruction. Give students multiple opportunities to take risks with language by providing multiple opportunities for oral expression.
6. Provide access to texts.
  - Adapt the text to match student language acquisition levels.

7. Address students' language acquisition levels through instruction and assessment.
  - o Identify the language levels of students.
  - o Differentiate instruction based on the language acquisition levels in class.
8. Create a safe learning environment.
  - o Provide students with environments and situations that are non-threatening.
  - o Lower the affective filter in order to provide students with a safe environment in which to think and learn.
9. Connect with students' home languages and cultures.
  - o Strengthen ties between the home and school.
  - o Connect the student's home language and culture with school.
  - o Maintain high expectations and then help students reach them.

As needed by a student's MLD Plan, the contracted MLD support specialist will provide support to all WMPPSC Teacher Leaders on how to best differentiate instruction for MLL students. This MLD teacher will meet with Teacher Leaders during weekly meetings and professional development sessions.

Assessment and Monitoring the Progress of MLL Students

WMPPSC creates an MLD plan for each MLL at the school if one is not already in place. If a student enters with an MLD, WMPPSC will follow the existing requirements of the existing MLD plan. The MLD plan includes annual goals and benchmarks for the student, as well as strategies for pull-out support and instructional techniques that will be used in the regular classroom. These plans are developed in collaboration with the families and Teacher Leaders. Once an MLD plan is in place, the contracted MLD teacher also develops and maintains a portfolio of each MLL's work. The portfolio includes examples of student work that offer evidence of learning; the portfolio becomes an effective tool for communicating with parents/guardians on the student's progress. The portfolio also includes the student's assessment results from other testing that happens during the school year, including the NWEA MAP in Math, ELA, and science, portfolio work, and Presentation of Learning assessments.

These assessment results, along with WIDA ACCESS results and other examples of student work, provide a comprehensive picture of the student's progress in developing English language skills. If an MLL is struggling to meet benchmarks, the MLD teacher and the student's advisor will collaboratively discuss additional interventions that can be used to support the student's learning. When a student reaches proficiency (Composite = level 6) on WIDA, and all other assessment data indicates strong English language skills, then the student will be considered Fluent English Proficient (FEP) and no longer receive services through the school's MLD program.

Per the CDE's guidelines, once the student is identified as FEP, however, the school will continue to monitor the student's linguistic and academic progress for two years. If the student is not advancing as expected, the school will consider re-evaluating the student to determine if they should re-enter the MLD program. If this occurs, WMPPSC will document the rationale for why and notify the parents/guardians of the student to obtain their consent to resume MLD services. Once a student shows progress for two full years of monitoring, they will be moved to exit status in the Colorado Data Pipeline.<sup>55</sup>

E.7. Students Performing Below Grade Level

Identifying and meeting the needs of students who are performing below grade level happens on an ongoing basis through several interrelated processes: all age-appropriate students will be tested using NWEA MAPS in math, ELA, reading, and science within ten days of the beginning of the school year and each spring to identify areas of growth. Teacher Leaders are continuously observing students as part of the Montessori Method, evaluating student data and drawing conclusions that inform how they can best meet students' needs. The strategies will vary based on the skills and content, the students who are struggling, and the severity of the challenge. Once a student has been identified as performing below grade level, the student enters the MTSS process described in E.1, and all Teacher Leaders will be trained in the NCMPS Child Study protocol by Year 1. The WMPPSC budget aligns with the required resources to support students performing below grade level by allocating funding to: employ Teacher Assistants that can provide additional support; subscribe to Infinite Campus, which we will use to progress monitor students; and support all Teacher Leaders in completing training to understand and intervene using Montessori approaches and other research-based support.

E.8 Student Mental Health

WMPPSC centers wholeness and healing engaged pedagogy. We recognize the tremendous mental health needs of students, especially aggravated in the last two years by the pandemic and racial injustice. We see school as a place where students can feel safe in their identity, relationships, and growth. As such, WMPPSC prioritizes mental health. Teacher Leaders and a contracted School Psychologist hold the responsibility to identify and meet the needs of students who are experiencing acute and chronic mental health distress. Our budget aligns to provide Teacher Leaders ongoing training in suicide prevention as recommended by D51 and CDE and to stay professionally astute to understand and recognize how stress, trauma, anxiety, and depression manifest in learning and behavior. Social-emotional learning strategies, such as stress management and growth mindset, are ways in which Teacher Leaders integrate instruction for all students, including those with specific mental health needs. The WMPPSC budget reflects funds to hire a contracted School Psychologist and, as mentioned earlier, it is a goal for WMPPSC to allocate philanthropic funds to staff a Social Worker by Year 5 when the charter is fully enrolled. The development of the WMPPSC Safety Plan (1.6) will include integrating a cognitive-based staff training program in threat assessment and school crises.

E.9 Student Health

WMPPSC will support and address student health, including the process and procedures for immunizations, record keeping, vision and hearing screenings, health care plans, medication administration, and student illnesses, by contracting with a licensed school nurse. Designated WMPPSC staff members will be trained to administer medication and first aid. The development of our Safety Plan (1.6) will include consultation with the Mesa County Public Health department. We recognize that environmental health issues, from area wildfires to heat waves to indoor air quality, affect learning and well-being. The WMPPSC budget aligns with staffing a nurse, basing these services based on average costs across the Grand Valley charter schools, but allocates training for Teacher Leaders to reflect and sustain commitment to whole child education - which is rooted in healthy children and places.

F. Goals, Objectives, and Pupil Evaluation

WMPSC believes that student observation and data inform instruction and curriculum and that assessments drive accountability toward each student's learning and growth. To invest in this accountability and growth, WMPSC will administer a multi-faceted assessment plan that measures each student's progress toward meeting the Colorado Academic Standards and developing as a self-actualized, self-driven learner.

We are committed to integrating equity into the design of our assessments plan and every aspect of the testing process so that assessment is valuable rather than harmful to our Teacher Leaders' work and our students' identity and learning. Because WMPSC centers students who are too often at the margins of opportunity, we employ intentional, scientific observation and equitable measurement focused on vulnerable populations: students whose first language is not English, students with learning differences and disabilities, and students who live below the poverty line.<sup>56</sup> This approach is the heart of the Montessori Method (See Appendix F_Observing Work Engagement).

This approach requires multiple assessment forms and an understanding that different children excel in various forms of assessment. Teacher Leaders also are deeply committed to observation,<sup>57</sup> record keeping, and observation-informed decision-making about all aspects of the classroom environment and the student experience – a practice known as the Montessori Observation and Record-Keeping Protocol. Teachers gauge student understanding "by the way they use materials, accuracy of written work, ability to transfer concepts to new situations and showing mastery through one child teaching a concept to another."<sup>58</sup>

At the same time, we believe that there is much we can do to help tie the Montessori Observation and Record-Keeping Protocol to external standards used more broadly across the district, state, and nation. We also aim to increase the objectivity of observation data and integrate academic and non-academic assessments that are aligned with the Montessori Method. WMPSC is wholly focused on performance and achievement outcomes at all levels, including academically, non-academically, site-based and charter-wide.

To that end, our culture embraces high expectations for results and accountability, driven first and foremost by the Teacher Leaders who lead each site and are closest to the needs and achievements of their students. Embedded in our mission is a commitment to provide "authentic Montessori education that bridges academic outcomes and social-emotional development." Our Founding Teacher Leaders developed our achievement and growth goals with a lens to close opportunity gaps over time between subgroups. This focus on inclusivity and whole child outcomes supports our ability to exceed D51 and CDE accountability metrics and SEL and executive function benchmarks. To ensure that D51 and CDE receive all required data, our charter

PI School Goals and Progress Monitoring Strategies

WMPPSC has formulated SMART goals that are specific, measurable, attainable, and relevant to our mission. The goals include organizational, community and family satisfaction, and academic goals - all designed to measure variables that inform Teacher Leaders, staff, and Board about how we live into our vision and mission.

Organizational Goals

WMPPSC strives to demonstrate exceptional fiduciary and financial responsibility and employee well-being. We will measure these goals through continuous feedback, both formally and informally.

WMPPSC Goal	Measure	Timeline
Balanced Budget: Annual budgets demonstrate effective and sustainable allocation of financial resources as measured by balanced budgets submitted to D51.	Board of Directors Finance Committee budget review	Monthly
Financial Solvency: EYO annual audit reports demonstrate that WMPPSC meets or exceeds professional accounting standards.	WMPPSC Audit	Annual
Financial Health: Financial indicators demonstrate financial solvency.	Cash on hand Total margin TABOR min Fund balance Debt-asset ratio	At minimum, annual
Employee well-being: At least 95% of our staff, including Teacher Leaders, Teacher Leader Assistants, staff and contracted staff rate their experience at WMPPSC and the embodiment of our vision and mission as 4 out of 5 or better.	Reflection Surveys	Bi-Annual

Community and Family Satisfaction Goals

WMPPSC will measure school culture annually through a Net Promoter score and re-enrollment statistics. Every year, WMPPSC will provide all stakeholders in our community, including parents and guardians, school partners, and community designers, an anonymous survey. Essential stakeholder groups will participate in the creation of this survey and will advise on its development, implementation, and analysis.

WMPPSC Goal Measure Timeline

Net Promoter Score:<sup>59</sup>
 >75; This score will be revisited during the Planning Year in coordination with D51, the Shared Services Partner, and Teacher Leaders

Anonymous survey Annual

Re-enrollment:
 At least 85% of the students enrolled at WMPPSC for at least six months in the 2023-2024 school year who remain age eligible will re-enroll at WMPPSC for the 2024-2025 school year.

Re-enrollment rate Annual

Additional District Accountability Goals

WMPPSC will receive its first Performance Framework in 2025 (after the second administration of state exams). To ensure we demonstrate district-level accountability, we have set a goal in our charter to perform above the other elementary schools in the target area(s), as defined with D51 during the Planning Year. WMPPSC seeks high attendance and believes that our microsite model, where families and students have a heightened sense of belonging, will promote our attendance score and family retention. Additionally, WMPPSC is interested in measuring students' perception of belonging and to align metrics with D51's use of the Panorama student survey.

WMPPSC Goal Measure Timeline

Performance Framework:
 On the 2025 Performance Framework, WMPPSC will earn 5% more of the possible points than the average percentage earned by other elementary schools in the target area.

CDE Performance Framework, relative to other elementary schools in District

Attendance:
 Average student attendance will be 95% for K-3rd grade during our first year of operation.

Daily attendance Annual

WMPPSC will write an annual Unified Improvement Plan (UIP) as part of CDE's accountability process. The UIP will include the school's demographic information, achievement and growth data, growth and achievement gap analyses, performance reflections, trend analysis, identification of root causes, and action steps for improvement. We will share our UIP annually with all stakeholders along with achievement data which we will report at a minimum, quarterly to D51 and bi-annually at Board of Directors meetings.

<sup>59</sup> The NPS numerical score is the percentage of promoters minus the percentage of detractors. The survey is based on a scale of 0-10 and groups responders based on their score: if a respondent provided a score of 9-10, they are considered promoters; 7-8 are passives; and 0-6 are detractors. NPS is a score that has a scale of -100 to 100. According to Bain, above 0 is good, above 20 is favorable, above 50 is excellent, and above 80 is world class.

F2 Student Performance Targets

WMPPSC has set goals for student growth and achievement by analyzing the Colorado UIP 2021 Outcomes of proximal schools (outlined in Section B) and understanding the 2022-2025 Mesa County Valley School District 51 Strategic Plan and the Prepared and Supported Student Priority Goals outlined. The WMPPSC goals amplify the district's emphasis on demonstrating high levels of academic growth and achievement and comply with the Colorado Department of Education Standards of Accreditation Requirements as detailed in the Colorado Charter Schools Act and the Education Accountability Act of 2009 (22-11-101 et seq., C.R.S.).<sup>3</sup> WMPPSC sought to bring alignment to subgroups when creating our plan - specifically to align reported "minority students" with "all students" goals.

While we seek partnership with D51 to finalize our goals, performance targets, and assessment, we are currently planning to use the following tools:

- NWEA MAP will be our tool for assessing literacy and mathematics progress and achievement for our grade K-6 students. Public Montessori schools across the country use this assessment tool widely. Writing rubrics adopted from CMAS and revised to fit the Montessori curriculum by Teacher Leaders will also assess Writing Proficiency;
- Colorado Measures of Academic Success (CMAS) assessments and any relative progress monitoring assessments as required by D51, will serve as our achievement measure for all students beginning in grade 3;
- The Minnesota Executive Function Scale (MEFS) will be our direct behavioral measure of executive functions. The test assesses working memory, inhibitory control, and cognitive flexibility;
- The Developmental Environmental Rating Scale (DERS) will be our measure for child and adult behaviors and environmental attributes associated with developmental outcomes such as executive function, linguistic and cultural fluency, social fluency, and emotional flexibility.

Both the MEFS and DERS are used widely in Montessori learning environments, and outcomes on these tests correlate with higher fidelity implementation of Montessori pedagogy, making it a valuable tool for continuous school improvement, standard observation, mentoring self-study, and accountability assessment.<sup>60</sup>

The Mission Specific, Academic Achievement, and Academic Growth goals follow. The Shared Services Partner and Teacher Leaders will use the Planning Year to finalize and seek advice from D51 regarding our academic and non-academic assessments:

WMPSC Assessment Matrix

WMPSC's assessment takes place in all grades and across subjects. Student assessment may include, but is not limited to:

- Baseline and Summative Assessments to measure student growth;
- Montessori coursework and student portfolios to provide an ongoing record of student work that ensures mastery, based on Montessori lesson rubrics and checklists;
- Formative Assessments to measure achievement on an ongoing basis, including language development, developmental reading, and writing assessments, along with common core standards-based assessments in literacy and math;
- State assessments, as required by CDE and D51.

In consultation with national leaders on educational assessment and research, such as Wildflower Partner Ted Quinn and peers leading Wildflower Montessori charters in New York and Minnesota, WMPSC has identified a suite of assessments we will employ to measure each child's academic and social-emotional growth, development and attainment. The WMPSC Academic Assessment Schedule for the first two years of operations includes:

P4 Corrective Action

The WMPSC MTSS and Montessori Child Study Protocol (Appendix D_Child Study Protocol Deck) is a prevention model. Full implementation of the MTSS procedures in place will allow for ongoing monitoring of progress to goals and system-wide analysis. Our MTSS model enables us to identify and quantify students' gaps in academic achievement, provide appropriate intervention promptly, and assess students' response to intervention. The data gleaned from our MTSS model also informs Teacher Leader instruction, professional development, and growth and accountability processes.

Even with these plans in place, pupil performance could fall below the goals and objectives. The Montessori Method emphasis on student observation, reporting, and nimble instruction is our first line to identify that a student is at risk of not meeting pupil performance targets. The Child Study Steam will use the Montessori Child Study protocol to create a corrective action plan with a timeline. Child Study recognizes the student's needs from a holistic perspective, and Child Study is implemented before a Special Education referral – unless a student enters their program level with an already established IEP or 504 plan.

Typical members of a Child Study Team include family members, Teacher Leaders, specialized service providers, and Student Services Coordinator. After observation, implementation of strategies, and interventions, the team comes together to decide on pursuing an Individualized Education Plan (IEP). Whether the child is referred for special education services or not, the Child Study Team will continue working with the special education teacher(s) and the school psychologist to best support the child.

The Shared Services Partner communicates with the Board of Directors and D51 on this corrective action plan during monthly reporting. The School Accountability Committee of the Board monitors the Teacher Leaders, Student Services Coordinator, and Shared Services Partner during the implementation of the plan. These are touchpoints during the annual Growth and Accountability Cycle (Section H).

As described in Section H and Section E (PD), Teacher Leaders' professional development plan is informed by MTS, Child Study, and Growth and Accountability processes. Teacher Leaders hold bi-monthly pod meetings to analyze trends in their observation, record-keeping, and assessment data, which informs WMPS-C-wide growth areas and professional development training.

Teacher Leaders will meet weekly to discuss quantitative and observational data for students at their site. These data meetings will include the discussion of trends in the formal assessments outlined above, disaggregated by population (e.g., FRL students, MLLs, students on IEPs, etc.), deep dives into individual student work samples in order to inform best instructional practices, and analysis of observational data on student work culture and dynamics. These weekly data meetings will support Teacher Leaders in evolving their instructional practices to best meet the needs of the individual students in the program. Teacher Leaders will bring data, trends, and observations from their site-level discussions to the bi-monthly charter-wide pod meetings outlined above.

G. Budget and Finance

Our charter school budget reflects our core values and mission. As such, WMPPSC prioritizes its spending in a way that reinforces its priorities for teacher-led microsites, that are community-embedded authentic Montessori learning environments and that center the whole child in pursuit of a more just world. To do this, we must operate with high fidelity to our core values, and D51 and stakeholder expectations.

G.1 WMPPSC Budget

The WMPPSC Budget, found as Appendix G_WMPSC GV 5-Year Budget, is our numeric story. It is balanced each year, based on realistic assumptions for revenue and based on local cost of living and target area demographics for expenditures. WMPPSC includes reasonable and adequate costs for all staff, services, supplies, equipment, and facilities included in the application and essential to our four microsites implementing our model with excellence. Our 5-Year Budget Summary, along with a planning year, is below:

5 - Year Budget Summary

G.2. WMPPSC Budget Development Process

The WMPPSC budget was developed by Kaycee Gerhart, finance consultant and Steering Committee member, before the Founding Board was formed and she transitioned to a volunteer position as Board Treasurer. Founding Teacher Leaders, Emma Reicks and Georgie Reigel; Interim Shared Services Partner Hannah Ewert-Krocker; and Wildflower Partners Rachel Kelley-Cohn and Katie Piehl, who holds experience as a former charter school authorizer, were advisors during the budget development process. The budget was reviewed by Isabelle Parker, Wildflower CFO, and the full WMPPSC Board of Directors.

This collective effort reflects how WMPPSC prioritizes co-creation and our Advice Process (Appendix E_Wildflower Self-Management Ways of Working). In the development of our budget, our mission is our throughline. We have prioritized expenses to provide families with child-centered, authentic Montessori education that bridges academic outcomes and social-emotional development through intimate learning communities deeply rooted in place, equity and belonging. The WMPPSC microsite and organizational structure - and our emphasis on Teachers as leaders - guided how we allocated funds to professional development, materials and curriculum, and facilities.

The budget development process was iterative and reviewed frequently by the team; as place- and equity-specific variables were understood, the budget was updated, bringing fiscal balance and mission to center. As an example, as Founding Teacher Leaders brought in data around evolving partnerships and community need, the budget was adjusted to align with a different student demographic that affected income and expenses.

In the Planning Year, the Shared Services Partner (SSP) holds the responsibilities to develop the charter budget, advised by Founding Teacher Leaders and integrating their site-specific budget. The SSP receives support from a contracted finance consultant and the Board Treasurer. Because Kaycee Gerhart was involved in the creation of the budget, she will have first-hand experience to be an on-going advisor and understand levers to ensure fiscal health and sustainability.

G.3 Financial Best Practices

WMPPSC will employ a combination of personnel, policies, and procedures to ensure adherence to financial best practices. The roles most critical to the integrity of the learning model are direct employees of WMPPSC, while contractors are utilized to meet compliance standards and to fill temporary roles as the shared services staff grows. This blended staffing approach to meeting the needs of the organization allows WMPPSC to launch and scale sustainably in the initial years of the charter. Financial Policies and Procedures (Appendix G_Financial Policies and Procedures) will provide operating parameters to ensure that all staff and contractors' Roles and Responsibilities are properly delineated to ensure internal controls standards are met.

In the Planning Year, the Shared Services Partner and Student Services Coordinator will be the only charter-wide employees. These individuals will select the contractors or vendors who will provide core business services during the initial years of the charter, including: financial management and bookkeeping, audit, internal systems setup, IT support, legal services and counsel, Teacher Leader recruitment, human resources support, fundraising and grant writing, and facilities guidance.

As WMPPSC matures into its third operational year, Year 3, we will begin to transition certain key functions to charter-wide shared services employees. A Finance Partner will be hired to take on financial management and strategy. By Year 4, the Shared Services Partner will be responsible for human resources, fundraising and Teacher Leader recruitment. The table below summarizes the in-house shared services staff, as well as the contracted capacities planned for Years 0 through 5:

WMPPSC Staff	Y0	Y1	Y2	Y3	Y4	Y5

The ultimate financial goal for the 5-year budget plan is to ensure a positive operating income and both short- and long-term financial solvency. WMPPSC understands the need to manage cash very tightly in the first three years, and has built a budget that allows surplus funds to be set aside beyond the TABOR reserve as enrollment increases.

G.5.6 Financial Reporting & Accountability Processes

WMPPSC recognizes the importance of sound fiscal management, and especially in our decentralized structure where each site has autonomy to make budgetary decisions that impact their community, we will establish financial procedures to ensure smooth financial management practices.

WMPPSC will establish a charter-wide Finance Committee consisting of the Board Treasurer, Shared Services Partner, Teacher Leader representatives from each regional charter, and contracted financial management provider(s). This committee will meet monthly and process monthly close out reports, hold each other accountable for site financial operations by reviewing monthly bank statements, budget vs actual and balance sheet reports, and establish a sound financial structure documented in detailed procedures that outline Roles and Responsibilities across the WMPPSC community. With the Finance Committee spearheading efforts, WMPPSC is committed to meeting state and authorizer transparency requirements and will adopt a budget annually, including forecasting beyond the fiscal year. The WMPPSC will maintain a balanced budget each year through monthly monitoring of financial statements by the full Board of Directors.

During the Planning Year, WMPPSC will finalize and activate the Financial Policies and Procedures, currently in draft (Appendix G_WMPPSC Financial Policies and Procedures). These procedures will include processes for payroll including a salary schedule and compensation policies. WMPPSC is committed to meeting all D51 and state reporting requirements and will report on all expected financial metrics at least annually and submit annual tax 990 forms. As demonstrated in our proposed budget and contingency budget, we are committed to meeting and maintaining TABOR and Special Education minimum balance requirements.

WMPPSC understands that, per charter requirements, we will be required to conduct thorough audits of finances and operations, annually. A certified public accountant will be contracted annually to perform a financial audit and report findings to the Board of Directors, independent of the consultant or provider conducting financial management for the charter throughout the year. The specific process for identifying and selecting the contracted auditor are detailed in Appendix G_WMPSC Financial Policies and Procedures.

WMPSC is requesting waivers from the state to ensure that our decentralized financial management structure remains true to our organizational mission and supports financial operations and decision-making closest to the felt impact, most often with the microsites and Teacher Leaders.

- C.R.S. §22-32-110(1)(Y) Accepting Gifts, Donations, and Grants
- C.R.S. §22-32-109(1)(b) Local Board Duties Concerning Competitive Bidding

WMPSC will comply with all requirements of the Colorado Financial Transparency Act (C.R.S. § 22-44-301 et seq.) by posting all required documents on the charter's website following the timeline established by CDE. These postings will follow the most recent template for charters per CDE. WMPSC is prepared to provide the transparency necessary to the WMPSC Board of Directors, D51, and CDE. Appendix G_WMPSC Board Development Plan outlines financial management and oversight as a core priority and includes policy development, training, and reporting practices for the ongoing board moving through planning and operations.

WMPSC is committed to implementing a sustainable, yet innovative model of decentralized operations that reinforced teacher leadership, along with sound financial management and accountability to D51 and others. WMPSC will report on these metrics to the Board of Directors regularly, so that there is transparency in financial operations and to equip all stakeholders with the information they need to be active advice givers. We intend to finalize financial reporting metrics with D51 during the Planning Year; below are a list of metrics and expectations we are prepared to report on:

Draft Financial Reporting Metrics

G.7. Restricted Grant Funding Expenditures

Our budget assumes we will secure a Colorado Charter School Program (CCSP) Grant, but does not include Wildflower Colorado grant funds or site-specific fundraising. The CCSP Grant will be used to help seed WMPPSC's initial growth and startup capital for the charter school in its first three years. Funds will be used to support allowable expenses within the Year 0-Year 2 budgets, including: staffing, materials and supplies, and technology.

We will prioritize any additional restricted grant funding to support further special education, mental health, and MILL services. Specifically, we are prepared to increase the FTE for the Student Services Coordinator and School Psychologist, as well as hire a social worker and MILL teacher with this additional philanthropic revenue (non-CCSP). Our student population, and Teacher Leader and family advice will guide these decisions. We also expect to use grant funding towards facilities' renovations and training that will extend our inclusive Montessori model. As an example, the Montessori "peace corner" may need to be a larger calm space for students with sensory needs.

Wildflower Colorado has a track record of securing substantial philanthropic funding to support current and emerging local schools. During WMPPSC's period of community building, stakeholder engagement and planning, we have heard ample interest from funders in continuing to support the growth of Montessori microsites in Colorado. We are confident that partnering with D51 to increase accessibility for PK-6th grade students via the charter model will only accelerate philanthropic support from current and emerging local and national funders.

Wildflower Colorado's demonstrated track record of philanthropic support includes raising over $1,500,000 from the following sources over the past four years:

- Wend Collective: $900,000 (over 6 years)
- Gary Community Ventures: $320,000 in PRI loan funds
- Constellation Philanthropy: $61,500
- The Buell Foundation: $25,000
- The Donnell-Kay Foundation: $25,000
- Gates Family Foundation: $80,000
- Walton Family Foundation: $50,000
- The Telluray Foundation: $65,500
- State of Colorado CIRCLE Grant Fund: $50,000

We are also actively pursuing grants from the following local and national philanthropic sources to support WMPPSC:

- The Daniels Fund: $100,000
- Charter School Growth Fund Entrepreneur in Residence (EIF) Seed Grant: $250,000
- Gates Family Foundation: $100,000-$150,000
- Louis Calder Foundation: $100,000
- The Buell Foundation: $75,000
- The City of Grand Junction: $100,000
- Western Colorado Community Foundation: $50,000
- The Denver Foundation: $50,000

- State of Colorado Emerging and Expanding Child Care Grant: $50,000

G.8. Cash Flow During Planning Year

As is typical for Wildflower charter schools, the largest expenses are facilities and staff. WMPPSC is planning for a lean year during the Planning Year, staffing only a part-time Shared Services Partner and contractors to set up foundational systems and processes required to create a successful new charter. Teacher Leaders will be completing their School Startup Journey and become contracted employees of WMPPSC on May 1, 2023 (Appendix G_WMPPSC GV Cash Flow Forecast).

WMPPSC is seeking the Colorado Charter School Program (CCSP) grant. To plan for funding prior to receiving the CCSP funds, The Wildflower Foundation will play a role in providing cash flow since CCSP is a reimbursable grant.

WMPPSC and The Wildflower Foundation

WMPPSC is a member of The Wildflower Foundation (TWF) through two separate agreements that serve different, yet critical purposes: The Membership Agreement (previously referred to as the Affiliation Agreement) and the Services Agreement. The Membership Agreement is an agreement signed by every school in the Wildflower Network that defines the expectations for schools that are part of the Wildflower Network, as well as the benefits of membership. In order to operate as a “Wildflower School,” WMPPSC must have a signed Membership Agreement. The Wildflower Network Membership in Action (Appendix G_Wildflower Network Membership in Action) provides concrete examples for how Wildflower-affiliated schools may fulfill the commitments of their membership to the Network.

Agreement	Parties	Summary
Membership Agreement	The Wildflower Foundation and Charter Board	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Defines the relationship between The Wildflower Foundation and the charter organization / board;</li> <li>• Teacher Leaders sign a commitment and acknowledgement;</li> <li>• This agreement holds as long as the organization is “A Wildflower School;”</li> <li>• Includes a School Contribution fee of 2-4% of total revenue, once operational.</li> </ul>

Additionally, WMPPSC may choose to engage TWF for more direct, tailored support to help fulfill its mission in a Wildflower charter setting by entering into a Services Agreement. The Board of Directors may contract with TWF on an annual basis and can continue or dissolve this contractual relationship at any time. It is an at-will relationship, and no Wildflower Foundation staff person will serve as a voting member on the Board of Directors. The Board and TWF will discuss WMPPSC needs during the Planning Year and TWF is prepared to support WMPPSC with a Services Agreement. WMPPSC anticipates establishing a Services Agreement with TWF in the first four years of the charter, starting with immediate support to set up key operating systems and hiring, recruit Teacher Leaders, and fundraise on behalf of WMPPSC. The Services Agreement will be revisited each year to determine additional charter-specific WPSC support wishes to contract for.

Agreement	Parties	Summary
Services Agreement	The Wildflower Foundation and Charter Board	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Optional agreement for additional supports to operate as charter;</li> <li>Defines the work TWF may take on in the Charter Entity, including any additional payment for service;</li> <li>Not a condition of membership;</li> <li>Revisited as roles evolve;</li> <li>This agreement tends to phase out as the charter becomes more established;</li> <li>The charter may use portions of its CCSP grant to fund this work, particularly in startup.</li> </ul>

WMPPSC and TWF are ready to re-imagine charter school governance that truly prioritizes Teacher Leader decisions and centers the child's needs. The WMPPSC Board of Directors will be able to learn from the experiences of operating Wildflower charters in Minnesota, New York City, and soon-to-open Washington, D.C. and participate in a network of fellow board members operating decentralized charter schools across the country. Together, this gathering of the communities provide the mentorship and professional learning community needed to bolster WMPPSC's board operations and development and position this Board of Directors to be a leader of innovative charter organizational design and governance.

6.9. Contingency Planning

WMPPSC is prepared to preserve the credibility of our model and still meet our organizational mission, even at a lower than expected enrollment or increased expenditures. In the event that a contingency budget is necessary, these adjustments allow WMPPSC to remain authentic to its learning model and in compliance with D51 requirements. In contingency planning for less than expected enrollment we are able to sustain at 80% enrollment in the first three years while still implementing the proposed program with fidelity. Adjustments to our budget include keeping the Student Services Coordinator role at 0.5 FTE through Year 3, decreasing Teacher Leader Assistant staffing, decreasing facility renovations to focus strictly on health and safety improvements and adjustments to general expenses based on a per pupil cost. Even with our contingency plan, we are still able to maintain a maximum instructor to student ratio of 1:18.

The WMPPSC 3 - Year Contingency Budget tells the story of a more lean operating structure, where we work to preserve the integrity of the model while also focusing resources where they are most critical - at the microsites. Through this exercise, we plan for 80% enrollment leading to a decrease of $124,807 in Year 1 revenues. To account for the decline in enrollment, we arrive at a balanced budget by making the following adjustments to save $71,846 in spending in Year 1.:

Year 1, Adjustments to Budget at 80 Percent Enrollment

	Full Enrollment Budget	Contingency Budget (80 percent enrollment)	Notes on Reductions
Enrollment	48	38	Reflects 20% reduction
Teacher Leader Assistant	Lower Elem: 1	Lower Elem: 0.5	Reduce FTEs of site-based staff in alignment with smaller student enrollment
Charter-wide Services FTE	Shared Services: 1 Student Svcs Coord: 0.5 Sp Ed: 0.35	Share Services: 1 Student Svcs Coord: 0.5 Sp Ed: 0.25	Reduce SpEd FTEs in alignment with smaller student enrollment
Sites	1	1	In year 1, maintain 1 site even with lower enrollment
Total Revenue	$833,054	$708,247	Reflects 20% enrollment reduction
Total Expenses	$729,139	$657,293	Cost reductions reflect necessary adjustments without cutting key program expenses
Total Fund Balance	$167,728	$132,068	The charter is able to remain solvent and meet TABOR requirements and WMPPSC mission.

These decisions will balance the budget while allowing us to maintain the number one promise to families which is the teacher to student ratio and our focus on providing services that encourage our students' deep sense of belonging and identity affirmation.

A balanced contingency budget for 80% enrollment was modeled for Years 2 and 3 as well and is available in Appendix G_WMPPSC 3-Year Contingency Budget. Should WMPPSC continue to see student enrollment at 80% of projections for the first three years of the charter, the following additional modifications will be made:

- Additional reduction of FTEs for site-based staff in alignment will smaller student enrollment
  - Teacher Leader Assistant in Lower Elementary from 1.0 FTE to 0.5 FTE in Y2 and from 2.0 FTE to 1.0 FTE in Y3
- Additional reduction of charter wide services expenses, reducing FTEs of:
  - Student Services Coordinator from 1.0 FTE to 0.5 FTE in Y3
  - Special Educators from 0.65 FTE to 0.45 FTE in Y2 and from 0.8 FTE to 0.55 FTE in Y3. These adjustments maintain the same overall special education instructor-to-student ratios as the baseline budget, but reflect changes due to lower enrollment

- Reduction of site renovation budgets from $65,000 to $42,000. Sites will prioritize improvements focused on ensuring student health and safety and aesthetic enhancements will be prioritized
- All expenses based on per pupil drivers reduced to reflect continued lower enrollment

In the event of lower enrollment, these adjustments allow WMPSC to remain authentic to its learning model and in compliance with authorizer requirements. The decreases in staffing and site plans, as well as other student-based expenses, are in line with the lowered enrollment numbers. Static expenses such as facilities leases, site furniture, instructional materials and other basic operational expenses, are sustained in the contingency budget to best preserve the charter mission and educational experience.

Should lower than expected enrollment persist through Year 3 of the charter, we may adjust strategy by growing enrollment first before adding additional sites in later years, recognizing that additional sites may be too costly until enrollment grows to sufficient levels. While our growth of sites may temporarily stagnate, our enrollment does not need to and we can continue to cultivate growth through additional enrollment within existing sites.

Incorporated into the baseline and contingency budget plans, Teacher Leaders from each site have a site budget that they developed with advice from the Board, Shared Services and Finance Partners, and local experts, including Wildflower Partner, Isabelle Parker, who supports Teacher Leaders across the country as they set up their local site budgets.

H. Governance

Governance

WMPPSC will employ self-management tools and practices with strong leadership from the Board of Directors. Aligned to our “Montessori for Adults” philosophy,<sup>61</sup> we believe creating an environment that empowers educators and increases their ownership cultivates an environment for adults to be grounded in their purpose and live into their full potential as educators and leaders. In alignment with Willdflower principles, norms, and values (Section A), WMPPSC will follow a decentralized decision-making structure and use the practices of self-management to organize itself, make decisions, engage in discourse when disagreements inevitably arise, and always strive toward radical transparency. These operating strategies have proven successful in other non hierarchical organizations studied and documented by Frederic Laloux and have been implemented in Willdflower public charter systems in Minnesota and New York City (Appendix E_Willdflower Self-Management Ways of Working).<sup>62</sup> By using self-management practices in this construct, WMPPSC centers Teacher Leader autonomy and maintains clear accountability to stakeholders, both internal and external.

WMPPSC Board of Directors

WMPPSC is governed by a Board of Directors that is committed to our mission. It holds the accountabilities of the charter, entrusted to it by D51, and it fulfills those accountabilities by establishing a policy environment that supports bringing the charter to life. The Board of Directors is a critical stakeholder for decisions the Shared Services Partner and Teacher Leaders are making in service of WMPPSC. The Board of Directors establishes this environment within the construct of the charter, laws, and its own governing Bylaws and other organizing policies (Appendix H_WMPPSC Bylaws)

The Board of Directors have clear roles and responsibilities. The Board is ultimately accountable to D51 for meeting the metrics in the charter and holds the following responsibilities:

- Uphold fiduciary responsibilities
- Maintain compliance with all applicable laws and policies, WMPPSC charter, and other legal requirements
- Hire the Shared Services Partner and Teacher Leaders, and facilitate the annual leadership review that results in reflection of accountabilities against the purpose and performance of the charter
- Review and discuss Teacher Leader(s) annual performance reviews
- Validate the annual charter budget
- Review, revise and renew service provider and major contractor partnerships
- Review Willdflower Network Membership (Appendix G_Willdflower Membership Agreement Draft) every two years

- Evaluate each site through the membership reflection process, charter performance metrics, and Teacher Leader performance reviews
- Validate policies to reinforce Teacher Leader autonomy in alignment with accountabilities and laws
- Maintain Teacher Leader autonomy by resisting making decisions that the Board is not closest to and that would lead to less ownership of those decisions by people closer to the work.

To activate these responsibilities, each board member is asked to sign WMPPSC Board Commitments that help to establish clarity of expectations and how the Board of Directors will carry out its responsibilities (Appendix H_WMPPSC Board of Director Commitments). The Board will fulfill its responsibilities through a committee structure (detailed above), policy development timeline, and dashboard of reporting accountability.

H 1 Founding Board Member Matrix

The composition of the WMPPSC Board is state-wide, with members residing proximal to the Grand Valley and Aurora regions. The Founding WMPPSC Board embodies the charter-wide cultural and linguistic diversity, history and knowledge of the unique communities our sites intend to serve, as well as the areas of expertise required to fulfill the Board's obligations to our non-profit organization. The WMPPSC Board holds expertise in the following areas:

Additionally, WMPPSC's ongoing Board Development plan (Appendix G_WMPPSC Board Development Plan) centers the accountabilities of the Board of Directors by:

- Continuing the work of equity-focused school design to inform the Board strategy and priorities
- Hiring key leadership, including the Shared Services Partner role
- Setting policies and development of tools that microsities can use to develop their own site-specific plans
- Supporting Teacher Leaders through the School Startup Journey and Wildflower Network Membership
- Ensuring establishment of systems that will support sound and compliant operations in alignment with the charter contract and applicable laws and policies.

H.2. Founding Board Development

The WMPPSC Founding Board was formed in July 2022, transitioning from the Founding Steering Committee which formed in Fall 2021. The cultivation of a Steering Committee began by Rachel Kelley-Cohn, Wildflower Regional Site Entrepreneur, as a response to Teacher Leader interest to create Wildflower charter schools in Grand Valley and Aurora. This Teacher Leader interest paralleled family interest to access identity-affirming microsites rooted in Montessori pedagogy.

Since the fall of 2021, this community of visionary leaders has met in person and virtually 17 times, and this application reflects only part of the expansive range of broad and detailed thinking required to move an idea to impact. WMPPSC has had an intentional approach to governance development, working to center relationship building, relevancy within the community, prioritizing Teacher Leaders, and committing to self-reflection and growth. The Board, through this focus, has been building an identity that manifested itself in the organization's mission and vision. The Founding Board reflects the community and students the sites intend to serve, by modeling Wildflower's purpose, values, and norms, and also being a group of diverse individuals carrying out anti-bias and anti-racist education. Full bios of the Founding WMPPSC Board can be found in Appendix H_WMPPSC Bios. As the Board develops, it will further be representative of the communities we serve, comprised of founding families and parents, voices not yet heard, and non-voting Teacher Leaders.

H.3 Board Recruitment

Our strategy to sustain an engaged Board to meet their responsibilities includes: a process to vet new members ensuring their capacity, a thorough onboarding process for new members, clearly defined roles and responsibilities for board members that focus the members' time and leverage their expertise, and both formal and informal meetings that build connection and commitment. We acknowledge that our model requires consistent and deep engagement from our Board of Directors, as well as a collaborative spirit to work in partnership with Teacher Leaders and the Shared Services Partner and, ultimately, the responsibility to ensure that every microsite thrives.

Board member recruitment centers relationship building. Starting with key contributors to the mission and vision of WMPPSC, prospective board members are identified through referrals from community partners, funder contacts, and teacher leader networks. Our effort to attract strong candidates balances WMPPSC's need for critical areas of expertise with a bottoms up approach to board development that prioritizes hyper-local representation from the landscapes our schools intend to serve. As defined in our Bylaws, the Governance Committee stewards the process of board member nomination and recommendation. The Committee establishes values and priorities for board member recruitment and discussion of our governance philosophy. This committee continuously reviews the Skill Matrix to ensure the necessary board member expertise and experience while also holding a commitment to membership centered in and from the communities our schools serve. Presently, the Board has identified the skill areas currently needed to round out expertise, which include real estate development, ECE, and multilingual language; the Board also seeks to widen socioeconomic representation on the Founding Board.

To fulfill these skill and diversity needs, Rachel Kelley-Cohn, the WMPPSC Founding Board, and Teacher Leaders are actively cultivating relationships with communities, identifying possible board members to the Governance Committee. This networking will eventually be led by Shared Services Partners in each charter location and continuously present as charter sites open and increased hyper-local relationships are generated. Ultimately, the committee will bring forward recommendations of new board members and follow the process outlined in WMPPSC Bylaws.

Board members will be asked to sign the Board Commitment, Conflict of Interest, and the Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Belonging (DEIB) Agreement within 14 days of being seated on the Board (Appendix H_WMPPSC Board of Director Commitments, Appendix H_WMPPSC Conflict of Interest Policy Draft, Appendix A_DEIB Agreement).

H 4 Governance Structure

WMPPSC will fulfill its responsibilities by creating and sustaining a policy environment that supports the charter and the work of the Teacher Leaders and WMPPSC staff. The Board will be organized to support this policy environment as defined in the WMPPSC Bylaws. The Bylaws state that the Board will be composed of between three and eleven voting members, in addition to non-voting Teacher Leader(s) and Community Design Team Board Representatives as well as administrative leadership. Aligning with our commitment to the local communities we serve, guardians of enrolled students and community members will be included among the voting members of the Board.

The Board of Directors will include a Chair, Treasurer and Secretary. The Board Chair will work with Board members to appoint committee chairs. The Board Chair will preside at all board meetings. The Secretary will perform duties of the Board Chair in their absence, including presiding at any board meetings where the Chair is not present. The Treasurer will be the lead fiscal officer of WMPPSC, and the Secretary will keep minutes of the board meetings and retreats.

The Board will use a committee structure to organize its work and responsibilities. The Board of Directors will create standing committees with the following charges:

- School Accountability Committee: Our students' identity is affirmed and they are prepared to transform their world. The School Accountability Committee is responsible for making recommendations to Teacher Leaders and charter-wide staff concerning priorities for spending school funds, the preparation of and adherence to the school's Performance, Improvement, Priority Improvement, or Turnaround plan, and fidelity to our mission and to WMPPSC's contract with D51.
- Equity and People: Our community reflects our mission and is strengthened by our presence. The Equity and People Committee ensures that all WMPPSC stakeholders are living into WMPPSC's values, purpose, and norms and that our staff, Board, and student populations are representative of the diversity in our communities.
- Finance and Facilities: Our organization and our microsites are financially sound. The Finance Committee is charged with ensuring that WMPPSC and all of our microsites have balanced budgets, appropriate reserves, and sound, compliant facilities.
- Governance: We maintain a policy environment that meets the needs of the school and our community. The Governance Committee ensures that our policies and procedures adhere to holacracy and WMPPSC's Ways of Working and that our Board of Directors represents the diversity of our local communities and includes the breadth of expertise necessary to fulfill our mission and vision.

In addition to the Board committees, WMPPSC includes advisory committees that are unique to our model. These include: the Community Design Team, hyper-local committees proximal to microsites whose purpose is to facilitate our participatory processes of co-designing charter sites with Teacher Leaders and community members; and Teacher Leader pod structures, which are regional groups of Teacher Leaders that provide peer support and accountability for site performance, Wildflower’s ways of working, and leadership development one another as educators and Montessorians, modeling wholeness, growth and connectedness and the Wildflower Ways of Working.

H.5.6 Board Training and Onboarding

To date, the Board has engaged in Wildflower’s Self-Management Learning Series that supports our self-managed organizational structure and carrying out key governance responsibilities using the practices of roles and responsibilities, advice, conflict resolution, and radical transparency. (Appendix E_Wildflower Self-Management Ways of Working). The Board has also engaged in equityXdesign training by 228 Accelerator (Appendix C_equityXdesign Framework) that supported the development of the DEIB Agreement.

Board members will continue to participate in similar workshops, as well as specific governance workshops held by local organizations, such as the Colorado League of Charter Schools. In particular, WMPSC plans to seek out training to support self-management governance, employment matters, financial management and oversight, and responsible monitoring and evaluation of school and pupil performance - especially supporting serving students with special needs. The Board will also seek support with succession planning to further strategize how to stagger Founding Board members and ideally onboard one to two new members every year, pulling in specific regional and skill set expertise. The staggered terms of Board members are identified in the Founding Board Member Matrix (H. 1).

WMPSC has created a board development plan (Appendix G_Board Development Plan) that specifies board training, capacity building, self-evaluation, and succession planning. The annual budget allocated to board training is $4,000 during the Planning Year, and $2,000 each following year. The onboarding of board members includes reviewing an overview of WMPSC and a clear outline of expectations included in the organizing policies, Board Commitment, and DEIB and Conflict of interest policies. Members will be oriented to the WMPSC charter contract, have opportunities to meet Teacher Leaders and visit sites, and engage in the Wildflower self-management learning series. The Board’s Governance Committee will facilitate support for this learning plan and coordinate resources from the wider Wildflower network.

H.7. Open Meeting Law, C.O.R.A., and FERPA

Community members, including all Teacher Leaders, staff, and parents and families will be invited and encouraged to attend all open sessions of board meetings. All board meetings will be open to the public; only those matters allowed for a closed session under Colorado Open Meetings Act will be held in closed session; and any official action of the Board taken in closed meeting will be reported on in the following open session. . Our board meeting schedule will be posted on our website. The Board of Directors will operate according to the Colorado Open Meetings Act, per Article III. Section I of the WMPPSC Bylaws:

Section 1. Meetings. The Board of Directors will meet at least ten (10) times per year to discuss WMPPSC operations, to hear reports and updates from the charter community, and to discuss business related to the responsibilities outlined in these bylaws. The Board shall be subject to and hold meetings in accordance with the Colorado Open Meetings Act. The Board shall be subject to and hold meetings in accordance with the Colorado Open Meetings Act.

Directors may meet in-person or electronically (virtually) so long as all Directors participating and the public can all hear each other during the meeting, and technology is in place to ensure such. Directors attending virtually shall be counted as present for all purposes, and virtual attendance shall count toward a quorum. Should any Director plan to attend a board meeting virtually, they will make that known to the Board Secretary at least 24 hours in advance of the scheduled Board meeting. The Board Secretary shall then provide for virtual access to the meeting to Directors and members of the public.

The Open Records Act creates a general presumption in favor of public access to government documents. The WMPPSC Board of Directors understands the importance of staying in compliance of this law including the following:

- The board secretary shall record board meeting minutes;
- The School Accountability Committee shall record School Accountability meeting minutes;
- Minutes will be posted on the school website in a timely manner;
- Minutes will be preserved in paper and electronic forms;
- The Board will make every effort to responding to CORA requests within three working days;
- The Board will file an extension for extenuating circumstances.

The WMPPSC Board will work to develop a policy surrounding CORA requests so that it does not become a financial burden of the school. As soon as the charter application is approved, the WMPPSC Board will be in full compliance with the law.

Additionally, WMPPSC will meet the requirements of FERPA (Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act), which addresses the privacy of students' educational records. Board meetings are scheduled to train Board members about their legal obligations with regard to the Open Meetings Act, Colorado Public Records Act, and FERPA. The first training will take place in October 2022. There will be training held at the Board retreat before the end of the 2022-23 fiscal year and throughout 2023. Directors commit to building awareness and maintaining compliance with legal requirements per the WMPPSC Board Commitments (H_WMPPSC Board of Director Commitments).

Leadership

As described in Section D, WMPPSC unapologetically centers the Teacher Leader as the staff member best positioned to bring the dream of schooling that creates safe, affirming, just Montessori learning environments to life. Teacher Leaders have a critical role with a broad responsibility. WMPPSC believes that teachers who have autonomy with support and are also leaders making decisions in the best interest of their students and school community have great job satisfaction.<sup>63</sup>

In the WMPPSC organizational structure, leadership is distributed. Individuals or roles are not accountable to just one person, they are accountable to the full community. However, to foster growth and meet external reporting requirements, roles do have points of accountability. For instance, the Shared Services Partner is held accountable by the Board of Directors through facilitation of their hiring and evaluation processes, and in serving as the staff liaison to the Board of Directors. However, the Shared Services Partner is also accountable to peer staff and Teacher Leaders to fulfill their roles and responsibilities.

Teacher Leaders also practice shared accountability to the community and are hired by the Board of Directors during the Startup stage of the School Startup Journey (Appendix B_Wildflower School Startup Journey Deck). When making hiring decisions, the Board must get advice from the Shared Services Partner, peer Teacher Leaders, and other staff before inviting Wildflower Network Membership and making hiring decisions that would affect the WMPPSC community. Teacher Leaders and Teacher Leader Assistant roles are site-specific roles.

11.9 School Leadership

Teacher Leaders are our most critical staff members, and the 12-18-month School Startup Journey is the process where qualified teachers become Teacher Leaders at WMPPSC. Our staffing is designed to support a minimum of two Teacher Leaders co-leading each site (and up to four Teacher Leaders in the case of the co-location of two sites) to reach their maximum potential in educating students, centering family engagement, and modeling wholeness in an identity-affirming education model. The staff—Special Education Teacher, School Psychologist, Teacher Leader Assistants, Student Services Coordinator, Finance Partner, and contracted providers work in service of the network of WMPPSC sites and students, and with Teacher Leaders to support the operation and compliance of individual sites and the charter (Appendix H_WMPPSC Employment Policy).

Teacher Leaders

A WMPPSC Teacher Leader is a Montessori teacher with an entrepreneurial spirit, a passion for social justice and characteristics that allow them to evolve as an educator, co-teacher and human being through the School Startup Journey. The Teacher Leader holds the responsibility to be the general education teacher and the academic leader, to balance administrative work and educator capacity at the site level.

Teacher Leaders embody our Wildflower principles, norms, and values by possessing:

- A commitment to authentic Montessori;
- Entrepreneurial leadership;
- A commitment to serving diverse communities
- A generosity of spirit;
- A willingness to work hard;
- A desire to learn and grow.

Shared Services Partner

The charter-wide role of the Shared Services Partner is to build systems and lines of communication for charter staff and Teacher Leaders to do their best work in service of students, families and communities, while ensuring sites have the autonomy and flexibility to be responsive and adaptive to the unique needs of each school community. This role is also the default for any responsibility not captured in another role and activates all staff roles to keep an eye on charter-wide metrics and overall school performance.

The Shared Services Partner is the direct contact between the Board of Directors and the other staff. Primary responsibilities currently include the strategic growth, back office operations, and facilitating reflection and learning of peers including Teacher Leaders. The Shared Services Partner collaborates with Teacher Leaders to ensure that site-level activities are synthesized with charter-level activities and are communicated with public education stakeholders such as D51 and CDE. The Shared Services Partner also collaborates with Teacher Leaders to ensure that site-level activities are aggregated to monitor performance metrics and performance goals set forth in the charter. The Shared Services Partner serves as the first point of contact for key stakeholders such as the Board of Directors, D51, and other federal and local agencies.

Job descriptions of the Teacher Leader and Shared Services Partner are in Appendix D_WMPPSC GV Job Descriptions.

H 10 Leadership Recruitment

Our key leadership roles, the Shared Services Partner and Teacher Leaders, are held accountable by the Board of Directors and also hired by the Board. However, the process to be hired is different for each of these roles.

Currently, Hannah Ewert-Krocker is the Interim Shared Services Partner until the charter is approved and WMPPSC initiates a hiring process for the role (Appendix H_Resume: Ewert-KrockerHannah). Hannah Ewert-Krocker was drawn to Wildflower as a steeped public Montessorian with expertise in public school development and operations. Once the charter is approved, the Founding Board will launch a formal search for a permanent Shared Services Partner in November, 2022, to be hired in January 2023.

Emma Reicks and Georgie Reigel are Founding WMPPSC Teacher Leaders (Appendix H_Resume_ReicksEmma and Appendix H_Resume_ReigelGeorgie). Rather than a recruitment process, Emma and Georgie, and all Wildflower Teacher Leaders engage in a 12-18 month School Startup Journey (SSJ) that is intense and self-selecting with the expectation that at least one of two Teacher Leaders at each school will have a minimum of three years of “in-field” teaching experience. Teacher Leaders who have successfully moved through the SSJ and meet charter requirements are considered highly qualified for their positions, as they have engaged in the rigorous journey process that includes two intense and purposeful Advice Process sessions demonstrating an astute vision of their site, fiscal health and sustainability data, community input, and operationalizing details.

The School Startup Journey

WMPPSC Teacher Leaders' journeys with Wildflower often start as a response to an open invitation, as opposed to a recruitment and hiring process. Every WMPPSC site begins as an idea during the School Startup Journey (Appendix B_Wildflower School Startup Journey Deck) and is realized through self-reflection, community participation, the guidance of the Wildflower network and Shared Services Partner, and the support of all WMPPSC staff and The Wildflower Foundation.

Teacher Leaders not only need to possess an authentic Montessori background and hold an experience with running a school or other non-profit business, but also be committed to operating within the Wildflower model of self-management and designing and sustaining a culturally responsive school that meets (or exceeds) our charter goals and the WMPPSC commitment to equity and identity affirmation. The School Startup Journey also affirms a commitment to or experience with running a school or other non-profit business to meet the necessary administrative responsibilities of Teacher Leadership. Teacher Leaders also begin required MLL training through CDE if they do not possess it prior to entering the SSJ.

The School Startup Journey includes a developmental framework organized into four phases: Discovery, Visioning, Planning and Startup. In each stage, Teacher Leaders focus on developing their school plan around core guiding questions (see figure below). Through engagement in learning opportunities and school Startup activities, Teacher Leaders will form their own point of view on these core guiding questions and will create a portfolio of work that supports and demonstrates their point of view.

Once a Teacher Leader believes their thinking on the core guiding questions for that stage is fully developed, they will use the Advice Process to share their work so far and gather advice from others. After gathering advice from their stakeholder team and others interested in engaging, the Teacher Leader prepares for and decides whether to move to the next stage of the SSJ. This point is critical to the journey: the Teacher Leader is the decision-maker, charting their own path, but the advice-givers help ground the Teacher Leader in the reality of the necessary preparedness to move ahead and help bring to light potential blind spots in their plans or their mindsets.

School Startup Journey | Birds Eye View

We describe this framework as developmental because the work of the early stages never really ends- rather, transitioning into a new phase is representative of a shift in focus, and a welcoming of greater detail and complexity into the work. For example, every person in the Wildflower ecosystem begins their journey in Discovery - learning about Wildflower and about what it means to be a Wildflower school. This work of deepening our understanding and continually growing is foundational to the way that all members of the Wildflower ecosystem work, an expression of our core values and norms. In Visioning, Teacher Leaders learn more about themselves and the vision for their microsite, identifying their priorities for growth as individuals. Similarly, the core work of the Planning stage is focused on thinking through the details of bringing a site to life and developing a strategy; though the shift into the Startup stage indicates a shift in focus toward implementation, Teacher Leaders will continually refine and rebuild their plans as they learn.

The end of the Planning stage is a critical point of a Teacher Leader's SSJ, at which the team is now activated to implement the plan they devised. At the end of the Planning stage, Teacher Leaders enter the School Startup stage where they become employees of WMPPSC. This transition is a step-by-step process whereby Teacher Leaders share the detailed work they have completed throughout the Visioning and Planning stages and request that they be recommended to the Board of Directors by the Shared Services Partner to:

1. become a WMPPSC employee;
2. deepen neighborhood specific community engagement;
3. begin the Startup stage which includes facility acquisition;
4. enroll and open a new WMPPSC site;
5. receive financial support.

Teacher Leaders in WMPPSC are supported by the staff once they complete the Planning stage of the SSJ and begin onboarding to become employees of WMPPSC. We expect our Founding Teacher Leaders to move from the Planning to Startup stages in early 2023, at which time they will work with the permanent Shared Services Partner to continue the planning year activities.

4.11 School Leadership Evaluation

While our school accountability processes rely on largely the same inputs and have the same aims as traditional systems, the internal mechanics of the WMPPSC system are very different. We believe most people are intrinsically motivated to do good work and that they have the deepest insight into their own performance. We see the most important aspect of accountability as being accountability to oneself. Relatedly, we think of the most impacted stakeholders in retention or compensation decisions as being the individuals themselves. For these reasons, all of our accountability processes center on the individual, who gathers input into their own performance (both absolute and relative), considers goals, results, and context and determines any next steps. The same self-management tools we use for other decisions - the right of stakeholders to object to harmful decisions through the Conflict Resolution Process and Radical Transparency - provide important guardrails to ensure that decisions are made in the service of WMPPSC's mission and vision.

Accountability systems are in place at WMPPSC through the self-management practices of advice giving and conflict resolution as well as the more formal Growth and Accountability Cycle, outlined below. This evaluative process culminates in an annual Summative Self Reflection which meets the intentions of Colorado SB 10-191. The Summative Self Reflection is an annual document created by every staff member and submitted to the Board in April. Teacher Leaders use tools to create a thorough reflection document, which involves the input of every WMPPSC stakeholder. The Shared Services Partner stewards the process for Teacher Leaders and charter-wide staff decide annually who will steward the process for one another. This process supports staff to receive the feedback he/she needs from specific stakeholders according to the established timeline and this Self Reflection is a tool for evaluation.

The responsibility of the School Accountability Committee is to work closely with Teacher Leaders and the Shared Services Partner to collect, review, report, and evaluate the goals outlined in Section F: Goals, Objective & Pupil Performance Standards. The Annual Leadership Growth and Accountability Cycle is our process to exceed compliance requirements and performance standards while including varied WMPPSC stakeholders' voices in the process:

Annual Growth and Accountability Cycle Overview

Tools to support self-management	Timeline	Stakeholders involved in feedback
Annual Goal and Reflection	Goal advice provided in August; Reflection advice provided in February	Teacher Leader partner, Shared Services Partner; 2 other Montessori/Academic leaders identified by the Teacher Leader; 1 additional Board member
Instructional Coaching / Professional Development	August - May	Montessori Instructional Coach (Teacher Leaders) or Growth and Connectedness Coach (Shared Services Partner)
WMPSC Site Review Process	January - April	Board Officer, Shared Services Partner, Student Services Coordinator (Grand Valley), Operations (Aurora) or Finance Partner, Site Parent, Parent Board Rep
DEIB Agreement 'Shelf Work' Reflection	February-April	Community Design Team Member, Teacher Leader, Parent Board Rep
Annual Community Site Survey / Net Promoter score	March	Anonymous survey for all stakeholders in the community
Annual Summative Self-reflection	Submitted to Board in May	Teacher Leader partner, Teacher Leader Board Reps

Growth and Accountability Cycle: Shared Services Partner

The School Accountability Committee will also define and steward an annual Growth and Accountability Cycle for the Shared Services Partner. The purpose of this process is to support the year-long cycle, designed to hold school leadership accountable through frequent touchpoints looking at the following elements:

- Charter-wide progress on each element of WMPSC's established charter goals;
- Progress towards mission-related goals, such as:
  - Community engagement in microsite neighborhoods;
  - Belonging and identity affirming site culture;
  - Equity approach and modeling;
- Ability to activate the Advice Process and Conflict Resolution Process with staff, Teacher Leaders, and Board;
- Fiscal health of WMPSC;
- Staff satisfaction and retention;
- Student attendance and retention.

Growth and Accountability Cycle: Teacher Leaders

For a Teacher Leader, this would start with collection of family and peer input and incorporation of student achievement results and other results, all facilitated by processes supported by WMPPSC staff. If the Shared Services Partner or board members have direct exposure to the Teacher Leader's work, they may provide input at this stage as well. Once an individual has considered all of the input and integrated it with their own perspectives to form an opinion on the whether they should continue in their role, what they should focus on developmentally, and what if anything should happen to their compensation, the Shared Services Partner and the School Accountability Committee of the Board have the formal opportunity to offer advice – for example, to suggest that an individual overweighed one aspect of input vs. another or underappreciated the value or consequence of some aspect of the individual's work, or even that they came to the wrong decision on whether they should continue in their role. Next, the individual considers advice, and may refine their determination and next steps. At this point, the Shared Services Partner and the School Accountability Committee receive the evaluations, and they can object to any decisions they identify as harmful.

Outside the formal processes described above, school accountability happens on an ongoing basis through the functioning of strong self-management processes and a focus on growth and connectedness. In operating self-management, if one Teacher Leader believes that their partner should leave WMPPSC, the Conflict Resolution Process gives clear guidance for what to do with that thought to take action. The process can result in a Teacher Leader departure. If a Teacher Leader at one site believes that another site in the charter is not meeting charter goals and mission, they would also use the Conflict Resolution Process which could result in changes to that site. The hallmark of this system is that it gives individuals and the Board access to a tremendous amount of information along the way. These stakeholders can step in when they think things are headed in the wrong direction, but it makes explicit something that good managers do in traditional arrangements: it leaves individuals in charge of the most important decisions that impact their work and career except in the unusual case where an individual demonstrates an inability to handle that responsibility.

Site Review Process

Because our charter is made up of multiple sites, each site is held accountable to charter-wide performance and meeting charter goals. The Site Review Process is the annual process used by WMPPSC stakeholders to review every site under the charter (Appendix D_WMPPSC Growth Accountability Cycle & Site Review Processes). Stakeholders included in this process are the site Teacher Leaders, a Board Officer, Shared Services Partner, Student Services Coordinator or Finance Partner, and parents / guardians. During the Site Review Process, stakeholders use defined criteria to provide Teacher Leaders advice on the site's operation and alignment with the WMPPSC mission.

Beyond this annual routine practice, the Teacher Leaders will provide the Board regular updates on site progress and performance, and the Shared Services Partner will report on charter-wide performance. During the Planning Year, we will seek to refine these processes with the advice from stakeholders close to the decision making, including Teacher Leaders, parents, families, Community Design Team, and Shared Services Partner.

I. Operations

Teacher Leaders and charter-wide staff will use Infinite Campus as the primary student information system. Infinite Campus will house student demographic information, attendance, behavior, annual academic performance data (such as CMAS or ACCESS), and information about students with special needs, such as IEP and 504 designations and accommodations. The Shared Services Partner and Student Services Coordinator will work together to maintain student data in Infinite Campus and provide reports, as necessary, to D51 and the CDE. WMPSC will contract for in-depth training for both the Shared Services Partner and the Student Services Coordinator during the Planning Year to ensure seamless setup of this system prior to the beginning of the school year.

Teacher Leaders at WMPSC will also use Transparent Classroom, the leading online Montessori record keeping system, to record student academic progress, including lessons received and skills mastered, for each individual student. Transparent Classroom aligns Montessori curriculum lessons with the Common Core State Standards, Next Generation Science Standards, and College, Career, and Civic Life Framework for Social Studies. Teacher Leaders will use Transparent Classroom to provide individualized reports for each student that demonstrate student mastery of standards. Teacher Leaders will be responsible for entering student-specific data into Transparent Classroom. These two data platforms will be part of onboarding for all Teacher Leaders and staff.

Our governance and administrative approach is rooted in radical transparency, and employs thoughtful processes for clarifying accountability, integrating multiple perspectives into decisions and collaboratively resolving conflict. The following organizing draft policies, developed by the WMPSC Board of Directors, embody this approach. WMPSC will be in full compliance of federal, state, and local law and is committed to the Wildflower Ways of Working (Appendix E_Self-Management Ways of Working).

Facilities

WMPSC sites are intentionally small and embedded in rural communities that traditionally have not had access to Montessori programs. Each microsite seeks to be connected directly to the public life of its community, both visually and physically. In Grand Valley, we aspire to build our microsites in co-location with housing developments and non-profit organizations, and proximal to community activity, from Clifton to Las Colonias to the downtown Grand Junction area.

Our network of four sites throughout the central region of D51 (see image below) create an interdependent ecosystem - a continuum of PK-6th grade learning for students and families, and a regional hub where Montessori Teacher Leaders support one another. This ecosystem strengthens the neighborhoods, brings community together and informs how Teacher Leaders evolve and adapt the identity affirming learning environments. At the same time, each microsite is its own thriving community. Each unique site is designed with needs and preferences of families in mind and is no larger than 2,400 SF, based on American Montessori International and Montessori Foundation facility recommendations, calculating an average of 40 SF needed per student and a peak enrollment of 60 students.<sup>64</sup> Cost, opportunity for co-location partnership, and each microsite vision will also drive specific site locations.

Program West-Central Region to amplify their work. We believe that our charter provides facilities, providers, and acts as a thought partner to more fully activate the vision and mission of the organization where we will co-locate.

This type of 2 generation approach to teaching and learning already has a proof point: Flame Lily Montessori, a Wildflower preschool in Aurora and Project Worthmore, an Aurora nonprofit that provides wrap-around programming to increase quality of life among local refugees are co-locating to offer education and skill building to parents while their children receive a high quality early childhood education. Project Worthmore started in 2011 as a grassroots effort to address the lack of services for refugees in Aurora and recently purchased an old Aurora Mental Health building at 16th and Elmira that offers more space than the organization needs. The neighborhood where

<https://www.slideshare.net/marco313/designing-facilities>.

Project Worthmore opened its first community hub is a largely African immigrant neighborhood where Flame Lily's founders were also looking to locate their early childhood program.

The value of Flame Lily's co-location and partnership with Project Worthmore in Aurora is described below:

Project Worthmore has a food-sharing program that delivers 160 packages of fresh food from their community farm to refugee families, a community navigation program where staff and volunteers conduct home visits and a dental clinic that provides screenings at apartment complexes where the majority of refugee communities are resettled. Deliveries of essential services are critical to supporting resettlement, but what they don't offer is the gift of time and community support to help recent refugees get their bearings and find careers. That is where Flame Lily Montessori provides a unique and timely value-add to the development of "The Roots" in Northwest Aurora. Led by local BIPOC leaders, Flame Lily will open in August, adding over 30 high quality childcare spots for 3-6 year olds to a community hub already entrusted by families furthest from opportunity and serving as a feeder program for WM/PSC's NW elementary school proposed to open near the Anschutz Medical Campus in the fall of 2023.

1.2 Facilities & Space Needs

Given our vision of community-embedded, intentionally small sites in Grand Valley, we have developed the following criteria for identifying viable spaces:

- Along primary commuting routes and public transportation;
- Neighborhood characterized by diversity representative of Las Colonias and Clifton;
- Size of facility reflects the need for 40 SF per student at full enrollment of 60 students;
- Total size of at least 2000 SF;
- $20 rental cost per SF;
- Close proximity to community parks, green spaces and civic spaces;
- Flexibility to create capacity for 1-2 classrooms and 1-2 small group instruction and/or assessment space;
- Space for a kitchen, student medicine administration, on-site storage and Teacher Leader and staff administrative workspace;
- Restroom facilities meeting CDE child care licensing regulations for before/after care;
- Meets accessibility requirements/ADA compliant;
- Parking is available as needed for ease of family drop off/pick up;
- Sites are by-right from a zoning perspective;
- Option to sign a 5-10 year lease agreement.

In addition to these broad criteria, the Walkthrough Worksheet (Appendix I_Facilities Walkthrough Worksheet) is an identification tool used by Wildflower's Teacher Leaders to support the facility search. Founding Teacher Leaders will work with the Grand Junction Community Development department to ensure our facility meets zoning compliance. They will also collaborate with the hyper-local Community Design Teams determine the ideal locations for their microsites, informed by local data including enrollment trends at nearby neighborhood schools; child care desert areas; transportation considerations; co-location opportunities with community collaborators; proximal business and organizational partnerships; and family interest. The site identification process is done as part of the School Startup Journey, explained in Section E, and is supported by a team of local advice givers most impacted by the Teacher Leaders' location decisions.

Cosmos Montessori in Minneapolis, Minnesota is an example, below, of the small-scale facility we seek. Specific attention is paid to the site's reflection of the Wildflower principles and to the presence of a culturally responsive space that makes every community member feel welcome and safe.

The WMPPSC facility search is currently led by Gregg Kampf, a Grand Valley real estate attorney. During our preliminary search, we identified several sites that meet WMPPSC's search criteria. Specifications are below.

1.4.1 FACILITY EXPANSION

Our growth plan reflects that new sites will be added to the WMPPSC network in Grand Valley during our first, second, and fourth years of operation.

	Year 1 (2023-24)	Year 2 (2024-25)	Year 3 (2025-26)	Year 4 (2026-27)	Year 5 (2027-28)
Total WMPPSC Students	48	80	92	149	152
Primary Sites	1	1	1	2	2
Lower Elementary Sites	1	1	1	1	1
Upper Elementary Sites	-	-	-	1	1
Total WMPPSC Sites	1	2	2	4	4

Founding Teacher Leaders, Emma and Georgie, have focused the search for the first WMPPSC microsite on two potential locations.

The first potential location is American Lutheran Church (ALC), 631 26 1/2 Rd, Grand Junction, CO 81506 (see Appendix B_Letters of Support). This location is contingent on a potential project with the Grand Valley Housing Authority and Headwaters Housing Partners to purchase three acres from the church on which to build workforce housing. This type of partnership, where a WMPPSC site is embedded within a housing development is ideal. The space at ALC offers: adjacent bathrooms and a kitchen; over 2000 square feet with ample natural light; and is ADA compliant. There is ample parking for family pick-up and drop-off, and green space for outdoor play. This location is within a 15-minute commute to Nisley Elementary, Pear Park Elementary, and Chatfield Elementary. Grand Valley Transit Route 2 has a stop at 7th Street and Patterson, .8 mi from the school. Our real estate advisor, Gregg Kampf, has drafted a lease for the review of the church council, which will occur in the coming weeks.

Below are photos of the proposed initial site:

A second site is a 2,000 SF space within a new development in Las Colonias - the Bonsai Design building at 1601 Riverfront Drive. This location in Las Colonias is ideal because of its proximity to Clifton, Orchard Mesa, Fruitvale, and the downtown area. This 2,071 sq. ft shell condition unit on the ground floor offers the open space and ample natural light ideal for a Montessori classroom environment, and its proximity to the Colorado River and Las Colonias Park also expands opportunities for nature education. There is available space in the parking lot for both parking, pick-up/drop-off, and transformation into an outdoor play space (assuming permissions from the property owner to utilize the surrounding green space. The space is on the ground floor and ADA compliance would be ensured during the renovation process. Our real estate advisor, Gregg Kampf, has initiated an exploratory conversation with the building's legal representation and provided information found in Appendix I_Bonsai Property Information.

Beyond these two sites that are being explored, our priority for facility research and acquisition is as follows:

- Co-location with non-profit partners providing direct services to families (such as the example of the Headwaters Housing project);
- Rent and renovate 2,000-3,000 sq ft shopfront/community-embedded spaces (such as the Bonsai property);
- Co-locate two microsites or open as stand alone sites in retail or office spaces; for budgeting purposes we have assumed the most expensive option, each school operating independently.

Our facility search is also aspirational and unconventional. We imagine possibilities like co-location with a vineyard to meet the needs of agricultural working families; within a museum or public garden, like the Western Colorado Botanical Garden; or next door to a senior center. WMPPSC is actively working to engage the community in order to find the best place where experiential and intergenerational teaching and learning is our norm. Because our model of schooling is purposefully smaller and closer to community, Wildflower schools in other locations<sup>65</sup> have been successful in and thriving in these types of learning environments. We expect the same in Grand Valley.

Facility Search Process

We understand that securing a facility is a difficult and time-consuming effort so we are already building a team to support this endeavor. We believe an approved charter expedites the facility search process, and we have made inroads and are building relationships with key partners so we can take action on facilities quickly once we obtain authorizer approval. Additionally, the small scale of our sites provides a significant advantage not feasible for more traditional, larger schools. As described above, we have already identified two viable facility options that meet criteria for the WMPPSC initial site and align with our mission and vision.

In order to search and secure a site, Founding Teacher Leaders follow the VAMPS facility timeline centers the needs of the community and Teacher Leaders who are closest to the community and can best understand strategies for facility location and design that is aligned with individual school and community need:

Safety

1.6. WMPPSC Safety Plan

WMPPSC will form a charter-wide Grand Valley emergency management team comprised of the Shared Services Partner, two Teacher Leaders, and two parents or guardians of children attending WMPPSC. The team will develop a Grand Valley Safety, Readiness and Incidence Management Plan (also known as the Emergency Operations Plan) in coordination with local first responders and guided by the Colorado Safety Schools Act requirements and D51 Safety and Security department.

The Shared Services Partner holds the responsibility for the charter to be in compliance of:

- Colorado Safe Schools Act (C.R.S. 22-32-109.1)
- Claire Davis School Safety Act
- Emergency Operations Planning
- Threat Assessments
- Site Assessments

Our safety plan will include annual training for all WMPPSC employees. Teacher Leaders at each site will also create and maintain a site-based Safety, Readiness and Incidence Management Plan in collaboration with the Shared Services Partner and in alignment with and to supplement the charter-wide plan. Teacher Leaders will hold responsibility for site-specific compliance and to teach students and staff proper procedures in the event of an emergency or crisis.

Transportation

17 WMPPSC Transportation Plan

WMPPSC does not plan to provide free bus transportation during our first five years of operation. Our community-embedded sites will be situated along commuting and public transportation lines to ease getting to and from WMPPSC. To support students for whom transportation is challenging, we have allocated funds for local subsidized bus passes (to cover an estimated 35% of students for 10 months annually).

Ultimately, our aim is to provide busing to all families, which we believe will be helpful for our families, encourage enrollment and attendance, and be cost effective. We have not included this expense in our first five years' budget in order to be conservative during our startup years and because much will depend upon the location of our sites.

We have built flexibility into our morning schedule to accommodate all families, regardless of transportation method, and to facilitate carpooling. Most students will arrive at 8:15 a.m. for the start of school, but parents may elect to have their child arrive earlier for breakfast and/or early care hours, to be decided on a site-by-site basis. This will help parents who have limited means to transport their child to school and/or who use the same vehicle to go to work.

For all parents, regardless of the time their child starts school, the doors of the school will open at 7:30 a.m. and close at 3:30 p.m. (later, if after care hours are established at the site). Again, this will help with carpooling and provide parents with more options for dropping off and picking up their children.

We will work closely with D51 to support the needs of our students with IEPs and 504s, and students qualifying for free/reduced lunch who need to arrive 30 minutes prior to the start of the school day. This will be part of our contract negotiations with the District once we receive authorization.

Experiential learning and field trips are a core component of our model, and Teacher Leaders will determine how to best integrate these into their program to reinforce and expand on student learning and growth. We will carefully select and contract with a private transportation company to provide transportation for field trips and, as possible, seek to use the immediate community within walking distance for outings. We will only contract with a company that meets all regulatory requirements for transporting children and has a strong safety record. We will seek funding and/or adjust site budgets to incorporate these transportation costs along with the other costs associated with these crucial off-site learning experiences. Teacher Leaders may also choose to offer parents the opportunity to volunteer as chaperones for such outings and will comply with all District regulations for parents chaperoning students.

Food Services

1.8 WMPPSC Food Services Plan

WMPPSC will offer breakfast and lunch to all students regardless of ability to pay. We want to ensure all students are fed and there is no stigma attached to free or reduced lunch.

Our sites will initially participate in the National School Lunch Program (NSLP) and designate D51 as its School Food Authority and food service provider. By participating in NSLP, we will ensure our food service program is compliant with both Federal USDA guidelines and food safety and facility regulations. Partnering with the district to provide meals and manage reimbursements will ensure consistent quality of meals and reduce administrative complexity during our startup years.

All eligible students will be strongly encouraged to complete the Free and Reduced Lunch Form annually. We will closely follow policies regarding federal and state free lunch programs as they might continue to evolve in response to the pandemic, to ensure that no student goes without breakfast or lunch, including during closures and summer break. As per current policy, students who meet qualification guidelines will receive their meals free or at a reduced price.

Breakfast and lunch will be made available to all other students and staff at a regular price, which will be determined on an annual basis, taking into account actual costs, but prioritizing affordability for families. We have included in our budget an allowance to cover meals in the event a student forgets payment (we will not charge them).

While we plan to start with D51 as our School Food Authority, we will explore other food sourcing options once we are fully operational. Nutrition and environmental sustainability - and the cultural relationship between food and people - are very much a part of WMPPSC's holistic approach to children's education and well-being. The Grand Valley holds a unique tension between having a history of farming, hunting, and harvesting and currently being an agricultural hub, yet also being deemed a low access food desert by the US Department of Agriculture.<sup>67</sup> WMPPSC is committed to ensuring that our children and their families have access to better food, including by potentially growing and producing our own. As such, we have begun to research options such as adopting the 'Building a Healthy School' toolkit from the Colorado League of Charter Schools and being part of Colorado's Farm to School initiative, as well as partnering with initiatives in D51 and leveraging their comprehensive nutrition services and programming offered through Colorado Live Well School Food Initiative Nourish Colorado.

Legal Agreement & Insurance Coverage

19. Legal Agreement

WMPPSC will act in accordance with all state and local charter school law. Per Mesa County Valley School District 51's Relations with Charter Schools requirements (Appendix I_D51 Exclusive Chartering Authority), WMPPSC commits to working with D51 on agreement during charter contract negotiations:

WMPPSC understands and agrees to the relationship between D51 and WMPPSC "be established by a contract which shall incorporate the charter application once it is approved. The contract also shall reflect all agreements between the district and the charter school including the release of the charter school from Board policies and all requests for release from state regulations which the Board and the charter school shall jointly request from the State Board of Education."

110. Insurance and Liability

WMPPSC will engage Epic Brokers and Philadelphia Insurance Companies to provide all our required insurance coverage, including directors and officers, comprehensive general liability, building and contents, errors and omissions (including Teacher Leaders), blanket occupational accident, and excess workers' compensation insurance. We will obtain coverage for each charter site, its employees, and its activities, as well as for the Board of Directors.

We have included all these insurance policies in our budget based on actual or best-guess estimates. We have budgeted for comprehensive general liability coverage at $2,000,000 per occurrence to include bodily injury, property damage, abuse and molestation, employee benefits, and employment practices, as well as an additional $1,000,000 in coverage for errors and omissions. Once we have secured our facilities, we will obtain building and contents insurance. We have also budgeted for workers' compensation per state law and will ensure this is in place before employees are hired.

WMPPSC agrees that it will not extend the faith and credit of D51, its authorizer, to any third party or entity. WMPPSC acknowledges and agrees that it has no authority to enter into a contract that would bind the authorizer, and that WMPPSC's authority to contract is limited by the same provisions in law or authorizer policy that apply to D51 itself, unless specific exemptions have been obtained. WMPPSC is limited in its authority to contract by the amount of funds obtained from D51, as provided hereunder, or from other independent sources. The WMPPSC Board of Directors shall have the authority to approve contracts to which the charter is a party, subject to the requirements and limitations of the Colorado Constitution, state law, authorizer policies, the provisions of the contract, and the Charter Agreement.

To the extent not covered by insurance or otherwise barred by the Colorado Governmental Immunity Act, WMPSC agrees to indemnify and hold the Authorizer and its agents and employees harmless from all liability, claims, and demands on account of injury, loss, or damage, including, without limitation, claims arising from bodily injury, personal injury, sickness, disease, death, property loss, or damage or any other losses of any kind whatsoever that arise out of or are in any manner connected with the charter's operations. The foregoing provision shall not be deemed a relinquishment or waiver of any kind of applicable limitations of liability provided by the Colorado Governmental Immunity Act.

Purpose

The Discovery phase is an opportunity to learn about:

- Wildflower schools and Teacher Leaders
- The Wildflower Foundation
- Wildflower's purpose and how we work together

Time

- This phase is self-guided and self-paced. We estimate that it may take 3-6 weeks to engage fully with the content and self-assessment, but we understand that each teacher's journey is unique.

Milestones

- Complete the self-assessment
- Engage in a conversation with a Wildflower Operations Guide or partner to decide whether to begin the journey of opening a Wildflower school.

Preview the Self-Assessment

At the end of Discovery we invite you to take a brief self-assessment to reflect on your interest and readiness to open a Wildflower school.

If you'd like to take a sneak peek at the self-assessment now, you're welcome to.

Once you have completed the assessment at the end of this phase, we invite you to share your self-assessment with your local Wildflower contact and schedule a follow-up conversation to discuss your reflections and next steps.

Personal Reflection

As you begin this phase, take a few minutes to ground yourself in why you are here by reflecting on these questions:

- What intrigues me about Wildflower?
- What am I hoping to learn by completing this phase?

You can reflect on these questions, discuss them with a friend or partner, or write down your responses in a journal. Your answers are your own and are only meant to serve you.

There are many ways to complete your School Startup Album. The most common is by writing your album, but some teams have experimented with using audio, video and visuals to bring their vision to life.

WF Community & Culture | building relationships

Visioning is a great time to begin making connections with members of the Wildflower community!

If you are located in a hub with existing Wildflower schools: you may want to schedule a time to visit a school and speak with the Teacher Leaders.

If you are not located in a hub or are the first school in your region: you may want to schedule a phone call or Zoom meeting with Teacher Leaders to learn about their lived experience. Your Ops Guide can help you to make these connections.

Your Story | inspiration

Your story is the anchor for why the school exists. As you build relationships in your community and invite others to join you in bringing your school to life, it will be important to return to your “why.”

WF Community & Culture | connection opportunities

There are many opportunities to engage with the Wildflower community as you move through the SSJI

Hub/Pod Meetings

Join regular hub/pod meetings in your region to get to know your local teacher leader network.

Teacher Leader Stories Series

Join a space held for emerging teacher leaders, as current teacher leaders share their experience of opening and running a Wildflower school.

Affinity Spaces

Wildflower's racial affinity groups support racial identity development in the context of Wildflower's purpose, norms, and values. We currently have a black affinity space and a PoC (People of Color) affinity space that meet regularly.

WMPPSC Discovery Interview Framework

Key Outcomes:

- Building relational trust and creating space for deep listening, intimacy, new perspectives, and genuine learning.
- Learning more about the people most impacted by, and involved in, the educational issues you seek to offer an alternative to through launching WF.

Pre-Interview

Connect with 10+ families who live/attend schools within their target neighborhood and set up one-on-one, in-person interviews (~30 min each). Ideally these interviews happen in-person. Identify a time and space that feels safe (home visit, coffee shop) and convenient for the student/family participating.

These interviews shouldn't feel transactional. Walk into them completely open to the possibility that these students and families may not join the design team and may not enroll at a WF school. Maintain the stance of a learner and listener who is not trying to "solve" anything.

Interview

- Introduction
  - Based on your relationship with this student/family, pause to introduce yourself. Who are you? Where do you come from? What brought you to this moment?
  - Describe why you are conducting the interviews and how you will use the data.
  - State that each question is voluntary.
- Interview
  - Ask for stories, not solutions.
  - Make sure questions are free of acronyms and jargon.
  - Stay neutral and ensure you aren't asking questions that suggest a right answer.
  - Include questions about experiences in a range of contexts for a broad picture. For example, when asking about a sense of belonging in school, ask about belonging in other settings as well.
    - Ask open-ended, story-based questions. Remix or start with the ones below:
      - What are your needs/hopes/dreams for your child's educational experience?
        - What does that ideal educational experience look like/sound like/feel like for you and your child?
      - What have been your best/worst experiences with school?
        - Follow-up: Can you share a story that would help me understand more about...?
      - Tell me about a time when you felt connectedness within a larger community.
      - What kind of role do you want to play in your students' educational experience/school?

Questions for Families

- Tell me about your child, especially as a learner.
- What kind of environments/situations does your child thrive in?
- What has your child's school experience been to date?
- What type of person do you want your child to be in the future? How do you want their school to prepare them for their future?
- As a parent how do you feel connected and heard ?
- What unique strengths do you see in your child(ren)? How are they or aren't they supported in their current (school) communities?
  - What do you see as your child's unique power (for good) in the world and how do you envision that being nurtured by those who support your child and your family in an ideal world?
- What do you want your child(ren) to know/feel/learn as they move through their elementary years?
- Tell me about your hopes and dreams for ... in elementary
- Where do you plan to enroll your child for school and why?
- Have you explored the various education models that are available to you based on where you live?
- What are some things that are challenging about where your child currently goes to school? What are some things that are going well at your child's current school?
- Is there anything I haven't asked you that you'd like to share to help me understand your experience?
- As we move forward with our Community Design Team for families to get involved in the co-creation of this school, what's the best for us to spread the word about that? Are you interested in joining these meetings?
  - If so, what is your general availability/preference for a monthly meeting?

Questions for Partner Organizations

- What are the stories you've heard about experiences in education in this area from families with whom you work?
  - Where do they look for schools?
  - What are they looking for in a school?
  - What challenges do they face in the educational system here?
- What, in your experience, might invite a family's interest in exploring a new school as an option? Or in contributing to that school's vision?
- Are there families to whom you could connect us who might be interested in sharing their children's educational experiences or curious to learn about new options?
- What are some assets/strengths you see in your community, especially those that are emerging (vs. thoroughly established)?
- What are some needs of families in your community that currently lack adequate support?
- What questions do you think we should ask partner organizations?
- What is the mission of your organization?
- What does it look like to implement your mission?
- Do you interact with families as part of your mission?
- Let me tell you about Wildflower... Based on my description is there anything I said that is a great fit between our organizations? Any opportunities to collaborate?

What makes our Wildflower charter school different?

- We have clear values and principles that we stick to, including ABAR, equity, home/family connection. We live our principles at Wildflower and hold them front and center.
- SIZE -- these children are going to be seen, known, and safe, particularly important during a time of violence in schools, pandemic learning loss, etc. The size makes it possible to foster and build real community.
- Focus on the whole child -- what's inside the child is just as important as academics.
- Teacher Leaders are empowered to represent and collaborate alongside their communities. There is real collaboration between teachers and families in the community, especially in the school design and decision-making process.
- Teachers have to be themselves -- authentic.
- Targeting BIPOC and low-income communities.

Re: Letter of Support for Wildflower Schools

Dear Superintendent Hill and the D51 Board of Directors,

I am pleased to submit a letter of support for Cactus Bloom Wildflower Charter Public Montessori School. As a public charter, this teacher-led, Montessori school will expand the offerings of Montessori into rural Western Colorado.

The Montessori Education Center of the Rockies (MECR) has trained teachers for over 40 years in Colorado. We firmly believe that the Montessori pedagogy is transformational for educators, families, and most importantly, the world's children. We applaud Wildflower School's vision of liberatory learning environments that center students of the global majority.

MECR looks forward to partnering with interested adult learners to become educators in these community-embedded charter schools. Also, parents and community members who wish to learn more about the Montessori pedagogy are welcome to attend workshops hosted at our training center on the Clayton Early Learning Campus in Denver.

Thank you for considering Cactus Bloom's charter application.

Sincerely,

Dear Superintendent Hill and the Board of Directors:

The Partnership for Children and Families (PCF) is dedicated to the historical roots of child abuse prevention as well as council legislation promoting the quality and accessibility of early childhood services, supporting the mission to create, coordinate, and sustain a resource rich, inclusive community so that all children reach their full potential in safe and optimally nurturing environments.

PCF supports efforts to increase access to high quality, licensed child care in Mesa County. Early childhood education (ECE) is a critical and rapid time of human development, pivotal to healthy development and we work closely with multiple partners on our community wide initiative, Child Care 8000 (CC8K), to improve the availability and quality of early childhood education. With a deep understanding of the local early childhood industry, we continue to build strong ECE foundations, provide continuous quality support, ECE workforce development, engage within the community, and advocate for efforts supporting early childhood.

We recognize that multiple community partners are imperative to moving the needle for our children and families. PCF is glad to offer our support to Wildflower Schools to expand quality ECE opportunities for our community.

Sincerely,

District 51 School Board

Dear Superintendent Dr. Brian Hill and District 51 School Board,

I am pleased to submit this letter of support for the application of Wildflower Montessori Public Schools of Colorado (WMPPSC). WMPPSC is pursuing a location for their charter school program at American Lutheran Church 631 26 ½ RD. We are very interested in leasing our available classrooms to Wildflower for their charter school. Co-location of Wildflower's charter school would bring a valuable asset to our church community, and we would be pleased to lease available space to WMPPSC for the purpose of opening one of their charter school sites.

Re: Letter of Support for Wildflower Montessori Public Schools of Colorado (WMPSC)

Dear Mesa Valley County School District 51 Board of Education,

It is with great pleasure that I share this letter of support for Wildflower Montessori Public Schools of Colorado (WMPSC) and for the thoughtfully constructed and dedicated WMPSC Board that is working to found beautiful teacher-led, Montessori learning environments in the Grand Valley.

The leadership of Emerging Teacher Leaders, Emma Reicks and Georgie Reigel, demonstrates how deeply connected this team is to the needs of Grand Valley families and the opportunities inherent in joining D51's portfolio of schools.

Wildflower is a community of people and schools committed to the liberation of every human being, every community, and the human spirit, so that we may all live in harmony with our individual purpose and the world around us, free from oppression and able to follow life's unfolding journey.

We look forward to supporting WMPSC in the same ways we support and facilitate connection between all schools in our network. Some examples of support include:

- School start-up grants and loans, including funds for renovations for new school build-outs similar to those provided to Wildflower charters in Minnesota (up to $130,000 per school), New York (up to $150,000 per school), and Washington D.C. (up to $150,000 per school);
- Tools, templates, and coaching/guidance for starting a school, for the charter overall and for individual sites;
- Cohort network of leaders navigating start-up together through the School Startup Journey;
- Gatherings - virtual and in person - to support professional learning, deepen connection, and exchange wisdom across a national network of teacher leaders and Wildflower partners.

We already see strong indications of the demand for this school model in both the energetic and enthusiastic responses of community members across the Grand Valley as well as from local educators exploring teacher leader roles in the proposed network. The Wildflower Foundation looks forward to partnering with WMPSC to bring their vision for community-embedded Montessori micro-schools to life in your community.

WMPSC has our strong support and commitment to ongoing engagement and we look forward to collaborating with them into the future.

Sincerely,

Matthew Kramer

Mesa County Valley School District

Grand Junction, CO 81501

Mesa County Valley School Board of Education,

It is my pleasure to provide a letter of support on behalf of Wildflower Schools' to open four public micro-Montessori schools to serve students in the Grand Junction community by providing high quality, student-centered programming.

Wildflower Schools operates high-quality early education through personalized and experiential learning. They provide the metro area's most underserved students with high-quality educational services while also training and upskilling its current and future workforce. The set expectations and get out of the way by giving their teacher leaders maximum autonomy in how they achieve them.

They empower local learning providers by distributing leadership and decision-making, ensuring those closest to the student are the ones making the decisions that affect them. I'm especially excited about their ability to:

- Serve a diverse community of students and families,
- Focus on community improvement through education, and
- Center and empower educator retention and growth.

Over the last two years, we watched students from all corners of the country struggle given the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. Schools have been forced to adapt on the fly with varying degrees of success. Micro-schools and personalized learning demands increased and are seemingly here to stay. Because of Wildflower Schools unique model, they offer the ability meet these demands head on.

Lastly, because Wildflower Schools are intentionally small, they can avoid obstacles to success, including facility shortages or administrative burdens; their non-hierarchical working approach puts decision-making closest to those impacted to ensure that educators are responsible for the decisions that impact their schools and that there is an active role for students and parents in each school community. Because of their agile model, they can operate in response to community interest as independent by intentionally partnering with community-based organizations to ensure children and families thrive.

For these reasons, I strongly recommend Mesa County Valley School Board of Education approve and support Wildflower Schools application to operate seven micro-schools in your community.

Thank you for your consideration,

A PRACTICE FOR TRANSFORMATION

Caroline Hill
Michelle Molitor
Christine Ortiz

RACISM AND INEQUALITY ARE PRODUCTS OF DESIGN. THEY CAN BE REDESIGNED.

We are a country founded on the genocide of one people and the enslavement of another. We have yet to reconcile the impact of this inheritance on us all.

The experiment of America is 240 years old. In these 240 years, systems were designed that isolate and separate us, that empower a chosen few with the privilege of invention, innovation, and creativity, that lay the groundwork for misunderstanding, fear, and ultimately hate.

Racism and inequality are products of design. They can be redesigned.

We believe that in community, with thoughtful and deliberate action, we can design the obsolescence of those systems. We offer equityXdesign, a practice that organizations, teams, and individuals can use to mitigate the impact of racism and sexism in design practices.

As a collaborative, this work is our voice—an offering to the legacy of liberation, truth, and democracy. We collectively leverage the magic of relationships across difference to design right-fit solutions. Christine empowers people to reimagine themselves as school designers and founders. Michelle helps people find their own voices as anti racist leaders for equity. Caroline activates the voices of the marginalized to strengthen relationships, particularly those across lines of difference. Given who we are and what we know, we feel uniquely positioned to contribute to this fight, in this way—at the intersection of equity and design. We know it is not the only thing that needs to be done. It is no silver bullet, but it is where we think our energy has the greatest return.

As leaders from the racial equity and design and innovation spaces, we offer equityXdesign—a new way to think about and approach achieving equity. equityXdesign creates the conditions and relationships for inclusive innovation. A process for anti-racist and equitable design, it is guided by three central beliefs: innovation's need for inclusion and intentional design, the indistinguishable relationship between the past and the present, and our moral imperative to live in the future we desire to create.

equityXdesign is a practice that merges the consciousness of racial equity work with the methodology of design thinking.

equityXdesign is a practice that merges the consciousness of racial equity work with the methodology of design thinking. We believe that designing for the most affected and marginalized, letting their voices and experiences lead, and acknowledging the barriers to engagement are critical for this new process. Most importantly, we believe this design work must happen across racial difference. All people have the capacity for innovation. We believe it is this multiplicity of entry points that will create the conditions for new invention and innovations for equity. This practice is for teams of educators, designers, advocates, and agitators committed to building internal capacity and confidence designing for equity. It is reserved for those who believe we are stronger together and have the bold imagination to cultivate new ideas, invent equitable institutions, and reform biased policies.

MOVING EQUITY WORK TOWARD ACTION

American history has created a segregated world where white people are rarely in community with others. The isolation creates myths, stories, and beliefs that go unchallenged, and people of color are not immune. The work of acknowledgement, the telling of truths, and the opportunities for community and reflection are necessary before we can move forward. If we remain unwilling to do serious individual, institutional, and structural work as a people, our path toward a truly equitable future will stagnate.

Helping us see and understand our history, bringing us in community with one another in ways that allow us to hear each other, the raising of voices traditionally lost in the white noise of hegemonic discourse—this is the power of equity work.

From large government agencies to schools, tech startups, nonprofits, and philanthropic groups, the education ecosystem has a very narrow definition of inequity and how it manifests, often focusing only on explicit and intentional racism. But racism today looks different than it did in our Jim Crow past. Overwhelmingly, individuals no longer believe in the biological inferiority of black and brown people; however, while we may all claim egalitarian values, and while it is no longer socially acceptable to treat others differently because of the color of their skin, most of us hold implicit biases that impact our behavior and allow for structural and systemic inequality to remain.

We are living in a “colorblind” society that often recognizes racism as anomalous, individual acts of aggression or the mere acknowledgment of difference, not the silent structures that continue to divide.<sup>11</sup> The victories of the civil rights movement, and now the Obama presidency, have reinforced the notion that we are a post-racial society. However, the lived experiences of millions of people of color reveal otherwise. Racism and other forms of discrimination have simply shifted from explicit and interpersonal to structural and less overt manifestations. The rise of identity-based aggression cannot distract us from recognizing anchoring systems of oppression and how they manifest in the lives of people.

Most of us hold implicit biases that impact our behavior and allow for structural and systemic inequality to remain.

Our individual actions can cumulatively serve to maintain existing forms of inequity—or they can serve to dismantle systems of oppression.

Historically, we have put the expectations of this change entirely on individuals, requiring each of us to maintain a fully developed relationship with our own racial identity, an intimate knowledge of the history of oppression and current manifestations of inequality, and the personal comfort and initiative to see, call out, and actively fight hegemonic systems. The focus of equity work for most organizations leans toward the having of courageous conversations about race and power and on individual racial identity development work. While this approach is necessary, it will not, alone, end individual, institutional, and systemic inequality.

Identity development work takes time and is never complete. Individuals can engage in such work without ever taking action to dismantle systems of oppression—particularly those that benefit from status quo systems or from being seen having such courageous conversations. Additionally, personal work can only progress when individuals first understand and then commit to doing deeper and often painful work. For many, this personal work is often seen as unnecessary.

We must start with individuals, but we cannot stop there.

Equity work helps us understand where we are and how we got here, but it is missing the tools for building a different reality. It is here that design thinking can lead the way.

Institutions are the sum of the people within them, and they create the systems and structures we live in. The work of racial equity is to create safe spaces for people, to connect them, and then to move from merely understanding the role of the individual to understanding the role individuals play in institutions and systems. Only then can we move to action.

Our current paradigms and tools for truth, reconciliation, and anti-racist action are insufficient for the magnitude of the challenge we face. Racial equity work engages people in meaningful and authentic conversation, sparking individual transformation but not preparing people to create long-term systemic change. Organizations that engage in racial equity work may create space for individuals to find themselves personally awakened to their role and identity in society, ready to change their institutions for the better, but without the tools to take such action. Consultancies and protocols are not equipped for the complexities of racism's manifestations within individuals, institutions, and societal structures.

Some say talk is cheap. We disagree. Talk is deeply important, but it is simply not enough. We need to move toward new designs. For many, talking about racism and our long history of oppression feels paralyzing. The complexity of racism on individual, institutional, and structural levels feels insurmountable. Equity work helps us understand where we are and how we got here, but it is missing the tools for building a different reality. It is here that design thinking can lead the way.

DESIGN THINKING: IN NEED OF AN EQUITY RETROFIT

In recent years, design thinking has left its roots as a tool used for product design and emerged as a powerful problem-solving methodology across fields and sectors. This shift in how design thinking is used has come in concert with a societal shift in the way we identify problems and understand solutions. Our current charge is to solve problems where there is no one solution, where more data and information doesn't necessarily make things more clear, where the problem is hard to even define. For instance, we know that solving issues of terrorism is less about building better weapons and more about interrupting radical group recruitment strategies. We know that issues of environmental degradation are no longer about technologies for clean energy; they are about incentivizing corporate and consumer behavior changes. We know how the brain learns, but we can't figure out how to create school environments that are socioeconomically and racially integrated.

Problem-solving is no longer about inventing things; it is about recreating systems. And in a world that continues to increase in complexity and technology, design thinking can simplify, humanize, and order this chaos.

TRADITIONAL DESIGN THINKING PROCESS

This shift in the way we define problems necessitates a shift in the tools and mindsets we use to solve them. Design thinking provides a framework for complex, iterative, and targeted solutions: It emphasizes the need to define the problem well and build sooner to get better feedback, and it has fundamentally changed the relationship between designers and those they are designing for. This focus on the end user is so central that design thinking is often simply referred to as user- or human-centered design.

While elevating the user in the design process has been the key to its success, it is also the reason why our current approach to design thinking needs to be retrofitted. If we believe design thinking is the right tool to use to redesign products, systems, and institutions to be more equitable, then we must redesign the design thinking process, mindsets and tools themselves to ensure they mitigate for the causes of inequity—the prejudices of the human designers in the process, both their explicit and implicit personal biases, and the power of mostly invisible status quo systems of oppression.

The role of implicit bias is particularly distressing as we consider the design thinking process. In its current state, it may be doing as much harm as it is good. While engaging with end users, many forms of design thinking still see the designer as separate from the user and grant the designer the power in the relationship—the power to decide with whom to do empathy work, the power to interpret the results, the power to decide the framing of the problem, and the power to pick the best solution.

It stands to reason that any problem definition or solution created by biased individuals—which we all are—will perpetuate inequity if the process does not actively acknowledge and combat bias. A process that is itself colorblind will be blind to the effects of color in both problem and solution.

Many forms of design thinking
grant the designer
the power in the relationship.

We see this regularly in our work facilitating design challenges with organizations. An example: The well-intentioned, usually white, educated, and middle- to upper-middle-class designers working with low-income urban (code for black and brown) schools to help design new programs know it is important to engage in empathy work, so they ask the principal to give them access to some parents to interview. The principal emails the PTA for volunteers, which are often not representative of the general student body. After a few interviews, the designers go back to their conference room to decide what the parents and students need. They brainstorm options, narrowing to those that fit within the existing structure of the school. In the best-case scenario, the program is something the school community can in fact benefit from—but it is unlikely to be designed to serve students and families most in need or to question status quo systems or structures. But these are essential when designing for equity.

There are many failings in this illustration, some of which can be attributed to a lack of rigor in using true design methodologies. However, even when pure design is applied, issues of power and bias have powerful sway. We can do better.

AN ALTERNATE PATHWAY

Two of the greatest hindrances to fighting inequality are literally hiding in plain sight: our implicit biases and the prevalent narrative of “colorblindness.” If we don’t even know we’re doing something wrong, how can we be expected to change it?

We can enhance the design thinking process with tools frameworks that account for and make visible our individual biases; push us past the individual to the institutional, systemic, and historic inequality at play; and fight against hegemonic ideologies.

equityXdesign is a framework that reimagines all of us as designers, adjusts for our implicit biases, and minimizes the scale and amplification of a dominant identity throughout.

Instead of asking individuals to think their way into a new way of behaving, relying on their individual levels of awareness around issues of inequality, we can provide them with a framework that embeds that awareness. We can make design thinking, an already widely accepted and valued process for innovation and problem-solving, into a process that provides individuals with experiences that elevate their understanding of inequality while also providing tools to dismantle systems of inequality.

This is equityXdesign: an additional layer of checks, tools, and activities that, when laid on top of traditional design thinking methodologies, will illuminate racism and inequality—individual, structural, and institutional—that exists in the individuals involved in the design team and potentially shapes the way problems are framed and solutions are proposed.

Design thinking is an ideal starting point. When merged with the power of equity work, we believe it can be used to tackle our most urgent equity-based problems.

EQUITYXDESIGN: DESIGN THINKING'S RETROFIT

equityXdesign intentionally convenes people across difference and builds a common language for system-wide change. It is a framework that reimagines all of us as designers, adjusts for our implicit biases, and minimizes the scale and amplification of a dominant identity throughout. It creates guardrails and checkpoints that nudge design teams to identify problems through a lens of equity, brainstorm transformative possibilities, and prototype and test these possibilities in low-cost, low-resolution, inclusive, and participatory environments.

Pastored by the spirit of inclusive invention, the process engages designers in their own identities and the identities and experiences of their co-designers in order to seed collaborative, inclusive innovation and invention. The centering ethos—see, be seen, and foresee—overlays the three beliefs we believe are preconditions for equitable design. These beliefs lead us to the five design principles that guide our actions.

THE EQUITYXDESIGN FRAMEWORK

BELIEF #1

LEARNING TO SEE: HISTORICAL CONTEXT MATTERS

Evolutionary science tells us that the most beneficial traits survive; we are the recipients of the genetic legacy of our parents, grandparents, and great-grandparents. And social inheritance mimics this genetic inheritance: We inherit the traits and characteristics of legacies of privilege and oppression. We must see both who we were (our historical selves) and who we are (our current selves). In order to understand the present time and space we occupy, we must understand the inherited legacy surrounding the thing we are designing, the place we are designing in, and the community we are designing with.

BE SEEN: RADICAL INCLUSION

equityXdesign is intentional about bringing diverse stakeholders together across race, role, gender, and socioeconomic status to build relationships and lay the groundwork for community. Inclusion is not merely the absence of exclusion: Radical inclusion requires going further—identifying barriers that exclude and eliminating them; welcoming different people, stories, and experiences to the innovation conversation; creating spaces where everyone can truly bring their full selves and be equally valued. Radical inclusion is not simply about reducing hate or respecting difference; it is about truly loving others.

CENTERING BELIEFS

FORESSEE: PROCESS AS PRODUCT

Process dictates product. In order to design for equity, we must design equitably. The practice of equitable design requires that we are mindful how we achieve equity. Inclusive design practices raise the voices of the marginalized, strengthen relationships across difference, shift positions, and recharge our democracy. Because exclusion feeds inequity, we can no longer argue that there is not enough time to include the community. We must make time for the magic of human connection, especially across difference.

DESIGN PRINCIPLE 1: DESIGN AT THE MARGINS

Our current innovation conversation is exclusive, accessible only to the powerful and privileged. This erodes the innate creative agency and leadership in the marginalized, reduces the experience of incredibly complex people, and often leads to the allocation of resources to symptoms while neglecting the existence, permanence, and resilience of root causes.

The current social order blames the marginalized for their experience without acknowledging or attempting to redesign oppressive historical structures.

equityXdesign expects the privileged to trust and listen to the voices on the margins to identify the root causes of inequity and the ways they manifest. It positions the marginalized as leaders in the design process and experts in their experience, arming them with a process to solve their own problems. Designing at the margin means that those in privileged positions do not solve for those experiencing oppression; rather, in true community, both the privileged and marginalized build collective responsibility and truly innovative solutions for our most intractable problems. Even the use of the word marginalized linguistically parallels the exclusion of individuals. The definition of a group simply by their relationship to the dominant culture is a problem that continues to persist.

DESIGN PRINCIPLE 2: START WITH YOURSELF

Our identities (race, gender, upbringing, social status, home language, etc.) create our lens for the world and how we make sense of it. We must be aware of this lens when engaging in design. When we design for people without understanding the impact of their historical stories, our understanding slips into paternalism. When we design for people without accounting for our own biases, our understanding slips into stereotypes. We must raise our awareness of our own identities and how bias impacts our thoughts, choices, conclusions, and assumptions in order to truly co-create with others.

DESIGN
PRINCIPLE 3:
CEDE POWER

Equity requires a nonviolent, action-oriented spirit of co-creation and co-invention, necessitating an inversion of legacy power structures. Expertise cannot be quantified in degrees, and the designer-end user dichotomy is no longer useful. We must acknowledge the power dynamics that allow some votes to count more than others. Equitable design demands that practices change and evolve—that we redefine roles, revalue ways of knowing, and reassess the ways we reach decision. We recognize the potential for cede power to reinforce the hegemonic view of power as a zero-sum game—more for you must mean less for me. This is not the case. We believe that shared power is in the interest of everyone and does not require a growth in the ranks of the powerless. And yet, this work still requires each of us, who hold power in some ways, to deeply question its inheritance and its locus and to cede it when necessary.

PRINCIPLE 4:
MAKE THE
VISIBLE

The relationships between people and problems are often governed by sets of heuristics—techniques that allow problems to be solved with speed, agility, and economy. However, these preexisting schemas can perpetuate exclusionary assumptions and biased practices, manifesting as implicit bias, power dynamics, and hegemonic practices that govern relationships with people in our organizations, schools, and governments. By making them visible, we can assess their impact and create a space for reflection and repair.

DESIGN
PRINCIPLE 5:
FUTURE

Because an equitable reality has never existed, we cannot look to our past to learn how to create an equitable future. With no guide, we must speak this reality into existence. In order to write a different story, we have to use different language. We must replace our current discourse.

Discourse 1 is our current, and hegemonic, discourse—the language typically used to talk about, question, and plan the work of reform. This dialogue supports and maintains the status quo without appearing unresponsive to outside demands for improvement. Discourse 2, the discourse of transformation, is the language that tends to be about uncomfortable, unequal, ineffective, prejudicial conditions and relationships. This discourse creates space for ambiguity, change, and the opportunity to be a part of a purposeful structure.<sup>2</sup>

There is an often-overlooked power in language and discourse to influence and control ideas, beliefs, actions, and ultimately culture. When we notice how hegemony dominates our conceptual understanding of problems and how they impact others who are different, we have a powerful opportunity to see the end users' historical selves and how that self manifests in the present.

When we take control of our language, when we speak to the future, we lay the groundwork to create something new—together.

THE FRAMEWORK

stages of the invention practice. They are currently in the pilot phase of development.

Transformational Empathy

Mode 1: Meta-Empathy Maps

The design thinking process begins with empathy to build an understanding of another's experience. equityXdesign transforms empathy into a tool that helps people recognize how implicit bias and identity can impact their understanding of others. At the center of transformative empathy is listening to understand while also understanding how we listen. Through the use of a modified empathy map and three essential empathy questions, we facilitate this awareness and support the synthesis of the empathy experience.

- Individual: How does my identity impact how I understand my user's experiences?
- Institutional: What are the important customs and practices at play in my user's experience?
- Structural: What are the ways customs and practices work together to include or exclude your user?

Mode 2: Notice and Reflect<sup>3</sup>

Adding additional modes to the design thinking process revealed more ways of connecting with others during the empathy stage—notice and reflect. The essence of these modes is captured in a pre-empathy identity reflection activity, which asks individuals to start by articulating some of their core values, emanating from their heart, followed by how they define their own identities. They then reflect on how they are feeling in that moment, biases that might be at play, and finally, any noticings the reflection process created about the empathy work that is about to be done.

EQUITYXDESIGN IN ACTION

Equity Design Collaborative believes change will come from the intersection of equity, design and collaboration. We harbor no false beliefs that any exclusive group of individuals is capable of creating the tools society needs to dismantle systemic inequity. Our hope is to create a network of collaborators, inventors, and designers who prioritize equity. At the connections, nodes of opportunity create space where radical inclusion strengthens our individual and collective humanities.

The following modes and adaptations to the design process represent the some of the latest retrofits for the ensures that our ideas remain on the path of achieving equity.

Brainstorming and Transformation Cards

One of the fundamental rules of brainstorming is to build on the ideas of others. Alex Osborn, considered as the originator of classical brainstorming, created a checklist that can help transform existing ideas by prompting users to modify, rearrange, substitute, and magnify. We have built on those core prompts with a suite of equity transformations, asking users to move more to the margin, adjust their discourse, and invert power.

Defining and Solving the Right Problems in the Right Way

Adopting others' perspectives through a lens of equity requires acknowledgement of the ways privilege and oppression work to include some and exclude others. The following form positions the needs of a person opposite societal obstructions and institutional inhibitors:

A person needs a way to (insert the needs of another) because (insert the values, beliefs, and morals of the person). Surprisingly, (state a fact that demonstrates the intent to meet the need) but (insert an institutional inhibitor or societal obstruction).

Invention with an equity lens requires teams to identify and test the riskiest assumptions about how we understand and know other people. Risky assumptions without an equity lens are racist assumptions. This is especially true when we are designing at the margins. Because our implicit biases frame our assumptions about ourselves and other people, their experiences, and the best ways to solve their problems, awareness of our biases at this stage is necessary to reverse hegemonic invention.

Equity Pauses

A sense of urgency can mask hegemonic strategy. Our common discourse of urgency and business-as-usual creates little time for reflection; our pace of life eclipses our awareness. Strategic equity pauses stop the clock to reflect on our language, ideas, and hunches in the context of a discourse of transformation. Without this moment to think, our brains default to the familiar and the known, making a repeat of past practice likely. Incorporating these discourse checks and pauses after each stage ensures that our ideas remain on the path of achieving equity.

A TECHNICAL TOOL FOR MORAL WORK

As a culture, we currently have limited courage, will, and skill to talk candidly about race and inequity. The current discourse around equity exists in one of two opposing extremes: morality and linear reasoning and logic.

Morality: Driven by our emotions, we talk and evaluate the degree of goodness. We talk about good people and bad people. We learn about microaggressions and reflect on our moral responsibility to be better. This inspires the motivated and engaged to remain critical of relationships, language, and assumed cultural norms, alienating those without the skill or will for engagement.

Linear reasoning and logic: This technical discourse prefers to quantify equity and reduce it numbers, strategy, and outcomes. This conversation leaves little room for the real experience of people—the meaning, magic, surprise, and possibility.

Our current equity discourse is either a moral conversation or a technical conversation. It is not often both.

The complex work of achieving equity requires a dialogue bold and sophisticated enough to hold both moral and technical ways of thinking, acting, and designing. This integration requires tools that can marry the head and heart while allowing a truly diverse set of thinkers—technologists, freedom fighters, and everyone in between—to create and design in service of reconciliation.

Our current equity discourse is either a moral conversation or a technical conversation. It is not often both.

Equity—the integral sum of inclusive practices and that obstruct, threaten, and dismantle systems of oppression and amplify, privilege, and promote the voices of the most marginalized and most affected—is the work of our time. It demands enhancements, retrofits, and retooling of our current toolkits to meet this pressing need. Simply put, work across difference that privileges the voices and perspectives of the most affected “bends the moral arc of universe towards justice.”<sup>4</sup>

We do not have the answers, but we are committed to solving this problem. We do believe that disciplined processes that support the transformation of all of us and our inventions keeps us moving toward realizing the American dream for all people.

Join us to solve it.

WMPPSC School Discipline Policy and Procedures

Overview

Every WMPPSC student has a right to be educated in a safe and supportive learning environment and to be treated in a manner that is respectful, culturally responsive, centered on healing, and free from disparate or discriminatory discipline. Every staff member has a right to be provided with the support, training, and resources to meet the needs of students struggling with social, emotional, and/or behavioral challenges and to work in a school environment that provides a structure for teaching and supporting positive behaviors.

WMPPSC aligns with the Colorado Board of Education's that effective learning and teaching takes place in a safe, secure and welcoming environment and that safe schools contribute to improved attendance, increased student achievement and community support. WMPPSC will partner with Mesa County Valley School District 51, reviewing their published Student-Parent Handbook and consider alignment with their Conduct and Discipline Code. WMPPSC follows the following safe school standards:

1. Procedures that address the supervision and security of school buildings and grounds.
2. Procedures that address the safety and supervision of students during school hours and school sponsored activities.
3. Procedures that address persons visiting school buildings and attending school-sponsored activities.
4. Training programs for staff in crisis prevention and management.
5. Training programs for staff in emergency response procedures that include practice drills.
6. Training programs for staff and students in how to recognize and respond to behavior or other information that may indicate impending violence or other safety problems.
7. Procedures for safe, confidential reporting of security and safety concerns at each school.
8. Procedures for regular assessments by school security/safety professionals and law enforcement officers to evaluate the security needs of each school building and to provide recommendations for improvements if necessary.
9. Procedures to provide for regular communications between district officials, law enforcement officers, fire department officials, city and county officials and local medical personnel to discuss crisis prevention and management strategies, including involvement by these parties in the development and revision of crisis prevention and management plans.
10. Training programs for staff in safety precautions and procedures related to fire prevention, natural disaster response, accident prevention, public health, traffic, bicycle and pedestrian safety, environmental hazards, civil defense, classroom and occupational safety, and special hazards associated with athletics and other extracurricular activities.
11. Procedures for the reporting of criminal activity to law enforcement.

12. Each site Teacher Leader shall be responsible for the supervision and implementation of the safe school program at his or her school. The Shared Services Partner shall submit annually, in the manner and by the date specified by the State Board of Education, a written report to the Board of Education concerning the learning environment in the school during that school year. The report shall contain, at a minimum, the information required by law. The annual safety reports from every school in the district shall be compiled and submitted to the state department of education in a format specified by the State Board of Education. The report shall be made available to the public.
13. Procedures for notifying parents of an employee's criminal charges when such notification is required by state law.

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to ensure all WMPSC students, families, and staff have access to an equitable, safe, and supportive learning environment.

Centering on Wildflower Ways of Working

WMPSC is committed to practicing Wildflower's Ways of Working, including Self-Management Practices of Roles and Responsibilities, Radical Transparency, Advice Process, and Conflict Resolution. We honor Teacher Leader autonomy to solve challenges within the school community whenever possible and commit to seeking advice actively to support collective problem solving and conflict resolution.

Self-Discipline and Positive Behavior Guidance<sup>1</sup>

Discipline in a Montessori environment is not imposed on the child but, rather, is created in the child when there is a beautiful balance between freedom and structure. Maintaining this delicate balance is one of the foundations of the Montessori environment. It is on this foundation of freedom and structure that the child builds executive function and self-regulation, which in turn allows for discipline and self-efficacy to develop through a positive environment of practice and modeling. Freedom is not often associated with discipline. Usually, people assume that since the child is offered freedom—to move, to communicate, to choose, and to repeat—there is no structure to the environment.

Freedom, however, does not mean one can do whatever one wants. Responsibility to oneself and one's community are essential components of freedom. We offer freedoms, but within limitations that facilitate the development of responsibility and an internal sense of control. We support students in building skills to respond to challenges.

The development of self-discipline in this manner allows the individual to choose the right behavior because it is right for him or herself, and for the community. Inner discipline is not something automatically present within the child, but rather evolves under the right care and in the proper environment. As adults in the child's life, we need to model and guide while supporting the child through the process of developing self-discipline. We begin by offering limited freedoms based on the child's abilities to make appropriate choices at that particular time. As the child's ability to make choices and follow rules improves, more freedom is offered. WMPPSC is committed to understanding individual needs, following the child, and practicing redirection and interventions without impacting student autonomy, and to support with experiences that will help children build skills to respond to challenges. WMPPSC will model these expectations by treating children with dignity and respect and providing them with challenging and absorbing activities. WMPPSC will also practice positive behavior guidance by establishing clear and realistic limits that are developmentally appropriate and are enforced firmly and consistently.

Positive behavior guidance techniques include:

- Clear and consistent school and classroom expectations
- Explicit discussions of freedoms and responsibilities in the classroom, hallways, lunch area, playground, bathrooms, and other locations
- Encouraging and acknowledging children when they make positive choices
- Noticing behaviors and correcting without criticism
- Anticipation of problems before they occur and teaching children how to anticipate challenging situations
- Redirection from conflicts toward constructive activity
- Offering children alternatives to aggressive behavior, such as walking away, acknowledging their emotions, or talking through a problem
- Modeling and teaching children conflict resolution and mediation techniques

School Commitments

WMPPSC will develop structures that ensure families are included and vital partners on issues affecting their children's education, explicitly shaping the school environment to support a blending of home and school and responding to the needs of children and families. With an emphasis on growth and learning, this policy and [school name's] practices are meant to evolve. WMPPSC is committed to:

- Creating a welcoming environment for children and families that fosters caring and reciprocal relationships based on trust.
- Using Wildflower's Ways of Working to develop strategies that reinforce Wildflower values, to resolve conflicts that may arise, and use the advice process early and often to support positive discipline practices.
- Including families in the decision-making process when reviewing and/or updating this policy and accompanying practices and guidance.
- Being intentional about having family and community representation in school positive self-discipline and equitable school discipline discussions.
- Providing all families with school policies and procedures.
- Informing families of their children's positive behavior progress and learning, and if any challenges arise, the family will be engaged as a stakeholder and partner

- Gaining perspective from the child's community: seeking advice from family and other key stakeholders in the child's life to inform perspective on strategies, discuss interventions, and develop a plan for additional supports.
- Providing a pathway for resolving conflicts related to discipline strategies and practices for families (See Community Conflict Resolution Policy for more information).

Positive Behavior Interventions and Non-Exclusionary Practices

Positive approaches to discipline can improve student engagement, academic performance, and teacher satisfaction, while also reducing violence and disciplinary incidents in schools.<sup>2</sup>

WMPPSC will determine the positive intervention and non-exclusionary practices based on incidents, circumstances, impact on the learning environment, and considering the health and safety of the child and community. WMPPSC will use interventions and based on the different levels of behavior exhibited in the chart below. This is not meant to be exhaustive, but rather to guide appropriate interventions and supports to build executive function and positive self-discipline already present within the child. At all levels Teacher Leaders are encouraged to seek advice within the Wildflower community and engage stakeholders in informing decisions of strategies to employ. WMPPSC will document all Level 2 and higher interventions and align documentation with data privacy policies.

The positive disciplinary practices outlined below should not be used to exclude students from school or otherwise deprive them of such an education, unless it is essential to preserving the safety of students and staff.

Level	Examples of Demonstrated Behavior	Examples of Positive Interventions / Non-Exclusionary Practices
1	Minor infraction with no prior incidents or pattern of behaviors. Other interventions have not been put in place.	Take a break and redirection: children take a short break from activities in the classroom to regain their self-control and/or engage in healing practices that regulate, calm, and/or respond to a child's need (e.g. movement).  Practice reparations as a natural consequence: For example, children may be called to replace, clean, or fix damaged property and/or assist to make up for lost learning time.  Conflict resolution process: guided prompts for building understanding and to learn about actions

Restitution planning as appropriate

Providing a referral for needed support services, including parenting education, home visits, other supportive education interventions, or, where appropriate, an evaluation to determine if the child is eligible for special education services or section 504 services.

Suspension: Applicable only for children Kindergarten and older. Suspension must include an alternative education plan to not disrupt the child's learning during this period and cannot last more than five school days. Suspension may be in-school or out of school suspension. WMPPSC will actively seek advice regarding suspensions as outlined below.

Expulsion Recommendation: Applicable only for children Kindergarten and older. WMPPSC will actively seek advice regarding expulsions as outlined below. WMPPSC must bring the expulsion decision to the WMPPSC board for validation.

Seeking Advice for Positive Discipline Decisions, Including Suspensions and Expulsions

While protecting the child's identity, WMPPSC will use the advice process frequently when assessing the child's needs and that of the environment. The purpose of using the advice process for decisions related to discipline and interventions is to proactively seek feedback on options, reflect on individuals' identities and potential biases, bring awareness to strategies employed, and surface opportunities for continued growth and learning.

Stakeholders

Consistent with the Wildflower advice process, Teacher Leaders, as the decision-makers, will determine the stakeholders to engage in advice. Stakeholders include those who are most impacted by the decision, whose accountabilities are activated, and who may have the most

- relevant lived experience and expertise. Stakeholders may include children (if they are old enough), families, WMPPSC, and whomever might have to vouch for the decision to outside stakeholders. Teacher Leaders will engage in the advice process in the following ways:
- Reflecting on and naming individual identities that may influence perspectives, internal biases, and needs
  - Engaging the charter community, especially peer Teacher Leaders, to surface strategies, opportunities for growth, and reflecting on and learning from practices
  - Seeking opportunities for additional supports including but not limited to coaching and professional development.

Reporting Suspensions and Expulsion Decisions

WMPPSC will follow the processes for reporting suspensions and expulsion decisions required by CDE and D51.

Suspension

WMPPSC will proactively seek advice with stakeholders any suspension lasting more than five consecutive school days and will clearly state the reason for extended suspension, inviting opportunity for continued engagement through the advice process.

A child will be provided an alternative education plan and materials to work in an area designated by school leadership on site, or will be suspended out of school. Materials may be provided prior to the suspension period, or when the child returns.

Expulsion Recommendations

Any decision to expel a child must first be brought to the WMPPSC Board for validation. This can be processed through a special board meeting, and following Open Meetings Law, may be closed.

WMPPSC will only engage in expulsion proceedings after all other options have been exhausted and/or the child engages in behaviors identified in Level 4 above. Prior to presenting an expulsion recommendation to the WMPPSC board, WMPPSC will use the advice process with the WMPPSC Charter Circle outlined above. While protecting the child's identity, WMPPSC will use the advice process before determining whether expulsion is the only option available.

NF: Number and Operations—Fractions	Develop understanding of fractions as numbers	3.NF.A.2. Understand a fraction as a number on the number line; represent fractions on a number line diagram. a. Represent a fraction $1/b$ on a number line diagram by defining the interval from 0 to 1 as the whole and partitioning it into $b$ equal parts. Recognize that each part has size $1/b$ and that the endpoint of the part based at 0 locates the number $1/b$ on the number line. b. Represent a fraction $a/b$ on a number line diagram by marking off a length $1/b$ from 0. Recognize that the resulting interval has size $a/b$ and that its endpoint locates the number $a/b$ on the number line. 		3.NF.A.3. Explain equivalence of fractions in special cases, and compare fractions by reasoning about their size. a. Understand two fractions as equivalent (equal) if they are the same size, or the same point on a number line. b. Recognize and generate simple equivalent fractions, e.g., $1/2 = 2/4$ , $4/6 = 2/3$ . Explain why the fractions are equivalent, e.g., by using a visual fraction model. c. Express whole numbers as fractions, and recognize fractions that are equivalent to whole numbers. Examples: Express 3 in the form $3 = 3/1$ ; recognize that $6/1 = 6$ ; locate $4/4$ and 1 at the same point of a number line diagram. d. Compare two fractions with the same numerator or the same denominator by reasoning about their size. Recognize that comparisons are valid only when the two fractions refer to the same whole. Record the results of comparisons with the symbols $>$ , $=$ , or $<$ , and justify the conclusions, e.g., by using a visual fraction model.	40176 Equivalence: Sensorial	Red fraction insets and labels Box of fraction pieces Fraction charts 3, 4, 5, & 11	P	AMI lesson not numbered: "Nomenclature for Equivalence" (HMTI, 2013) completes equivalence table

Decompose a fraction into a sum of fractions with the same denominator in more than one way, recording each decomposition by an equation. Justify decompositions, e.g., by using a visual fraction model. Examples: $3/8 = 1/8 + 1/8 + 1/8$ ; $3/8 = 1/8 + 2/8$ ; $2 1/8 = 1 + 1 + 1/8 = 8/8 + 8/8 + 1/8$ . c. Add and subtract mixed numbers with like denominators, e.g., by replacing each mixed number with an equivalent fraction, and/or by using properties of operations and the relationship between addition and subtraction. d. Understand the absolute value of a rational number as its distance from 0 on the number line; interpret absolute value as magnitude for a positive or negative quantity in a real-world situation. For example, for an account balance of $-30$ dollars, write $ -30  = 30$ to describe the size of the debt in dollars. d. Distinguish comparisons of absolute value from statements about order. For example, recognize that an account balance less than $-30$ dollars represents a debt greater than 30 dollars.	40291 Introduction to Signed Numbers 40296 Word Problems Using Signed Numbers		P	Absolute value portions not covered.

Evaluate expressions at specific values of their variables. Include expressions that arise from formulas used in real-world problems. Perform arithmetic operations, including those involving whole-number exponents, in the conventional order when there are no parentheses to specify a particular order (Order of Operations). Planning Montessori interventions to meet needs, remove obstacles, and build skills

THE ABSORBENT MIND

And so we discovered that education is not something which the teacher does, but that it is a natural process which develops spontaneously in the human being. It is not acquired by listening to words, but in virtue of experiences in which the child acts on his environment. The teacher's task is not to talk, but to prepare and arrange a series of motives for cultural activity in a special environment made for the child.

Instructional Teams suggest classroom modifications; Progress is monitored through classroom record-keeping Universal Screens provide baseline data

Child Study Protocol

This is a protocol for fostering robust program level team meetings focused on Child Study. The purpose of this tool is to develop the first phase of an Action Plan for students who are showing difficulties thriving within the Montessori prepared environment.

Prior to the Meeting (at least one family meeting has occurred)

The Presenting Teacher completes the Child Study Student Summary.

Step 1: What's Going on with this Child?

8 Minutes

The Facilitator invites presenting teacher to describe their concerns about a particular child, referring to the Child Study Student Summary. The rest of the team listens silently and takes notes.

Step 2: Clarifying the Situation

5 Minutes

The Facilitator manages clarifying questions from the team. The presenting teacher answers questions as directly as possible.

Step 3: Defining the Problem

10 Minutes

The Facilitator supports an open discussion in which the team offers suggestions and analysis about the cause of the child's difficulty or challenge. The Facilitator helps teachers categorize difficulties through B.A.S.E. with attention to obstacles, lagging skills, unmet needs.

Step 4: Articulating the Goal

10 Minutes

Based on the discussion in Step 3, the Facilitator proposes a "SMART" goal for reducing the difficulty. The presenting teacher responds to the proposal and the Facilitator helps the group refine the goal.

Step 5: Completing the Plan

up to 10 Minutes

The Facilitator invites the entire team to generate as many potential interventions as possible in five minutes. Using sticky notes, the participants write one intervention per note.

After five minutes, the Facilitator invites the team to read their suggestions while one team member groups the sticky notes in categories that emerge. Following the reading and display, the presenting teacher and the team choose three or four strategies as the foundation of an Action Plan. The Convener records the interventions. Having identified goals and strategies, the team agrees on indicators of progress and a date to report back on progress. The Convener records these details in a master record, and is responsible for distributing the Action Plan to the presenting teacher.

The Facilitator

The Facilitator is charged with keeping the meeting running smoothly. This entails:

- Keeping time
- Reminding participants of the goals, when necessary
- Paraphrasing and summarizing during steps 3-5

The Convener

The Convener is charged with maintaining accurate records of all cases brought to the team for discussion. This entails maintaining a comprehensive docket of cases detailing:

- Date the teacher requested a meeting
- Date the meeting was held and plan developed
- Dates progress monitoring occurred

The Convener also manages the schedule of meetings and distributes agendas, detailing the cases to be discussed, prior to each meeting.

SMART Goals

- Specific—must be concrete
- Measurable—progress must be evident in data
- Attainable—must be a goal that is within reach of the student's current capacities
- Relevant—appropriate to the child's developmental stage and level
- Timely—progress must be evident within a period lasting no longer than 4-6 weeks

Your Story

Your story is the anchor for why this school exists. As you build relationships in your community and invite others to join you in bringing your school to life, it will be important to start with and constantly return to your “why.”

Listen to Stacy Abrams, 3 Questions to Ask Yourself About Everything You Do for some guidance and inspiration.

The following questions are provided to help you craft a 2-minute story that you will be able to share with families, partners, donors, and community activists. Your answers can be brief to keep your story to 2 minutes.

After you write your story of WHY, practice delivering it to people you trust, to yourself in the mirror, to your family, etc. Then, when you meet with your advice-givers, you will have the chance to share it with them as they prepare to support you with the most helpful advice possible.

You + Wildflower: What motivates you to start a Wildflower school?

I have aspired in the last ten years of my career as a public school teacher, instructional coach, and school administrator to foster a school environment that promotes equity through rigorous academics, executive function skill-building, and critically conscious practice. I have poured myself into this work because I believe that access to an excellent education that opens choice and opportunity is a right for all children. Unfortunately, the traditional public education system, despite the best intentions, innovations, and reforms, remains an industrial-era model deeply entrenched in oppression. If we are to provide an education that is truly liberating, one that opens opportunities for all students to live lives of their choosing, then we need to look outside this model.

Montessori education is humanizing, rigorous, individualized, and centered in connectedness with one another and the earth. Montessori students also achieve at high levels; in fact, one recent study found that lower income students who spent three years in Montessori schools significantly closed the achievement gap with higher-income students (Lillard et al, 2017). I aspire to open a Wildflower micro-Montessori because it is one way to address the opportunity gap currently experienced by students in the low income communities here. Grand Junction isn't characterized by the enormous income inequality found in other counties in Colorado. However, there are a number of low-income neighborhoods that are classified as child care deserts and whose public neighborhood elementary schools are currently on state improvement plans. Opening a Wildflower Montessori in proximity to these neighborhoods would afford a childcare option that is safe, beautiful, rigorous, and affordable for these families, preparing their children for increased success in elementary school and their entire academic trajectory. Intentionally diversifying the class as much as possible would yield benefits for all students. Currently, authentic Montessori access is extremely limited in the valley, with only one private primary classroom and one public lower elementary classroom. Both locations have lengthy waiting lists.

Micro schools, especially Montessori micro schools, meet the need of our current context; the pandemic caused tremendous stress and trauma for many children and their families, so it is all the more important that their school community feels safe, welcoming, and responsive to the academic, social, and emotional needs of the children. The mixed-age groupings allow for depth of relationships and increased trust.

Wildflower Schools also function differently at an organizational level than other school systems. Colfādo schools, and those across the nation, are in crisis. Teachers are overwhelmed, underpaid, and exhausted; they are leaving the profession at alarming rates. The decentralized organizational structure puts decision-making power back into the hands of its teacher-leaders. Two co-teacher leaders function as the school administrators and teachers, allowing them to make the decisions most appropriate for their students and context. An extensive network of Wildflower teacher-leaders and coaches support the schools with advice, coaching, tools and resources, but the schools ultimately function independently. My experience as a teacher and administrator uniquely position me for this role. I have also experienced first-hand the lack of autonomy, burn-out, and frustration that characterizes the Achievement-Orange charter school systems detailed in Reinventing Organizations (Laloux, 2014). I could not sustain in that environment over the long-term. Wildflower Schools' emphasis on self-management, evolutionary purpose and wholeness fosters sustainability, joy, and empowerment.

I learned in my AMI diploma course about Montessori for aging adults and intergenerational Montessori. Both of my grandfathers died by suicide, and my grandmother's slow decline into dementia was painful and heartbreaking. I still grapple with what could have been different for them if they felt a stronger sense of community, purpose, and worthiness, and how the support and stimulation of the elderly, like that of young children, is often dependent on wealth and resources. This partnership would be a long-term aspiration for the elementary campus.

Values: What are your values and how have they come to shape your identity? Can you think of a moment in which one of your values was solidified in your life? Why is this value important to you?

Integrity:

One moment that solidified this value was in the summer of 2020 when I made the decision to resign from a position with a charter network. I had felt conflicted about this decision for weeks, as I knew that my departure would leave a gap in support for teachers and therefore impact students at the campus. However, I could not continue to participate in practices that I felt were not developmentally appropriate, humanizing, or in the best interest of students and families. I similarly felt too great a conflict in values with the school leadership and their beliefs about how the teachers should operate and be treated. I resigned and pursued my Montessori certification, committed to do what I needed to do to increase access to Montessori in my community.

Learning/Growth:

I committed to the most rigorous Montessori training programs that I could access so that I can lead our campus with a lens of excellence. I continuously seek opportunities to grow in my practice as an ABAR educator and parent. I love to read, listen to podcasts, and attend workshops so that I can lead and work competently.

Equity: What are your thoughts/beliefs about equitable learning environments? What experiences in creating equitable learning environments have led you to these thoughts/beliefs?

My most successful teaching experiences were when I provided individualized instruction and afforded the students choice in their learning. I would specifically point to Readers' and Writers' workshop while teaching middle school ELA and center and small group work as a lower elementary teacher. The students were authentically engaged in their work because they had chosen it and were receiving the appropriate level of support. I did not use traditional "classroom management" structures like incentives and consequences; the students were intrinsically motivated to complete their learning. I believe they felt more trusted and respected because they were granted the autonomy to direct themselves, move freely, and choose texts or work that they found interesting.

Although the campus where I most recently worked as a founding teacher and Assistant Principal earned an A ranking from TEA in 2019, and I am very proud and grateful to the students and staff for their incredible commitment and effort, these results came at a cost. Adding after-school tutoring and Saturday School to 9-hour instructional days and taking away recess and flex classes to complete work or as a consequence for behavior are a few examples of the practices that were deemed necessary to achieve our academic goals and maintain a "strong culture." We also did not retain most of our teachers until the 2018-2019 school year, which meant most of our students were taught by inexperienced teachers in one or more subjects every year. Our old rented building regularly flooded with heavy rains and lacked a gymnasium. Many of our classrooms had over thirty students. We weren't able to give our students an experience that equated to their wealthy, white peers in neighboring communities. I often talked to students about how they felt coming to our school. Many appreciated the connection with peers, knew their teachers and administrators cared for them and wanted them to be successful, but there was rarely genuine excitement or a feeling of pride and ownership of the school.

I'm reflecting about how this lives in a campus that serves primarily white students and am committed to my ongoing learning and growth towards becoming an ABAR educator in this context.

Montessori: Why did you choose to teach the Montessori pedagogy? What attracts you to the Montessori approach?

Informed by neuroscience and child development
Mixed age environments and multi-year relationship-building
Respect and trust of the child - individualization, choice, agency, kindness, curiosity and exploration
Emphasis on both executive functions and academic skills
Peace education, liberatory education
Rigor

Partnership: Why are you choosing to start a school with a partner? Given your knowledge of who you are and your strengths and areas of growth, describe your ideal co-teacher-leader. If you already have a partner, how do you complement one another? Where may you run into challenges and how will you address these?

Although my experience in public education spans a decade, my experience in Montessori is limited. A partner with more Montessori teaching experience would complement my experience in school administration. An ideal partner would have also an equity lens and be willing to continue learning and growing in identity development and reflection on anti-racist schooling. If we are able to move forward with establishing the school as an intergenerational Montessori site, I would want a co-founder who felt passionate about this initiative.

My partner, Georgie Riegel, is a trained Montessorian who has taught in a lower elementary Montessori setting for the last four years. She is very committed to creating an inclusive, ABA space for children and expanding Montessori access in our valley. She is humble, kind, and passionate about this model of education. It is clear from my time in her school that she is relationship-centered and approaches her work with humility and intentionality.

School Vision

Describe a scene from your future Wildflower school. Who are the children in this scene? What context from their home environments do they bring with them to school? How are their needs being met at school? How do parents feel when they drop their child off at your school in the morning? Who are the adults in the room? What does the school look like? What is on the walls, shelves? What does the school feel like?

I envision a place where students feel like they can exhale the moment they walk in the door because they know they are accepted and loved for who they are. I see families being greeted by first names and warm smiles, who engage easily in conversation with one another and have built deep relationships over the years as members of the school community. I see a classroom that is beautiful, orderly, and bustling with quiet activity. The space is flooded with natural light from large windows with a variety of workspaces for the children to choose from. Students move fluidly throughout the space while the two lead guides engage small groups. They are intrinsically driven by their own curiosity to learn and explore; they conduct their own research on topics that interest them and excitedly share their findings with classmates. Other children work independently or collaboratively with partners, spread on the floor and among tables, engrossed by curiosity. They are eager to manipulate the materials and expand their knowledge of taught concepts. An assistant thoughtfully observes from the perimeter, careful to not intervene unnecessarily but ready to offer support as needed. The walls are decorated with the artwork of local artists and student vision maps. There is a cozy library space filled with inclusive texts that provide windows and mirrors for the children's experiences. An outdoor space includes garden boxes that the children tend.

<https://montessori-architecture.org/repertoire/stiching-casaschool/>

Who are the community members outside of the room that are influencing what we see in it? How is your school connected to the community around it?

I hope to establish connections with many of the surrounding local farms in Palisade and have a garden space at our school so that students have direct experience and knowledge of sustainable farming. The community is also rich with artists and artisans that I hope to feature in our class decor and as guest speakers and presenters.

We are fortunate to live in a place of incredible natural beauty. I hope to incorporate extensive learning opportunities about the flora, fauna, and landscape, including the history of the Colorado National Monument. Additionally, the students will have the opportunity to plan going outs to The Museum of the West, the Colorado National Monument, and other state and local nature reserves.

It is also important to me that our students have a strong understanding of the history of where we live, including its first inhabitants that were unjustly displaced. I plan to incorporate stories of the Southern Ute tribe and host speakers to share more about this important history.

How are Wildflower's 9 Principles evident in the description of your school that you wrote in the questions above?

Authentic Montessori/Teacher-Led - my co-founder and I are rigorously trained and deeply committed to authentic Montessori implementation. Therefore, the classroom environment will contain authentic, beautiful materials and our practices will reflect Montessori beliefs and pedagogy. Students between the ages of 6-12 will co-learn and collaborate. The environment will be peaceful, productive, and will foster rigorous thinking.

Shopfront - I do not anticipate that we will locate in a shopfront setting for a variety of reasons; however, the classroom environment will have a cozy, family-like feel, with limited staff and a class size less than 33. The space might be a house that has been modified to meet the needs of the Montessori curricular and space requirements so that children can have ample room to move and work at a space of their choosing.

Home/Beauty - The space will feel more like a home environment than a traditional school - lots of natural light, open space, rugs, plant life, open shelving, a garden, and pictures and artifacts from students' homes. We will also feature artwork that depicts our local landscape by local artists. Because our students' entire education would have been disrupted by the pandemic and the many stressors it has caused, it is all the more important that our school feels like a comfortable place characterized by deep, authentic connections between students, staff, and families.

Innovation & Equity - Our school will be innovative in the community just by virtue of the Montessori model; it is not widely available. My co-founder and I are committed to our ongoing professional and personal development, especially in ABAR practices, and will strive to implement our new learning.

Nature - Palisade especially provides a beautiful natural backdrop for a Montessori school due to its rich farming and vineyard landscape. Climate and nature activism and learning will be embedded into our school. Grand Junction is named due to its location at the conjunction of rivers, and it is also home to the Colorado National Monument, so there is tremendous opportunity to explore and learn about the natural landscape. Network - We are excited to be a part of a growing network of Wildflower schools in CO and will continue to build our relationship with these campuses through shared professional development, advice processes, and hopefully campus tours and meetings. We will leverage the broader Wildflower network of support and offer our support.

At Wildflower we value personal growth, and we support one another with growth. Which of Wildflower's 9 Principles do you feel you need more support around? What questions do you have about expressing Wildflower's Principles in your school?

Teacher-Led - I know I will need support and development in the administrative processes of opening and running a school. Operations, HR, and finance are not areas where I have extensive experience.

Equity - I need more training in implementing ABAR practices in a Montessori setting.

Having an intentionally racially and economically diverse school requires nurturing the multiple identities that individuals hold and preparing an environment that is able to reckon with the legacy of racism in education.

How will your school do so?

Regardless of the specific location chosen within the Grand Valley for our campus, the significant majority of students will be white. However, I am committed to reflecting the demographics of where we locate.

Initial School Financial Assumptions

Your budget is a numerical expression of your vision. Teacher leaders report that it's important to start thinking about budget early - but that it can be an overwhelming and unfamiliar part of startup. With this in mind, the following exercise is a first entry into budgeting. You'll start by answering just a few questions about your school's financial assumptions as best you can. These questions relate to the five big budget levers - enrollment, revenue per student, staffing, compensation and facility costs. To learn more about these budget levers, watch this video.

In the Exploration phase, it's natural that your answers will be approximations. During Planning and Startup, you'll gradually edit and add detail to these questions to create a complete, sustainable budget. For an overview of the budget process from Exploration through Startup, click here.

Question	Your Current Thinking

What is the average revenue per student, across all ages/types of revenue?  If you are in a hub, your operations coach can provide this number. At full capacity, how many teacher-leaders will work for the school? (Use decimals for part-time teacher-leaders.)  Most Wildflower schools have 2 teacher-leaders.	2
At full capacity, how many assistants will work for the school? (Do not include extra staffing for any before or after school programs. Use decimals for part-time assistants.)  Many Wildflower schools have 1-2 teaching assistants.	1

Place & Community

Your school will exist at the intersection of people and place. Tied to Wildflower's equity principle, the questions below will help you reflect on your connection to the community, the neighborhood's demographics, and the need for a Wildflower school in your proposed location.

Listen to Bryan Stevenson, We Need to Talk about an Injustice for an inspiring call to build proximity with your community.

“Get close to people you care about helping. Proximity is essential because it will change you.”

What is your personal connection to the community you plan to serve? How does your racial identity reflect this community? If your racial identity is different from this community, how do you anticipate demonstrating allyship? Are there other identities you hold that relate to the community?

I lived in Grand Junction from age 2-18. I am white, Protestant, and from the upper middle class. My father is a family physician that has operated his own practice for over 30 years in the community, and my mother was a homemaker during my childhood. They now also own a small business.

My racial identity does reflect the majority of the students we will serve in our school; it is critical that the school fosters white allyship through ABAR practices. The community overall is heavily politically conservatival, and the majority of the population do not have school-aged children. However, people aged 25-34 comprise one of the two largest subgroups that moved to the valley in '19-20.

Who are members of this community that you plan to seek advice from as you develop plans for your school?

- Beth Long - former Director and Founder of Montessori of Grand Junction
- Melanie Oster-Duvey - RN, Mesa County Public Health
- Jessica Miracle - owner of Adagio Dance, son attends Heartsong Montessori
- Sean and Maeve Goodbody - attorneys, two children attended Heartsong, recently had a son
- Kathleen Mumaw - School Director of Juniper Ridge
- Amber Pommerane - School Director of River Canon School (Waldorf PreK/Kindergarten)
- Jose Luis Chavez - community organizer
- David Combs - District 51 School Board candidate, community organizer

What is the racial makeup of the community? (You can pull from this resource.) What is considered low income in this neighborhood? Moderate income? High income? (You can pull from this resource.)

<https://www.census.gov/quickfacts/grandjunctioncolorado>

78.3% White
17% Hispanic or Latino

Median household income - $52, 504

2019 income limit area - $55, 750 for a family of 4

A few data points from the Grand Valley Housing Needs Assessment published June 22:

- 25-34 years and 45-64 years are the predominant age groups of people moving into the Grand Valley
- 26% of Clifton residents live in poverty - the highest rate in Mesa County; Clifton, GJ, Fruita, and Palisade saw poverty rates increase between 2010-2019
- Palisade and Clifton median gross rents increased by double digits
- 44% of D51 students qualify for free/reduced lunch

How will your proposed location attract and be accessible to low and moderate income households?

I am currently exploring the Las Colonias area, between downtown and Orchard Mesa.

- 8 (Las Colonias) - median family income = $51, 055

According to the 2019 CDE School Accountability Report Cards:

- At Dos Rios - 82% of tested students in ELA (3rd-5th grade) qualify for free/reduced lunch and 40% were designated minority students
- At Chipeta - 80% of tested students in ELA (3rd-5th grade) qualified for free/reduced lunch and 49% were minority students

Note - significant new development occurring in the Las Colonias area - <https://www.loopnet.com/Listing/879-Struthers-Ave-Grand-Junction-CO/20684008/> Opportunity to leverage a new build for school space?

How will your proposed location support the building of a racially diverse student population?

Although the population in the valley is overwhelmingly white, the proportion of racially diverse students at Dos Rios and Chipeta is between 40-49%.

What are the existing Montessori and educational opportunities within a 15 mile radius of your community? Who do they serve? Are there any gaps between the existing Montessori and other educational opportunities currently offered and the current needs in the community?

There is one public Montessori elementary in Fruita. The school serves ages 3-9. However, only the lower elementary guide is trained in Montessori, and there is only one classroom at each grade level. There is one private Montessori Children's House in the downtown Grand Junction area, again only serving one class.

Both campuses currently have waiting lists.

Elementary-aged children in the Las Colonias area are zoned to Chipera Elementary, Dos Rios Elementary, and Pear Park elementary in District 51. Chipera (49.9/100) and Pear Park (50.2/100) were accredited with Improvement Plans by CDE in 2019 (most recent state data). Dos Rios elementary scored Priority Improvement (Year 1 turnaround) (41.3/100). The existing Montessori elementary is approximately 10 miles from the Las Colonias area.

There is a private Waldorf Pre/K/K that serves as a feeder to the in-district Waldorf K-8 school in Grand Junction. The Waldorf elementary/middle has grown rapidly; they are rated as “Improvement Plan” with an overall score of 50.6/100).

D51 elementary school boundary map

It is also of note that special populations within the district have lagged in their achievement. This link illuminates the data from 2019 CMAS. Of particular note:

- Elementary students classified as students with disabilities and those previously identified for a READ plan scored in the 1st percentile statewide, while English Learners scored in the 13th percentile on the CMAS ELA assessment.
- Elementary students classified as students with disabilities also scored in the 1st percentile on the CMAS math assessment, with English Learners scoring in the 9th percentile.

Engagement and Partnerships

Building relationships with families and other community members serves many important purposes: providing a way for you to deeply understand the needs of your community, building trust, and eventually identifying families to enroll.

Family Engagement Exercise

Creating an inclusive, intentionally diverse school means you will be interacting with families from a range of backgrounds. Imagine two families with diverse identities approach you about your school. They are asking you the following questions. Respond as though you were sharing with them about your school.

Scenario 1:

Describe this family's identity (e.g., single Latina mom with 2 children working full time):
White, second-generation Palisade residents, 2 small children

Question from family	1-2 line answers
What do you do? This can be simple and to the point: "We are a charter Montessori school serving children ages 6-12 in Minneapolis."	I am the co-founder and lead guide in a Montessori Elementary School. We serve students in 1st-6th grade. Our partner school is a Children's House for ages 3-6.
How is this Montessori school different from traditional childcare?	The Children's House offers an environment that fosters independence; the guides are highly trained and skilled in preparing an environment specific to children's developmental and social needs. The mixed aged environment allows children to work at their own pace and benefit from the leadership and modeling of older peers. It is not a "daycare," but a rigorous learning environment that equips children with functional independence and academic skills to thrive in Kindergarten and beyond.
Who is on the founding team and what do you bring?	First, I am the parent of a toddler who attends the Children's House. I also grew up in Grand Junction and have 10 years' experience working in public education, teaching in several grades and serving as an administrator in an A-rated public charter middle school. I have a master's degree in Elementary Education and AMI diplomas in both 3-6 and 6-12 from Southwest Institute of Montessori Studies.
Why are you passionate about this work?	Early childhood education matters; research has shown a quality early childhood education has a significant impact on a child's academic trajectory. Unfortunately, quality programs can be difficult to access. What has your experience been in trying to find preschool options for your children? I have also seen firsthand that the traditional schooling model, based in the Industrial era, does not serve the academic, social, and developmental needs of students. The small size, mixed-age environment, and co-teacher model of our school allows us to tailor our instruction to each child and foster a peaceful, rigorous, and relationship-centered environment.
What are the expectations for me as a parent/guardian enrolling my child in your school?	It is important that we maintain open and consistent communication so that we can best partner together to meet your child's needs.

Scenario 2:

Describe this family's identity (e.g., dual income Black family with 2 children and a full-time nanny ): White family, recently moved to Palsade from CA, two elementary-aged children
Question from family	1-2 line answers
What do you do? This can be simple and to the point: "We are a charter Montessori school serving children ages 6-12 in Minneapolis."	We are a public Montessori elementary school serving students age 6-9.

How is this Montessori school different from traditional childcare?	What struck me most immediately about the Montessori classroom was the physical environment. These environments are carefully prepared, the materials specific and beautiful, to foster the multi-modal and independent learning of a child. Montessori teachers call ourselves “guides” because, unlike in a traditional educational setting where the teacher directs all learning and all children learn the same content, we “follow the child” to determine what exercises meet their interests and developmental needs. Mixed-age classrooms also separate us from a traditional public school classroom. Because there is a span of three years among the children, we are able to better differentiate to the needs of all our learners. Older students gain leadership and empathy skills and the younger children have the benefit and possibility of learning from these peers.
Who is on the founding team and what do you bring?	First, I am the parent of a toddler who attends the school. I also grew up in Grand Junction and have 10 years’ experience working in public education, teaching in several grades and serving as an administrator in an A-rated public charter middle school. I hold a 3-6 and 6-12 diploma from Academy of Montessori Internationale, which is recognized internationally as a rigorous and authentic program and a Master’s degree in elementary education.
Why are you passionate about this work?	After spending most of my career working in traditional public schools, I wanted to explore what alternative educational models exist and their results. I have learned through my study and experience that this model balances the rigorous academic and social emotional development in a way I hadn’t seen before. Students are leaving their Montessori environments with academic preparedness, curiosity and love of learning, and independence.
What are the expectations for me as a parent/guardian enrolling my child in your school?	Because the Montessori educational model is different than what you may have experienced as a student or seen from your child’s previous schools, it is important to us that we maintain consistent and open communication. We will host a series of parent education events to that parents feel confident in the rationale for our practices and able to support their children at home.

Community Engagement Exercise

Start by reading through Wildflower's Local Partnerships for Marketing one-pager. Next, fill out this chart identifying 3 local community partners you plan to engage.

Partner	What will you do to develop this partnership?	What do you think you will be able to collaborate on?
Example: Southside Parent Network	I will set up a meeting with the parent who leads this network to introduce myself and the school. I will offer to share SPN events with my families.	We could collaborate on a joint event that provides an info session to the network about Montessori education.
1. Mesa County Library		Potential location for marketing/informational event.
2. Child and Migrant Services, Migrant Education Program	Outreach via shared connections	Opportunity to support at events
3. Department of Health and Human Services	I have some connections with staffers who work with new mothers and foster care.	Connect with providers to host informational event and get referrals
4. Creative Avenues Daycare	The director is a former teacher at GJHS; her daycare facility is in Orchard Mesa	Inquire about holding a table or hosting an information session for parents
5. Hilltop Family Resources	Outreach via shared connections	Opportunity to support with events, share information about the school at parent events
Networking Opportunities: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● School Board candidate events and board meetings</li> <li>● LEE conversation</li> <li>● Current Monument View and Heartsong parents</li> <li>● River Canyon School families (Waldorf PreK/K)</li> <li>● American Lutheran Church</li> </ul>

Learning and Growth Plan

Wildflower teacher leaders have found certain skills, knowledge, and mindsets to be particularly important to develop as you go through the process of starting a school. No teacher comes into this journey fully ready, but all of us at Wildflower are lifelong learners on a path of growth. Reflecting on these areas will help you make an informed decision about what your unique path will look like and what support you will need along the way.

Begin by reflecting on the questions below. Then, have a conversation with your Operations Guide and/or your Growth & Connectedness Coach to produce a summary outlining your growth plan and intentions as you move forward.

Montessori

This looks like Montessori certification, strong grounding in Montessori theory, and experience as a lead guide in an authentic Montessori classroom.

Inspiration: How will my leadership/our school be different because of what I’m prioritizing for my growth?
 What do I find energizing about my path?

I’ve never served as a teacher and administrator simultaneously but am excited to do so. Relationships are at the core of a successful school environment, and so to have the opportunity to teach the students over multiple years in a micro-school environment while serving as a co-administrator, I believe the depth of relationships with the students and families will be essential and powerful.

Support: What am I most nervous about? Where will I need support?

I’m most nervous about my lack of skill and experience in HR and operations but believe with the support of Wildflower, Moonshot, and my professional network I can climb the learning curve and be effective in this area. I am somewhat nervous about maintaining proper compliance measures and juggling teaching and administrative duties.

Although I do bring many years of teaching experience to the role, the Montessori curricula and pedagogy is extremely rigorous and calls for a level of individualization across all subjects. It will take time for me to internalize the curricula so that it can be leveraged to the greatest benefit of the students.

Strength: What have I experienced and what skills have I built that I’m bringing with me and will leverage?

I was a founding teacher and administrator at a public charter school for the last five years. Founding a school is a unique and challenging experience, and though every school founding is different, I do think I have a strong sense of the many hats a teacher/administrator needs to wear in the first years. We were also responsible for recruiting students every year, so telling the story of our school and connecting with families was a skill I developed. I received a great deal of professional development in instructional coaching and data analysis through Relay Graduate School and TNTTP, so this is also a skillset I bring to our partnership.

My training at SIMS is very rigorous; I believe I will enter the classroom with very strong theoretical and practical knowledge of the Montessori method, especially given I will hold diplomas in both primary and elementary. I also have an M.Ed in elementary education and several years' experience teaching and coaching in elementary classrooms.

At a high-level, I bring strong detail orientation, time management, and strategic thinking to my work. I am also a parent of two young children, which I consider an enormous strength as an educator.

Advice Process Toolkit

1. Watch this 4 minute video on the role of the Advice Process in the SSJ

2. Select your advice-givers

These should include 2 current teacher leaders (1 from your hub if you are in an established hub), 1 foundation partner, and any other stakeholder in your decision to open a school (e.g., a community member or parent). Your Operations Guide can help you select your advice givers.

Questions to help you identify advice-givers:

- Who will be affected by my decision to open a Wildflower school?
- What burning questions are on my mind? What are the skillsets/profiles that might help address those questions?
- Are there Teacher Leaders at Wildflower who have opened schools similar to mine that I can ask to be advice-givers?
- Have I chosen a group of people with diverse, varied perspectives?

3. Plan for your advice session

This Exploration Advice Process Facilitation Guide includes a core set of questions you may ask during your advice session.

4. Engage in your advice session

You will facilitate a conversation to seek advice on your Exploration Album. The guide above can help frame your conversation. You will lead this conversation, and your Operations Guide often joins as an observer.

5. After your advice session, summarize advice received & share your summary with your advice-givers

Document the advice you received in the chart below. Share this with your advice givers to see if they still have additional advice or questions about decisions you've made.

6. Close the loop on your advice process

If advice-givers have no open questions after reading your summary, your advice process loop is closed and you can continue along with your decision. If any advice-giver still has open questions after reading the advice summary, they take the initiative to have a compassionate conversation with you until issues are resolved. If you choose not to take advice, and the advice giver feels that the decision will cause harm, the advice-giver can raise Conflict Resolution (e.g., a facilitated conversation) to build more understanding and move to a resolution. This resolution would mean your advice process loop is closed. Your Operations Guide can provide support in moving through the Conflict Resolution Process.

7. Inform your Operations Guide that you are moving into Planning.

Feel free to make this template your own by adding additional information or answering questions in a format that is comfortable for you (images, audio recording, video - have fun with this!).

Your Exploration Album can be completed individually or as a team. Your School Operations Guide will support you as you develop your album and prepare for the advice process.

What's Next?

Once you've completed sections 1-7 of your Exploration Album, you'll practice the Advice Process by sharing your album with 3 members of the Wildflower community, as well as other stakeholders like community members, for their advice as you decide whether you feel called and ready to open a Wildflower school at this time. The Advice Process Toolkit at the end of this album will guide you through the process. Your Operations Guide will be your main point of support through the Advice Process.

Your Story

Your story is the anchor for why this school exists. As you build relationships in your community and invite others to join you in bringing your school to life, it will be important to start with and constantly return to your “why.”

Listen to Stacy Abrams, 3 Questions to Ask Yourself About Everything You Do for some guidance and inspiration.

The following questions are provided to help you craft a 2-minute story that you will be able to share with families, partners, donors, and community activists. Your answers can be brief to keep your story to 2 minutes.

After you write your story of WHY, practice delivering it to people you trust, to yourself in the mirror, to your family, etc. Then, when you meet with your advice-givers, you will have the chance to share it with them as they prepare to support you with the most helpful advice possible.

You + Wildflower: What motivates you to start a Wildflower school?

What motivates me to start a Wildflower school is the desire to provide a free, authentic Montessori education in a micro school setting where children experience and learn in a beautifully prepared environment that accepts all people. When I look around the western slope of Colorado I see a need for more compassion, empathy, and inclusion, which is why I want to empower my students to make a difference by seeing past racial, ethnic, cultural, and economic differences. Additionally, I want to partner with all stakeholders so that the school is rooted in community from the ground up.

When I looked at the Wildflower model I was drawn to so many of their core principles. What intrigued me the most was the teacher-leader model in a decentralized network. At the beginning of my Montessori journey, I knew that one day I wanted to either have my own school or be part of a community that was true to the Montessori principles. In addition, it is important to me to be part of a community that supports one another and celebrates along the way.

I know that I can do both of those things in partnership with Wildflower! This realization motivates me to look within myself and think about what my school would look, feel, and evolve into. Not only is that inspiring, it is empowering! I have been on my own Montessori island, working hard to convince others of the brilliance of the method. I believe that by collaborating with my co-teacher-leader, the community, and the Wildflower network there will no longer be the need to convince, as it will be the foundation of our school. Together we will create a space that is built upon peace and acceptance.

Values: What are your values and how have they come to shape your identity? Can you think of a moment in which one of your values was solidified in your life? Why is this value important to you?

My personal core values consist of compassion, creativity, family, acceptance and positivity. There was a time in my life where I was struggling personally and financially. I knew that I couldn't give up, no matter how hard it was. By choosing to be mindful, I was able to place all of my energy on the positive versus the chaos that was happening around me. I found that by having a positive mindset it allowed me to be more adaptable, courageous, and open to change.

Equity: What are your thoughts/beliefs about equitable learning environments? What experiences in creating equitable learning environments have led you to these thoughts/beliefs?

I believe that all students deserve universal access to education, regardless of any type of disadvantage they might have. I further believe that an authentic Montessori environment innately provides students with a space that celebrates individuality and independence. I strive to consistently and continually make every student feel as though their voice matters and that their abilities and perspectives are not only valued but are a necessary part of our classroom ecosystem. I also understand that every student should be met academically, socially, and emotionally where they are, not where they should be.

Montessori: Why did you choose to teach the Montessori pedagogy? What attracts you to the Montessori approach?

I became a Montessori guide to follow in my mother's footsteps and to provide my youngest child with the opportunity to experience Montessori pedagogy. But along the way I found that my passion to teach is driven by my need and want to empower my students to realize that they have the ability to change the world, whether that means focusing on the environment, peace, equity, justice and/or their own personal quest for knowledge.

Partnership: Why are you choosing to start a school with a partner? Given your knowledge of who you are and your strengths and areas of growth, describe your ideal co-teacher-leader. If you already have a partner, how do you complement one another? Where may you run into challenges and how will you address these?

I am choosing to start a school with a partner because I can't do this alone and I would never want to. I want someone to share my passion with, so that we can inspire each other and remind each other along the way why we do what we do. I want a thought partner so that we can both reach out for advice or brainstorm together when needed. I want someone with whom I can share success and to reexamine when faced with failure.

I see our partnership as an opportunity to provide continuity for our children, as well as providing both parents and students with the option of whom to approach with questions or concerns. It will also allow us the ability to teach to our strengths.

Things get hard sometimes and when they do, the support of a like minded partner will get you through anything. Luckily, I feel as though I have found that person, Emma is someone who I connect with on a deep level. She is supportive, kind, intelligent, direct, experienced, passionate, hard working, and unafraid of a challenge. Our personalities complement one another and most importantly, I just enjoy being around her.

We had the opportunity to participate in an Energetics workshop with each other. The results of our personal profiles provided us with what we already knew: our personalities and the way we think and behave are a perfect complement of one another. The information shared from the workshop has provided us with additional tools to help us develop a common language when any sort of gap/conflict arises. I have no doubt that this awareness will strengthen our communication and respect towards one another.

Taking all of that into account, as I reflect on areas that I need to name and work on, one that stands out is to not be afraid to communicate when things are uncomfortable. I realize that I need to change my outlook towards conflict to being one that is more fluid, in contrast to it being one that has barriers. For example, I know that if I do not voice my wonderings with Emma before they become bigger than they actually are, they will consume my everyday actions and thoughts in a way that is not productive. Additionally, when presented with a difficult conversation, my goal is to be open by being vulnerable and present in the conversation instead of avoiding the conflict altogether.

School Vision

Describe a scene from your future Wildflower school. Who are the children in this scene? What context from their home environments do they bring with them to school? How are their needs being met at school? How do parents feel when they drop their child off at your school in the morning? Who are the adults in the room? What does the school look like? What is on the walls, shelves? What does the school feel like?

As I look towards the future of our Wildflower school, our students are independent, kind, inquisitive, just, fair and respectful. They are confident in their place in the world and they understand and welcome the challenges that they will have to make a more peaceful planet. They love to learn and can't wait to delve into their day. They respect each other and the space around them.

Some of our community members will share the same beliefs of equity, while others will be introduced to an anti bias/anti racist society for the first time. This will provide an opportunity for all of us to embrace and respect other's differences and to eliminate those barriers of prejudice, misinformation and bias. I believe our students and family members will become the changemakers in the greater community, because their voice will be powerful and kind.

When our parents drop off their children they will feel a strong sense of gratitude for the community that their children learn in and that they are part of. They will know that every need of their child is being met and that they are part of something bigger than themselves. Their children will be in a place that sees no biases or challenges that can't be solved. They will know that their child is making a difference on a daily basis. Most importantly, there will be an underlying feeling throughout campus of the endless potential of each child. They are happy and can't wait to come into the building.

The adults in the school are welcoming and compassionate. They love what they do and do not want to be anywhere else. They look forward to being with one another, to share their successes, to brainstorm ideas, to constantly reflect on what can be improved upon, to help and support one another, to build each other up with positivity, and lastly help sculpt the amazing children who walk through the door every day.

The school is aesthetically beautiful! Every physical aspect from the drop off area, to the classroom and the indoor-outdoor connection is clean, purposeful, devoid of clutter, and accessible to everyone who enters. There is a sense of calmness and peace. There is nature all around. When you come into the front of the school you know that you are part of a community that cares and wants you to be there.

The classroom is child-centered, accessible, and most importantly it is a place that fosters the children's growing independence. The materials are displayed neatly on child-sized shelves so that they can be accessible without adult assistance. Additionally, the shelves are placed in the room to create a series of "rooms" where each curriculum area is placed. There is a feeling of openness while being cozy and serene. There is a large open space for group meetings and larger group lessons, as well as an area that has a sink and small kitchen for art, science, cooking, or lessons that might be messier.

The shelves are filled with materials that are a concrete representation of the curriculum perfectly placed with the most concrete material first leading to the most abstract or advanced. The walls are prepared as carefully as the floor space, as they greatly influence the environment. There are diverse sampling of cultural art, beautiful photographs and illustrations that support the current areas of cultural studies, timelines and children's work.

There is a connection to nature everywhere to cultivate a love for the environment and a sense of stewardship. Inside there are many varieties of plants, flowers, classroom pets, and most materials that are used are made of natural materials. Ideally, there is an outdoor space where we would have a garden. Lastly, the spaces are large enough inside and out to be able to have community wide events so that all members can participate.

Who are the community members outside of the room that are influencing what we see in it? How is your school connected to the community around it?

The front of the school has a beautiful welcome area where there is a staff member to greet anyone who enters. This person's role is integral to our school, as they are the first contact and/or the liaison to our current, future, and past families, as well as the broader community. They are the quintessential role model of grace and courtesy, as they too understand and believe in the Montessori philosophy and curriculum.

The greater community is made up of current extended family members and alum, as well as outside business members who are nearby. I see a partnership between our surrounding community, one that benefits and supports one another and taps into the potential of the child. The students will have a connection to real world experiences by interacting and collaborating with others. "Going out" is an important tenet of the Montessori curriculum. Maria Montessori said, "Instruction becomes a living thing. Instead of being illustrated, it is brought to life. In a word, the outing is a new key for the intensification of instruction ordinarily given in the school." Our students will be empowered to find the answers to their own questions by going out into the community to solidify their learning in the classroom. These outings will enhance their independence, responsibility, and citizenship. Examples might include trips to the local library, bakery, park, veterinarian office, art galleries, river trail and the local history museums.

I also see our students helping the community by keeping the surrounding environment clean and beautiful, going to local retirement homes and reading to residents, working at a food bank for others in need, or creating art that can be displayed in local parks. The possibilities are endless, all due to being in close proximity to others.

How are Wildflower's 9 Principles evident in the description of your school that you wrote in the questions above?

Many of the 9 Wildflower Principles are reflected in my answers. As a Montessorian, having an Authentic Montessori environment is a principle that I have been working towards at my current school. I have witnessed first-hand how important it is. As a public Montessori school, we must be committed to providing an authentic, inspiring educational environment for children. The Montessori approach is more than just academics. Our school will possess all the core components of a Montessori education: prepared environment, mixed age classroom, trained Montessori guides, Montessori learning materials, child directed work, uninterrupted work periods, and practical life activities.

Being co-teacher led will allow for the everyday needs of the students and families to be made by the adults who are operating closely with the day-to-day operations.

Storefront: Our school will be highly visible, inviting, and attractive and centrally located within the community. It will have an ample outdoor recreation area for the students.

Innovation: Montessori education is innovation and staying connected to other like-minded guides through the WF network will provide a conduit for information, support, and ongoing innovation.

Home: The collaborative energy at our school will be the norm. It will begin as an expectation for each family to participate in parent education events, fundraising, work days on the campus, assist in classroom needs, share their expertise/knowledge/special skill with the student body, and or participate on a school committee, but over the course of their volunteer time they too will sense the importance and value of our partnership, as it benefits their child and all of the children in the school.

Equity: My entire motivation for becoming a Montessori teacher is to empower my students to know that inside each one of them is the impetus to create change for the betterment of all.

Beauty and Nature: As expressed in my narrative the attention to aesthetic beauty and nature is paramount to the Montessori Approach.

Decentralized-Network: Is evident in the description of my school. Big and small decisions will be made by the immediate stakeholders in the best interests of the children with the support of the WF foundation.

At Wildflower we value personal growth, and we support one another with growth. Which of Wildflower's 2 Principles do you feel you need more support around? What questions do you have about expressing Wildflower's Principles in your school?

Going forward I feel that I will need more support and professional development in WF's 9th principle, Decentralized-network, because up until my introduction to the WF model I have only experienced a typical hyarcheal organization framework. Additionally, I hope to have support with how to marry the dynamics of the Charter School structure and the responsibilities of being a public school with the non-hyarcheal framework of WF successfully. Since then I have had the opportunity to go through WF's self-management series, which has provided me with many concepts to already work on. I hope going forward that there can be some professional development that unites the other WF Charter Public Schools together so that we can help support one another through these unchartered waters.

Having an intentionally racially and economically diverse school requires nurturing the multiple identities that individuals hold and preparing an environment that is able to reckon with the legacy of racism in education. How will your school do so?

Dr. Montessori believed in education for peace. It is our responsibility as Montessorians and citizens of this world to educate ourselves to create change for our students. As a white woman in a largely homogenous community it will be important to address this. Below are ways that I plan to empower my students and community:

- bring in guests who will speak to experiences of unrepresented or marginalized groups
- Strive for diversity among staff and the student body by utilizing a weighted lottery as well as strategic approaches for recruiting diverse staff members
- introduce books that address race and ethnicity to students in the classroom, as well as provide a library for community members to check out
- ABAAR training for all staff members to deepen our understanding of social justice issues
- Provide more training for all staff in the mechanisms of diverse cultures, so that they will be able to have a nuanced understanding of the situation that minority families deal with, which will help them bridge the social gap between the school and the families that are part of the community
- Continually create a space that is open to honest conversations about privilege and how we can use that information to prepare us to be educators of social change for our community
- Make sure that race is part of the curriculum

Initial School Financial Assumptions

Your budget is a numerical expression of your vision. Teacher leaders report that it's important to start thinking about budget early - but that it can be an overwhelming and unfamiliar part of startup. With this in mind, the following exercise is a first entry into budgeting. You'll start by answering just a few questions about your school's financial assumptions as best you can. These questions relate to the five big budget levers - enrollment, revenue per student, staffing, compensation and facility costs. To learn more about these budget levers, watch this video.

In the Exploration phase, it's natural that your answers will be approximations. During Planning and Startup, you'll gradually edit and add detail to these questions to create a complete, sustainable budget. For an overview of the budget process from Exploration through Startup, click here.

Question	Your Current Thinking
At full capacity, how many students will you have in your program each year?  Many Wildflower schools enroll between 25-30 students per classroom.	32
What is the average revenue per student, across all ages/types of revenue?  If you are in a hub, your operations coach can provide this number. There are multiple things that will eventually impact your exact revenue; for now, this is an approximate average.	PPR $8,410
At full capacity, how many teacher-leaders will work for the school? (Use decimals for part-time teacher-leaders.)  Most Wildflower schools have 2 teacher-leaders.	2
At full capacity, how many assistants will work for the school? (Do not include extra staffing for any before or after school programs. Use decimals for part-time assistants.)  Many Wildflower schools have 1-2 teaching assistants.	1
What is the estimated average salary per teacher-leader once the school is stable?  This number can be an approximate range at this time.	$60,000
What is the estimated average salary per assistant?  This number can be an approximate range at this time.	$30,000
What is the average rent per square foot in the general neighborhood?  If you are in a hub, your operations coach can provide this number. You may also use loopnet.com to run a search in your target neighborhood. ## Place & Community

Your school will exist at the intersection of people and place. Tied to Wildflower's equity principle, the questions below will help you reflect on your connection to the community, the neighborhood's demographics, and the need for a Wildflower school in your proposed location.

Listen to Bryan Stevenson, We Need to Talk about an Injustice for an inspiring call to build proximity with your community.

"Get close to people you care about helping. Proximity is essential because it will change you."

What is your personal connection to the community you plan to serve? How does your racial identity reflect this community? If your racial identity is different from this community, how do you anticipate demonstrating allyship? Are there other identities you hold that relate to the community?

I am relatively new to this community, however I feel as though I am here for a greater purpose. There are only a few Montessori trained guides on the western slope of Colorado and I am currently the only Lower Elementary guide. My goal is to provide children a place to learn that is diverse and that transcends social, economic, gender, religious or other biases. My racial identity is part of the majority in our community. This commonality allows for innate acceptance that I hope to utilize to bring about more awareness and acceptance. To challenge stereotypes, prejudices, lack of information, and assumptions of other's identities.

Who are members of this community that you plan to seek advice from as you develop plans for your school?

- Current school community
- CMU-husband is professor in Theatre Dept and is the Vice-President of the Faculty Senate
- Close like-minded friends and neighbors
- Dance community-Absolute Dance in Grand Junction (one of the largest studios) I teach 2 classes once a week

What is the racial makeup of the community? (You can pull from this resource.) What is considered low income in this neighborhood? Moderate income? High income? (You can pull from this resource.)

<https://www.census.gov/quickfacts/grandjunctioncitycolorado>

78.3% White

17% Hispanic or Latino

Median household income - $52, 504

2019 income limit area - $55, 750 for a family of 4

A few data points from the Grand Valley Housing Needs Assessment published June 22:

- 25-34 years and 45-64 years are the predominant age groups of people moving into the Grand Valley
- 26% of Clifton residents live in poverty - the highest rate in Mesa County; Clifton, GI, Fruita, and Palisade saw poverty rates increase between 2010-2019
- Palisade and Clifton median gross rents increased by double digits
- 44% of D51 students qualify for free/reduced lunch

How will your proposed location attract and be accessible to low and moderate income households?

There are three census tracts under current consideration:

- 8 (Las Colonias) - median family income = $51, 055
- 17.02 (Palisade) - median family income = $66, 250

According to the 2019 CDE School Accountability Report Cards:

- At Dos Rios - 82% of tested students in ELA (3rd-5th grade) qualify for free/reduced lunch and 40% were designated minority students
- At Chipeta - 80% of tested students in ELA (3rd-5th grade) qualified for free/reduced lunch and 49% were minority students
- At Taylor Elementary - 46% of tested students in ELA (3rd-5th) qualified for free/reduced lunch and 22% were designated as minority students.

Current MVMCS student's zip codes: (shows that families will travel)

- Delta 1
- Palisade 2
- Fruita 7
- Clifton 5
- Grand Junction 34

How will your proposed location support the building of a racially diverse student population?

Our goal is to find a building in the community near Los Colonias which would access students from the surrounding areas that are racially and economically diverse. Another possibility would be to look for a shop front building in downtown Grand Junction or Palisade to tap into the surrounding community.

What are the existing Montessori and educational opportunities within a 15 mile radius of your community? Who do they serve? Are there any gaps between the existing Montessori and other educational opportunities currently offered and the current needs in the community?

Monument View Montessori Charter School (EC-IE) is in Fruita, CO on 1956 US-6. Heart Song Montessori(EC) is in downtown Grand Junction on 248 S 4th St. Current MVMCS student's zip codes: (shows that families will travel)

- Delta 1

- Palisade 2
- Fruita 7
- Clifton 5
- Grand Junction 34

Heart Song's student base are primarily from Grand Junction. It is a tuition based school with a few Ccap positions.

74% were at or above benchmark in reading

Taylor Elementary:

Engagement and Partnerships

Building relationships with families and other community members serves many important purposes: providing a way for you to deeply understand the needs of your community, building trust, and eventually identifying families to enroll.

Family Engagement Exercise

Creating an inclusive, intentionally diverse school means you will be interacting with families from a range of backgrounds. Imagine a prospective family approaches you about your school with the following questions. Respond as though you were sharing with them about your school. As you craft your answers, reflect on who the parents in your community are: their multiple identities, their relationship to Montessori, their childcare needs, their hopes for their children, etc. This is a great exercise to role play with your co-TL or friends/family.

Question from family	1-2 line answers
What do you do? This can be simple and to the point: "We are a charter Montessori school serving children ages 6-12 in Minneapolis."	We are a free, authentic Montessori Charter school in a micro school setting serving children ages 5-9 in Grand Junction.
How is this Montessori school different from traditional childcare?	A Montessori education is a path for peace; one that educates the whole child in areas of knowledge and allows for individual exploration, magnifying their perspective of self to the Universe.
Who is on the founding team and what do you bring?	Both Emma Reicks and myself bring multiple years of teaching and leadership experience, in addition to our love of Montessori Philosophy.
Why are you passionate about this work?	I want to empower my students to realize that they have the ability to change the world, whether that means focusing on the environment, peace, equity, justice and/or their own personal quest for knowledge.
What are the expectations for me as a parent/guardian enrolling my child in your school?	To engage in your child's educational journey by being an active participant in the school and at home.

Community Engagement Exercise

Start by reading through Wildflower's Local Partnerships for Marketing one-pager. Next, fill out this chart identifying 3 local community partners you plan to engage.

Partner	What will you do to develop this partnership?	What do you think you will be able to collaborate on?
Example: Southside Parent Network	I will set up a meeting with the parent who leads this network to introduce myself and the school. I will offer to share SPN events with my families.	We could collaborate on a joint event that provides an info session to the network about Montessori education.
1. Local Library	I will set up a meeting with the person who organizes events at the main branch and then reach out to other branches to schedule a time to introduce myself and the school.	We could provide demonstrations and information sessions on the Montessori Method.
2. Eureka-local kids science museum and education center	I will set up a meeting with the executive director to introduce myself and the school in the hopes to create a partnership.	We could collaborate on how Montessori education encompasses science education by giving a demonstration. We will also ask to advertise for our school at their museum.
3. Grand Junction Parks and Recreation Center	I will set up a meeting with the director of Parks and Recreation Center to introduce myself and our school.	We could collaborate on a parent education night on the benefits of a Montessori Education.

Learning and Growth Plan

Wildflower teacher leaders have found certain skills, knowledge, and mindsets to be particularly important to develop as you go through the process of starting a school. No teacher comes into this journey fully ready, but all of us at Wildflower are lifelong learners on a path of growth. Reflecting on these areas will help you make an informed decision about what your unique path will look like and what support you will need along the way.

Begin by reflecting on the questions below. Then, have a conversation with your Operations Guide and/or your Growth & Connectedness Coach to produce a summary outlining your growth plan and intentions as you move forward.

Montessori

This looks like Montessori certification, strong grounding in Montessori theory, and experience as a lead guide in an authentic Montessori classroom.

- Where am I relative to that?
- What is my investment in getting there?
- What support will I need to get there?

Equity Mindset

This looks like regular, ongoing unpacking of your own racial identity and socialization within a white dominant culture, creating a school environment in which the needs of all children are met and the identities of all children are celebrated, and actively addressing the legacy of racism in your school.

- Where am I relative to that?
- What is my investment in getting there?
- What support will I need to get there? (See Wildflower's list of vetted equity trainings & consultants)

Administrative/Small Business Experience

This looks like comfort with finance & budgeting, tax & legal compliance, facilities management, marketing, admissions, enrollment, HR, parent communication/support, and assistant teacher hiring/support.

- Where am I relative to that?
- What is my investment in getting there?
- What support will I need to get there?

Entrepreneurial Mindset

This looks like starting something from scratch, finding creative solutions when tough challenges arise, and actively collaborating with a network for support.

- Where am I relative to that?
- What is my investment in getting there?
- What support will I need to get there?

Self-Management & Wholeness

This looks like leading a classroom with an equal teacher leader partner, co-directing the operations of your school, talking openly about feelings, practicing self-care, and learning to use conflict as a tool for healing & growth.

- Where am I relative to that?
- What is my investment in getting there?
- What support will I need to get there? (See Wildflower's list of vetted coaches)

Local Licensing Requirements

This looks like meeting local licensing requirements to both teach and administer my school.

- Where am I relative to that?
- What is my investment in getting there?
- What support will I need to get there?

After meeting with your Operations Guide and/or Growth & Connectedness Coach about these reflections, write up a summary of your growth plan and intentions moving forward in the chart below.

	Priority Areas for Development	Resources and Timeline
Montessori	Creating a resource for collaboration with Emma	Emma is the resource. On-going process for theory/practice meetings.
Equity Mindset	Opportunities to share as much diverse collaboration with community members and materials as possible	Continuously reaching out to people and resources in the community
Administrative/Small Business Experience	Tax, budgeting, and legal	Wildflower, Emma has experience, and community members
Entrepreneurial Mindset	Support with boundaries, self-care and time-management	Wildflower, reaching out to other schools and their leaders for feedback on best practices, setting ongoing systems for checking in with each other
Self-Management & Wholeness	Not being afraid of conflict and using conflict as an area for progress and growth	Wildflower, and understanding and learning the ways of working. Self-exploration through research and professional development

Inspiration: How will my leadership/our school be different because of what I'm prioritizing for my growth? What do I find energizing about my path?

I think by awareness and planning my prioritizing for growth will shape the foundation of our school. I am energized by keeping those priorities at the forefront of everything we do. Just like my students, I want to continue to learn and grow by focusing on doing my very best.

Support: What am I most nervous about? Where will I need support?

I am most nervous about the tax, budget and legal responsibilities. I will rely on WF, Emma's previous experience, and the expertise of surrounding community members.

Strength: What have I experienced and what skills have I built that I'm bringing with me and will leverage?

My 26 years of experience as a teacher whether in the arts or as a Montessori guild will bring a level of maturity, knowledge, professionalism, and adaptability to our school. My collaborative skills will be an asset to my co-teacher/leader, staff, and community, on top of my love of the Montessori method.

Advice Process Toolkit

1. Watch this 4 minute video on the role of the Advice Process in the SSJ

2. Select your advice-givers

These should include 2 current teacher leaders (1 from your hub if you are in an established hub), 1 foundation partner, and any other stakeholder in your decision to open a school (e.g., a community member or parent). Your Operations Guide can help you select your advice givers.

Questions to help you identify advice-givers:

- Who will be affected by my decision to open a Wildflower school?
- What burning questions are on my mind? What are the skillsets/profiles that might help address those questions?
- Are there Teacher Leaders at Wildflower who have opened schools similar to mine that I can ask to be advice-givers?
- Have I chosen a group of people with diverse, varied perspectives?

2.

3. Plan for your advice session

This Exploration Advice Process Facilitation Guide includes a core set of questions you may ask during your advice session.

4. Engage in your advice session

You will facilitate a conversation to seek advice on your Exploration Album. The guide above can help frame your conversation. You will lead this conversation, and your Operations Guide often joins as an observer.

5. After your advice session, summarize advice received & share your summary with your advice-givers

Document the advice you received in the chart below. Share this with your advice givers to see if they still have additional advice or questions about decisions you've made.

6. Close the loop on your advice process

If advice-givers have no open questions after reading your summary, your advice process loop is closed and you can continue along with your decision. If any advice-giver still has open questions after reading the advice summary, they take the initiative to have a compassionate conversation with you until issues are resolved. If you choose not to take advice, and the advice giver feels that the decision will cause harm, the advice-giver can raise Conflict Resolution (e.g., a facilitated conversation) to build more understanding and move to a resolution. This resolution would mean your advice process loop is closed. Your Operations Guide can provide support in moving through the Conflict Resolution Process.

7. Inform your Operations Guide that you are moving into Planning.

WMPSC Growth and Accountability Cycle & Site Review Process Criteria

The responsibility of the School Accountability Committee is to work closely with Teacher Leaders and the Shared Services Partner to collect, review, report, and evaluate the goals outlined in Section C: Goals, Objective & Pupil Performance Standards and to meet Colorado SB 10-191. The Student Accountability Committee (SAC) stewards the Shared Services Provider and Teacher Leaders to complete the School Leadership Evaluation Cycle and all board members hold a responsibility to be active in the annual cycle. Board training is provided to support charter-wide, site-specific, and Leadership accountabilities.

While our school accountability processes rely on largely the same inputs and have the same aims as traditional systems, the internal mechanics of the WMPSC system are very different. We believe most people are intrinsically motivated to do good work and that they have the deepest insight into their own performance. We see the most important aspect of accountability as being accountable to oneself. Relatedly, we think of the most impacted stakeholders in retention or compensation decisions as being the individuals themselves. For these reasons, all of our accountability processes center on the individual, who coordinates the process to gather input into their own performance (both absolute and relative), considers goals and results, considers context and determines any next steps. The same self-management tools we use for other decisions - the right of stakeholders to object to harmful decisions through the Conflict Resolution Process and Radical Transparency - provide important guardrails to ensure that decisions are made in the service of WMPSC's mission and vision.

Every touchpoint of the Growth and Accountability Cycle includes different stakeholders and we will actively seek family and community voices to be advice givers in decision-making. Below is a summary of the Annual Leadership Growth and Accountability Cycle for Shared Services and Teacher Leaders, explained below and detailed in a Growth and Accountability Toolkit, in development during the Planning Year:

Annual Leadership Growth and Accountability Cycle for Shared Services Partner and Teacher Leaders

Tools to support self-management

Timeline

Stakeholders involved in feedback

----------------------------	-----------------	--

DEIB Agreement 'Shelf Work' Reflection	February-April	Community Design Team Member, Teacher Leader, Parent Board Rep
--	----------------	--

Annual Community Site Survey / Net Promoter score	March	Anonymous survey for all stakeholders in the community
---	-------	--

Growth and Accountability Cycle: Shared Services Partner

The School Accountability Committee will define and steward an annual Growth and Accountability Cycle for the Shared Services Partner. The purpose of this process is to support the year-long cycle, designed to hold school leadership accountable through frequent touchpoints looking at the following elements:

- Charter-wide progress on each element of WMPPSC's established charter goals;
- Progress towards mission-related goals, such as:
  - Community engagement in school site neighborhoods;
  - Belonging and identity affirming site culture;
  - Equity approach and modeling;
- Ability to activate the Advice Process and Conflict Resolution Process with staff, Teacher Leaders, and Board;
- Fiscal health of WMPPSC;
- Staff satisfaction and retention;
- Student attendance and retention.

Growth and Accountability Cycle: Teacher Leaders

For a Teacher Leader, this would start with collection of family and peer input and incorporation of student achievement results and other results, all facilitated by processes supported by WMPPSC staff. If the Shared Services Partner or board members have direct exposure to the Teacher Leader's work, they may provide input at this stage as well. Once an individual has considered all of the input and integrated it with their own perspectives to form an opinion on the whether they should continue in their role, what they should focus on developmentally, and what if anything should happen to their compensation, the Shared Services Partner and the School Accountability Committee of the Board have the formal opportunity to offer advice – for example, to suggest that an individual overweighed one aspect of input vs. another or underappreciated the value or consequence of some aspect of the individual's work, or even that they came to the wrong decision on whether they should continue in their role. Next, the individual considers advice, and may refine their determination and next steps. At this point, the Shared Services Partner and the School Accountability Committee receive the evaluations, and they can object to any decisions they identify as harmful.

Outside the formal processes described above, school accountability happens on an ongoing basis through the functioning of strong self-management processes. As an example, if one Teacher Leader believes that their partner should leave WMPPSC, the Conflict Resolution Process gives clear guidance for what to do with that thought to take action. The process can result in a Teacher Leader departure. If a Teacher Leader at one site believes that another site in the charter is not meeting charter goals and mission, they would also use the Conflict Resolution Process which could result in changes to that site. These conversations can be initiated by any employee of the charter network, including Teacher Leaders, Board Members, or charter-wide staff. The hallmark of this system is that it gives individuals and the Board access to a tremendous amount of information along the way. These stakeholders can step in when they think things are headed in the wrong direction, but it makes explicit something that good managers do in traditional arrangements: it leaves individuals in charge of the most important decisions that impact their work and career except in the unusual case where an individual demonstrates an inability to handle that responsibility.

Site Review Process

Because our charter is made up of multiple sites, each site is held accountable to charter-wide performance and meeting charter goals. The Site Review Process is the annual process used by WMPPSC stakeholders to review every site under the charter (Appendix H_WMPPSC Site Review Process Draft). Stakeholders included in this process are the site Teacher Leaders, a Board Officer, Shared Services Partner, Operations or Finance Partner, and parents / guardians. During the Site Review Process, stakeholders use defined criteria to provide Teacher Leaders advice on the site's operation and alignment with the WMPPSC mission.

Beyond this annual process as a routine practice, the Teacher Leaders will provide the Board regular updates on site progress and performance, and the Shared Services Partner will report on charter-wide performance. During the Planning Year, we will seek to refine these processes with the advice from stakeholders close to the decision making, including Teacher Leaders, parents, families, Community Design Team, and Shared Services Partner.

WMPPSC Site Review Process

The Site Review Process is one of the Growth and Accountability Cycle Tools completed annually and used by WMPPSC stakeholders to observe and interview every site under the charter. Stakeholders included in this process include: site Teacher Leaders, Shared Services Partner, Board Officer, Parent/Guardian Board Rep, Site Parent, and 1 staff member.

During the Site Review Process, stakeholders use the WMPPSC Criteria to validate the site team's request for realignment and provide them advice on the site's operation. The Matrix is intended to ensure and document that each new site is appropriately aligned with WMPPSC's mission and charter-wide accountabilities.

Teacher Leaders set up the Site Review process by December 1 and will usually occur between January and April of each school year; within 30 days after the site visit occurs, the Teacher Leader ; the process is complete by May 1.

In response to the written evidence, advice and visits, the School Accountability Committee of the Board of Directors will provide the Teacher Leader site team with detailed feedback on how the site continues to align with Charter Goals criteria. Validation responses include the following:

- Aligned: the Board has determined that the site aligns with WMPPSC Site Review Criteria.
- Aligned with Conditions: the Board believes that the site does not fully align with Site Review Criteria, and must achieve one or more specific conditions or milestones to satisfy such conditions within 45 days.
- Does not Align: Shared Services Partner along with the Board Chair will work with Teacher Leaders to make significant changes within 45 days and the broader charter community will be informed of the shifts.
- Recommendations: Stakeholders and the Board may provide recommendations for any of the above validation responses; recommendations represent the informed suggestions of the Board.

Following the site review feedback, Teacher Leaders will prioritize three primary ways that the Board and Operations staff can help Teacher Leaders sustain their site.

Self Management Ways of Working

Our values and norms lead us to ways of working that are at once collaborative and independent. Each of us has substantial freedom, and there are limits to our freedom shaped by the freedoms of others.

At the heart of our approach to self-management is the idea that decisions get made in the process of doing work, by the person doing the work, without the need for ratification by others. Four systems and processes allow us to work in this way:

- The Roles and Responsibilities Process
- The Advice Process
- The Conflict Resolution Process
- Radical Transparency

Supported by these processes and Wildflower's values and norms, every Wildflower partner is free to act without supervision or management as they work to bring energy to a role.

Roles & Responsibilities Process

Wildflower is an ecosystem of organizations with common purpose and shared values and community norms. Each organization within the Wildflower ecosystem must have a process for assigning roles and responsibilities that aligns with these foundations.

The common components of role and responsibility processes at Wildflower are:

1330 Lagoon Ave, 4th Floor, Minneapolis, MN 55408

1. A role is a discrete activity or group of activities that has a purpose, one or more responsibilities or accountabilities, and may also have authority to allocate particular resources or make particular decisions. All roles and responsibilities derive their individual purpose from their capacity to contribute to the Wildflower ecosystem's expression of its overall purpose
2. Roles and responsibilities are public. They must be accessible within an organization and across the Wildflower ecosystem
3. An organization's list of roles and responsibilities must cover all of the organization's work, and because roles and responsibilities evolve continuously, there must be clear ownership for as-yet-unspecified roles and responsibilities
4. Every partner can propose new roles and responsibilities within their own organization that they deem necessary to carry out their own roles or express their organization's purpose; and every organization can propose new roles and responsibilities of other organizations within the ecosystem
5. Roles and responsibilities can only be assigned to a partner with their consent
6. The specific processes for creating and assigning roles and responsibilities vary across organizations, but the processes must be clear and publicly accessible for all to see in every organization

The most important organizations within the Wildflower ecosystem are Wildflower schools.

Wildflower schools may use any role and responsibility assignment process they choose so long as it meets the tests laid out above, and they are also free to use the sensible default Teacher-Leader Role and Responsibility process. Here are several examples of the ways schools have outlined their Roles and Responsibilities.

The Wildflower Foundation's purpose is to foster the overall success of the Wildflower ecosystem, and as such the foundation is responsible for any role that cuts across multiple organizations that is not explicitly held by some other Wildflower organization. These roles and responsibilities may include providing support to other Wildflower organizations and stewarding shared assets. As the steward of Wildflower's brand, the foundation establishes the processes by which organizations may start to use the brand and thereby join the Wildflower ecosystem, and through which organizations maintain the right to continue to use the brand and participate in the Wildflower ecosystem on an ongoing basis. The Wildflower Foundation has adopted the Holacracy constitution as its framework for creating, amending and assigning roles for the foundation's own work and for all cross-organizational work within the Wildflower ecosystem.

The Wildflower Foundation

1330 Lagoon Ave, 4th Floor, Minneapolis, MN 55408

All people energizing any role in any organization within the Wildflower ecosystem are Partners of The Wildflower Foundation and can participate in the foundation's roles and responsibilities process.

Advice Process

In the process of energizing a role, partners in the Wildflower ecosystem will frequently face choices or consider actions that impact others, within their own organizations and across Wildflower organizations. In a typical organization, decisions impacting multiple stakeholders are made through hierarchy or consensus, neither of which align with our commitment to autonomy with support. At Wildflower, we trust in each of us to make decisions that support the expression of Wildflower's purpose, and we use the advice process to ensure that decision-makers are fully informed about stakeholder perspectives before decisions get made.

When a partner faces a situation of making a choice that impacts others, they must follow the advice process.

The Steps of the Advice Process

1. Confirm that she has the authority to make the decision or take the action in question. This is done by reviewing the public roles and responsibilities lists. If decision-making authority is ambiguous, the partner must clarify authority through the roles and responsibilities process before acting.
2. Determine who else within the Wildflower ecosystem is a stakeholder in the decision – because it impacts that person's ability to carry out her role. If it isn't clear whether a decision impacts other partners' ability to carry out their roles, the decision-maker must publicly post the impending decision to allow other partners the opportunity to let her know about any potential impacts.
3. Ask for advice from other partners impacted by the decision, following the parameters below, and welcome unsolicited advice from other partners even if you did not recognize them as stakeholders or solicit their input.
4. Offer impacted stakeholders the opportunity to object, if the stakeholder disagrees with the decision-maker's authority to make the decision or if a course of action will do harm. (A stakeholder's preference for an alternative course of action is not grounds for objecting.) If a

The Wildflower Foundation

1330 Lagoon Ave. 4th Floor, Minneapolis, MN 55408

- stakeholder objects, the decision-maker must adjust their proposed course of action to resolve the objection, or they may challenge the objection through the conflict resolution process.
5. Once the decision-maker has solicited the advice of the stakeholders and resolved any objections, the decision-maker can go ahead and make their decision, after which she should close the loop with anyone who offered advice and publicly post the decision. This includes explaining her rationale and decision to anyone whose advice she chose not to follow.

The Rules of the Advice Process

1. The overall purpose of this advice process is meant to ensure that decisions are made only after considering the input of stakeholders. This means that, at a minimum, advice must be solicited at the point when a decision is ready to be made, generally by laying out a proposal for the decision. When generating the proposal itself is a time-consuming task, advice may (and generally should) be sought earlier in the process with less formality, but this does not replace the need to seek advice at the decision stage.
2. The advice process is meant to have the adviser assume the perspective of the decision-maker, not to “vote” from their own perspective as a stakeholder. When asking for advice, ask what the stakeholder would do if she were the decision-maker. Don’t ask about her personal preferences. When offering advice, though you may make reference to personal preferences, respond in total as if you are being asked to make the decision. As noted in the roles and responsibilities process, the purpose of each role at Wildflower derives from its potential to contribute to the overall ecosystem’s expression of Wildflower’s purpose, and thus every partner is expected to make decisions and offer advice consistent with the greater good.
3. When asking for advice, you must share your objectives and any relevant context that impacts the decision. When asked for advice, if you do not feel you have enough context to give advice, you may ask for additional context.
4. When you recommend against a course of action, and in particular when you object to a course of action, be as specific as possible about your concerns, and offer a positive alternative if you can, or a path to addressing the objection you raised. When you receive advice that recommends against a course of action, you may ask for additional specificity or a positive alternative.
5. You may choose not to give advice, if you don’t have a strong opinion or if you don’t have time to give advice. This allows people to ask for advice more freely, knowing that you won’t feel an obligation to respond. Generally, no-advice is taken by the decision-maker to mean either that you trust her judgment and don't feel the need to give input, or that you agree with the path that the decision-maker is considering.

1330 Lagoon Ave, 4th Floor, Minneapolis, MN 55408

6. While you may put out a request for advice in public settings (e.g., through public posting or faculty meetings), you should always invite the advice itself to be offered privately, and when you offer advice, you should usually do so privately (e.g., through a direct conversation or a direct email). Offering advice publicly (e.g., through a reply-all) tends to crowd out divergent thinking.

Solicited vs. Unsolicited Advice

You need not be asked for advice in order to offer it. If you see a decision being considered and believe you are a stakeholder, let the decision-maker know that you'd like to be considered a stakeholder and offer advice. If you discover this after a decision has already been made, let the decision-maker know and offer your advice after the fact. Few decisions are permanent, and everyone can learn from situations like these. If you see a decision not being made, or an action not being taken, and you would be a stakeholder if the decision or action were considered, you may offer unsolicited advice to suggest a course of action as well. If you would like to give advice in a situation where you are not a stakeholder, you may offer to do so, but the decision-maker is not required to consider advice from non-stakeholders and not obligated to explain their rationale if they choose not to take such advice.

As always, if any of us are concerned that a partner has not followed the advice process, we are invited to use the conflict resolution process to resolve our concerns.

Conflict Resolution Process

In a hierarchical system, differences of opinion are addressed by decision-making from above. In Wildflower organizations, absent a hierarchy, we turn to a conflict resolution process that engages our core values of connectedness and growth and seeks to resolve tensions and build our individual and collective capacity for self-management at the same time.

The principal mechanism for this process is direct compassionate conversation between partners - through which we grow our understanding, compassion, and connectedness, and from which we can grow, personally and as a community. It is often the case that a creative and unifying solution is the natural outgrowth of the compassionate conversation approach. In alignment with our commitment to autonomy with support, when direct conversation does not produce a mutually acceptable solution, we offer additional supports and structure to the process, as described below.

The Wildflower Foundation

1330 Lagoon Ave, 4th Floor, Minneapolis, MN 55408

Any partner may initiate a conflict resolution process with respect to any decision made by any other Wildflower partner, within an organization or across organizations in the ecosystem, that impacts her ability to carry out one of her roles.

Stages of the Conflict Resolution Process

1. A Direct Compassionate Conversation:

The first step for an individual (or group) who has a tension is to directly request an un-facilitated compassionate conversation with the person (or group) involved. Our hope is that tensions will be addressed and solutions identified through this conversation, but we recognize this may not always be possible. At any point, either party may elect to move to the next stage of the process.

2. A Peer Facilitated Compassionate Conversation:

If the concern is not addressed (and/or some tensions remain) after an un-facilitated conversation, any of the participants may request the support of any mutually-agreeable peer facilitator. Wildflower will provide optional training to individuals interested in facilitating such conversations. Our hope is that tensions will be addressed and solutions identified through this conversation, but we recognize this may not always be possible. At any point, either party may elect to move to the next stage of the process.

3. A Professionally Facilitated Conversation:

If the concern is not resolved through a peer-facilitated compassionate conversation, the parties may turn to a coach/facilitator trained in conflict-resolution. Our hope is that tensions will be addressed and solutions identified through this conversation, but we recognize this may not always be possible. At any point, either party may elect to move to the next stage of the process.

The Wildflower Foundation

4a. For Conflicts within The Wildflower Foundation or that Cross Organizational Boundaries, The Conflict-Resolution Panel:

If the concern is not resolved through a professionally facilitated compassionate conversation, any participant may choose to bring the concern to the Wildflower Conflict-Resolution Panel, comprised of three to five individuals selected by the Lead Link of the Foundation Administration circle serving one year, renewable terms. To a greater extent than in the prior phases of the process, the Conflict-Resolution Panel may share its perspective on the issues surfaced by the conflict, and unlike in prior phases, they may make binding determinations on topics such as interpreting Wildflower's founding documents. Sometimes, solutions may be generated or tensions resolved directly in this setting, but often the panel will make a suggestion on a narrow aspect of the conflict, with the hope that the parties will then be able to resolve the conflict through direct or facilitated compassionate conversation. In some cases, the panel will decide that the substance of a particular decision is sufficiently consequential or far reaching that they will choose to invite the Lead Link of the Foundation Administration circle to join the panel before making a decision.

Though we leave nearly all decision making in the hands of our Partners using our self-management processes, we reserve two particular decisions that emerge from conflict for the conflict resolution panel inclusive of the CEO of The Wildflower Foundation: involuntary termination of a Partner's employment with The Wildflower Foundation or dissolving the affiliation between an individual Wildflower school or organization and the broader Wildflower community.

4b. For Conflicts within a Single Wildflower Organization Other than the Foundation

When conflicts emerge within a single organization other than the Foundation, that organization's board of directors shall serve as the Conflict Resolution Panel, unless that role has been explicitly delegated to another individual or group of people.

Rules of the Conflict Resolution Process

- Participation is required. All partners must honor the request for a compassionate conversation from another partner, and must engage as an opportunity to cultivate greater clarity,

The Wildflower Foundation

1330 Lagoon Ave, 4th Floor, Minneapolis, MN 55408

- alignment, and good will. If the request for a facilitated conversation is refused, then the requester may bring the matter directly to the Conflict Resolution Panel
- Facilitators are not decision-makers. They may share perspectives with participants to help them observe the situation more clearly or consider alternative framings, but it is up to the participants to incorporate those perspectives as they see fit. Participants are not required to compromise during facilitated conversations, though there is nothing wrong with anyone choosing to compromise of their own volition

Radical Transparency

Transparency across the entire Willdflower ecosystem at all times and on nearly all topics allows us to learn from one another, catch one another's mistakes, and collaborate with each other. By default, all information should be shared across all partners in the Willdflower ecosystem, and with the public as well. In some cases, we place limits on that for the short-term - for example, we ultimately intend to make all compensation information public, but we have not yet decided how we will do that. In some other cases, we treat an information as personal and we leave it up to the discretion of an individual as to whether to share it. Sometimes, we encourage that sharing as a part of our commitment to radical transparency; but we recognize that partners may need time to develop comfort with sharing. Other times, we treat information as private to an individual and leave it entirely up to them about whether they share.

Information that Should Always Be Shared

- Information about what each of us are working on – through to do lists and project status updates
- Information about how we are doing our work - project plans when they exist and budgets including all detail other than salary information (see note below)
- Information about the impact or results of our work – information about aggregate student learning and development, parent satisfaction and fundraising progress

The Willdflower Foundation

Information that Should Ultimately Be Shared Transparently, but is Not Yet

- Salary information

Personal Information, Shared at the Discretion of the Individual

1. An individual's description of their own evolutionary edge - what areas she's working to grow in. We support and encourage maximum transparency for this
2. Tensions that any of us feel - as a result of a lack of clarity regarding the ownership of a decision or a role, or a disconnect between our expectations for how something would happen and how it actually happened. We support and encourage maximum transparency for this as well, but do not share other people's concerns without their consent
3. Other personal information - we leave it to each person's discretion to bring personal information into the public sphere, and we do not share potentially personal information on behalf of others
4. Details about individual student or family financial or educational situations should remain private unless the student/family explicitly decides to share it

WMPSC Financial Policies and Procedures

WMPSC will follow all state and federal requirements regarding financial budgeting, accounting and reporting. WMPSC will follow the Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) established by the Financial Accounting Standards Board to ensure controls, prevent fraud and use and manage funds appropriately and most effectively. The Board of Directors will approve and, along with staff, implement strict internal systems and financial policies to maintain compliance with all relevant local and federal financial regulations. Management of funds will be as transparent as possible to facilitate straightforward auditing, and the Board of Directors' Finance Committee will work with the Board Treasurer and the Finance Partner to create and maintain an Internal Systems and Financial Policies Handbook to outline the practices that will most effectively ensure legal compliance. During the planning year, WMPSC will contract with an external financial consultant or financial services provider ("Financial Services Provider") to assist with the establishment and initial implementation of financial management. It is expected that in Year 2, finances will begin to be managed in-house with a Finance Partner.

WMPSC will maintain appropriate internal controls to ensure protection of the school's financial resources. This includes separation of duties as much as possible, careful review of all bank statements, credit card transactions, second signature on large checks, and tight processes for accounts payable and receivable.

Financial Policies and Procedures Handbook

In developing the WMPSC Financial Policies Handbook the school will review and implement best practices, and use the following references as resources to ensure compliance: The Financial Policies and Procedures of the District; The Colorado Department of Education Financial Policies and Procedures Handbook; Colorado Revised Statutes (C.R.S.); Colorado Code of Regulations (C.C.R.); Federal laws as contained in the United States Code (U.S.C.); Federal regulations and other guidance as published in the Federal Register; Governmental Accounting and Financial Reporting Standards, published by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board. Codification is updated annually as of June 30th.

Topics that will be covered by the Financial Policies and Procedures Handbook include: Board Powers and Duties; Budgeting Process; Fiscal Accounting, Reporting and Inventories; Audits and Financial Monitoring; Financial Reporting and Transparency; Banking Services Deposit of Funds, Authorized Signatures, Allowable Investments; Check Writing and Card Purchasing; Procurement Procedures; Expenditures; Reimbursements; Contracts; Equipment Control and Disposition; Ethics and Conflicts of Interests (for staff and board members); Loans and Lines of Credit; Financial Records Retention; Payroll; Cash Receipts and Handling; Risk Management; and other relevant financial controls, policies, and procedures.

Financial Services Provider

WMPPSC will partner with a Financial Services Provider for support on financial management and controls until the Finance Partner is hired in Year 2. The Financial Services Provider will support charter and site leadership in developing and implementing financial policies and procedures. Ongoing training and guidance provided by APS will be incorporated into the financial policies & internal systems; financial policies & procedures will be reviewed by the Board of Directors, Operations Partner, and Financial Services Provider and/or Finance Partner at least annually to ensure continued compliance.

Bookkeeping

The accounting provider and Financial Services Provider and/or Finance Partner will use an industry standard accounting software program to maintain books and prepare reports to the Board, any external monitors and APS. Revenue and expenditures will be tracked and reported consistent with the Colorado Department of Education's Financial Policies and Procedures Handbook and Chart of Accounts.

Expenditures

Authorization and Processing of Disbursements: The charter will follow established fiscal policies covering charter and site expenditures and specific check signing authority, which will include dollar thresholds that require Board approval. Only the Financial Services Provider and Shared Services Partner will have the authority to sign checks or otherwise authorize payments (for example, via electronic accounts payable system). Dual signatures, including at least one from the Treasurer or Board Chair, will be required on checks over a pre-established dollar threshold.

Depositories and Investments

Banking Arrangements / Reconciliation: WMPPSC will maintain its accounts at a federally insured and Colorado Public Depository Protection Act ("PDPA") approved commercial bank. Funds will be deposited in non-speculative accounts including federally insured savings or checking accounts or invested as allowed under C.R.S. 24-75-101, et. seq.. Bank statements will be sent directly to the charter for review and reconciliation. The Financial Services Provider will forward monthly reconciliations to the Board Treasurer as well.

Financial Reporting

Internal Reporting: Upon hire, the Financial Services Provider will provide detailed financial reports to the Board monthly. These reports will include at minimum a revenue and expense statement, a balance sheet and cash projections. Prior to every Board meeting, the Treasurer and the Finance Committee will meet to review these financial statements. The committee will present the report to the Board and discuss financial performance in the context of the school's financial goals.

External Reporting: As needed, the Financial Services Provider will develop financial reports for dissemination to all appropriate stakeholders on behalf of WMPSC and its Board of Directors. An auditor that will not be the same firm as the Financial Services Provider, selected by the Finance Committee from APS and OSSE approved auditor list, will prepare audited financial statements on an annual basis and file the Form 990.

WMPSC will comply with all Uniform Guidance and other federal regulations for federally funded purchases.

Financial Transparency

The WMPSC Steering Committee is dedicated to efficient and effective financial oversight and transparency. We will follow the Required Financial Transparency found in the Colorado Public School Financial Transparency Act, Colorado Revised Statutes, 22-44-304.

Annual Audits

The approved auditor list will be used to select an independent CPA to perform annual audits in full compliance with the Colorado laws and APS requirements. The Board's Finance Committee will be accountable for interviewing potential auditors and recommending the top candidates to the Board of Directors for selection. The Board will then decide which auditor to use. The Board and WMPSC Financial Services Provider and Teacher Leaders will provide the auditor with all requested information with transparency and responsiveness. At the end of each audit engagement, the auditor will present their report at a Board of Directors meeting, at which the Financial Services Provider and Teacher Leaders are present, in keeping with practices aligned with self-governance. The Board of Directors will file a copy of the completed audit with APS each year by the deadline specified by the APS.

Annual Budgeting

The annual budget is the financial plan for the operation of the school. The annual operating budget will be based on a fiscal year which shall be from July 1 to June 30. It provides the framework for both expenditures and revenues for the year and future years and translates into financial terms the educational programs and objectives of the school. The budget must be developed and presented in accordance with all applicable state statutes and The Colorado Department of Education Financial Policies and Procedures Handbook. The budget format shall itemize expenditures of the school by fund and show the amount budgeted for the current fiscal year and the amount budgeted for the ensuing fiscal year. The budget also shall disclose planned compliance with spending limitations outlined in Article X, Section 20, of the Colorado constitution, including holding TABOR reserve funds in an unrestricted general fund or in cash funds.

In order to ensure the fiscal health and ongoing financial stability of WMPSC, the following process will be in place:

- The school accountability committee shall make recommendations for the budget and priorities for spending school moneys. The school shall consider the school accountability committee's recommendations regarding spending state, federal, local, or private grants and any other discretionary moneys and take them into account in formulating the proposed budget for presentation to the Board of Directors.
- The Financial Services Provider and/or WMPSC Finance Partner, Shared Services Partner and Teacher Leader(s) with the role of site budgeting will draft individual site budgets annually by each spring. The budget will reflect the mission, values and strategic priorities of each site and WMPSC. It will show a statement of activity, statement of financial position and monthly cash flow projections.
- The Financial Services Provider and/or WMPSC Finance Partner will compile the site budgets into an overall budget for the school and present the budget draft to the Finance Committee. That committee will review the budget to ensure it complies with the WMPSC's long term financial goals and is realistic given the charter's past performance. After incorporating any suggested edits, the Financial Services Provider and the Treasurer will present the draft budget to the Board by May of each year.
- The Board will review the budget to ensure it reflects the charter's mission and strategic priorities and is consistent with WMPSC's long term financial goals. The Board will approve the budget before it is submitted to the APs.

Conflicts of Interest

There will be clear expectations that members of WMPSC's Board of Directors should always act in the collective best interest of the organization and not for individual interests. As such, all Board members and staff persons in decision-making roles will be required to comply with the school's conflicts of interest policies review and Board members will sign a Conflict of Interest Form each year. The purpose of the Conflict of Interest policies and procedures are to protect the overall interests of WMPSC as an organization whenever considering entrance into a transaction or arrangement that might benefit private interests of a member of the Board or staff person in a decision-making role, and the policy will supplement but not replace all applicable state and federal laws governing conflicts of interest. School decision-makers will have a duty to disclose any possible conflicts and a requirement to recuse themselves from involvement in decisions where there exists or may exist a conflict of interest, and clear procedures will be established for the determination of whether a conflict of interest does or does not exist. For Board members, the signed Conflict of Interest Form will lay out the Board's procedures for addressing a conflict of interest, and the consequences of a violation to the conflict of interest policy. Among other safeguards, minutes of the Board will contain the names of individual Board members who disclosed or were found to have a financial interest in connection with a conflict of interest, and the conflicted Board members will be precluded from voting on matters pertaining to the Conflict of Interest.

As Schools signing a legal document (i.e. Wildflower Network Membership Agreement) you may decide to seek your own legal counsel for advice and interpretation of terms in the Membership Agreement.

Benefits: Advantages of being part of the Wildflower Network community, facilitated by the work of The Wildflower Foundation and other Member Schools.

Charter School: The legal authority to start and operate a public school that is granted by an authorizer on behalf of a state government. Charter schools receive funding from the government, admit students by lottery, and are tuition-free for all students (starting in kindergarten in some states and as early as PK3 in others). Charter schools are subject to some but not all of the regulations that apply to many district schools. In many states, applying for a charter and staying in compliance with charter regulations requires significant administrative work and so The Wildflower Foundation applies for a charter that will serve multiple sites. When that happens, the multiple sites operate within a single legal entity.

Effective Date: Date of execution and when this agreement becomes binding

Expectations: A Member School's agreed limits to its freedoms that support the common brand and vitality of the Wildflower Network.

Marks: Words, phrases, and styles that the general public identifies with The Wildflower Network and the Wildflower Purpose and Principles. A list of the Marks are available in Exhibit C.

Member / School: A Montessori school, part of the Wildflower Network by virtue of signing a Membership Agreement, led by one or more Teacher Leaders that seeks to express the Wildflower Purpose and Principles. Most Wildflower schools are legally independent nonprofit organizations (with 501(c)3 status and their own Boards of Directors) that are funded through a mix of tuition and government funding and are directly licensed and regulated by a state or territorial government. Member Schools may share a legal entity for the purpose of accessing additional public funding (e.g., to apply for and hold a charter).

Membership Agreement: The document that outlines the terms of membership in the Wildflower Network.

Member School Site (if charter): A single location that is part of a multi-site legal 501c3 charter school organization established by a nonprofit board.

Network Policies: A set of policies maintained by The Wildflower Foundation that include Wildflower's Ways of Working and branding guidelines. The Network Policies are applicable to schools and school sites and accessible through Wildflower Connected.

Teacher Leaders: A person who both serves as a Montessori guide and lead administrator of a Wildflower school.

Wildflower Principles: The nine characteristics present in all Wildflower Member Schools that describe critical ways that our schools bring our purpose, values, and norms to life:

Authentic Montessori	Equity	Beauty
Teacher Led	Innovation	Nature
Shopfront	Home	Network

Wildflower Purpose: At Wildflower, we are committed to the liberation of every human being, every community, and the human spirit, so that we may all live in harmony with our individual purpose and the world around us, free from oppression and able to follow life's unfolding journey.

Martha Briggs is a bilingual Montessori educator who holds a Montessori certificate at the 3-6 level from Montessori Education Center of the Rockies and is currently pursuing a Bachelor's degree in Early Childhood Education from Metropolitan State University of Denver. Upon arriving in the U.S., Martha spoke very little English and was immediately immersed in exclusively English-speaking educational environments where she received no ESL support and experienced significant culture shock. Now, a parent of two Montessori children, Martha is dedicated to ensuring that no child in her community experiences the challenges she did and is committed to supporting the development of schools in which children are safe to be themselves, celebrated for their individual and cultural differences, and encouraged to pursue their own passions throughout their education.

Introduction

Wildflower Montessori Public Schools of Colorado (WMPPSC) is a member of the Wildflower Network of Schools, an innovative, open-source approach to Montessori learning. As part of this network, WMPPSC is developing an ecosystem of Montessori micro-schools that support a diverse mix of children, teachers, and parents on the unfolding journey toward fulfilling their potential. Our aim is to be an experiment in a new learning environment that is accessible to all families, that prioritizes and emphasizes deep parent engagement, and blurs the boundaries between scientists and teachers, between schools and the neighborhoods around them.

WMPPSC is an affiliate of the Wildflower Foundation and authorized by Aurora Public Schools (APS). As such, each of the WMPPSC School Sites must minimally be accountable to the Wildflower Foundation affiliation process and the authorizer contract, including all applicable Colorado laws and APS regulations.

Employee Handbook Purpose

This Employee Handbook serves as a foundational document communicating our shared personnel policies and practices. The WMPPSC Board of Directors has legal accountabilities related to employment practices; therefore, the responsibility for the creation and evolution of this handbook lives with the Human Resources role in the Leadership Circle. Each Site is also welcome and encouraged to bring tensions to the Human Resources role as needed related to this handbook and to explore additional site-specific personnel policies within the Site Appendix. WMPPSC follows Teal Practices as described below, including the Advice Process. In alignment with our Principle of Teacher Led Schools, site-based personnel policies are created and maintained by the Site Teacher Leaders and recorded in each Site's Employee Handbook Appendix.

The guidelines in this handbook are a combination of state- and federally-mandated laws and a set of policies that WMPPSC has developed. Living into teal practice, you are welcome to provide advice on these policies to this handbook's decision-maker, currently held by the Human Resources role. In line with our norms and values, we expect that our school's purpose and policies will evolve over time. This handbook is a living document that will reflect policy evolution, while also retaining mandated content that is required to meet state/federal law and licensing requirements.

Partners

Our school uses the term "partner" to refer to salaried, exempt employees that hold roles within the WMPPSC Holacracy system. The word "partner" is often used in addition to the word "employee" in this handbook. In our way of working, organizations don't control their employees, and people don't control organizations - both are alive and they live symbiotically, in partnership with each other. Partners' responsibilities involve listening to our organization's purpose and energizing roles within the WMPPSC holacracy system. We use the title "partner" to draw our attention to our special role in this relationship.

Our Principles, Values, and Norms

The success of WMPPSC depends upon the ethical conduct of everyone affiliated with our school.

Partners and team members set an example for each other by their pursuit of excellence and their high standards of performance, professionalism and ethical conduct. All of the Sites that are part of WMPPSC are affiliated with the Wildflower Schools Network. We are committed to a common set of Principles, Values, and Norms, that guide our approach and serve as our Code of Ethics.

Professional Development & Growth

One of our core values is Growth. This inspires us to engage in ongoing learning and professional development along our personal and organizational evolutionary paths. This allows Partners to effectively lead their school sites and the School successfully in both instructional and administrative activities. Moreover, it enables us to align with Colorado Department of Education's Educator Professional Development Requirements, outlined in the Colorado Revised Statutes Title 22.

WMPPSC Leadership Circle designates shared school site Professional Development Days, annually. These days are a time for our school staff to come together - often with others in the Wildflower network - to further our personal and professional growth. Moreover, Sites are encouraged to establish time during the school day and school year for peer coaching and teacher collaboration.

WMPPSC is accountable to developing and reporting on a World's Best Workforce plan, which is complementary to the following process for employee evaluation and professional development planning. The World's Best Workforce plan strives to marry student outcome data with teacher-led professional growth strategies that are based in professional teaching standards established in rule.

Employee Evaluation and Continuous Improvement

At least annually, all WMPPSC employees are encouraged to reflect and plan for growth using the WMPPSC Wildflower Growth Worksheet (in process). This worksheet will be used as a portion of the required documentation to meet statutorily required summative evaluation for all employees at least once every three years.

WMPPSC is non-hierarchical. Instead of supervisor-driven evaluation, Partners at WMPPSC rely on peer observation, outside expert/mentor observation, and self-reflection to improve and develop practice.

- Peer Observation: Staff at WMPPSC observe one another, assessing strengths, areas for improvement, and general takeaways/feedback.
- Expert/Mentor Observation: WMPPSC invites outside Montessori experts to observe teacher-leaders twice a year and share takeaways/feedback.
- Reflective Practice: All teacher-leaders record student progress using the Montessori observation and record-keeping system, which allows them to reflect on their own teaching practice as it relates to student progress.

With radical transparency in mind, Partners are encouraged to share their areas for growth (or “evolutionary edge”) with colleagues. Teachers are welcome and encouraged to develop a portfolio demonstrating evidence of reflection and professional growth, including a teacher’s own performance assessment based on evidence of student mastery of Montessori materials as demonstrated using Montessori observation and record-keeping practices.

Teal Practices

Our School strives to live into teal practices, as outlined in Frederic Laloux’s book Reinventing Organizations. Partners at WMPPSC are committed to the following self-management practices:

- The Roles & Responsibilities Process
- The Advice Process
- The Conflict Resolution Process
- Radical Transparency

Charter-Wide Policies

Charter-Wide Policies

WMPPSC posts board-validated policies on our website as required by law. All employees should orient themselves with all current policies as part of their initial onboarding process. The WMPPSC Board is expected to adopt Holacracy as its governance structure tool to document decisions while meeting its governance obligations.

Equal Opportunity Employer

It is WMPPSC’s policy, consistent with state and federal laws and regulations, to provide equal employment opportunities to all applicants for employment. WMPPSC does not discriminate based on an individual’s race, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, disability, genetic information, marital status, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age, sex, or on any other classification protected by law.

This policy governs all aspects of employment at WMPPSC, including hiring, assignments, training, promotions, compensation, employee benefits, leaves of absence, discipline, discharge, and all other terms and conditions of employment.

Fair and Open Hiring

WMPPSC follows a fair and open hiring process, whereby roles may be filled internally with a qualified candidate or by posting the position publically. Partners may hire and fire as authorized in the Partner’s Role(s) and pursuant to following any applicable policies. Partners must use prudent judgment and follow the Advice Process and Conflict Resolution Process as applicable. Partners are encouraged to follow WMPPSC Hiring Guidance.

Background Check and Fingerprinting

All offers of employment and continued employment are subject to successful completion of any required background checks in accordance with applicable state and city laws and regulations. Volunteers and contractors may also be subject to fingerprinting and a criminal background check, particularly if the nature of the work they will perform places them near students. Any individual who will be left unsupervised with students at any time is subject to background check requirements.

Supervision of Non-Partner Team Members

Partners may determine if and when a supervisory relationship is best with team members hired at each Site. It is the responsibility of each Site to onboard site-based non-partner team members, track qualifications, professional development, and performance. The Site is responsible for ensuring compliance with all required training and onboarding based on the ages served and funding sources used.

Employee Status

Full-time Employee - an employee normally scheduled to work at least 40 hours per week. Full-time employees are currently eligible for WMPSC benefits.

Part-time Benefit-Eligible Employee - an employee normally scheduled to work at least 30 hours per week. Part-time employees working at least 30 hours are currently eligible for WMPSC benefits.

Part-time Employee - an employee normally scheduled to work 29 hours or less per week. Part-time employees working 29 hours or less are currently ineligible, except as required by law, for WMPSC benefits.

Temporary Employee - an employee who is hired in a job established for a temporary period or for a specific assignment. This includes teacher positions that are only offered for a specific period of time (such as through the end of the school year, or only for the summer program). Temporary Employees that are regularly scheduled for at least 30 hours per week and are offered a position for more than 30 days are currently eligible for the WMPSC benefits.

Exempt Employee - an employee who is not eligible for overtime pay.

Non-exempt Employee - Non-exempt employees are eligible for paid overtime at one and one-half times their regular rate of pay for all hours worked in excess of 40 hours per workweek. All overtime must be approved in advance by the employee's direct supervisor. The work week is Saturday through Friday for purposes of calculating overtime.

Employee versus Independent Contractor - In the process of filling roles, Teacher Leaders and other partners will follow the WMPSC Hiring Guidance to determine if the role should be considered an employee or independent contractor and should take care in determining the employee status and benefit-eligibility.

At-Will Employment

Employment with WMPPSC is voluntary and subject to termination by the employee or WMPPSC at will, with or without cause, and with or without notice, at any time. Nothing in this policy shall be interpreted to conflict with or to eliminate or modify in any way the employment-at-will status of WMPPSC employees.

Discipline/Discharge

Occasionally performance or other behavior falls short of our principles, values, and norms. In general, the Conflict Resolution Process should be followed so that employees can resolve issues on their own through self-management. However, there are times when the Lead Link of the Leadership Circle, at his/her own discretion, may take action, which in his/her opinion, seems appropriate.

Disciplinary actions can range from a direct compassionate conversation with the employee about the matter (first step in Conflict Resolution) to immediate discharge per the Lead Link's accountability to uphold the core purpose of the circle, including the viability of the charter. Action taken by the Lead Link of the Leadership Circle in an individual case does not establish a precedent in other circumstances.

Separation of Employment

We request that employees who wish to resign their positions notify the School of their anticipated departure date and go over a check out process at separation (conversion of insurance, return of property, delivery of final paycheck, etc.) with the Human Resource role or other partner.

Employees may be considered for re-employment provided they qualify for the position of interest.

Reference Requests

Employees who are approached either formally or informally and asked to provide information about former employees of WMPPSC should first seek advice from the Human Resources role or refer such inquiries to the Human Resources role. This restriction includes recommendations on social media sites.

WMPPSC does not furnish open letters of recommendation addressed "To Whom It May Concern."

Disabilities

It is WMPPSC policy to comply with all federal and state laws concerning the employment of persons with disabilities and to act in accordance with regulations and guidance issued by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC). Furthermore, it is WMPPSC's policy not to discriminate against qualified individuals with disabilities regarding application procedures, hiring, advancement, discharge, compensation, training or other terms, conditions and privileges of employment.

WMPPSC will provide reasonable accommodations to a qualified individual with a disability, as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act, who has made WMPPSC aware of his or her disability in writing.

Confidentiality

Employees who handle student data, employee data, and medical data as part of their duties must treat the information as strictly confidential and only share data on a need to know basis or for bonafide educational purposes as defined in the WMPPSC FERPA Annual Notice and the WMPPSC Data Practices Policy. Staff members who handle student information shall maintain confidentiality of student data in accordance with federal and state law.

Electronic Communication Systems

WMPPSC provides its employees with access to certain information technology resources and communication systems, some of which are provided by the Wildflower Foundation through our affiliation agreement. These resources include, but are not limited to, computers, networks, servers, hardware and software, peripheral devices, mobile devices and cell phones, removable storage media (e.g., USB hard drives), Internet, printers, scanners, and communication systems such as e-mail, text messages, instant messaging (IM) communications, telephone, and voicemail ("IT Resources") to facilitate business-related work and communications. The WMPPSC IT Resources, and all information, data, or communications accessed, created, downloaded, received, stored, and/or transmitted by WMPPSC IT Resources, or personally-owned mobile devices connected to WMPPSC IT Resources, are WMPPSC property.

The WMPPSC does not prohibit employees from incidental personal use of WMPPSC IT Resources, provided such use is not excessive, does not interfere or present a conflict of interest with the employee's job responsibilities, and is consistent with applicable laws, regulations, and established WMPPSC guidelines, including but not limited to, the WMPPSC's guidelines governing inappropriate conduct.

You are expressly advised, however, that in order to: (i) implement configuration and security measures; (ii) prevent misuse; (iii) protect WMPPSC and client proprietary, confidential, and trade secret information; (iii) protect protected health information and/or confidential employee data; (iv) comply with litigation holds and discovery requests; and (v) conduct investigations into suspected or alleged inappropriate conduct, the WMPPSC reserves the right, where permitted by applicable federal, state, and local law to monitor, intercept, preserve, collect, review, and record, without further notice, every employee's activities using the WMPPSC's IT Resources. Such activities may include, but are not limited to, voice communications, whether conducted over traditional telephone or cellular telephones, mobile devices, Internet-based communications, or otherwise, facsimiles, Internet and social media posts and activities (including a record of the web pages visited, information reviewed, and duration of use), and all information, data, or communications accessed, created, used, stored, downloaded, uploaded, received, or transmitted by WMPPSC IT Resources ("Activities").

WMPPSC also may store copies of any data or communications for a period of time after they are accessed, created, downloaded, received, stored, and/or transmitted by WMPPSC IT Resources. Even when a document or communication is erased, the WMPPSC may be able to retrieve the information, including from back-up systems.

Accordingly, employees have no expectation of privacy whatsoever in any Activities conducted on, or facilitated by, WMPPSC IT Resources. Do not use WMPPSC's IT Resources for any matter that you desire to be kept private or confidential from WMPPSC, including personal communications, communications protected by the attorney-client privilege, and/or protected communications with regulatory agencies. This Policy cannot be modified by verbal representations of WMPPSC personnel, nor does the WMPPSC's failure to enforce this Policy constitute a waiver of its right to monitor employee Activities conducted on or facilitated by WMPPSC IT Resources.

Drug-Free Workplace

Employees are prohibited from engaging in the unlawful use, possession, sale or transfer of drugs or narcotics in any manner or from taking a substance that may impair their ability to perform assigned duties or otherwise adversely impact the WMPPSC' business. Further, employees are prohibited from possessing alcoholic beverages in the workplace or consuming alcoholic beverages on WMPPSC premises or during work time.

Anti-Violence, Discrimination, and Harassment

WMPPSC believes that every employee has the right to work in an environment free from violence discrimination, and harassment.

Employees must not engage in intimidation, threats or hostile behaviors, physical abuse, vandalism, arson, sabotage, use of weapons, carrying weapons on to the WMPPSC property, or any other act, which in management's opinion is inappropriate to the workplace. In addition, employees must refrain from making bizarre or offensive comments regarding violent events and/or behavior. Employees are expected to report any prohibited conduct to management. Employees should directly contact proper law enforcement authorities if they believe there is a serious threat to the safety and health of themselves or others.

School Weapons Policy

No student or non-student, including adults and visitors, can possess, use or distribute a weapon when in a School location or engaged in School related activities. The School will act to enforce this policy and to discipline or take appropriate action against any student, teacher-leader, employee, volunteer, or member of the public who violates this policy. WMPPSC prohibits firearms on or around the WMPPSC property and displays the appropriate signage as designated by law.

Reporting Procedures

Any possible violations of this policy must be reported immediately to a Teacher Leader, Partner, or board member. Reports may be made anonymously, and all reported incidents will be investigated. Reports or incidents warranting confidentiality will be handled appropriately and information will be disclosed to others only on a need-to-know basis or as otherwise required by law. All parties involved in a situation will be counseled and/or disciplined as warranted by the facts of the situation. The School will intervene at any indication of a possibly hostile or violent situation.

Individual Situations

While the School does not expect employees to be skilled at identifying potentially dangerous persons, employees are expected to exercise good judgment and inform a team member when employees observe colleagues exhibiting behavior which could be a sign of a potentially dangerous situation. Such behavior includes, but is not limited to:

- Discussing weapons or bringing them to the workplace;
- Displaying overt signs of extreme stress, resentment, hostility, or anger;
- Making threatening remarks;
- Sudden or significant deterioration of performance; or
- Displaying irrational or inappropriate behavior.

Additional details are included in site-based Crisis Management Policies, which are linked in each School Site Appendix below.

Enforcement

Threats, threatening conduct, or any other acts of aggression or violence in the workplace will not be tolerated. Employees who violate this policy are subject to discipline including termination. Safety concerns should be immediately reported. Non-employees engaged in violent acts on the School's premises will be reported to their employer and the proper authorities. It is important that all employees be aware of the personal responsibility for maintaining a safe and healthful work environment.

Child Neglect or Physical or Sexual Abuse and Mandated Reporting

WMPPSC prohibits all employees from neglecting, physically or sexually abusing or otherwise mistreating students or minors pursuant to the terms of the Colorado Revised Statutes Title 19, Children's Code § 19-3-304. Persons required to report child abuse or neglect.

Communication Tools

The Wildflower Network uses a few online communication and knowledge-sharing systems:

- Slack: Slack is used for network-wide communication, announcements, and advice-gathering. WMPPSC Lead Circle is our sensible default for charter-wide advice requests and advice to be shared.
- Connected: Connected is Wildflower's knowledge-sharing intranet. It is a good place to search for Wildflower Collection essays and school operations tools/templates.
- HoloSpirit: HoloSpirit is the software Wildflower uses to outline roles, responsibilities, and organizational structure. It also houses the network's People Directory.

Use of Social Media

WMPPSC takes no position on employees' decision to participate in the use of social media networks (including personal Web sites, Web logs (blogs), wikis, social networks, online forums, virtual worlds, and any other social media) for personal use on personal time.

Employees must avoid posting any information or engaging in communications that violate state or federal laws or WMPPSC policies. The line between professional and personal relationships is blurred within a social media context. When employees choose to join or engage with students, families or colleagues in a social media context, they are advised to maintain their professionalism as employees of WMPPSC and have responsibility for addressing inappropriate behavior or activity on these networks, including requirements for mandated reporting.

Student Travel & Staff Transportation of Students

No employee is permitted to take students off of school grounds without signed consent from the student's parent or guardian. For the safety of all employees and students, employees are prohibited from transporting students in their personal vehicles. Transportation of students to school or other related school events is permissible only by the School's contracted transportation services provider or if the child's parent is present in the vehicle.

Benefits

Summary of Benefits

WMPPSC offers Health, Dental, Short-term disability, and Life insurance to benefit-eligible employees. WMPPSC will provide a summary of benefits annually that will include a notice regarding the proportion of benefit premiums paid by WMPPSC.

General Eligibility: Unless otherwise stated, to be eligible to receive employment benefits, employees must meet the following criteria:

- The employee must be regularly scheduled to work at least 30 hours per week. Employees whose hours are increased temporarily to cover for another employee are not eligible for benefits.
- Benefits coverage for new employees will begin on the first day of the month following the date of hire.

Retirement Account Eligibility: As a public charter school, all employees meeting the eligibility requirements of either the Teacher Retirement Account (TRA) or Public Employees Retirement Account (PERA) must participate in the plan. A notice will be sent annually regarding the percentage contributions.

Use of Personal Cell Phone for School Business

Partners are expected to be available in the event of a crisis and often use their personal cell phone for school purposes. In an effort to save costs and reduce administrative burden WMPPSC has determined that a cell phone stipend of up to $30 will be provided to any partner that requests it via the Cell Phone Stipend & Data Privacy Form, so long as the expense has been included in the Site's budget. All employees that may use their personal cell phone for school business must agree to the Data Privacy requirements within the form.

Workers' Compensation

WMPPSC carries workers' compensation insurance at no cost to its employees. This program covers injuries or illnesses sustained during employment that require medical, surgical or hospital treatment. Employees that sustain work-related injuries or illness should inform their colleagues immediately. Injured employees need to complete an injury report and see a doctor of the School's choice.

Enrollment Preference and Discount for WMPPSC Employees

In accordance with WMPPSC Enrollment Policy, WMPPSC shall give enrollment preference to an WMPPSC employee's child in the order shown in the Enrollment Preference section of the policy. In the event that an WMPPSC Site operates a fee-based preschool, all WMPPSC employees that enroll a preschool-aged child will pay a minimum of $600 per month of enrollment unless the employee otherwise qualifies for tuition assistance. Sites may determine if they would like to offer WMPPSC employees a discount on preschool tuition available to the public. K-8 enrollment is tuition-free for all.

Paid Time Off

Holidays All benefit-eligible employees receive paid time off for Holidays as marked on the Site calendar. Teacher Leader(s) at each Site can determine if part-time employees receive paid Holiday time based on their regular work schedule.

Recordkeeping and Professional Development Recordkeeping and Professional Development days are generally considered work days for all employees that are regularly scheduled to work those days, however the Teacher Leader(s) at each Site can determine on a case-by-case basis if hourly employees are required to report to work on those days. If an employee is not required to report to work, Recordkeeping and Professional Development days are not paid for hourly employees.

Partners' Universal Leave Partners may take paid vacation time so long as the Advice Process is followed, proper coverage for roles and responsibilities is arranged, as needed, and the time off is posted on the Partner's work calendar.

Safe & Sick Leave WMPPSC follows Minneapolis Safe & Sick Leave guidelines and provides a minimum of 1 hour of safe and sick leave for every 30 hours worked. Sites will be responsible for tracking sick leave usage, which will be reflected in the WMPPSC payroll system.

Leaves of Absence

Domestic Abuse Leave Employees subject to domestic abuse may be eligible for a leave of absence. Please see the Lead Link or delegated role for more information.

Bereavement Leave Benefit-eligible employees are currently eligible for paid leave of up to three days (prorated for part-time benefit-eligible employees) to attend the funeral of an immediate family member. Immediate family is defined as the employee's spouse/partner, parents, children, sisters, brothers, grandparents, grandchildren, mother-in-law and father-in-law.

In the event of a death of a near relative, benefit-eligible employees are currently granted up to one paid day to attend a funeral. Near relatives include the employee's aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, and their spouse/partner's grandparents, brothers, sisters, and other close relatives. If more time off is needed than provided above, other leave may be granted upon the approval of the Lead Link or delegated role.

Jury Duty Leave WMPPSC encourages all employees to fulfill their civic responsibilities and to respond to jury service summons or subpoenas, attend court for prospective jury service or serve as a juror. Under no circumstances will employees be deprived of any benefits of employment, terminated, threatened, harassed or coerced because they request or take leave in accordance with this policy.

Employees will receive their regular compensation during the first three days of jury service. This includes part-time, casual and temporary employees, so long as their employment hours can be determined by a schedule, custom or practice established during the three-month period preceding jury service. For jury duty in excess of three days, employees receive the difference between jury duty pay and their regular pay up to a maximum of ten days (80 hours). Jury duty leave beyond this time is without pay. Exempt employees will not incur any reduction in pay for a partial week absence due to jury duty.

Employees seeking compensation for jury duty leave must provide a juror service certificate from the court as soon as practical. WMPPSC will compensate the employee in accordance with this policy within 30 days of receiving the service certificate. Employees should provide their supervisor or other partner with notice of any jury summons or subpoena within a reasonable amount of time after receipt and before their appearance is required.

Medical Leave WMPPSC provides up to 12 weeks of unpaid, medical leave for eligible full-time and part-time benefit eligible employees for the following reasons:

- Pregnancy, prenatal medical care, or child birth.
- To care for the employee's child after birth, or placement for adoption, or foster care.
- To care for the employee's spouse, son or daughter, or parent, who has a serious health condition.
- Serious health condition that makes the employee unable to perform the employee's job.
- For a medical leave to be granted, the following conditions must be met:
  - The employee has completed ninety (90) days of employment with the Council.
  - Lead Link or designee is notified by the employee as soon as possible of the need for medical leave.
  - The employee submits to the supervisor or partner a written statement from the attending physician outlining the reason for leave and the estimated time needed.
  - Approvals are obtained from the Lead Link or designee prior to the leave.
  - When the estimated period of leave is less than 12 weeks, and an employee needs to extend the leave, another medical provider's statement is required indicating the new estimated length of leave.

Employees must continue to pay their portion of any insurance premium while on leave. If the employee is able but does not return to work after the expiration of the leave, the employee will be required to reimburse the WMPPSC for payment of insurance premiums during leave. Upon return from medical leave, most employees are restored to their original or equivalent positions with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms. Certain highly compensated employees (key employees) may have limited reinstatement rights. Use of a medical leave will not result in the loss of any employment benefit that accrued prior to the start of an employee's leave. As with other types of unpaid leaves, paid leave will not accrue during the unpaid leave. Holidays, funeral leave, or employer's jury duty pay are not granted on unpaid leave. Employees who fail to return at the expiration of their authorized leave may be terminated. If the employee's failure to return is due to a disability under the Americans with Disabilities Act or other law, additional accommodations may be provided. Employees must supply sufficient information from their medical provider indicating that they have a covered disability and when they can return to work with or without reasonable accommodation. Accommodations must not cause undue hardship to the employer.

Potential accommodations will be determined in an interactive process between the employee and the WMPPSC.

Part-time, non-benefit eligible employees are not eligible for medical leave except as required for a disability.

Employees may be required to provide a certification and periodic recertification supporting the need for leave. WMPPSC may require second and third medical opinions at WMPPSC's expense. Documentation confirming family relationship, adoption, or foster care may be required. If notification and appropriate certification are not provided in a timely manner, approval for leave may be denied. Continued absence after denial of leave may result in disciplinary action in accordance with the WMPPSC's attendance guideline. Employees on leave must contact the Lead Link or designee at least two days before their first day of return.

Military Leave Employees granted a military leave of absence are reinstated and paid in accordance with the laws governing veterans' reemployment rights.

Personal Leave Normally, personal leaves of absence are not granted. If, on rare occasions, management deems the circumstances warrant approval, an unpaid leave for non-medical reasons can be granted at the discretion of the Lead Link or delegated role.

Voting Under most circumstances, it is possible for employees to vote either before or after work. If it is necessary for employees to arrive late or leave work early to vote in any election, employees should arrange with their direct supervisor or other partner no later than the day prior to Election Day.

Other Statutory Leaves WMPPSC will also provide employees with all other statutory leaves as allowed by law and for which the employee is eligible including, but not, limited to School Conference Leave, Bone Marrow and Organ Donor Leave and Civil Air Patrol leave.

Enrollment Policy

Purpose and Scope: The Wildflower Montessori Public Schools of Colorado (WMPPSC) Enrollment Policy is intended to provide documented procedures for the allocation of available seats at the school. The purpose of this policy is to outline the enrollment process for all ages at Wildflower Montessori Public Schools of Colorado (WMPPSC). The policy also provides for a lottery process when the number of student applications exceeds the number of available seats. In an effort to provide a student population that reflects the diversity of the district, WMPPSC's lottery is weighted as described below. This policy was drafted by the WMPPSC Charter Development Team and will be validated by the Board of Directors by December 1, 2022.

Distribution: This policy shall be available on the school's website, at information sessions, and in its offices for public viewing and acknowledgement of such viewing shall be made part of the enrollment process when submitting an Intent to Enroll form to WMPPSC.

Declaration: By applying for enrollment at WMPPSC, all persons involved in the enrollment process declare that they have read and understand the enrollment policy of WMPPSC, will abide by this policy, and will provide the most up-to-date and accurate information available. All persons declare that they understand enrollment fraud as defined in the policy and that enrollment fraud will result in forfeiture of application/enrollment status.

Definitions

Enrollment Priority: Defines the order of priority, by category in which students are selected for available seats based on residency and sibling status. These priority categories are defined in the WMPPSC charter contract. As defined in the charter contract, the enrollment priorities are:

1. Currently enrolled students (after the inaugural year).
2. Children of WMPPSC employees
3. Children in the household of certified Founding Families
4. Sibling Status 4A and 4B (defined below)
5. Students who reside in the School District
6. Students who reside outside of School District

Founding families and employee child(ren) will not exceed 20% of the total enrollment in the lottery.

Currently enrolled WMPPSC students (Priority 1): Following the inaugural year, all currently enrolled WMPPSC students do not have to re-enroll and are guaranteed a spot the next school year, unless and until they formally disenroll. Any remaining seats available will be filled by a lottery in the order of priority categories described above.

Children of WMPPSC employees (Priority 2): Any student who is the legal dependent of a current WMPPSC employee.

Children in the household of certified Founding Families (Priority 3): Founding families are defined as families who provided 50 or more hours of approved volunteer services toward the development, formation, and startup of WMPPSC prior to the inaugural lottery. The child(ren) of these founding families, when they are eligible for kindergarten enrollment and above, will be given Priority 3 enrollment status in the WMPPSC lottery.

Sibling Status 4A and 4B (Priority 4):

- 4A Sibling Status is the status given to a new applicant if their sibling is currently attending WMPPSC. In the summer, a student who is re-enrolled is treated as currently attending.
- 4B Sibling Status is the status given to a new applicant if their sibling is offered enrollment and has accepted the enrollment offer.

Students who reside in the School District (Priority 5): These are students that live in the school district where the school is located.

Students who reside outside of the School District (Priority 6): These are students that live in a school district other than the district where the school is located.

Enrollment Lottery (or Lottery): The process of randomly selecting names of applicants when there are more applicants than seats available.

Enrollment Fraud: All enrollments are subject to verification upon acceptance of an offer of enrollment. If any portion of the verification process reveals fraudulent enrollment activity (i.e. fraudulent priority status, residency, or age) the enrollment is deemed fraudulent, and the student(s) enrollment will be treated as void. If a misrepresentation is determined, then the student will be treated as no longer enrolled. If residency is established between the enrollment date and the discovery of the misrepresentation, then the student will forfeit their enrolled status for the next school year and will be given status based upon the most up-to-date residency information at the time of the next enrollment period.

Teacher Leader: The WMPPSC Teacher Leader is responsible for overseeing the enrollment and lottery process as described.

Enrollment Assistant: The WMPPSC Enrollment Assistant is responsible for carrying out the enrollment and lottery process as described.

Lottery Official: The person in charge of verifying the accuracy of the lottery process. The lottery official is a community member selected by the school. The individual shall not have a student in the school or an otherwise vested interest in the school.

Lottery eligibility for 5 years old and older: If a child completes a valid Intent to Enroll Form then that child is deemed to be eligible for participation in the WMPPSC enrollment lottery.

Lottery eligibility for 3 and 4 years olds: In accordance with the January 2014 Charter School Program Nonregulatory Guidance of Title V, Part B, If a family of a 3 or 4 year old completes a valid Intent to Enroll Form during the open enrollment period and is offered a spot in the lottery, that family can defer acceptance of that spot until the student is 5 years old and ready to enter as a kindergartener. Then that child is deemed to be eligible for participation in the WMPPSC enrollment lottery. In accordance with the non-reg guidance, WMPPSC would “inform prospective applicants that winning the lottery does not require them to enroll in the private preschool. Thus, any child selected through the lottery would be guaranteed a slot in kindergarten a few years later, whether or not he or she enrolls in the preschool program”

Site-Based Information Sessions: Throughout the school year, Teacher Leaders at a given site may host one or more Information Sessions specifically designed for prospective families. The intent of these sessions is to inform families of the Mission, Vision, Culture, and Programming of the school prior to submitting an Intent to Enroll Form. The WMPPSC wants to ensure that all families are broadly educated in what the school is about prior to enrolling their student(s). As such, it is strongly encouraged that all interested applicants attend one of these Information Sessions.

Change in Status: If at any point during the enrollment process where any portion of an applicant’s priority status would change, such as a sibling’s recent enrollment into WMPPSC prior to the enrollment lottery taking place (grants sibling/Priority 4B enrollment status) or change of residency (Purchase/Rental of a residence being made or falling through, depends on actual activity), then notification must be made to the WMPPSC regarding the change in status so that the enrollment application can be updated. Failure to update the enrollment application for a field that would change the student’s priority status to their detriment is considered an intentional act of enrollment fraud.

Sibling: An applicant, or current student, who is a biological brother, sister, or half- sibling of another student or a brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister of another student through marriage or adoption.

Waitlist: The waitlist is the ordered list of applicant students without enrollment offers. The waitlist for each school year is initiated through the lottery process. Once all available enrollment opportunities are offered, the remaining applicant students will be placed on the waitlist in the order drawn. The waitlist remains active through the academic year. The waitlist for a given year is not carried over to the next school year. A new enrollment application is required for each school year for which a student is seeking a new enrollment.

Withdrawn Students: If the student(s) were withdrawn from WMPPSC for any reason, including adverse conditions (such as disagreements with the Teacher Leaders, Board, or withdrawal in lieu of suspension or greater disciplinary action), or transferring to another school, the student must receive approval to file an application for re-enrollment by the site's Teacher Leaders prior to the closing of the open enrollment process. The student's priority status is reset so that eligibility and priority status will be that of a new applicant.

Grade Level Capacity: The WMPPSC Board recognizes that situations may arise when the building capacity has not been reached but a particular grade level enrollment may reach a level which is not conducive to high academic achievement or manageable by staff. As such the Board will, after considering the recommendations of the Administrative Leader(s), set a maximum grade level capacity annually based on academic achievement goals, operations manageability, and other financial considerations. This grade level capacity may vary from grade level to grade level and the number of enrolled students will vary accordingly and not exclude students enrolled the previous year who wish to return to The WMPPSC School. The grade level capacity for the next academic year must receive approval from the Board of Directors and may only be modified during the year with approval from the Board of Directors. WMPPSC will only accept students in the highest grade level served under special circumstances due to the nature of the curriculum and time constraints for meeting WMPPSC curriculum requirements.

Established Enrollment Number: The school's total available enrollment as approved by the Board, from time to time and in alignment with fiduciary responsibilities.

Weighted Lottery:

In order to serve a diverse student body, cultivate respect for and interest in human diversity among students, and have a student population which reflects the geographic region, WMPPSC will utilize a weighted lottery.

Categories and sets/subsets of students to receive weights in lottery: WMPPSC will conduct a weighted lottery following CDE's Category B identifying students that are "a subset of educationally disadvantaged students that are described under section 1115(b)(2) of the ESEA, which includes economically disadvantaged students (eg. free or reduced priced lunch eligible students), students with disabilities (eg. identified with an IEP), migrant students, Multilingual Learners, neglected or delinquent students, and homeless students."

Justification for Weighted Lottery:

In alignment with our mission and vision to provide families with child-centered, authentic Montessori education that bridges academic outcomes and social-emotional development through intimate learning communities deeply rooted in place, equity and belonging and our commitment to re-center Montessori to its founding roots in equity and social justice, we strive to mirror the average demographics of educationally disadvantaged students in the other diverse district schools. In addition, we are adopting the weighted lottery to mitigate potential risks stemming from the fact that, historically, Montessori has not been accessible to families furthest from opportunity and therefore is largely an unfamiliar pedagogy to a broader and more diverse segment of the population.

Plan for outreach and recruitment of students whose race, gender and ethnicity reflect the demographics of the community that the school intends to serve: WMPPSC will started, and will continue, an extensive community engagement process to include tabling and canvassing at local public events, partnering with community organizations that serve the school's target population, and translating all enrollment recruitment materials into Spanish in order to recruit students who race, gender, and ethnicity reflect the demographics of WMPPSC's target population.

Weighted information will be provided during the intent to enroll process through a voluntary self-identification of educationally disadvantaged only (sub-category not specified) for a weighted chance in the event of a lottery.

Formula for Weighted Lottery:

WMPPSC is still collecting interest forms and information regarding the appropriate weight to apply to our lottery. Below, in the shaded gray area, is a sample draft of where we are in the process. Please note that this is a draft, but we anticipate a weight of either two or three for students who self-identify as educationally disadvantaged. We will be adjusting the formula for this weight as we gather more information.

Mesa County	Free & Reduced Lunch	IEP	ELL	Homeless	Migrant	Total
44.76%	13.48%	3.35%	2.3%	0.48%
68.04	20.49	5.09	3.5	1.21		98.33

Using these percentages, out of our 152 students total in Year 5 at full buildout, we are able to estimate the actual number of students in each of these demographics, assuming there is no crossover (ie. a FRL student on an IEP). 126% of the WMPPSC Aurora population should be considered educationally disadvantaged in consideration of a weighted lottery (X total educationally disadvantaged students / 152 total population in Year 5).

x+(ax)

$$y+(ax)$$

x= # of educationally disadvantaged students estimated

a= # of additional chances (weight minus one)

b= revised % chance in lottery  $x+(ax)$   $\frac{y+(ax)}{x+y+(ax)}$  = b  $y+(ax)$

Explanation and justification of how weight is decided/justified: The justification for the WMPPSC School's weighted lottery is to address specific targets to meet or exceed the geographic district's or geographic area's percentage of students in a set or subset of educationally disadvantaged students.

Amount of weights to be applied to each category/set/subset: All student applicants that self-identify as educationally disadvantaged on the WMPPSC School's Intent to Enroll form will be counted three times in WMPPSC's lottery, meaning they shall receive three entries in the lottery. Documentation in support of educationally disadvantaged status will be collected by The WMPPSC School only after an enrollment offer has been accepted by the applicant.

Using the formula then, we can see that using a weight of 3 for all such students will exceed this target percentage of the overall population.

$$(36 + (3) (36)) / (175 + (3) (36)) = 144/283 = 50.8\%$$

Therefore, using a weight of 3 for every educationally disadvantaged student in the lottery will yield a total percentage of the student population that EXCEEDS the targeted percentage (48.9%).

Description of mechanism and/or process that will be utilized to carry out weighted lottery, including district oversight of process, sign-off from district and school certifying description provided adequately captures mechanisms that will be used to carry out the weighted lottery:

The WMPPSC School will utilize best practices for implementing a weighted lottery in alignment and in partnership with The WMPPSC School's district and authorizer. The Charter Liaison will provide oversight of The WMPPSC School's weighted lottery in partnership with WMPPSC Teacher Leader. The WMPPSC School's enrollment policy and description of The WMPPSC School's lottery process have been noted in The WMPPSC School's Charter application.

Enrollment Period: The WMPPSC first round open enrollment period will align with the dates as outlined in the Enrollment Process.

Intent to Enroll: The necessary paperwork to be filed by an interested student and parent/guardian for placement in the lottery for enrollment in WMPPSC.

Prior to the opening of the school, Intent to Enroll forms will be available on The WMPPSC School website, once the website is created, and available in hard copy at public meetings or mailed via the United States Postal Service to requesting families. After school opening, this form will be available at the school for prospective families. Submitting an Intent to Enroll form in no way guarantees enrollment in WMPPSC, nor does it obligate the family to enroll their child(ren) should they receive an invitation.

Intent to Return Forms: Existing students will be asked to complete an "Intent to Return" form, prior to the running of the lottery or offers of enrollment for the following year. The receipt of this form will constitute a guaranteed spot for the upcoming academic year.

Post Office boxes do not meet residency requirements. Only street addresses are accepted. All proofs of residency for priority 5 applicants must demonstrate residence in the School District:

1. ONE of the following official parent/guardian's picture ID from the following list:
  - a. Current State-Issued Driver's License
  - b. Current State-Issued Identification Card
  - c. Valid Passport or Valid Consulate Issued Picture ID of any country
  - d. Current Foreign Driver's License

AND

1. ONE of the following ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS with the parent/guardian's name and address:
  - a. A current Property Tax Bill with parent/guardian's name and property address located in the School District, dated within the past 30 days.
  - b. A current utility bill (electric, gas, water, cable or trash bill) with parent/guardian's name and property address located in the School District, dated within the last 30 days.
  - c. A fully executed contract to build or purchase a home in the School District with the parent/guardian's name and property address. This will be used as a placeholder only and will need to be updated with a utilities bill at least one week prior to the first day of classes to retain the students Priority 5 status and any resulting seat offer.
  - d. A current Rental or Lease agreement, fully executed within the last 30 days, with parent/guardian's name, student name, and address in the School District, as well as a property manager or owner's name and phone number. This will be used as a placeholder only and will need to be updated with a utilities bill at least one week prior to the first day of classes to retain the students Priority 5 status and any resulting seat offer.

General

The Board recognizes that the Teacher Leader is best suited to determine ideal and maximum enrollment availability based upon academic achievement and operations manageability.

Non-Discrimination Policy:

WMPPSC will comply with the CDE Non-Discrimination Policy for charter schools, and all other applicable state and federal laws prohibiting discrimination.. All enrollment policies, processes, and decisions relating to enrollment at WMPPSC shall not discriminate on the basis of disability, race, creed, color, gender, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, ancestry, socioeconomic status, language, academic ability, or need for special education services. The Governing Board and the Teacher Leadersl are responsible for ensuring that the policy is upheld.

Enrollment Process:

1. Interested families should attend a WMPPSC School Information session before submitting an Intent to Enroll.
2. A completed Intent to Enroll form shall be initiated by the parent or legal guardian of an interested student by completing and submitting the school's student Intent to Enroll form. The Intent to Enroll form may be accessed online on the WMPPSC School website in both English and Spanish. Families without internet access can contact The WMPPSC School via phone at 440.313.5882 or in person at 5167 Clay St. Denver, CO 80221.
3. Families who apply for enrollment after the open enrollment window will be placed at the end of the grade level's respective priority waitlist in the order the application is received.
4. Intent to Enroll forms submitted up to the announced end of the Open Enrollment round will be reviewed by the Enrollment Assistant or designee for completeness, legal residence, and age/grade of student. Incomplete enrollment forms will not be considered regardless of potential priority status. Completed Intent to Enroll forms will be sorted by entering grade level and enrollment priority 2 through 6.
5. If there are more Intent to Enroll forms for any grade for the next school year than there are available seats, then an enrollment lottery for such grade is required, and the following guidelines will apply:
  - a. Applicants will receive written confirmation (which may be by email) of being in the lottery, and the date, time, and place of the lottery. The WMPPSC lottery will take place on the first Monday two weeks after the close of the Open Enrollment period annually. These dates will change only if the designated day is not a school day, in which case the next regular school day will be the commencement, closing day, or lottery day, respectively.

- b. The lottery will be conducted by the Enrollment Assistant and be overseen by the Lottery Official and Teacher Leader. To ensure authenticity and integrity of the lottery process, no less than two Board members, the Teacher Leader and a Lottery Official will oversee the randomization of computer generated Lottery ID assignments; the final sort will be printed and signed by all witnesses.
- c. Other WMPPSC Board members may be present during the lottery process. Notification of the lottery will serve as public notice of an official Board meeting, even if no action(s) are anticipated to be taken by members of the WMPPSC Governing Board at the time of the lottery. WMPPSC Governing Board members are primarily present to observe and assist the Teacher Leader or designee should such need(s) arise.
- d. On the day of the lottery, the Lottery Official will check to assure all applicant student names are appropriately included in the random selection process.
- e. The lottery will begin by selecting applicants at the lowest grade level, beginning with Priority 2 level applicants. If all names from that level are drawn, and there are still available seats for that grade there will be a random drawing of the next priority level applicants to fill the remaining seats, and so on for each priority category until the available seats for that grade are filled. The process will continue to work upwards through grade levels until enrollment is complete.
- f. Once an applicant is selected, enrollment of that student is assumed for the remainder of the lottery process in order to inform any potential priority changes for other students remaining in the lottery.
- g. The Teacher Leader and Enrollment Assistant will monitor selections to ensure grade levels are not overenrolled.
- h. Any applicant who is not offered enrollment will be placed on the waitlist using the process listed above.
6. Once the lottery is complete, applicants will be notified by the Registrar, or designee, of their status resulting from the lottery either with an enrollment offer or indicating their place on the waitlist for such grade.
7. Applicants who received enrollment offers in the lottery process will be informed via email and phone and will have 48 hours to accept or decline an offer for enrollment. If no verbal or written enrollment acceptance is received by the school within 48 hours from the time the student was extended an invitation to enroll, the school will assume the parent(s) or legal guardian(s) of the student have declined the offer to enroll in WMPPSC.
8. Upon acceptance of an offer of enrollment, digital registration will be made accessible to applicants, and families will have one week from the date of the initial offer to complete the registration accurately and thoroughly. Registrations that are not completed in that time, or applicants that cannot produce appropriate priority information, will forfeit enrollment offers. Upon request of an applicant or parent/guardian, the Enrollment Assistant shall provide a paper application.

- a. Upon acceptance of an offer of enrollment for an incoming student at the highest grade level served
  - i. The Enrollment Assistant will request receipt of the incoming student's current academic transcripts within a timely manner. If transcripts are not received within a timely manner the student's offer of enrollment will become void. If transcripts are received within a timely manner, the Enrollment Assistant and Teacher Leader will review the transcripts and determine if the student will be able to meet all WMPPSC academic requirements within the scope of a regularly scheduled amount of time between the date of enrollment and graduation from the program. If it is determined that the student will be able to complete the required WMPPSC coursework in time for a regularly scheduled course content period, the student's offer of enrollment will stand. If it is determined that the student will not be able to complete the required WMPPSC coursework in time for a regularly scheduled curriculum completion, the student's offer of enrollment will be withdrawn and the student and parent/guardian shall be informed in writing.
  - b. Upon acceptance of an offer of enrollment for a student in need of special education services
    - i. The Enrollment Assistant shall request all education records from the student's prior school, and will promptly request from the parent/guardian(s) evidence of any formal special education service requirements or accommodations for the incoming student within a reasonable time. This includes, but is not limited to, copies of Individual Education Plans (IEPs) and 504s. If documentation of special education service requirements are not received from the parent/guardian(s) within a reasonable time, not to exceed two weeks, the student's offer of enrollment will become void. Once documentation of special education service requirements is received, the WMPPSC Teacher Leaders, Special Education team, and district specialist (as necessary) will review the documents and determine if the WMPPSC Special Education team is able to provide the services to the student with full fidelity and ensure that the student will have full access to the WMPPSC curriculum. If it is determined that the Special Education team will be able to meet the needs of the student and that the student will have full access to the WMPPSC curriculum, the offer of enrollment will stand. The WMPPSC School aims to meet the needs of all students through accommodations and differentiated offerings and, under very unusual circumstances, if it is determined that the Special Education team will not be able to meet the needs of the student and/or that the student will not be able to fully access the WMPPSC curriculum, the offer of enrollment will become void.

9. Grade placement determinations are made following receipt of the completed registration. After students are officially enrolled in the school, WMPPSC reserves the right to test to determine a student's academic knowledge using diagnostic or placement exams in accordance with Section §22-30.5-104 (3) of the Colorado Charter Schools Act. If a student tests below grade level during diagnostic testing, the WMPPSC school aims to honor the student's grade level as designated by their previous school and meet the student where they are at academically.
10. As openings occur post lottery, applicants on the grade level waitlist will be contacted in the established order and an offer made and registration process access will be provided. Completion of the registration process is expected in three (3) business days in order for prompt seat placement determination.
11. WMPPSC will continue to enroll students using this process until the established enrollment number is met and maintained for the school year; however, WMPPSC reserves the right not to enroll any additional students or transfers after October 1 of any school year.
12. The WMPPSC School is committed to a class size that promotes high academic achievement and is manageable by the operations staff. Enrollment priorities are not guaranteed enrollment and will not be allowed to influence the academic achievement goals or the operational manageability of the school.

Transfer Policy

Families transferring to WMPPSC mid-year will submit and sign transfer paperwork and meet with the Teacher Leaders before the student begins at the WMPPSC site. The Teacher Leaders will collaborate with the parents to determine the most appropriate start date. WMPPSC will request academic records, including IEPs or 504s, from the student's previous school and families will sign a Release of Information to ensure the school is able to obtain all records. All students who transfer into WMPPSC will be observed by Teacher Leaders. In following the Montessori pedagogy, Teacher Leaders will develop a Student Learning Plan within two weeks of the day the student starts at WMPPSC. For those transferring out of WMPPSC at the end of the academic year, WMPPSC will provide all students with their final academic report upon transferring from the charter to ensure that the receiving school has the most up-to-date and accurate assessment of the student's academic performance. The receiving school and parents will also receive a progress report and suggestions on how to continue to support academic progress for the student. A Teacher Leader and the Enrollment Assistant will oversee this process and prepare the proper release of information, procuring and providing relevant data from and to schools, and ensuring compliance with HIPAA and FOIA.

Grievance Policy and Procedures

Wildflower Montessori Public Schools of Colorado (WMPPSC) (the "School") strives to be proactive in promoting a positive culture between all of our community members. The following policy applies to grievances, including complaints, concerns, or conflicts. The WMPPSC Teacher Leaders, Staff, and Board of Directors are committed to addressing and resolving grievances in a timely and efficient manner.

The Board of Directors places great trust in its faculty and administrators to manage the affairs of the School and to serve our School community. This grievance process should be used only for genuine complaints, concerns, or conflicts that require the attention of the Shared Services Partner or the Board, not simple disagreements that can be managed informally. The Board of Directors will not typically review grievances based on the discretionary day-to-day decision-making or good faith judgment calls made by faculty or administrators, unless there is clear evidence of misconduct or a need to address a substantial issue.

Employees may also utilize this process to dispute work related decisions by administration, like non-renewals or other work related concerns, complaints or conflicts.

Please follow these steps before filing a formal grievance:

Address issues with those directly involved – Bring your complaint, concern, or conflict first to the person best positioned to address it. Make efforts to sincerely resolve the issue with those who are directly involved. For example, if you are a parent and it is a specific classroom or academic issue, this will most likely be an attempt to resolve the issue with your child's teacher. If it is a broader, charter-wide issue, this will most likely be an attempt to resolve the issue with a School administrator. If you are an employee this will most likely be an attempt to resolve the issue with the co-worker with whom you have the issue, or your supervisor if it is a broader, charter-wide issue.

If your attempts to resolve the complaint, concern, or conflict informally does not produce a satisfactory result, or you find the individual(s) involved to be non-responsive, you may file a formal grievance by following these steps:

1. Complete a Grievance Form (available on the WMPPSC website) – This includes providing a brief summary of the issue; informal steps that were taken to resolve it, including discussions with those directly involved; the outcome of those attempts; the reasons why you were not satisfied with the outcome; a citation to any laws and/or policies that you believe were violated; and what you are requesting be reviewed and/or changed about the outcome.

2. Submit the Grievance Form to the Shared Services Partner– The form may be submitted to the School's front office or emailed directly to the Shared Services Partner or his/her secretary. If the Grievance is an issue in which the Shared Services Partner is the alleged offender then this form may be submitted directly to the Chair of the Board of Directors for consideration under Step 5.
3. Shared Services Partner Review – The Shared Services Partner will, within three working days, review the Grievance and either reply in writing to the grievant or request a meeting. Others involved may be consulted on the issue and/or invited to any meetings scheduled to discuss the issue.
4. Shared Services Partner Decision – Within ten working days of the date the Grievance Form is submitted, the Shared Services Partner will provide a written decision or planned course of action regarding the Grievance to the grievant.
5. School Board Review – If the grievant is not satisfied with the Shared Services Partner's decision or planned course of action, the grievant may, no later than five working days after the Shared Services Partner's decision, request that the Grievance be submitted by the Shared Services Partner for review to the Board. If the grievant requests Board review, the Shared Services Partner will forward all documentation, including the original Grievance Form, any notes or summaries of meetings or actions taken, the Shared Services Partner's final written decision or planned course of action, and any other relevant information to the Board of Directors. Board Members may request an additional statement from the grievant, as well as any other information they deem relevant to research or request. The Board Chair may appoint a mediator, as appropriate, to attempt to resolve the concern. The Board Chair will determine whether or not to include the request on the agenda of the School Board's next meeting. An individual Board Member can make a motion to have it added to agenda during the Board's next meeting, and it will be added with a requisite vote of the majority, following regular procedures. At all stages of this process Board members will take care to preserve expectations of privacy, including avoidance of public references to specific individuals or incidents, and may call an executive session to discuss any Grievances; if it is a topic for which an executive session is allowed. If the Grievance is not reviewed at the next regular meeting following receipt of the request to review, or if a special meeting is not called to resolve it within 30 days, it will be deemed resolved and the decision or planned course of action articulated by the Shared Services Partner will be final, unless or until there is a change in circumstances.
6. School Board's Decision – Any decision by the Board at the conclusion of considering a Grievance, or a decision not to review a Grievance, will be final and the matter will be considered resolved. Any future consideration of the matter will require a change in circumstances and the grievant will be required to initiate the process from the beginning. If there is not a change in circumstances, any Grievance Form filed on a matter that is resolved may be ignored or simply disposed of with a response from the Shared Services Partner that the matter is deemed resolved.

At each stage of the grievance process both sides of a concern should be given an equal opportunity to provide information, evidence, and a response to any concerns or allegations. Those in the position of making a decision should reserve judgment until all of the information has been reviewed and considered. Any timelines provided herein may be extended by the Shared Services Partner or Board of Directors as needed, or by mutual agreement of those involved.

Each of the statutes are labeled and described with an adequate replacement plan to follow that WMPSC will adhere to. Each of the waivers listed below will be crucial to the operation of WMPSC and help maintain the mission, vision, and objectives of our program. Although a replacement plan is identified with each waiver requested, additional replacement policies and refinement of the noted plans will occur prior to the start of the charter's operations, with input from the Teacher Leaders and Board of Directors. We do not foresee any of our waivers to have a financial impact on the State or D51.

Below are the Non-Automatic State Waivers that WMPPSC is requesting. Please note this list is not exhaustive, as it needs to be reviewed with the school's legal counsel prior to finalizing the charter contract.

Non-Automatic Waivers: Statute Description and Rationale and Replacement Plan

C.R.S. § 22-9-106: Local Board Duties Concerning Performance Evaluations

C.R.S. §22-9-108 Evaluator Training – Universities and Colleges – Duties

Rationale: WMPPSC must have its own evaluation system and will be responsible for these matters, including training personnel on evaluation practices, rather than the school district.

Replacement Plan: WMPPSC will implement its own evaluation system as outlined in this charter application. The evaluation system will meet the intentions of SB 10-191. Our evaluation system, referred to as the Growth and Accountability Cycle, will align with shared values of Connectedness and Growth and will support reflection of accountability to self and the charter community. Results will support both the assessment of performance as well as growth and development of staff.

Duration of Waivers: The waiver will extend for the duration of the contract.

Financial Impact: WMPPSC foresees no financial impact for the charter or the Authorizer.

How the Impact of the Waivers Will be Evaluated: This waiver will be evaluated by the overall performance of the charter, as school performance is connected to the effectiveness of Teacher Leaders.

Expected Outcome: Implementing this waiver, WMPPSC will live into the Wildflower values of Growth and Connectedness as a strategy for achieving its mission of an authentic Montessori education model focused on academic outcomes and social emotional learning.

Non-Automatic Waivers: Statute Description and Rationale and Replacement Plan

C.R.S. § 22-2-112(1)(g)(i) Commissioner-Duties - Reporting Performance Evaluation Ratings

Rationale: WMPPSC will be exempt from also having to report performance ratings through their authorizer to CDE and has established its own measures of performance.

Replacement Plan: WMPPSC will send data to CDE directly.

Duration of Waivers: The waiver will extend for the duration of the contract.

Financial Impact: WMPPSC foresees no financial impact for the charter or the Authorizer.

How the Impact of the Waivers Will be Evaluated: WMPPSC will have its own reporting system and will be able to send data directly to CDE, including its accountability data outlined in its charter application.

Expected Outcome: WMPPSC will be able to monitor its own performance and progress.

Non-Automatic Waivers: Statute Description and Rationale and Replacement Plan

C.R.S. §22-32-109(1)(n)(l) Board of Education – Specific Duties – School Calendar

C.R.S. §22-32-109(1)(n)(l)(A) Board of Education - Specific Duties - Teacher Pupil Contact Hours

C.R.S. §22-32-109(1)(n)(l)(B) Board of Education-Specific Duties – District Calendar

Rationale: WMPPSC will have autonomy to create its own school calendar and will reference the D51 Calendar (Appendix D_School Calendar ENG and Appendix D_School Calendar SPA) in this process. Instructional days will exceed state statute requirements. The academic school day will be determined by the sites and will be longer than the traditional D51 school day. To meet community needs, wherever possible we will align our calendars with national holidays and the district calendar.

Replacement Plan: WMPPSC has created a sample daily schedule in Section E and the calendar will be created by the Shared Services Partner and Teacher Leaders, in coordination with community input during Fall 2022. The annual calendar and schedule will be published no later than the application deadline each year, prior to the annual lottery.

Duration of Waivers: The waiver will extend for the duration of the contract.

Financial Impact: WMPPSC foresees no financial impact for the charter or the Authorizer. We may require additional meals for students during the days D51 is not in session and will work with local vendors or Food Bank of the Rockies to cater meals.

How the Impact of the Waivers Will be Evaluated: Implementation will allow for students to have more uninterrupted work periods in class - a cornerstone of Montessori pedagogy.

Wildflower Montessori
Public Schools of Colorado

Expected Outcome: Implementation of this strategy will lead to stronger academic gains, social-emotional learning, and a stronger sense of community.

Non-Automatic Waivers: Statute Description and Rationale and Replacement Plan

C.R.S. § 22-63-201 Teacher Employment Act - Compensation & Dismissal Act - Requirement to hold a certificate

C.R.S. § 22-63-202 Teacher Employment Act - Contracts in writing, damage provision

C.R.S. § 22-63-203 Teacher Employment Act - Requirements for probationary teacher, renewal & nonrenewal

C.R.S. §22-32-109.7 Selection of Personnel

C.R.S. §22-63-204 Teacher Employment Act- End Receiving Monies from Sale of Goods

Rationale: WMPPSC will hire and dismiss teachers and staff in accordance with statute when applicable. Grounds for dismissal will be outlined in the employee handbook staff evaluation process (Appendix H_WMPPSC Draft Staff Handbook and Appendix D_Staff Evaluation Process). WMPPSC is an at-will employer. Teachers hired within the District will not retain their employment rights within the District and will be treated as at-will employees. WMPPSC students may sell goods made on site to raise money for the charter. WMPPSC will hire its own staff.

Replacement Plan: WMPPSC will hire, as appropriate, certified teachers and staff. As a Montessori program, we will prioritize training in AMI / AMS Montessori pedagogy and hire highly qualified teachers and/or administrators without certification but who possess the unique skills and competencies necessary to fulfill the mission of WMPPSC. All WMPPSC Teacher Leaders will complete the Wildflower School Startup Journey, and all staff will be held accountable through our Growth and Accountability Cycles. The self-management approaches will be used in addition to State and federally mandated processes, including Conflict Resolution.

Duration of Waivers: The waiver will extend for the duration of the contract.

Financial Impact: WMPPSC foresees no financial impact for the charter or the Authorizer.

How the Impact of the Waivers Will be Evaluated: WMPPSC will implement a reflection and growth evaluation process for teacher leaders and staff, speaking to the effectiveness of our model.

Expected Outcome: WMPPSC will be able to hire the best fit staff for our program with Montessori training that is responsive to our community's needs and best serves the mission of our charter.

C.R.S. § 22-63-206 Teacher Employment, Compensation and Dismissal Act

Rationale: WMPPSC has authority to select its own teachers. WMPPSC uses the School Startup Journey as a process for every Teacher Leader to envision and co-create a community-embedded charter site. No other entity, including D51, should have permissions to transfer teachers to WMPPSC or to transfer students from WMPPSC to D51 district schools.

Replacement Plan: WMPPSC will own full authority to hire its staff in alignment with organizational priorities and the charter's mission.

Duration of Waivers: The waiver will extend for the duration of the contract.

Financial Impact: WMPPSC foresees no financial impact for the charter or the Authorizer.

How the Impact of the Waivers Will be Evaluated: This waiver will be evaluated by the effectiveness of the Teacher Leaders hired by WMPPSC.

Expected Outcome: Teacher Leaders will be hired based on progress moving through the Wildflower School Startup Journey and that are a best fit for supporting the mission and culture building of the school community.

Non-Automatic Waivers: Statute Description and Rationale and Replacement Plan

C.R.S. §22-32-110(1)(v) Accepting Gifts, Donations, and Grants

C.R.S. §22-32-109(1)(b) Local Board Duties

Rationale: While WMPPSC will operate with PPR funding, they will need to be able to manage their own finances and access school startup grants and will establish expense reimbursement policies and procedures. The board must be able to accept these gifts and utilize them to support WMPPSC operations in support of its mission.

Replacement Plan: WMPPSC is in the process of securing grants to support its startup and initial operations in the earlier years. Section G: Budget and Finance outlines the grants we are currently working to secure upon approval of the charter application. WMPPSC is in the best position to know what goods and services it will procure and which vendors are able to support the WMPPSC mission. WMPPSC will establish its own financial procedures to manage its competitive bid process.

Duration of Waivers: The waiver will extend for the duration of the contract.

Financial Impact: WMPPSC foresees no financial impact for the charter or the Authorizer.

How the Impact of the Waivers Will be Evaluated: The effectiveness of this waiver will be the financial solvency of the organization and WMPPSC's effective use of its resources.

Expected Outcome: WMPPSC will establish its own financial policies and procedures allowing it to effectively manage its financials. This additional philanthropic funding will allow WMPPSC to implement its model with fidelity and adequate resources that support organizational optimal effectiveness.

Non-Automatic Waivers: Statute Description and Rationale and Replacement Plan

C.R.S. §22-7-1014(2)(a) Preschool individualized readiness plans - school readiness - assessments

Rationale: WMPPSC uses methods of evaluation in alignment with Montessori pedagogy and given the preschool program will have comprehensive data and evaluation methods established.

Replacement Plan: WMPPSC will evaluate student preparedness based on Montessori assessment and observation methods and reputable assessments outlined in Sections F: Goals, Objective, Pupil Performance and D: Educational Programming. Assessments planned to inform Kindergarten readiness are Ages and Stages, and Pals. Assessments and school readiness will be named and evaluated through authorizer performance expectations.

Duration of Waivers: The waiver will extend for the duration of the contract.

Financial Impact: WMPPSC foresees no financial impact for the charter or the Authorizer.

How the Impact of the Waivers Will be Evaluated: Teacher Leaders will have deep awareness of student performance and readiness for Kindergarten using Montessori methodologies of evaluation and relevant assessments administered per our authorizer performance expectations.

Expected Outcome: Teacher Leaders will be well informed of student readiness for Kindergarten and will adjust programs and individual student plans based on assessment, and Montessori methodologies of observations and evaluation.

C.R.S. § 22-33-105(7)(b) Process for Disciplinary Appeals

Rationale: As a D51 charter school, the school's governing board must have the ability to hear disciplinary and related appeals under C.R.S. § 22-33-105(2)(c).

Replacement Plan: The charter contract delegates the authority to implement the School Attendance Law of 1963 to the school administration, which is consistent with state law; however, as opposed to D51 carrying out the functions, the governing board of the school will carry out those functions. To ensure that the school is meeting the intent of the law, the school will involve its legal counsel and D51 in any appeals to the governing board to ensure that students are being afforded appropriate due process. The school will develop a policy for carrying out the requirements of C.R.S. § 22-33-105 for review and approval by D51. In addition, the school will report expulsion data pursuant to C.R.S. § 22-33-105(2.5).

Duration of Waivers: The waiver will extend for the duration of the contract.

Financial Impact: The school anticipates that the requested Waiver will have minimal financial impact on the school and no financial impact on D51.

How the Impact of the Waivers Will be Evaluated: The school will be required to record all data involving suspensions and expulsions with access for review by both D51 and the school's governing board. In addition, the school's governing board will develop policies and procedures for suspensions, expulsions, and denial of admission for review and approval by D51.

Expected Outcome: The outcome will be a fair and supportive process for the school to make appropriate determinations regarding the School Attendance Law of 1963 at the local level, with administrative oversight by D51.

WMPSC respectfully requests a waiver from D51 policies that do not apply to our model and program:

- Section B: School Board Governance and Operation
- Section G: Personnel
- Board Policy DH: Bonded Employees and Officers. WMPSC commits to adopting a replacement policy that meets or exceeds the requirements of Section C.R.S. § 22-32-109(1)(h).
- Policy JCA/JFBB and JCA/JFBB-R: WMPSC will develop its enrollment policy and operate its lottery in compliance with state law.

Wildflower Montessori
Public Schools of Colorado

WMPSC requests that D51 exercise good faith when adopting future District policies, procedures, rules and regulations and gives WMPSC proper notice policies, procedures, or regulations that may materially conflict with WMPSC's mission and educational program.

Colorado State Board of Education
201 East Colfax Ave., Suite 506
Denver, CO 80203

Honorable Members of the Colorado Board of Education,

I submit the attached resolution for the Mesa County Valley School District 51 to obtain our current charter schools. Our desire to obtain chartering authority is to partner with and support future charter organizers who may be able to offer unique opportunities to our students. We work hard to collaborate with our current charter schools and help to close the achievement gap for all students. We have a lot to offer when partnering with charter schools, namely, professional learning development, use of our student database, security, financial support and assistance with transferable credits. As Assistant Superintendent, I strongly believe that extensive options for students can maximize learning and supports our efforts in Mesa County Valley.

If I can provide any additional information, please contact me directly. I can be reached by email (Scott.Cooper@ds1schools.org) or by cell phone at (970)-739-4016.

Sincerely yours,

Scott Cooper, Ed.D.
Assistant Superintendent

WHEREAS, in 2004 the Colorado General Assembly enacted House Bill 04-1362 into law; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Education declined to seek exclusive authority over charter schools in 2004, in part because of concerns regarding the constitutionality of House Bill 04-1362, but reserved its right to seek such authority in the future; and

WHEREAS, House Bill 04-1362 has since been found to be constitutional in Boulder Valley Sch. Dist. RE-2 v. Colo. State Bd. of Educ., 217 P.3d 918 cert. denied 2009 WL 3165618 (Colo. App. 2009); and

WHEREAS, the Board of Education now desires to recover exclusive authority over charter schools within its geographic boundaries; and

WHEREAS, in support of its request for a grant of such exclusive authority, the Board of Education can show a recent pattern, over a period extending at least four years prior to the date of this Resolution, of providing fair and equitable treatment to the District's charter schools through full compliance with the Charter Schools Act, Part 1 of Article 30.5, Title 22, C.R.S., including, at a minimum, the following statutory factors set out in section 22-30.5-504 (5)(a)(I), C.R.S.:

- (A) Compliance with full and accurate accounting practices and charges for central administrative overhead costs;

The Board of Education supports efforts by parents, teachers or other persons or organizations interested in establishing charter schools within the district which are intended to:

- Expand learning opportunities for all students
- Encourage diverse approaches to learning through the use of different and innovative teaching methods
- Provide parents and students with expanded choices in the types of educational opportunities that are available within the public school system
- Encourage parental and community involvement with public schools

A charter school shall be a public, nonsectarian, non-religious, non-home-based school which operates within the school district and is accountable to the Board of Education. It is subject to all federal and state laws and constitutional provisions prohibiting discrimination on the basis of disability, race, creed, color, gender, national origin, religion, ancestry or need for special education services.

Enrollment shall be open to any child who resides within the school district and who meets the nondiscriminatory criteria specified in an approved charter application. Unless otherwise specified in an approved charter application, enrollment in a charter school shall take place in accordance with Board open enrollment policy governing attendance at a District school other than the student's assigned attendance area school (see Policy JCAJFBB and JCAJFBB-R). A charter school shall not charge tuition except as otherwise provided by law.

Each charter school shall be governed by its own governing body in a manner agreed to by the charter school applicant and the Board. An approved charter application shall serve as the basis for a contract to be negotiated between the charter school and the District.

A charter school shall be responsible for its own operation including but not limited to preparation of a budget, contracting for services and personnel matters. Services for which a charter school contracts with the school district shall be negotiated and provided at district cost. No rent shall be charged for use of district facilities which may be available for the charter school.

The relationship between the district and the charter school shall be established by a contract which shall incorporate the charter application once it is approved. The contract also shall reflect all agreements between the district and the charter school including the release of the charter school from Board policies and all requests for release from state regulations which the Board and the charter school shall jointly request from the State Board of Education.

Each charter school shall have an educational program with student performance standards and curriculum that meets or exceeds district and state standards.

Applications for charter schools must be filed by these dates to be eligible for consideration to begin operations the following school year. Another starting date may be approved by the board and the applicant. (A school year is considered to be July 1 through June 30. For example, any applications to be considered for the 2008-2009 school year, must be filed no later than 2007.) Should a deadline occur on a weekend, the following business day would be the due date. Deadlines are as follows:

5. Review and Decision Process

- a. The Superintendent shall designate an administrative team to review the application, to provide information to the Board and applicant regarding matters subject to negotiation, and to begin the negotiation process with the applicant(s).
- b. The administrative team shall review the application for completeness. If an application is incomplete, it shall act on behalf of the Board to request the necessary information from the applicant(s). However, applicants shall not be allowed to make any material modifications to the application after it is filed with the Board unless the Board acts to permit such modification at a public meeting.
- c. The administrative team shall refer the application to the District accountability committee, which shall review the charter school application before it is considered by the Board. If such committee has conducted a pre-filing review of the application, no further review shall be required.
- d. After giving reasonable public notice, the Board shall hold at least two (2) community meetings in the affected areas or the entire District to obtain information to assist the Board in its deliberations regarding the application.
- e. The Board shall hold a regular or special meeting to make its decision regarding the application within seventy-five (75) days after the application is filed with the Board unless the parties have mutually agreed in writing to extend the time for the Board's consideration. Prior to making its decision, the Board shall afford the applicants and members of the public a reasonable opportunity to be heard, and shall endeavor to determine whether approval of the application is in the best interest of the students, the District and the community.

- f. The Board shall not approve the application unless a majority of the charter school's pupils will reside in the District or in school districts having boundaries contiguous to the District.
- g. If the application is denied, the Board shall set forth in writing the grounds for denial. If the application is granted, the Board shall send a copy of the approved charter to the Colorado Department of Education within fifteen (15) days.

6. Appeal/Facilitation

The applicant may appeal the Board's decision as provided by law. However, in lieu of filing an appeal, the parties may agree to mediate any disputed issue regarding such decision by filing a notice of facilitation with the State Board of Education with 30 days of the Board's decision. The parties may continue in facilitation as long as they agree to do so. After a seven-day cooling-off period, if either party rejects facilitation, the Board will reconsider its initial action and make a final decision. The application may appeal such decision as provided by law.

7. Contract formation

In the event a charter application is approved, the Superintendent shall negotiate and present to the Board for approval a contract based on the approved application within ninety (90) days of the date of such approval, unless the parties agree to extend the contract negotiation period. The contract shall reflect the grant of a charter for a term of three years, and shall govern all aspects of the relationship between the District and the charter school. A charter contract, including the minimum and maximum charter school enrollment permitted under such contract, may not be modified except by the written approval of the Board and the governing body of the charter school.

As part of the charter contract, the charter school and the District shall agree on funding and any services to be provided by the District to the charter school. Such agreements shall conform to the requirements provided by law. Any contract approved prior to July 1, 2010 shall include a statement specifying how the charter school intends to use the one percent increase in the statewide base per pupil funding for state fiscal years 2002-2003 through 2010-2011 required by section 17 of article IX of the state constitution to raise student achievement.

The charter contract shall reflect all agreements regarding the release of the charter school from District policies and regulations, and all requests for release of the charter school from state statutes and regulations. Within ten days after the contract between the charter school and the Board is approved by the Board, any request for release from state statutes or regulations shall be delivered by the Board to the State Board of Education. If the State Board of Education grants the request, it will notify the Board and the charter school of its decision. If the State Board of Education denies the request, it will notify the Board and the charter school in writing that the request is denied and specify the reasons for denial. If notification is not received within 45 days (or 90 days, if the State Board of Education has extended the time for review of the request), the request shall be deemed by state law to be granted. A waiver of state law or District policy shall be granted for the term of the charter; however, a waiver of state statutes or regulations by the State Board of Education is subject to review every two years and may be revoked if it is deemed no longer necessary.

The charter contract shall also reflect all agreements between the charter school and the District for the use of a school building and grounds, the operation and maintenance thereof, and the provision of any service, activity or undertaking by the District to the charter school. Any services for which a charter school contracts with the District shall be provided by the District at the District's cost. A charter school shall not be required to pay rent for space which is deemed available, as negotiated by contract, in District facilities. All other costs for the operation and maintenance of the facilities used by the charter school shall be subject to negotiation.

B. Renewal of a Charter

The governing body of a charter school shall submit a renewal application to the Board no later than December 1 of the year prior to the year in which the charter expires. The Board shall rule by resolution on the renewal application no later than February 1 of the year in which the charter expires or by a mutually agreed date.

Renewal of a charter shall not be for a period of more than five years. The renewal application must contain a complete report on the progress of the school in achieving the goals, objectives, student performance standards, content standards and other terms of the initial application. The renewal application also must include a financial statement that discloses the costs of administration, instruction and other spending categories for the school.

A charter may not be renewed upon a determination by the Board that it is not in the best interests of students residing within the district to continue the operation of the school.

If the Board non-renews a charter, the Board shall do so in writing stating its reasons for doing so.

C. Revocation of a Charter

A charter may be revoked or non-renewed by the Board if the Board determines following a public hearing that the charter school:

1. Committed a material violation of any of the conditions, standards or procedures in the application.
2. Failed to meet or make reasonable progress towards achievement of student performance standards.
3. Failed to meet generally accepted standards of fiscal management.
4. Violated any provision of law with which the charter school was obligated to comply.

If the Board revokes a charter, the Board shall do so in writing stating its reasons for doing so.
